Alumni Plan Smokers On Football Weekends

Two Penn State Alumni smokers, to be held on successive week-ends in Allentown and New York City, have been arranged by the alumni groups in those cities, Edward K. Hibsman, executive secretary, announced today. The Lehigh-Northampton county alumni group will hold a smoker at the Hotel Allen, Allentown, tonight, plan to be in that vicinity for the

to which all Penn State students who Lehigh football game tomorrow are invited. Coach Bob Higgins and Hibsman will speak.

The New York City alumni group has arranged a smoker to be held in the Hotel Pennsylvania, Friday night, October 26. The Blue Band will play for this event and speeches will be made by Higgins and representatives from the Columbia athletic association. Arrangements for this affair are in charge of Herbert Corson '20. Students who plan to attend the Columbia game are invited to this smoker also.

Sheep Growers Sales Distribute 125 Rams

Decided improvement in Keystone sheep flocks is expected from the 125 purebred rams distributed at five sales or exchanges sponsored by county cooperative sheep and wool growers associations, William B. Connell, head of livestock extension service, reports.

Cumberland, Indiana, Mercer, Susquehanna, and Venango County organizations staged the sales or exchanges which were patronized also by sheep growers in surrounding counties.

to play again tomorrow. They are Captain Harold 'Whitey' Ock, speedy halfback, and Howell Seobey, who will be remembered by Lion fans as Lehigh's heavyweight wrestler.

Coach Glen Harmeson put his proteges through long scrimmages this week, with the freshman team running Penn State plays against the varsity. Leo Pennauchi, hard-driving sophomore back, who was injured in pre-season training, was back in uniform Tuesday and may be available for the tilt tomorrow.

I look for the Lion varsity to roll up several touchdowns early in the game, after which Coach Bob Higgins will use substitutes to hold the lead and save his first-string players for the more important games to follow.

HAMAS-LASKY BATTLE PRAISED BY OLD TIMER

Steve Hamas' recent fight with Art Lasky was given highest praise by a gentleman who should know a good fight when he sees one. William A. Brady, who managed both Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries in their championship days, pronounced the recent fight the best one he has seen since Jeffries and Tom Sharkey staged their famous twenty-five round thriller at New York in 1899.

The reason given by Brady for that ranking is that, not once during the ten rounds was the referee called upon to separate the contestants. Never did either of the fighters deign to clinch. Whenever one or the other was stunned, he fought his opponent off, instead of going into a clinch.

Brady mentioned that even when Hamas was tottering under Lasky's crushing blows, he threw punches as fast as he could, and tried to return Lasky's fire with more blows; rather than go into a clinch where he might recover his poise.
