30 International Relations Groups To Convene Here

Jones, Nathan Slated as Main Speakers in Peace Talk

Many Eastern Colleges Will Send Delegations

Thirty International Relations clubs from the Middle-Atlantic states will meet here November 23 and 24, under the auspices of the College.

Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and Dr. Otto Nathan, traveler, author, and lecturer, are the principal speakers listed.

Miss Jones is an authority on international affairs and has lived in both France and Germany. She has traveled in practically every country in Europe and in the Far East and has just returned from a trip to the British Isles, Austria, and Germany.

Dr. Nathan served in Germany as Minister of Economics of the German Reich, as economic advisor in 1930. He is the editor of several German publications, and author of many articles and reviews on economic relations.

Four of the six officers in the Middle Atlantic division are from this college. Berwyn L. Miller '35 is president of the organization; Martha J. Bring '35, corresponding secretary; John L. Herman '36, treasurer; and Dr. Jacob Tanager, faculty advisor.

Thirty of the seven-to-two clubs in the district will be represented at the convention. At the present time, there are over 400 International Relations clubs in the United States.

Colleges which will send representatives are Lebanon Valley, Lehigh, Villa Maria, Immaculata, Beaver, Albright, Marywood, Elmira, Hobart, William Smith, Hood, Goucher, Indiana State Teachers College, Dickinson Junior College, Brother College of Drew University, Hamilton College, and Keuka College.

Hughes To Give Talk At Houseparty Chapel

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be the Houseparty chapel speaker at the regular services in Schwab auditorium Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1889, the speaker took several years of advanced study there and at Boston and Syracuse Universities.

Then, after five years as president of DePauw University, he became bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, a position that he has held since that time.

Hoffer Named To Head Freshman Co-ed Forum

Christine Hoffer '38 was elected president of the Freshman Forum, the religious activities group for first-year co-eds, at the regular meeting Wednesday night.

Installation of officers will take place at the meeting next Wednesday night, in the Hugh Beaver room, 304 Old Main, at 6:45 o'clock.

Will Go Bargin' Around

WILLIAM B. EDWARDS '35

Thespian Show Rehearsals End

Edwards, Taylor, Schindler Star in Production; Porterfield Designs 'Traveller'

With the hanging of the "traveller" which was designed and executed by Henry K. Porterfield, "Bargin' Around," thirteen scene revue starring Helen E. "Hotcha" Taylor '35, William B. "Bill" Edwards '35, "The Hy-los," and Sandra Schindler '38, which will be produced by the Thespians and the Men's Glee club in Schwab auditorium tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock, was pronounced by its directors, J. Ewing "Sook" Kennedy, Prof. Richard W. Grant and Hummel Fishburn, of the music department, "ready to go."

The traveller which has taken Mr. Porterfield more than a month to complete is a large secondary curtain completely covering the stage arch. The map of the world is represented on the traveller by calico which has been sewn to it. The various cities in which the scenes are supposed to take place are marked on the map by something which represents the particular city, such as the dome of the Capitol for Washington, D. C.

In the foreground of the traveller in a boat of oil cloth there are caricatures of the leading characters in the show, including Miss Taylor, Edwards, Donald H. Dixon '37, and Paul E. Broman '36.

Among the other cities which are represented on the traveller are Detroit, St. Louis, Algiers, Philadelphia, New York, and Canton, China. Mr. Porterfield, who has designed and constructed the Thespian scenery here for the past several years besides doing work as a professional scenic artist stated last night, "This is the hardest thing that I have ever done but I feel well satisfied with the work."

Thespians, Men's Glee Club Stay Up Late In Final Rehearsal for "Bargin' Around"

"Take the last eight over again Hummel, Hinebauch, straighten up your hat. All right now. Let's go again! Are you ready, Hum?" yells "Sook" Kennedy who, dressed in a white sweat shirt with a towel tucked in around his shoulders, beats out the time on the floor of Schwab auditorium at the last night "closed rehearsal" for "Bargin' Around."

The chorus girls sprawl out on anything that will hold their weight . . . cigarettes appear from nowhere . . . Peggie Doherty digs into a fresh stick of gum . . . Rudnicke keeps his trumpet "hot" with a little jazz on the side . . . Bill Edwards amuses the sparse audience that crept past the man "on the door" with a little of his "ad lib" stuff . . . James Stephens, Poet, To Lecture Here Thursday

Address Sponsored by Lecture Group of L. A. School

Talltean Gold Medal One of Many Awards

James Stephens, eminent Irish poet and story teller, will lecture here Thursday night. The exact time and place of the lecture will be announced later.

