

3 Major Changes Made in Football Rules as I. M. Tourney Opens

4 Downs For 10 Yards Set As New Ball Carriage Code

2 Weeks Training Required For Each X-Country Team To Become Eligible To Enter Into Annual Tournament

Three major changes have been made in the regulations governing the intramural football tournament which will begin Tuesday. The entrance fee, $1.00 for each team, must be paid to Miss Keller, in the office of the School of Physical Education, before Saturday noon, October 6.

Four downs for ten yards will be allowed this year instead of six downs for twenty yards as was the case last year. Only backfield men and the two ends can receive passes whereas last year any man on the team was eligible to receive them.

The third change concerns the use of cleats. No cleats of any sort will be permitted this year because of the injuries which they inflicted last year. Other than these, the rules of last year will apply to the teams entered this season.

One hundred points will be given to the winner of the tournament and five points will be awarded to each team for each game they win. These points will go toward their Bedzek cup score.

Two games will be played on the practice fields by the golf course in the afternoon and one game will be played each night, the floodlights on the varsity practice field being used for this game. The tournament will last approximately five weeks with forty or forty-five teams taking part.

Entries for intramural cross-country teams are to be turned in to Miss Keller by October 11, the fee being $1.00 for each team. Two weeks of training for each team will be required before it will be declared eligible to enter the tournament.

In this two weeks training it will be necessary for the members of the team to work out at least five nights. The course to be run will be one and three-fourths miles.

Individual team managers will have a meeting in Recreation hall next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at which time the rules of the tournament will be explained. The highest ranking freshmen on the freshmen track team will be barred from intramural competition this year as a means of giving the ordinary runner an equal chance.

All members of fraternity teams who are to receive credit for competition in varsity sports must have their names on the list handed in by the fraternity at the end of the tournament in which they have entered. Horseshoe contests are now being arranged. Announcement of rules will be made within the next few days. A putting contest on the golf greens may also be scheduled.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES WILL OBSERVE BOOTERS

Over twenty-five members of the varsity soccer squad will travel to Sunbury or Selinsgrove tomorrow noon to play an exhibition game there before high school players and coaches of six neighboring counties. The squad has been divided into two teams; one composed of players who made the trip to Scotland, and the other of those not so travel-minded. While the varsity hustled through an abbreviated practice session Wednesday, the freshman booters lost a close tilt to the local high school squad, 2-to-1.

WRIGHTING BETWEEN THE LIONS

By FRED W. WRIGHT

The usual Friday morning pastime:

Michigan at Michigan State. Oscar learned his lesson last week when he went against Glen Killinger's team against Muhlenberg. Everhardus is a Michigan man. Taking the tip, one strong vote for the Wolverines, 20-0.

Nebraska at Minnesota. Minnesota will be in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. A landslide for the Gophers, 14-0.

Stanford at Oregon State. Spike Leslie is an Oregon State man, but he won't be playing. Stanford, 21-0.

Columbia at Yale. We stand to lose a dime if the Lions don't win. On the other hand, Oscar wishes his money were backing the Bulldog. Boola-boola, we're going nuts, 0-0.

Rutgers at Franklin and Marshall. Rutgers got no better than a tie last Saturday on Pennsylvania soil and the F. and M. team is rated as the best in a decade. One vote for Nevinia, 7-6.

Indiana at Ohio State. A close one. Tossing a coin, Ohio State, 7-0. Seven, six, eighty, four, hike, signals off. One vote for Indiana, Lebanon Valley at Penn State.

We said Lebanon Valley by twenty-six points last year and made our only perfect selection all season. They say a poor dress rehearsal means a good show. Going on that supposition, a flock of votes for the Nittany Lion, 38-0.

And the Tigers to win in seven games—if the Deans break their arms.

Record to date: .692. It was the high wind and fog. Then again it might have been the grog.

be opening tactics on the Mercersburg preparatory school at Mercersburg. The squad has been strengthened by the addition of a number of new men who worked in fraternity houses during rushing season and who never reported until little more than a week ago. These men have hardly had time to get in condition, having been working out little more than a week but already they are showing signs of offering some severe competition for first string berths on the yearling eleven. This last week the Cub-gridders have been running several new formations, thus enlarging their offensive potentialities considerably. From the looks of these plays in practice yesterday afternoon it is a good thing the freshmen didn't have them last Saturday.

THINLYCLADS USE LOCAL INSPIRATION

Farmer's Shotgun Inaugurates Hare-Hound Run

Since last Saturday's mud-derby, the varsity and yearling thinlyclads have been favored with clear weather and have been concentrating on the longer distances. However, for a short time on Wednesday afternoon the question of speed became most important.

This sudden, unexpected development came about with the aid of one of the local citizens—an irate farmer with a loaded shotgun. (If only the whole course could be laid out through a corn field, the team would be invincible.)

Real hounds could not have done much better than their human counterparts in this, the first "hare and hound" race of the season. The hares—Book, Downey, and Alexander—with a five-minute start were out and over the fence before the farmer entered the picture.

The hounds, about forty of them—led by Captain Harvey, were well spread over the field when, to the astonishment of spectators watching from the first tee, they all swerved suddenly toward the fence—with it was turned later, slugs whizzing past their heads.

The fleetness of the hares is attested by the fact that, even with shotgun aid, the hounds were unable to catch them before the finish of the three-mile chase.

The fall freshmen track meet scheduled for October 11 has been indefinitely postponed due to lack of training facilities. As soon as varsity lockers are installed, a date will be announced.

Lewis Will Give Talk

Willard P. Lewis, College Librarian, will discuss "The Future of Public Library Service in Pennsylvania" before the public library section of the Pennsylvania Library association at its annual meeting in Hershey, October 11-13. Mr. Lewis will also present the report of the committee on public library standards, of which he is chairman.
