

UNION TO SPONSOR FREE ALL-COLLEGE DANCE SATURDAY

Campus Owls To Play at Second Student Function of Year In Recreation Hall

A. A. TICKET BOOKLETS NEEDED FOR ADMISSION

Committee Will Charge 5 Cent Checking Fee—Loan Fund To Receive Balance

Continuing a policy established two years ago to give free entertainment to the student body, the Student Union will sponsor its second all-College dance in Recreation hall from 8:30 to 12 o'clock Saturday night.

Although no fee will be charged, admission to the dance will be granted to only those who present their Athletic Association booklets, according to Jacob R. Stark '34, chairman of the Union dance committee.

To accommodate students and promote efficiency, all persons attending will be assessed a checking fee of five cents a person, the committee has ruled. In the event that there is a profited after all checking charges have been met, the proceeds will go to the Union treasury and will be applied on the next dance, Stark said.

Conducted on an entirely informal basis, the dance will be considered by W. S. G. A. officials as a free social function for the freshmen women. The '37 co-eds will be granted a 1 o'clock dating permission for the affair, while freshmen will be permitted to discard customs entirely.

In order to improve the acoustics and increase the volume of the dance band, the committee has completed arrangements for the use of a sounding shell and the College amplifying system. This will mark the first time that such improvements have been used at a free Student Union function.

In order to keep the dancers from interruption, a request has been made by the dance committee that all "stags" refrain from forming lines in the middle of the floor, as was the case last year. H. Carl Brandt '34, K. Jane Lee '34, and John T. Ryan Jr. '34 complete the committee which has arranged for the dance.

L. A. SPEAKER HITS REGULATED LABOR

Self-Controlled Industry Advocated By Dr. Shearer in Lecture About NRA Tuesday

"If the majority of the employers are opposed to a thirty-hour week code, it is useless for the government to clutter up its statutes with such regulations," was Dr. Thomas E. Shearer's comment in discussing "Government Regulation of Failures" in the sixth Liberal Arts lecture given in the Home Economics auditorium Tuesday night.

Dr. Shearer, of the department of political science and history, pointed out that any attempt of the government to regulate an interest which does not want to be regulated is doomed to failure. He gave as an example the Sherman Anti-Trust Act of 1880 to illustrate this. He said that in spite of this regulation to prevent highly concentrated utilities, corporations handling meat, aluminum, bread, and cigarettes still have monopolies on these products.

"The solution I would suggest is not to eliminate capitalism, but rather to have a system of self-control," Dr. Shearer said. "Self-control is not a program for those who want to remake the world in a few days. I admit that it is a slow program, but I believe it would prove more intelligent."

In his opinion, the NRA has been agreeable so far because it has been mainly voluntary. However, that if it becomes compulsory, it is liable to crumble. The seventh Liberal Arts lecture will be given by Prof. William L. Werner, of the department of English literature, on the subject of "Gibbert and Sullivan" on Tuesday night.

INSTRUCTOR INJURES FOOT

Mrs. Ormelle H. Stecker, instructor in the department of mathematics, slipped on the icy pavement Friday night, breaking a bone in her foot. At present she is confined to her home.

Union To Examine 3 More Fee Cases

Representatives of three more societies and clubs have been requested to explain their high fees to the investigating committee of the Student Union board. Hearings have been scheduled for the Penn State Aero club at 7 o'clock Tuesday night; for Gamma Alpha Mu, gymnastic society, at 7:30 o'clock; and for Discobolus, physical education society, at 8 o'clock.

Hearings on Les Sabreurs, fencing society, and the Anzar club, campus patrol society, were held Tuesday night, but the committee will make no recommendations until the hearings have been completed.

PRIESTLEY SERIES TO OPEN MARCH 19

Gortner, Minnesota University Chemist, Will Give First 3 Talks on Colloids

Discussing the relationship between physical chemistry and the life processes, Dr. Ross A. Gortner, professor of agricultural biochemistry at the University of Minnesota, will open the eighth annual series of Priestley lectures in the Chemistry amphitheater Monday night, March 19. In the first three lectures of the series Dr. Gortner will emphasize the techniques whereby one can study the electrical behavior of the colloidal system. He will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of each type of technique, and will point out how such studies may be applied to the solution of important biochemical and biological problems.

The fourth and fifth lectures will be devoted to a consideration of the theories concerning the state of water. Dr. Gortner will conclude the series by discussing the biological aspects of the theories, and the role played by the various forms in the life processes.

The series of lectures to be given are a part of a joint memorial to Joseph Priestley, established by alumni and faculty members of the department of chemistry. In 1919, the alumni purchased the old Priestley residence at Northumberland and have erected a museum near the home. The annual series of lectures is sponsored by Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity. Dr. Gortner is a past president of the fraternity.

APPRECIATION CERTIFICATE RECEIVED BY DEAN STEIDLE

Dean Edward Steidle, of the School of Mineral Industries, received a certificate of appreciation from Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Century of Progress Exposition, last week. Dean Steidle was a member of the original Century of Progress committee on Mineral Industries, and it was for his work in this connection that the award was made.

He also received notification yesterday of his appointment as a member of the committee on Ground Movement and Subsidence of the American Association of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. This committee is of particular importance in this State because its findings help prevent "cave-ins" in the anthracite mining districts.

5 WOMEN LEADERS FAVOR SECOND SEMESTER RUSHING

Freshman women should be eligible for rushing in their second semester at the College. That is the opinion of five campus women leaders interviewed by the COLLEGIAN yesterday concerning the course of action that Pannhellenic Council should follow when the rushing bill for next year comes up for discussion early next week.

K. Jane Lee '34, president of the Council said, "I am definitely in favor of such a revision, because the freshman year has already been broken up by relationships with fraternities rushing goes on just the same. Many freshman women would be saved this inconvenience if they were in fraternities and under direct guidance of the members."

"Freshman women could receive better guidance and encouragement in scholarship under the proposed plan," Ruth A. Harmon '34, women's editor of the COLLEGIAN, believes. Selena A. Wanderlich '36, class president, and A. Frances Turner '36, president of Cwens, sophomore women's honorary society, both concurred with Miss Harmon.

Agreeing with the proposed revision of the rushing code, Eva M. Blichfeldt '34, president of the Women's

WOMEN MUSICIANS WILL GIVE SECOND SUNDAY CONCERT

Glee Club, Symphony Orchestra To Present Joint Program At 3:30 O'clock

WILLIAMMEE, FISHBURN TO LEAD ORGANIZATIONS

Girls' Varsity Quartet Numbers, Solos by Christine '34 Also Planned

The second program of the annual free mid-winter afternoon concert series will be given Sunday afternoon when the Women's Glee club and Women's Symphony orchestra will offer a joint concert of vocal and symphonic numbers in Schwab auditorium at 3:30 o'clock.

Opening the program, the Women's Glee club under the direction of Miss Willa Williammee, assistant professor of music, will sing three numbers. "Salutation," by Gaines, will be followed by "Spring Breezes," a Swedish selection arranged by Bartholomew. An Hungarian number "Play, O Gipsy," arranged by Deems Taylor, will complete this group.

The program will move along with two arrangements by the Women's Varsity Quartette, "I Know a Lovely Garden," by D'Hardelot, and "The Snow Storm," composed by Rodgers. As an added feature Frances Christine '34, contralto, will sing "My Lady," by Thayer, "An Evening Song," composed by Olmstead, and "Suppose," by Braine.

Only three selections will be played by the Women's Symphony orchestra, which is under the direction of Prof. Hummel Fishburn, of the department of music. The group will open with "March Carnavalesque," by Friml, Massenet's "The Angelus," from "Scenes Pittoresques" and "Dornröschen Waltz," as arranged by Tschaiowsky.

The Women's quartette, composed of Christine, Grace L. Moyer '34, Margaret S. Giffin '35, and Anna C. Strong '35, will sing "My Lady Chloe," by Clough-Leigher, and "You Are There," from "Apple Blossoms," by Fritz Kreisler, and especially arranged for the concert by Miss Maxine J. Kerr, instructor in music. Rodgers' "Two Clocks" will complete this group of numbers.

The Women's Glee club will conclude the afternoon's entertainment with the presentation of three numbers. Brahm's "The Death of Tannhauser" has been chosen for the first selection, to be followed by "Oranges and Lemons" (traditional) as arranged by Donovan. "In Derry Val" (Londonderry air), by McNaught, will be the final song offered.

In order to make the auditorium as quiet as possible during the concert the committee in charge of the Sunday programs has ruled that no children under ten years of age will be permitted to attend unless accompanied by an adult.

4 CO-ED GROUPS TO DEBATE

Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, and Grange dormitory will compete in the semi-finals of the intramural debates, sponsored by Delta Alpha Delta, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock in Room 1, North Liberal Arts. Members of Delta Alpha Delta will act as judges. The contestants will draw for their opponents.

Student Government Association, said "If a second-semester rushing system were installed, fraternities could use that extra time to make themselves more valuable agencies for setting up higher standards for the student body as a whole. Furthermore, under the present system, no attention whatsoever is paid to the freshmen during the first week or so that they are here. All fraternity women are too busy with the rushing of sophomores."

Defending the present regulations of the code, Virginia B. Springer, senior class president, commented that "freshman women themselves are not ready to make up their minds that soon. And the members of the women's fraternities do not know the freshman women well enough to judge their qualifications. The time is too short."

Acting as a balance to both factions was the stand taken by Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray, who pointed out that the Council "needed to study the whole situation with a view of building up a broader acquaintance with the freshmen. The problem now is to find a method that will be good for the freshmen and will also make the fraternities of the greatest possible service to the College."

Banquet Ticket Sale To Close Saturday

Because out-of-town guests and townspeople were unable to secure their tickets, the deadline for purchasing tickets for the annual gridiron banquet Monday night has been advanced to Saturday noon, according to William M. Stegmeier '34, chairman.

Tickets may be obtained at the Student Union desk by presenting the invitations sent out last week by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, sponsors of the banquet. One hundred and forty tickets had been sold up to this noon.

COLLEGE GLEEMEN TO ENTER CONTEST

35 Selected To Sing in Annual Intercollegiate March 15 In Philadelphia

Thirty-five men have been selected to represent the Penn State Glee club at the eighth annual State Intercollegiate Glee club contest held in Mitten hall auditorium, Philadelphia, March 15, according to Director Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, who conducted individual auditions.

First tenors who will make the trip include Raymond A. Byrne Jr. '37, Marvin L. Esholman '35, Richard D. Langdon '35, William H. Linton '36, Robert C. McCreary '36, William Y. E. Rambo '35, Harry A. Rowbotham Jr. '36, Richard C. Schlaack '34, Richard C. Shoemaker '37, John H. Tredler '34, and Robert H. Woolston '35.

Second tenors chosen were Ebert L. Badger '36, Frederick Doelp '37, Stephen B. Gillard '35, Robert K. Howler '36, Curtis J. Patterson '34, Charles T. Potts '35, and W. Randall Skillen Jr. '34. Baritone names were Donald H. Dixon '37, Thomas Hammonds '35, Arthur C. Harper '35, W. Kreeger '35, John G. Linton Jr. '35, William B. Merder '35, and George L. Osterter '36, and Burton Rowles Jr. '35.

Bass section: Everett G. Alderfer '37, Robert E. Carey '36, Jay F. Getz '35, Richard W. Grant Jr. '34, Burton E. Hall '34, Lester W. Ritter '35, Wayne R. Varum '34, Henry E. Warren Jr. '34, and Robert W. Wilson '35.

Richard W. Grant Jr. '34 will assume duties as student leader of the Penn State gleemen, who are competing for the trophy for the seventh time, having lost only once to Lafayette in 1930 by four-tenths of a point. William H. Stine '33, of Philadelphia, will accompany the group as soloist, with Nevin F. Decker accompanying.

