New Code Drops 4 Days From Period of Rushing

Rushes May Indicate Favorite Fraternity by Means of Preference Cards

Shortening of the rushing period and the use of preference cards by freshmen feature the 1934 rushing code which went into effect at 8 o'clock this morning.

The first period, two days shorter than last year, lasts just a week and before midnight on Thursday, September 20 every freshman must have filled out and handed in at the Student Union desk the preference cards listing the first three fraternities of his choice.

Failure to obtain these cards and return them filled out as required will prohibit the freshman from being pledged for a period of 30 days.

In the second period, which is also two days shorter than last year, restricted rushing will be carried on.

1237 Pay Fees For Admission

1752 Apply To Matriculate Here As Freshman Registration Period Opens Today

According to the latest figures released from the office of William S. Hoffman, registrar of the College, 1,237 freshmen have been admitted to the class of 1938.

448 students were graduated in the upper fifth of their class in their respective high school. Of the remainder, 332 were in the second fifth of the class, 243 in the third fifth, 128 in the next division and 81 in the lowest class.

Of the 1,006 men, 102 are entered in the forestry department and will spend their freshman year at Mont Alto. 231 women have been enrolled, this number being less than that of last year when 250 women students entered.

Each freshman will register at the time stated in the bulletin. Registration should not take more than a half hour, the system being the same as that of previous years.

Every question on the blanket registration sheet should be answered fully by freshmen because of the importance of that information to the College. Cards for their respective courses should be filled out next.

Unless special arrangements are made previously all fees must be paid at the time of registering at the treasurer's window. An estimate of the amount of the fees can be made by consulting the Freshman Week bulletin.

As the last step in registering, each freshman will have his picture taken at the Penn State Photo shop on East College Avenue. The matriculation card will permit the student to have his picture taken free of charge.

On September 6 there were 1752 freshmen who were applying for admission, 1436 of whom had been offered admittance by the registrar. This number is 70 better than that of last year.

Frizzell To Address Freshman Meeting

Prof. John H. Frizzell, head of the department of public speaking and acting College chaplain, will make a brief address at the religious activities mass meeting tomorrow night in Schwab auditorium at 8 o'clock, in the third of the Freshman Week convocations.

The meeting, under the leadership of Robert K. Paxton, '35, and Claire M. Lichty, '35, head of the men's and women's Christian Association cabinets, will include an exposition of the work of the Christian Association, the local churches, and the College chapel. Henry K. Beard, '36, will preside at the organ.

Date cards and informal bids may be used but will not be binding. On Friday and Saturday nights during this period dinner dates will be from 4 o'clock until 1 o'clock the following morning.

Bids, on regulation cards furnished by the Interfraternity Council, must be presented to the rushing committee at the Student Union desk by midnight of Monday, September 24. Freshmen will call for bids on Tuesday before 5 o'clock and report to the fraternity of their choice for Tuesday dinner.

The rushing code follows in full: Article I—DEFINITIONS

Section 1. Rushing shall be defined as any communication or association between fraternity man and rushee.

Section 2. Rushee shall be defined as any non-fraternity man in his first year at Penn State. Sophomores from Mont Alto Forestry School shall be open to free rushing.

Section 3. At the discretion of the Committee, rushees shall make out a card containing name, local address, home address and religious preference at their first section meeting. This information shall be distributed to all the fraternities as soon as possible.

Section 4. Rushees not classed as Freshmen may receive date cards and further instructions at Student Union desk in Old Main.

Section 5. Rushing shall begin 8:00 o'clock on Tuesday, September 18.

Troupe To Open With Cohan Play

Players To Repeat 'The Tavern' Saturday at 8:15 O'Clock in Schwab Auditorium

The Penn State Players resumed rehearsals in the Schwab Auditorium last night for their opening production "The Tavern," to be presented Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock in Schwab auditorium as the final event on the Freshman Week program.

