Time Trials Raise Hope For IC-4A Harrier Titles Monday

Hopes for championships in Monday's IC-4A cross-country meet at Van Cortlandt park, New York City, took a sudden upward bound as a result of times made in Wednesday's trials.

In the varsity race, Harvey, Book, and Alexander reached the last lap on the track running side by side in the good time of 26:25. Suddenly realizing that they had a chance to break the course record of 27:25, on-lookers shouted to the runners to sprint, which they did, with Harvey covering the last 220 yards in 33 seconds to finish only 3 seconds over the all-time record.

Book was one second behind him in 27:29 and Alexander finished in 27:32. All three could have easily shattered the record if they had been warned sooner, but because of the cold day nobody had imagined that they would even approach the record mark.

Trimble, Detwiler, Crum, and Downey, in that order, also won their places on the championship-seeking team. The time of the fifth-place man was well within a minute of Harvey's. Which means balance, often the deciding factor in a large meet.

With the fifth place man within half a minute of the winner, the yearling team is even better balanced than the varsity. Olexy will take the individual title and the Lion cubs should return Tuesday with the freshman intercollegiate team title.

Cornell and Syracuse are the only other teams holding four legs on the intercollegiate trophy and neither team is to be feared this year. Although Manhattan and Michigan State are favorites, Penn State has the best varsity team in four years and should give them plenty of competition.

In the yearling trials, Olexy continued his winning habit in the time of 16:17; Rubino was second in 16:27; and Titlow, Clark, Daugherty, French and Wear were also chosen as intercollegiate contestants.

The Lion is hungry after four years of fasting; the Lion is also fleet, and should bag itself at least one individual and one team title.

ter were able to sneak flat passes over the center, but they were unable to get close enough to score. The S.A.E.'s had the only water-boy yet observed at the games. He carried his refreshments to his men in milk bottles. During the progress of the games, two of the fraters had much fun scooting around the sidelines on a motorcycle.

S.P.E. 2 first downs; Chi U. 1

As was expected, this game proved to be the classic of the entire tournament. Again assuming the role of a dopester, this columnist reiterates the fact that the two best clubs in the tourney met in this game, and that the winner, S.P.E., will bowl over Alpha Chi Sig, winner of the lower bracket, with comparative ease.

In this game, all of the first downs (all three of them!) were made in the first half; the second half was a deadlock. The thrill of the game was registered when Joe Blalock, Chi U., tried to kick a field goal from the fifty yard line, and only missed it by inches.

Football Finalists Emerge

E Phuribus Dumu. After a hasty consultation of the back of a borrowed nickel and Webster's Collegiate, we find that this profound sentence may be translated to mean "from many, two." Out of the melee of forty-six clubs that entered the football tournament, two clubs, A. C. S., and S.P.E., have finally landed on top of the heap. The grand finale between these two will be played next Tuesday night. The two semi-final debacles are reviewed below.

Alpha Chi Sig 6; S.A.E. 0

In the first quarter, Jim Jacobs, chemist's right end, tucked away a long pass over the goal from Goyne to score the lone touchdown. Beal, Alpha Chi Sig, did himself noble by his fancy kicking and running. Ricketts and Newcomb were consistent yard gainers for the chemists on their wide end runs.

In a hectic fourth quarter, S.A.E. shot passes galore. Weimer and Fet-
