

Mrs. Shattuck Leaves College $3000 in Will

3 Annual Scholarships Of $1000 Granted To Students.

Graduate From Local High School Granted 1

Requests of $3,000 for the establishment of three scholarships at the College for Centre County students are included in the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Shattuck, of State College, which was admitted for probate at the office of the Centre County Register of Wills this week.

Of the three scholarships of $1,000 each, which are established under the terms of the will, preference in each case is to be given to Centre County students. The first scholarship, to be known as the "John W. Stuart Memorial Scholarship," in memory of her father, provides that the interest and income from the sum of $1,000, to be held by the College trustees, is to be awarded annually to a boy or girl, graduated by the State College High School, who may excel in general standing during the four years' high school course.

Makes Award To Senior Woman

Interest and income from $1,000 to be held in trust perpetually, will be awarded annually to a student in the junior class in civil engineering at the College, who has shown excellence in civil engineering subjects. Mrs. Shattuck, who made the bequest in memory of her husband, Prof. Harold B. Shattuck, of the department of civil engineering, directed that preference be given first to a resident of Centre County, and that general character, personality, and leadership, as well as scholarship, be taken into consideration.

Makes Award to Church

The sum of $1,000 is given to the College in trust, perpetually, with the direction that it be kept invested and the interest and income awarded annually to a senior woman at the College whose home is in Centre County and who may show general excellence in the department of home economics. This scholarship is awarded in memory of Mrs. Shattuck's mother, Ellen M. Stuart.

Rice's Play Originally New York Production

"Counselor-at-Law," by Elmer Rice, the Penn State Players' production scheduled for presentation on Friday night, January 25 in Schwab auditorium at 8:30 o'clock was originally produced on November 6, 1931, at Plymouth Theatre, New York City, with Paul Muni in the leading role of the attorney, George Simon.

At the time of its opening, the play received favorable notices from the New York dramatic critics. Chief among these was J. Brook Atkinson's in the New York Times, who commented, "Mr. Rice's accuracy of observation, his genius for dialogue, and his understanding of the times in which he is living make 'Counselor-at-Law' a remarkably engrossing play. The dialogue glows with life, it is witty, comic, and a deep revelation of character. His portrait of George Simon is abundantly sympathetic; there is nothing evaded or omitted." The part of Simon in the Players' production will be played by C. K. Lucas Brightman.

Elmer Rice, the playwright, has recently written "Judgment Day," the propaganda play concerning the Nazi movements, which came out this fall on the New York stage. Among his other dramatic successes are "Street Scene," the Pulitzer Prize winner for 1929, "The Left Bank," and the comedy, "See Naples and Die."

Hurrell Reported Ill

Prof. Arthur S. Hurrell, director of vocational teacher training and teacher training extension, is residing temporarily in St. Petersburg, Florida, where he is recuperating from a serious illness. Professor Hurrell is expected to return to school sometime in February.

Shew Announces $8.75 As Junior Blazer Cost

Junior blazers have been reduced from the usual $10 dollars down to $8.75, Warren W. Shew '35, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday. These coats are now on display at Stark Bros. and Harper. Orders may be placed with any member of the blazer committee.

Although the price of the jacket has been reduced, the coat is almost identical to the one which was offered last year for the higher price. Seniors who failed to buy them last year and desire them can purchase them now.

AlphaDeltaSigma Get Second Rating

Advertising Fraternity Gets High Place Among 32 Chapters.

Penn State's chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, has been awarded second place rating in the national organization of thirty-two chapters, Thomas J. Nokes '35, president of the fraternity, announced yesterday. The local organization, which is known as the Benjamin Franklin chapter, is the youngest chapter in the fraternity, having been organized only two years. It has twelve active members.

