

Re-vamped Glennland Team Will Open '35 Season Tonight With Wilkes-Barre

5 Freshmen Will Compete In First Competition; Hope To Strengthen Weak Team

Freshmen Hold Records At Other Schools In Swimming

A practically revamped Glennland A. C. swimming team will take to the pool against a strong Wilkes-Barre Y. M. C. A. team tonight at 8 o'clock. The Wilkes-Barre team is coached by Robert J. Zubrod who brought the Clearfield team here last season.

The loss of Parks and Hinman who graduated last year has weakened the Glennland team but five freshmen, William Helriegel, a former swimmer for the Penn A. C., Sidney Krassner and Jerome Weinstein, former sprint champions in New York high schools, Giles Burley, former Girard College swimmer, and George Henderson, who never swam in competition, are expected to greatly reduce the effect of these losses.

To Get New Springboard
Though the Wilkes-Barre team is composed mostly of high school boys it is said to be a fairly capable team and the last year's undefeated Glennland A. C. will find it no set-up.

Coach Galbraith, of Glennland, says a new standard intercollegiate springboard will be installed for the meet in which Krassner and Helriegel will dive for the A. C.

Glennland natators have been named as: In 30 and 60 yd. sprints and sprint relay, Henry C. Dern '35, John A. Keech '35, and Robert A. Walker '37, all of whom swam with the team last year; William Helriegel III '38, Sidney B. Krassner '38, Jerome Weinstein '38. For the 220 yd. swim, Robert H. Dewalt '38, George E. Henderson '38. In the 120 breast-stroke, Giles P. Burley '37, Eugene F. Lesko '37, also last season swimmers. Richard A. Geiger '36, another hold-over, will swim in the 150 yd. backstroke competition. The diving, as said before, will be taken care of by Krassner and Helriegel, both freshmen.

Last year Glennland won all four meets in which it participated, beating Johnstown and Clearfield Y. M. C. A. once each and the Lewistown Y. M. twice.

P.I.A.A. Board To Make Plans for Track Meet

Meeting here in order to make final and complete arrangements for the State Championship Track Field Meet, which is to be held here on May 25, the track committee of the Board of Control of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association will convene at the Nittany Lion Inn at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Meeting with the committee are Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics; Director Hugo Bezdek, of the School of Physical Education and Athletics; and Charles D. "Chick" Werner, track coach.

Members of the committee are G. E. Schilling, principal, