NITTANY BATSMEN STOP MUHLBERG RALLY TO WIN 8-7

Lions To Meet Temple Ball Club Here At 2:30 Saturday

By BILL McDOWELL
Relief pitching by Keith Parks in the ninth inning which checked a Muhlenberg rally and a three-base hit in the seventh inning by Captain Bill Kasczak bringing in Stocker and McKechnie to score for the Lions netted an 8-to-7 victory over Muhlenberg on New Beaver field yesterday afternoon.

Saalfeld and Steckel had singled off Lucher and there were no outs when Parks entered the game. He walked Siminski; and Lisetski was put out when he knocked a fly into Bill McKechnie's hands at first base.

Captain Kasczak Opens Attack
"Red" Weiner, the chap who scored three points on a thirty-eight yard placement kick to defeat the Blue and White football team in the Muhlenberg game last fall, failed to produce when he clouted a grounder out to McKechnie which retired his team including the three visitors on the bases.

Captain Kasczak started the scoring in the second inning with a circuit of the bases. The second homer was made by "Pete" Miller and it also allowed Joe Bielicki to score.

This was the second game that was decided in the ninth inning as an 8-to-7 Lion victory in less than a week. It was by this same score that State defeated Susquehanna Saturday afternoon.

Temple To Play Here
The boys are hoping that their success holds out for the Temple game here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday. The Cherry and White team will come to play the last of a series of four successive away games which also includes the game with Annapolis yesterday, today's contest with Georgetown at Washington, D. C., and the game tomorrow with Bucknell.

Ken Berry, Temple sophomore southpaw, will be on the mound for the game Saturday and he is rated as the most promising pitcher the Owls ever had. He throws with a side-arm underhand motion making the low ball sink and his high ball shoot up.

Keith Parks will pitch for the Belenknans Saturday. Throwing over 250 balls during fourteen innings last Saturday has not seemed to bother him. His nineteen strikeouts in that game and his work yesterday under the strain of the last inning have earned him the appellation of "Iron Man."

Thanks, Keith!

'37 BATSMEN WILL MEET JUNIATA YEARLING NINE

Dickinson Seminary will meet the plebe diamondmen on New Beaver field at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Negotiations with the Williamsport team were completed this morning after the game originally scheduled with Bellefonte Academy had been cancelled.

Coach Leo Houck had not decided on the starting line-up for Saturday's tilt. More than 150 candidates are working out daily on the practice field, handicapped by lack of space and insufficient equipment, and bad weather.

WRIGHTING BETWEEN THE LIONS

By FRED W. WRIGHT
Few people have ever had either the opportunity or the inclination to complain about Captain Bill (Spell-it-backwards-or-forwards) Kasczak's work out in leftfield during these past three years of Lion baseball seasons. The Nittany leader doesn't make a habit of being caught rocking on his heels. Not exactly a brilliant star, Kasczak has the envious reputation with his team-mates of being what is known in sports terminology as a "ball player's ball player."

Said Kasczak will not be caught admiring daisies that grow on the greensward back of third-base this Saturday either. He'll be in there trying to make an impression with one Paul Critchell, a stranger in Centre County but well and favorably known as a scout for the New York Yankees in New York and other places where baseball is discussed. Critchell is reported to have his eye on Kasczak and numerous other good outfielders who are likely to "arrive" in about three or four years. A gentleman by the name of George Herman Ruth isn't going to last forever, and Earl Combs and Ben Chapman aren't getting any younger, you see.

Critchell left the park about 5:30 o'clock last night and won't return until the game with Temple Saturday, thereby missing an interesting and gratifying performance by Keith Parks, who is well and favorably known in Centre County but not so well-known in New York. LION TEN TO FACE LEHIGH SATURDAY

Kline, Rathmell, Moulthrop, Reed, May Not Play Because of Injuries

By HARRY HENDERSON
When the Lion lacrosse team meets the Lehigh ten on New Beaver field Saturday afternoon, it will be bucking up against a team that is composed largely of Engineer football players, a team that has been beaten several times this year but only by such teams as Princeton, Army, and Rutgers, and a team that is counting on winning this game.

And at first glance the Brown and White team appears to be no stronger than the Lions. They lost to Princeton Saturday, 11-to-1. This same Princeton team tied Navy, 2-to-2, several weeks ago, and the Lion's drubbing at the hands of the Middies Saturday is to be well remembered.

Weber Shifted to Defense
However, the Blue and White stickmen will probably be without services of "Deb" Kline, center, who received a bad shoulder injury in the Navy game. Johnny Rathmell and "Hank" Moulthrop, first and second defense men as well as Ray Reed, point, also may not be in uniform because of injuries received last week.

Because of the excellent work of Gerber at goal during the Middy game, Jim Reed who formerly played goal has been shifted into second defense position. "Iggie" Weber, whose playing last week was highly commended by Navy coaches, has also been shifted and will probably be playing Moulthrop's position at first defense if "Hank" has not recovered by Saturday. McClarin has been moved to Weber's place at point.

Although the final line-up for the Lehigh game is undecided as yet, Coach Mike Loeb said that Kaulfus would be sure to start at out home, with the other home a toss-up between "Tony" Robeson and Ed Rumbaugh, a couple of sophomores who have been seeing considerable service in the games played this spring. Robeson scored the Lion's third point in the Navy Match within a few minutes after being put into the game late in the last quarter. The rest of the line-up depends largely upon the physical condition of the injured men Saturday.

Weakened Lion Track Team Of 18 Men Goes to Relays

5 Men Out for Season; Freshman Mile Relay Team Has Best Scoring Chance

Weakened by the loss of five of their best men, an untried Lion track team of eighteen members left this noon for Philadelphia where they will stack up against the pick of the nation's trackmen in the Penn Relays tomorrow and Saturday.

"This climaxes a long string of tough breaks," declared Coach "Chick" Werner yesterday afternoon upon hearing that Rhodes, varsity quarter-miler, would be out of competition for the rest of the season because of doctor's orders.

In "long string of tough breaks" Chick referred to the fact that Captain Sayland, high jumper, and Cole, hammer thrower, are out of season's competition because of injuries; while Stewart sprint man, and Book, quarter-miler, are out because of poor scholarship.

Besides these losses, the team is without the services of last year's two mainstays, Captain Dunaway and Dale, and was not able to get any better than tenth in the drawings for lanes. However, there is one bright spot in this dark picture—the freshman mile relay team.

Rosenberger, Crum, Osterlund, and coming up, none out, only a one-run lead, and gets by without being scored upon is likely to attract a major league scout's attention. Well, a second glance, at any rate.

It isn't too hasty a guess to predict that both of the gentlemen in question might be signed for try-outs in the Yanks' far-flung organization after they leave intercollegiate circles this June. That is, if they produce what is fondly referred to as "the goods" this Saturday. The unfortunate part (that's a synonym, of course) of it is that Parks will have to pitch himself into a lot of trouble to find such a dramatic spot as Mr. Critchell missed because of a train connection, or something.

Ray White, of Columbia, got a Yankee contract and a lot of publicity last year and is doing quite well on a farm this year, so they say. And it was this same White who defeated Parks a couple of weeks later on errors and was lambasted all over the park. Parks was top man that afternoon, even though he did lose, and he'll stay that way this season if he realizes he can't let it up and get away with it.

Keep your eye on Temple's first-baseman. Give him a break and sort of root for him when nobody's looking. He once was a Penn State undergraduate.

In 1931, he entered College, got sick, rested for a year, was offered a scholarship and took it. His name—perhaps you upperclassmen remember from rushing season—is Johnny Geukter.

Block Will Head NETMEN SATURDAY

Captain Skillen, Green, Heyison, Manwaring, Barbor Named To Face Gettysburg

By CHARLIE SCHWARTZ
If "Pip" Block continues to play for the remainder of the season as he has in practice so far, he will in the opinion of Coach "Dink" Stover, have an undefeated season. The Lion netman has clinched number one position for the meet with Gettysburg on Saturday afternoon.

Nels Green will hold down the second berth, while Captain Skillen, Homer Manwaring, Pete Barbor, and Jack Heyison will probably complete the squad. The doubles combinations are not definite yet and practices today and tomorrow may make some changes in the line-up.