The Penn State chapter gained a total of 874 points, being topped only by Washington State. The greatest number of points—256—were gained by the local chapter for the excellence of its initiations. One hundred and seventy points were awarded it for the regularity with which its meetings were held, 138 for publicity received, 126 for general activities, sixty-nine for student letters received, fifty for secretary reports received, twenty-five for student advertising jobs held, twelve for alumni letters received, and ten for each of the following: student papers sent, alumni list corrected, and professorial members initiated.

To Conduct Poster Contest

In order after Penn State, the following rated in the first twenty: University of California at Berkeley, Southern California, Temple, Oregon, Oregon State, De Pauw, Washington, New York University, Wisconsin, Syracuse, Alabama, Boston, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, Indiana, Illinois, and Butler.

The fraternity has been unusually active on the campus here since its inception two years ago. Last year, in collaboration with Iota Sigma Pi, women's honorary chemical fraternity, it sponsored a talk here by Dr. Frederick J. Schlink, of the Consumers' Research, Inc. It is now contacting College department heads and leading advertising men throughout the State preparatory to conducting a State-wide Poster Art Contest, details of which are to be announced later.

Student-Borough Relations Group Accepts 5 Rules

Suggest Periodic Exam. Of House To Determine Insurance Status.

Advise Quantity Survey Of All House Property

Twenty-five members of the Fraternity Counsellors association unanimously approved a set of resolutions, embodying ideas brought out by a committee on Student-Town Relationships at a meeting Tuesday night. This committee was composed of Prof. Leonard A. Doggett, chairman, Prof. Julius E. Kaulfus, and Charles Schlow, borough councilman.

In their recommendations the committee said, "Townpeople and students in the past have often thought too narrowly in terms of their own interests and problems without duly considering the interests and problems of the other groups of this community and at times have unwisely manifested their thoughts in words and conduct, thereby causing embarrassment and friction. It appears that adequate effort has not been made to bring about sound understanding of and proper consideration for the interests and problems of each of these groups by the others, to the end that there may be happy community solidarity.

It is not in accord either with good humanitarian or with true American principle for a resident of any community not to regard himself or herself as an interested and considerate member of the community in which he or she permanently or temporarily resides. Therefore, the committee said, "Be It Resolved That:

- 1. Each and every resident of this community examine carefully his or her daily thoughts, speech, conduct in order to discover how these may have unwisely reflected excessive consideration for the interests and problems of his or her own group;
2. Each and every resident of this community (a) acquaint himself or herself with the duties and problems of the authorities and agencies legally charged and morally obligated by the community to protect life, property and generally to make this borough a place in which everyone may live happily, and (b) render these authorities and agencies whatever co-operation and encouragement of which he or she may be capable;
3. The more permanent residents realize, after making due allowance for the thoughtlessness and inexperience of youth, that the members of the student group are with few exceptions

(Continued on page two)

All Students of 7 Schools May Enter by Certificate

15 High, Prep Schools Receive Exemptions From College Entrance Requirements On Basis of Scholarship.

All the graduates of the Abington Township, Clymer, and Germantown High Schools, and of four private schools, namely, George School, near Philadelphia; Immaculate Conception, Connelville; Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg; and Westtown, near Trenton; may enter here by certificate. Such was the report of Registrar William S. Hoffman this morning.

He further reported that there are exceptions to the two-fifths rule which allows only those students rating, scholastically, in the upper two-fifths of their graduating class to enter here by certificate. These exceptions number fifteen high schools and three private schools from which the first

College Will Hold Graduation Feb. 1

Mid-Semester Commencement Plans To Devote Program Only to Students.

Penn State's twenty-second annual mid-year commencement exercises will be held in Schwab auditorium on Friday night, February 1, at 7 o'clock.

Although no definite statement can be made as to the number which will be graduated until after the final examinations have been taken, it is expected that approximately eighty-five seniors will receive degrees on that night.

Besides these seniors, over sixty graduate students expect to receive degrees, several of which will be doctorates. Three seniors, who completed their college work in the post-session last August, will also be officially graduated at this time.