2 DEBATES SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

Men To Speak on NRA in Bellefonte; Co-ed Team to Debate Here

Ernest C. Miller '34 and Angelo N. Borbatis '35 will speak on the affirmative side of the NRA question against two debaters from Western Maryland College in the Bellefonte high school auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The debate will be carried out under a semi-Oregon style with the audience participating in the discussion and with a judges' decision. The judges will be President Judge M. Ward Fleming, Centre county court; Earl Stock, principal of the Bellefonte high school, and J. S. Dubbs, debate coach at Bellefonte high school.

Elsie M. Douthett '35 and Juanita Sorzano '35 will speak in favor of an extension of the President's powers against two representatives from Hood College in the Home Economics auditorium at 7 o'clock tomorrow night. The debate will be in orthodox style, with a critic judge's decision.

Electorate Will Vote For Class Officers April 24, 25, 26

MYERS '34 NAMED HEAD OF POLLS COMMITTEE

'33 Code Accepted With Minor Changes—Awaits Approval By Governing Body

Elections for class officers and Student Council positions will be held April 24 to 26, according to the announcement of the elections committee, appointed Monday afternoon by Student Board.

Polls will open at noon on Tuesday, April 24, and will close at noon the following Thursday. Campaigning for the elections will open officially at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, April 9.

Will Submit Election Code Charles A. Myers '34, editor of the COLLEGIAN, was named chairman of the elections committee. Other members of the group include C. Wilson Anderson, Harry H. Balthasar, Parker Berry, H. Carl Brandt, John A. Clark, Phil F. Hines, John T. Ryan Jr., and William M. Stegmeier, all seniors.

The dates for the elections and campaign were set at a meeting of the committee last night. The committee accepted, with a few minor changes, the 1933 elections code and will submit it to Student Board for final approval Monday afternoon.

Two other committees named by John T. Ryan Jr. '34, senior-class president. Grant A. Colton '34 will head the committee on invitations, announcements, and programs for commencement, while other members of the committee are H. Carl Brandt, Fred F. Hoffeditz, and Maxwell S. Moore, all seniors.

JONES TO DELIVER CHAPEL MESSAGE

Haverford Professor Will Also Speak At Friends' Meeting House On Saturday Night

Esteemed by a group of eminent theologians as one of the twelve most outstanding Christians in the world, Dr. Rufus M. Jones, professor of philosophy at Haverford College and leader of religious conferences throughout the East, will address chapel services Sunday morning.

Dr. Jones last addressed a Penn State audience in 1921 and since then has written many books on religious subjects. Included among these are "The Fundamental Ends of Life," "New Studies in Mystical Religion," and "The Trail of Life in College."

The speaker is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the board of the Laymen's Foreign Missions inquiry. During his long career since receiving his B. A. degree from Haverford in 1885, Dr. Jones has edited three religious magazines and written several biographies of the Quaker leader, George Fox.

Saturday night Dr. Jones will address a group at the Friends' Meeting House. He will speak at the Bucknell Student Church in Lewisburg Sunday night.

JUNIOR LEAGUE WILL LIST QUALIFICATIONS FOR OFFICERS

Junior League continued work on the plan to draw up a list of qualifications by which the nomination committee may select candidates for all W. S. G. A. offices, at the meeting yesterday, according to Elsie M. Douthett '35, president.

The league is also planning to have meetings for the freshman women to explain to them the duties of the officers. A suggestion has also been made to have the candidates' pictures and the qualifications posted at least a week before elections.

Group Retains 18 Elective, 7 Ex-officio Posts, Requires Presidents, Vice-presidents To Come From Same Clique

Membership in Student Council was reduced from forty-two to twenty-five representatives by an overwhelming vote at the regular meeting of that group Tuesday night. The reduction will become effective upon the completion of the present terms of the incumbents.

In explaining the action, John T. Ryan Jr. '34, president of the Council, declared that with such a large group, nothing was accomplished because many of the members failed to attend meetings. He pointed out that the average attendance at the meetings during the past year had been twenty-eight members.