C. K. Lucas Brightman, '36, appears as the vagabond whose arrival at the tavern on a stormy night is the first of a series of mysterious and comical incidents which keep the tavern keeper, the governor, a strange woman, and the sheriff up all night. George M. Cohan, author of the comedy, enacted the role of the vagabond in the New York production.

Brightman heads a cast of fifteen which, with two exceptions, originally appeared in "The Tavern" last June. Betsy F. Ross, '36, who withdrew from the spring production because of the death of her father, returns to her role of the hired girl, while Herbert L. Manning, '35, has taken over the part of the tavern keeper's son, Henry D. Brown, Jr., '36, Ruth R. Goodman, '37, and Gretchen I. Marquardt, '35, are also prominently cast.

An atmospheric musical setting suggested by the use of musical effects in talking pictures was arranged for the production by Theodore R. Bassett, department of English composition, and will be played by the Players' orchestra, directed by Robert E. Carey, '36. Frank S. Neusbaum, director of "The Tavern," introduced this use of a continuous musical background to heighten the fanciful burlesque nature of the action.

Gridiron Drive Starts With 50 Lions on Squad

12 Lettermen, Strong Sophomore Group Working Out

With almost all of his fifty-man squad in uniform yesterday and the remainder expected to return either today or tomorrow, Coach Bob Higgins has started his pre-season drive for the opening game of the 1934 season with Lebanon Valley less than four weeks away.

Coach Higgins lost no time in getting his proteges into the routine, sending them through a brisk set of calisthenics under the direction of Trainer Charlie Speidel. The grid-ironers are working out twice daily and will follow this schedule until the beginning of classes next Wednesday, when a single practice period will begin.

Veterans Listed

A squad of approximately fifty members will be carried along at least until the season's opener October 6, and nearly half of these players are sophomores. Of the veterans, twelve are lettermen from last year. Led by Captain Merrill Morrison, halfback, they are: Harry Sigel, Lefty Knapp, Frank O'Hara, Bill Cooper, and Al Mikelonis, backs; Buck McKee, end; Frank Wismer, Dick Woolbert, and Bob Weber, tackles; Lou Kreizman, guard, and Jim O'Hara, center.

For the end position made vacant by graduation of 1933 Captain Tommy Slusser, Coach Higgins has available Art Fry from last season's varsity squad, and two sophomores, Fred Smith and Leroy Sunday. The 1934 team will begin its practice period capped unless a capable guard develops from John Stambaugh and Harry Latorre, juniors, and Ed Bennis, Luther Barth, Dick Eisenman, and

Bruce Curry To Give First Chapel Address

Dr. A. Bruce Curry, professor of practical theology at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, will present the first of the 1934-35 series of chapel talks in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Dr. Curry's topic will be "The Education of the Spirit."

Dr. Curry, who has been a frequent visitor to the campus in recent years, received degrees from the University of Virginia and from the Southwestern Presbyterian University, Clarksville, Tenn., before being ordained into the Presbyterian ministry in 1875.

In 1921, he was honored by being selected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States, and he has also held similar ecclesiastical offices since that time.

Other speakers listed for the remaining Sundays in September are Dr. Halford E. Lucecock, professor of homiletics, Yale University Divinity School at New Haven, Conn., and Dr. W. W. Comford, president of Haverford College, Haverford.

Hetzel, Student Union To Extend Welcomes

Meeting Will Open Series of Freshmen Week Rallies; Vernon Platt '35 To Introduce Authorities, Student Heads

Penn State's official welcome to the class of 1938 will be extended by President Ralph D. Hetzel and members of the Student Union at the annual freshman convocation in Schwab auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

The meeting will open the series of Freshman Week rallies to be conducted by the prominent student organization, Vernon D. Platt '35, president of the Student Union Board, will preside at the convocation in presenting the members of the Council of Administration and student leaders.

New Bleachers, Track Started

4 New Tennis Courts, Change In Locker Room System Included in Plans

Many changes and additions are being made to the equipment of the School of Physical Education and Athletics. The old wooden football stands are being replaced by modern steel stands; a new track is being installed; four tennis courts are being added; and a new system will be adopted in the locker-rooms.