To date no commencement speaker has been chosen. College authorities said that unless the plans are changed no speaker will be secured, but rather the program will be devoted to the students themselves.

Faculty members have been instructed to give the seniors who are planning to be graduated their examinations early so that their final grades can be in by Wednesday. The final day on which examinations can be taken by seniors has been set at Tuesday.

Hartford Theologian Will Speak in Chapel

Dr. Hornell Hart, professor of social ethics at Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., will appear on the College chapel program for the first time Sunday, in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock. His topic will be "Science Is a Religion."

Dr. Hart is the author of the chapter on "Changing Social Attitudes and Interests" in the report of President Hoover's Committee on Social Trends. The speaker has also written several texts, including "The Science of Social Relations," "Personality and the Family," and "The Technique of Social Progress." The latter text was used in the Social Science 1 and 2 courses here until last year.

This will be the last chapel service of the semester, the next two Sunday services being omitted because of the final examinations and the mid-year vacation. The next program will be on February 10.

Scranton High School Receives LaVie Prize

Central High School, Scranton, will be the first to receive the LaVie issue as a reward for the scholastic record compiled by its graduates who entered here as freshmen four years ago and who will be graduated this year.

Registrar William S. Hoffman announced that the reward, although given for the first time this year, will also be made to Abington high school near Philadelphia on the merits of their first place ranking in 1932 and 1933. Central high school will get a 1934 issue of the LaVie while Abington will receive a 1933 issue.

The La Vie will be inscribed with those words "Presented to Scranton Central High School—Highest Ranking Public High School—1934-35—1934-35—Based on records made by its graduates, as freshmen, during the past four years at The Pennsylvania State College." Abington high school will be substituted for Central high school on the issue to be presented to it.

Period for Reporting Conflicts Ends Today

All conflict examinations must be reported in person on the blanks provided at the office of the Registrar in Old Main by 5 o'clock this afternoon. Three examinations on the same day or two examinations scheduled for the same hour constitute a conflict.

Place and time of conflict examinations will be mailed to the heads of the various departments on Monday, January 21, and the conflict examination schedule will be printed in the next issue of the COLLEGIAN. Any students failing to report conflicts will be prohibited from taking the conflict examinations.

Poster Contest To Open Soon

Irving Aaronson and His Fifteen Commanders To Furnish Music for Dance.

With Senior Ball definitely set for February 8 and with Irving Aaronson and his Fifteen Commanders signed to furnish the music, the annual poster contest advertising the affair will open, Cecil C. Spadafora '35, chairman of the dance committee, announced today. The winner will receive one complimentary ticket.

No member of the committee will be given an opportunity to see the posters submitted before the final decision of the winner has been made by the judges, Spadafora explained, in desiring to make it clear that "polls" will not be played in the choosing, and that no member of the committee will be able to do a favor for anybody.

Jan. 25 Closing Date

All posters are to be left at the office of Prof. Andrew W. Case, of the department of architecture, Room 225, Engineering F., by Friday, January 25. In addition to Professor Case, Helen M. Savard, assistant professor of applied arts in the department of architecture, and Prof. Harold E. Dickson, of the department of architecture, will judge the posters and decide the winner.

The posters themselves are to be twenty-two inches wide and twenty-eight inches high. All contestants must submit the same size posters as other sizes will not be considered by the judges in making their award. The wording is to be as brief as possible and yet contain the title of the dance, the name of the band and the price of the ball, which is $3.30, Spadafora announced.

Other conditions under which contestants are required to work include that no portrait of the band leader shall appear, as has formerly been the custom in design, and that no poster will be considered in which there are more than four colors employed.

"Originality of design, construction, and thought content will be one of the major considerations in awarding the prize," Spadafora declared. "One which catches the eye quickly and which can be read instantly is the type of poster for which the comp will be awarded."

