 Scene number six, "tea for two," with the original music by Vincent Youmans from the stage production "No, No, Nannette," will star Jessie A. Schmink, and Paul E. Broman, with the "Harmony Trio," composed of Miss Taylor, Jane A. Parker '36 and Mary Jane Thompson '36 and the children of Prof. and Mrs. Frank S. Neustaub, of the department of English composition.
 Professors Theodore R. Bassett and John S. Naylor, of the English composition department, wrote the music for the next scene which bears the music's title, "I've Got a Weekend To Share." Broman and Clara Jones '38 will do this scene.
 The Real St. Louis Blues
 The closing scene of Act I will be "The St. Louis Blues," with a silhouette background and both the "Hylos" and the women's singing chorus featuring Sylvia "Sandra" Schindler '38 singing the original arrangement by W. C. Handy, written for the "Blackbirds," produced in 1928 in New York.
 Miss Schindler has been a featured singer with Don Loper and his orchestra for the past several years. With Loper's band she has toured through many eastern colleges, playing at college social functions. She was also about nineteen pounds per man.

 At least two of the starting Lions will be very much at home on Philadelphia soil. They are Captain Morrison, who was a Central High sensation before he entered State, and Lou Kreizman, who played on the same team with him. Morrison is the first Philadelphia boy to captain a Penn State team since E. J. Haley in 1893.
 Sports scribes in the City of Brotherly Love differ as to the probable result of the fray. They admit that State has the best team in years and that Penn has looked far from impressive, particularly before their 41-to-0 defeat of Lafayette.
 And then they mutter in their hearts something about Penn State's Franklin Field tradition—that intangible something that makes a Lion leap like hell on Philadelphia turf—especially against Penn. But then they say that the Quaker eleven's inexperience has passed and they will probably take the Lion.
 They do not know that spirit here is running higher than it has for five years—since State's 10-to-7 defeat of Penn in 1929. They do not know that even a tie with Penn is enough "to vindicate our athletic policy."

Sophomore Women Pledged To Music Club

They forget that Coach Bob Higgins Louise Homer Club, honorary women's musical society, pledged fourteen girls in the Women's Building lobby yesterday afternoon. The society is for outstanding women in campus musical societies, and the members serve as ushers for the Artist's Course series and other concerts. One large concert a year is given by the society.
 The following were pledged: Helen M. Bitner '37, Frances E. Conklin '37, Alma J. Duran '37, Mary Louise Frear '37, Jane Glenn '37, Emma Jane Hosmer '37, Evelyn G. Kraybill '37, Jean C. Kriebel '37, Vera M. Loomis '37, Elizabeth J. McFarland '37, Martha Shaner '37, Clara L. Shenfeld '37, Barbara M. L. Troxell '37 and Ann F. Wilhelm '37.

PLEBE HARRIERS CHOSEN FOR PITT MEET MONDAY

In time trials for the freshman cross-country meet with the Pittsburgh yearlings Monday the varsity and freshman met together in competition for the first time this year and the varsity humbled the proud undefeated freshman team by a 20-to-35 score.
 Originally scheduled as a freshman-sophomore race, it was changed to a freshman-varsity affair when it was discovered that five of the sophomores were absent. As a result of the race, Olexy, Clark, Rubino, Wear, Daugherty, Titlow, and French were chosen to make the trip to the "smoky city."
 Olexy, freshman flash, running against his first hard competition of the year, finished in third place, only two seconds behind Book, and one second behind Harvey. Clark was in fifth place and the rest of the freshman team was bunched from eighth to fourteenth place. The Pittsburgh meet will be good practice for the team in conditioning themselves for their drive for the IC-4A championship.

Philadelphia Authority To Discuss Gothic Art

"The Role of Stained Glass in Art" will be the topic of an illustrated lecture to be given by Frederick E. Mayer, of the D'Ascenzo studios in Philadelphia, in the Home Economics auditorium, at 7:30 o'clock Monday night.
 Mr. Mayer will discuss various types of Gothic art in glass, a few transitional windows from Gothic to Renaissance, and some modern accomplishments by present day artists. He is an associate of Dr. D'Ascenzo, and is recognized as an authority on stained glass.

Milk Dealers Will Meet

Dr. Fred F. Linsinger, of the agricultural economics department, will attend a meeting of the National Milk Producers association, to be held in Syracuse on Monday.

Granger Rough Cut

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.
 The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.
 ... it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
 ... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler
 ... it makes the tobacco milder
 ... it leaves a clean dry ash—no soggy residue or beel in the pipe bowl
 LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
 the pipe tobacco that's MILD
 the pipe tobacco that's COOL
 —folks seem to like it

"Why—I don't believe I have used a pipe cleaner in three or four weeks"

Granger leaves no gum in the bowl of my pipe—or moisture in the stem. It burns down to a clean dry ash."