He will have charge of the basketball "clinics" which will be held at the undergraduate centers and evening branch schools of the College, lecturing on basketball fundamentals, modern styles of play, and rules. He will also lead an open forum discussion on the problems of coaching and officiating.

The schedule which has been arranged for the basketball sessions follows: Monday, Seranton; Tuesday, Wilkes-Barre; Wednesday, Hazleton; Thursday, Pottsville; November 26, Uniontown; November 27, Erie; December 6, Reading; and December 7, Allentown.

The general procedure which Leslie will carry out during each single day session of the institute includes an afternoon lecture and demonstration followed by an open evening discussion. High school officials in each locality are cooperating with the College extension department in organizing the service.

Professor Leslie was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1922. While there he played football, basketball, and baseball. Following graduation, he coached at a high school there and also coached the freshman teams at the University. For three years, 1929-32, he was head of physical education at the New Jersey State Teachers' College. He came to this college as head basketball coach in 1932.

Prof. R. Adams Dutcher, of the department of agricultural biochemistry, spoke at "Recent Developments in Biological Chemistry before the Philadelphia section of the American Chemical Society, yesterday."

Professor Dutcher addressed a joint meeting of the Rotary and Exchange clubs at Bristol on Wednesday night, speaking on "Impressions of Germany," from conditions observed during his recent visit to the Reich.

Lewis Attends Meeting

Willard P. Lewis, College librarian, and Prof. William V. Dennis, of the School of Agriculture, have returned from Harrisburg where they attended a meeting of the Public Library Planning Commission for Pennsylvania.

Sophomore Students Choose C.A. Officers

Lewis J. Maurer '37, was elected president of the sophomore group of the Penn State Christian Association at the group meeting Tuesday night.

The following committees have been appointed: College forum, Grayce M. Howlett, T. Paxton Sherwood, Thomas W. Stong, and Ruth McKinney; program, Charles P. Case and Joan C. Kreible; group meetings with chapel speakers, Betty J. MacFarland and J. Lloyd Larkins; social, Marvin O. Lewis, Louis A. Stainhiller and Sally Bushong; publicity, Robert B. Sterrett.

All members of the sophomore class are invited to attend the group meetings which will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

67 Smiths Head List In Current Directory

"You can't keep a good man down," seems to be a fitting expression when comparing it to the number of Smiths found in the forthcoming Student Directory.

For several consecutive years this name has led all others on the campus. This year it has increased its advantage considerably, having jumped to sixty-seven constituents. Its nearest competitor is the Millers, of which there are forty-four enrolled.

Code Infraction Halls '38 Officer Elections

Because the Independent party distributed printed circulars advertising their candidates, inadvertently breaking campaign rules for freshman class elections, the election of 1938 class officers scheduled to take place last Monday night was postponed.

Representatives of the Independent party will not be disqualified as they claim not to have known that there was any restriction on the use of printed advertising.

Leslie Will Open Basketball 'Clinic'

Extension Centers Night Branch Schools To Get Pointers From Varsity Coach

Prof. Earl E. "Spike" Leslie, head coach of basketball, has been appointed head of a new basketball coaching institute, according to Prof. J. Orvis Keller, assistant to the President in charge of extension.

It will have charge of the basketball "clinics" which will be held at the undergraduate centers and evening branch schools of the College, lecturing on basketball fundamentals, modern styles of play, and rules. He will also lead an open forum discussion on the problems of coaching and officiating.

4 Students Hurt In Auto Collision With Town Man

State College Man Also Injured When 4 Cars Crash

Lacerations, Bruises Most Serious Injuries

Four students and a resident of State College were injured at about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night when the cars in which they were riding collided in front of McClellan's garage at the eastern end of State College on the Lemont road. They are: Elizabeth Claudy '38, lacerations about the face, body bruises, and shock; Elizabeth E. Fisher '36, lacerations of the face, body bruises, and shock; Harry B. Frazer '36, lacerations of the nose, body and head bruises; Arlington W. Girton '36, body bruises and shock; and Oscar H. Rocky, a resident of the borough, injured chest and body bruises.