Scarab Exhibits Work

Scarab, professional architecture fraternity, will hold an exhibition of student work for 1934-35 on the third floor of the Main Engineering building from January 17-21. The Scarab Traveling Sketch Exhibition as it is known, will show drawings from University of Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Washington State, Southern California, University of Chicago, University of Cincinnati, University of Minnesota, and University of Kansas, in national competition for the $25 prize.

Irving Aaronson made a hit as a stage band in his appearance with Irene Bordoni in the comedy "Paris." He is noted for his imitation of Eddie Duchin as can be discovered in his recording of "Let's Misbehave."

Nichols Noses Out Dunlap To Win Best Dressed Professor Contest

The department of English composition has finally come into its own. Edward J. Nichols, in a last minute spurt, snatched the title of Penn State's Best Dressed Professor from the very clutches of L. Tremaine Dunlap, winner of last year's poll.

Mr. Nichols garnered 184 votes to 179 for Mr. Dunlap, fashion plate of the math department. Other leaders were Prof. Harold A. Everett, head of the department of mechanical engineering; Louis H. Bell, of the department of journalism; and Robert E. Galbraith, Mr. Nichols' colleague in English composition.

Mr. Nichols' heavy vote on the closing day of the poll can be attributed in part to his public appearance with Prof. Hummel Fishburn in the "Clinic on Jazz" Tuesday night. He appeared there in his favorite color, brown.

Cancel 'Green Pastures' Date Here in Feb.

Dramatic Group Uses 4 Week Cancellation Prerogative

Committee To Attempt To Sign N. Y. Orchestra

Negotiations were under way today to obtain a suitable number to replace "Green Pastures," which was originally scheduled to appear as part of the Artists' Course in February.

Poster Contest To Open Soon

Irving Aaronson and His Fifteen Commanders To Furnish Music for Dance.

With Senior Ball definitely set for February 8 and with Irving Aaronson and his Fifteen Commanders signed to furnish the music, the annual poster contest advertising the affair will open, Cecil C. Spadafora '35, chairman of the dance committee, announced today. The winner will receive one complimentary ticket.

No member of the committee will be given an opportunity to see the posters submitted before the final decision of the winner has been made by the judges, Spadafora explained, in desiring to make it clear that "polls" will not be played in the choosing, and that no member of the committee will be able to do a favor for anybody.

Jan. 25 Closing Date

All posters are to be left at the office of Prof. Andrew W. Case, of the department of architecture, Room 225, Engineering F., by Friday, January 25. In addition to Professor Case, Helen M. Savard, assistant professor of applied arts in the department of architecture, and Prof. Harold E. Dickson, of the department of architecture, will judge the posters and decide the winner.

The posters themselves are to be twenty-two inches wide and twenty-eight inches high. All contestants must submit the same size posters as other sizes will not be considered by the judges in making their award. The wording is to be as brief as possible and yet contain the title of the dance, the name of the band and the price of the ball, which is $3.30, Spadafora announced.

Other conditions under which contestants are required to work include that no portrait of the band leader shall appear, as has formerly been the custom in design, and that no poster will be considered in which there are more than four colors employed.

"Originality of design, construction, and thought content will be one of the major considerations in awarding the prize," Spadafora declared. "One which catches the eye quickly and which can be read instantly is the type of poster for which the comp will be awarded."

Scarab, professional architecture fraternity, will hold an exhibition of student work for 1934-35 on the third floor of the Main Engineering building from January 17-21. The Scarab Traveling Sketch Exhibition as it is known, will show drawings from University of Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Washington State, Southern California, University of Chicago, University of Cincinnati, University of Minnesota, and University of Kansas, in national competition for the $25 prize.

Irving Aaronson made a hit as a stage band in his appearance with Irene Bordoni in the comedy "Paris." He is noted for his imitation of Eddie Duchin as can be discovered in his recording of "Let's Misbehave."

Nichols Noses Out Dunlap To Win Best Dressed Professor Contest

The department of English composition has finally come into its own. Edward J. Nichols, in a last minute spurt, snatched the title of Penn State's Best Dressed Professor from the very clutches of L. Tremaine Dunlap, winner of last year's poll.