Several carloads of steel girders have arrived for the construction of the new stands, which when ultimately completed will seat over 20,000 people. This fall it is planned to erect only twenty rows of the West stands. Director Hugo Bezdok hopes to have the work completed before the first football game on the 6th of October. In discussing the stands, he said that after inspecting all of the stadiums in the eastern United States, he believes that the type adopted were the most durable and economical possible. A concrete stadium was rejected because the cost of maintaining it after it was constructed would be extremely high, he said.

Bruce Curry To Give First Chapel Address

The varsity track has been drained and resurfaced and the top surfacing will take place next week. The jumping pits have been changed and the runways improved. In commenting on the new track, Coach "Chick" Werner said that it will be one of the finest in existence when completed. The material being used is regarded as superior even to the famous track in Los Angeles where several new world's records were set at the last Olympics.

Four new tennis courts are to be installed this fall in the vacant space behind the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. They will be regulation courts, facing north and south. These are the first of a number to be laid in the next few years.

A new system has been adopted for the benefit of students taking physical education classes. Under this system the same lockers will be used by different classes, but each student

Hikes for Freshmen Planned by P. S. C. A.

A hike and "doggie" roast for freshmen women have been planned for Saturday afternoon by members of the women's cabinet of the Christian Association and members of the faculty, who will accompany the group. The hike to the Christian Association's cabin at Shingletown Gap, four miles from the campus, will leave the lobby of MacAllister hall at 1:30 o'clock, with the return being made in time for dinner.

A similar affair for freshman men will be held Sunday afternoon, under the sponsorship of the men's cabinet of the P. S. C. A. The party will leave for the cabin from the corner of Fairmount avenue and Allen street at 2 o'clock, with a paper trail to be laid for late-comers. Return will be in time for the evening meal.

Session Sets Record

Summer Session Commencement broke all former records in the number of degrees conferred. There were more awarded at the August exercises this year than at any previous summer commencement since the inception of summer study here at the College. In all, 259 degrees were conferred. Of these, 150 were Baccalaureate, 96 master's and 13 Ph.D.'s.

Seamans' Have Son

A son, Robert William, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Seamans, 309 S. Allen street, Monday evening. Mr. Seamans is the general secretary of the Christian Association.

Mass Meeting Tomorrow

Registration for freshmen will be begun officially until this morning, an informal assembly for first year men and women was held in the Auditorium last night. The assembly was followed by group meetings at which the student counselors, selected from members of upper classes, met with their sections for the first time.

The latest report available at the Registrar's office sets the official number of incoming freshmen at 1,237. This figure was the number that had registered by the 6th of September. However, the last minute enrollment this year has been extremely heavy, so that this number is not final.

Official name cards will be given all first year men when they register and according to the customs regulations, they must be worn immediately. The cards will be distributed under the direction of Student Council and will be of uniform size.

The Penn State Christian Association will conduct the first mass meeting to be held in the Auditorium tomorrow night. This and all other mass meetings will be held at 8 o'clock. Robert K. Paxton, '35, P. S. C. A. president and Claire M. Lichty, '35, will be in charge of the program.

One of the features of Freshman Week will be the enacting of George M. Cohan's "The Tavern," at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the Auditorium, by the Penn State Players. This play is being repeated for the freshmen by popular request.

Student government activities will be outlined to the incoming freshmen at the mass meeting Monday night. Paul K. Hirsch, '35, senior class president, and Lucy J. Erdman, '35, Women's Student Government Association president, and other student government leaders will speak on topics explaining the system of government used here.

The Penn State Christian Association will conduct the first mass meeting to be held in the Auditorium tomorrow night. This and all other mass meetings will be held at 8 o'clock. Robert K. Paxton, '35, P. S. C. A. president and Claire M. Lichty, '35, will be in charge of the program.

Other speakers listed for the remaining Sundays in September are Dr. Halford E. Lucecock, professor of homiletics, Yale University Divinity School at New Haven, Conn., and Dr. W. W. Comford, president of Haverford College, Haverford.