All five were removed to their homes after the accident and were treated by State College doctors.

The property damage to the four automobiles involved will amount to about six hundred dollars.

According to the story told the investigating patrolman last night, the coupe driven by Rocky, an employee of the McClellan garage, was entering State College from Lemont and attempted to turn into the garage entrance when it was hit head-on by the car driven by Frazer and containing the three other students.

The force of the impact turned the Rocky car completely around and it struck a parked car owned by C. M. Furst, State College. It then careened into another car which had been following it but had stopped at the time of the first crash. This car was driven by Joseph Ramer, Tusseyville. He was not hurt.

The students were enroute to Miss Claudy's home at the Rockview Penitentiary where the accident occurred. Miss Claudy's father is the superintendent of the Penitentiary.

No action in the form of prosecution was taken at the time of the investigation.

Mayer Gives Address On Stained Art Glass

"The Role of Stained Glass in Art" was the title of an illustrated lecture by Frederick E. Mayer, assistant and historian for the D'Ascenzo studios of Philadelphia, in the Home Economics auditorium Monday night.

Mr. Mayer, using colored slides, traced the history of stained glass from the time in the Middle Ages when it was used in simple designs for religious instruction to its present day place in a delicate and decorative art.

He explained the process of painting the glass with colored pigment and heating it until the pigment melts and becomes a permanent part of the glass.

Mr. Mayer, who has assisted Dr. D'Ascenzo with many of his well-known works, says that since the revival of ecclesiastical architecture in America, the finest stained glass in the world is made in America.

Joe College! How Does Your Houseparty Date Check Against These Ten Points

That little blonde of yours who is arriving this afternoon may dance better, drink more, and eat less than any other girl in the world; and she may dazzle all the brothers, dance with most of them, and late date the best of them; but — how do her charms stack up against science?

Science, in the form of a discreetly anonymous Massachusetts Institute of Technology professor, has compiled a gauge of romantic statistics which may be used to appraise a young woman's charms.

Lions To Oppose Maroon Before Houseparty Crowd In Final Home Encounter

Unbeaten Nittany Soccermen Will Battle Navy On New Beaver Field; Cub Gridders Journey to Gettysburg

The Lion grid team will meet the Lafayette eleven in their last home game of the 1934 season before the annual Houseparty crowd on New Beaver field at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The only other home sports event will be the State-Navy soccer game on the field at 12:30 o'clock. The freshman grid eleven will journey to Gettysburg where they will engage the Bullet yearlings.

Four varsity men, three backs and a guard, will be playing their last game on New Beaver field. They are Captain Merrill Morrison, Al Mikelonis, Harry Sigel, and Lou Kreizman. Other seniors playing their last home game are Bill Miller, Earl Park, Mike Zeleznock, and Roy Gouker.

Committee Lists 'Green Pastures'

Artists' Course Series Books Negro Drama, Viennese Boys' Choir

"Green Pastures," famed dramatic production, and the Wiener Saengerknaben or Viennese Choir Boys have been booked for the 1934-35 Artists' Course by Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman of the executive committee of the course.

The choir, which will appear in Schwab auditorium Wednesday, January 17, was founded by imperial decree in Vienna in 1498. The organization is making its third tour of America and has specialized in appearing before college and university audiences.

"Green Pastures" will be staged in the auditorium Monday, February 18, by a cast including many of the members of the original company which played roles in the production acclaimed as an outstanding dramatic success in New York several years ago.

Grace Moore, soprano, and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, ranked high in the poll conducted recently by the COLLEGIAN cannot be obtained for the course.

Miss Moore will begin work on a new picture the first of January. The orchestra is not available because of previous contracts lasting throughout the winter.

Delta Gamma Debaters Win Women's Tourney

Delta Gamma, represented by Virginia Warden '35 and Florence M. Reese '36, won the women's intramural debate contest in the final contest last Wednesday night with Alpha Omicron Pi. Alpha Omicron Pi's debaters were Mary A. Holmes '35 and Regina J. Ryan '37.

The subject of this series of debates was "Should the Average Married Woman Have a Career."

White Talks to Group Prof. Jonathan W. White, of the department of agronomy, spoke at the annual meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of America, held in Pittsburgh, yesterday.