Mr. Nichols garnered 184 votes to 179 for Mr. Dunlap, fashion plate of the math department. Other leaders were Prof. Harold A. Everett, head of the department of mechanical engineering; Louis H. Bell, of the department of journalism; and Robert E. Galbraith, Mr. Nichols' colleague in English composition.

Mr. Nichols' heavy vote on the closing day of the poll can be attributed in part to his public appearance with Prof. Hummel Fishburn in the "Clinic on Jazz" Tuesday night. He appeared there in his favorite color, brown.

Cancel 'Green Pastures' Date Here in Feb.

Dramatic Group Uses 4 Week Cancellation Prerogative

Committee To Attempt To Sign N. Y. Orchestra

Negotiations were under way today to obtain a suitable number to replace "Green Pastures," which was originally scheduled to appear as part of the Artists' Course in February.

Poster Contest To Open Soon

Irving Aaronson and His Fifteen Commanders To Furnish Music for Dance.

With Senior Ball definitely set for February 8 and with Irving Aaronson and his Fifteen Commanders signed to furnish the music, the annual poster contest advertising the affair will open, Cecil C. Spadafora '35, chairman of the dance committee, announced today. The winner will receive one complimentary ticket.

No member of the committee will be given an opportunity to see the posters submitted before the final decision of the winner has been made by the judges, Spadafora explained, in desiring to make it clear that "polls" will not be played in the choosing, and that no member of the committee will be able to do a favor for anybody.

Jan. 25 Closing Date

All posters are to be left at the office of Prof. Andrew W. Case, of the department of architecture, Room 225, Engineering F., by Friday, January 25. In addition to Professor Case, Helen M. Savard, assistant professor of applied arts in the department of architecture, and Prof. Harold E. Dickson, of the department of architecture, will judge the posters and decide the winner.

The posters themselves are to be twenty-two inches wide and twenty-eight inches high. All contestants must submit the same size posters as other sizes will not be considered by the judges in making their award. The wording is to be as brief as possible and yet contain the title of the dance, the name of the band and the price of the ball, which is $3.30, Spadafora announced.

Other conditions under which contestants are required to work include that no portrait of the band leader shall appear, as has formerly been the custom in design, and that no poster will be considered in which there are more than four colors employed.

"Originality of design, construction, and thought content will be one of the major considerations in awarding the prize," Spadafora declared. "One which catches the eye quickly and which can be read instantly is the type of poster for which the comp will be awarded."

Scarab, professional architecture fraternity, will hold an exhibition of student work for 1934-35 on the third floor of the Main Engineering building from January 17-21. The Scarab Traveling Sketch Exhibition as it is known, will show drawings from University of Illinois, Carnegie Tech, Washington State, Southern California, University of Chicago, University of Cincinnati, University of Minnesota, and University of Kansas, in national competition for the $25 prize.

Irving Aaronson made a hit as a stage band in his appearance with Irene Bordoni in the comedy "Paris." He is noted for his imitation of Eddie Duchin as can be discovered in his recording of "Let's Misbehave."

Nichols Noses Out Dunlap To Win Best Dressed Professor Contest

The department of English composition has finally come into its own. Edward J. Nichols, in a last minute spurt, snatched the title of Penn State's Best Dressed Professor from the very clutches of L. Tremaine Dunlap, winner of last year's poll.

Mr. Nichols garnered 184 votes to 179 for Mr. Dunlap, fashion plate of the math department. Other leaders were Prof. Harold A. Everett, head of the department of mechanical engineering; Louis H. Bell, of the department of journalism; and Robert E. Galbraith, Mr. Nichols' colleague in English composition.

Mr. Nichols' heavy vote on the closing day of the poll can be attributed in part to his public appearance with Prof. Hummel Fishburn in the "Clinic on Jazz" Tuesday night. He appeared there in his favorite color, brown.