Smith, Green To Pair Up
At present it appears as if Skillen and Manwaring will team up because they work well together. Another pair will be Green and Jim Smith, while Block might possibly play with Heyison.

Jim Smith is a good team-mate for Nels Green because he is a very steady player with a fast return, while his partner plays a good middle of court and net game, although at times erratic.

If the Lions take the first four or five singles matches, Coach Stover will experiment with several combinations for doubles play. Fred Smith, Bill Shapiro, "Chuck" Rummel, Len Bauer, Johnny Miller and Bill Hammond will be given the call.

"We've always beaten Gettysburg and I'm sure we can do it again this year," Coach Stover declared in an interview last night. "They usually have one or two stars, but the rest of the squad as a rule are mediocre."

NATATORS TO FACE LEWISTOWN SQUAD

Glennland Swimmers Will Meet 'Y' Team at 7:15 O'clock Tomorrow Night

Eight Glennland natators will take to the water in the local pool at 7:15 o'clock Friday night against an experienced and somewhat superior aggregation from Lewistown Y. M. C. A.

The local squad has been working out all week under the tutelage of Dick Geiger, former Penn A. C. ace. He and Hen Dern will enter the 60-yard freestyle. In the 90-yard freestyle Geiger and Lou Hinman will race, while Dern and Johnny Walker will be in the 180 freestyle.

Geiger and Hinman are also entered in the 90-yard backstroke, and Gene Lesko and Bob Miller will compete in the 90-yard breaststroke. Glennland entrants in the diving competition are Hinman and Ray Parks. Lesko, Parks, Walker, and Lou Lazarini will team up for the 240-yard relay.

In the 180-yard medley relay Lesko will swim two laps of backstroke, Miller, two laps of breaststroke, and either Dern, or Walker, two laps of freestyle. The local squad is under a handicap since each of the eight entrants must compete in at least three events.

GOLFERS TO MEET CORNELL SATURDAY

Lions Will Seek Victory Against Powerful Ithaca Team In First Match

By WALT FREUNSCHE
Veterans all, a smooth-working Lion golf team will seek to avenge two ranking defeats of last season when they tee off against Cornell on the College course Saturday, in the first match of the year. No novices at the art of pursuing the elusive little pill about the links with the fewest possible strokes, the Big Red team is expected to provide some of the season's stiffest competition.

Captain Lloyd Beyer will probably team up with Tom Marshall against the Ithaca ace, Charley Newman, and his partner, Dan Wilcox. In the other foursome, Dick Ritenour and Don Masters will match strokes with the Bear's number three and four men, Johnny Haskell and Johnny Carver.

Cornell Yet To Taste Defeat
The Nittany linksmen enter Saturday's fray without the advantage of intercollegiate competition this season, although Coach Bob Rutherford does not believe that this will be too much of a handicap for his proteges, who have been practicing daily for several weeks.

Cornell, on the other hand, has played two matches to date, winning both, and will play Colgate tomorrow on the Ithaca Country Club course in their first home match. Havenford's winning streak of thirteen was shattered last Friday when Cornell trounced the Main Liners, 5-to-1, with Allen, of Havenford, forced to shoot a 75 for his team's lone tally.

The boys from Cayuga shores also downed Penn, 4-to-3, on the Pilmont Country Club course, near Philadelphia last Saturday.

BOARD INCREASES POINT AWARDS IN I. M. SOCCER

As a result of a new ruling by the Intramural Board, the number of points awarded toward the Bezel Cup for the winner of the Intramural soccer tournament has been increased to seventy-five. These points will be given providing that over thirty teams enter the tourney. In case the number of teams entered is less than thirty, fifty points will be awarded.

The tournament will begin Monday, May 7.

All teams desiring to enter should pay the one dollar entrance fee at Miss Keller's office in Recreation hall before Wednesday night. Coach Bill Jeffries, or some member of the varsity soccer team, will referee the games.

SPRING FOOTBALL ENDS

Spring football ended today following the victory of the East team over the West, 18-to-0, on New Beaver field. This was the second of a series of games between players on the Lion gridiron squad.