MAT TOURNAMENT OFFICIALS CHOSEN

Team Managers Select Splitter, Bishop, Cann To Referee Meets March 16, 17

Paul Splitter, of the New York Athletic club, W. E. Cann, of Elizabeth, N. J., and N. Austin Bishop, wrestling coach of Wyoming Seminary, have been chosen to referee the Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling tourney here next Friday and Saturday.

These officials were chosen from the lists submitted by the managers of the competing teams, and the three highest men were selected to handle the tourney. Splitter refereed the W. & J. meet here a short time ago, while the other two have not officiated in Recreation hall this year.

Nine complete teams are expected to take part in the competition, according to C. Thompson Stott, and lists of eligibles are arriving daily. Every college and university in the association, with the exception of Navy, will participate.

The tournament will open at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when the preliminaries will be run off. The semi-finals will start at 7 o'clock Friday night, with the finals scheduled for 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Tickets for the bouts will go on sale at the Athletic Association ticket window, Old Main, from 8 to 5 o'clock every day this week. Admission will be fifty-five cents for the preliminaries, and seventy-five cents for the semi-finals and finals. There will be no reserved seats, the advance sale being for convenience of those who wish to avoid the crowd at the time of the matches.

JOURNALISM HONORARY PLEDGES 21 STUDENTS

Twenty-one men were pledged to Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, at a meeting held in Old Main, Tuesday night, according to Bernard H. Rosenzweig '34, president of the society. Following a pledging of two weeks, all desirable pledges will be initiated.

Three seniors, seventeen juniors, and one sophomore received bids to join the organization which selects its members from editorial and business staffs of student publications. Howard T. Maynard, Milton Samorodin, and Albert T. Stohr were the only seniors chosen.

Seniors pledged were Joseph F. Briner, George W. Britton, Fred M. Drothler, Pascal A. Greenberg, Philip F. Hollock, Harold W. Kalb, Herbert P. Levine, Joseph F. Lockard, Paul M. Lowy, John T. Matthews, Louis W. Matter, Thomas L. Moncrief, William D. Monte, Charles Raudenbush, James W. Shearer, and S. Ralph Strohl. Sidney W. Koran '36 was also pledged.

ENGINEERS' GROUP PREPARES HIGH SCHOOL APTITUDE TEST

Dean Robert L. Sackett, of the School of Engineering, chairman of the engineers' council for professional development, announced today that the council has prepared a program for the use of engineering schools in determining aptitude for the engineering profession in high school students.

The council, acting on the advice of the School of Education, has prepared a set of questions which are to be answered by the students before and after being informed about the requirements of the profession.

'Collegiate Digest' Pictures White '82 In Special Section

Dr. James G. White '82 is pictured in the list of outstanding graduates of American colleges appearing in the Collegiate Digest supplement distributed with this issue of the COLLEGIAN. Dr. White, who heads a large New York city engineering firm, has been vice-president of the College Board of Trustees since 1914.

He is the donor of the John W. White Scholarships, given annually in honor of his father, and the founder of the Mary Beaver White loan fund, in memory of his mother, who was a sister of General James A. Beaver, one-time acting president of the College.

After receiving his A. B. in 1882 and M. A. in 1884, he transferred his attention to engineering and was awarded a Ph. D. for work in this line by Cornell University in 1885. Following this, he spent two years as an instructor of physics at the University of Nebraska. After serving as president of a western engineering company for three years, he founded the company now bearing his name.

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE AT HAVERFORD

Two men and three women students will leave tomorrow morning for Haverford where they will attend a week-end conference of "Race in the World Today." The three women who will attend will be helped in their expenses by a fifteen dollar appropriation passed last night by the co-ed freshman class for the purpose.

The conference, which will open tomorrow night and conclude Sunday noon, will undertake to solve for delegates from colleges in Pennsylvania some of the problems incumbent upon the marked race distinctions in the world today. Reinhold Neuhoff and other prominent speakers will attend.
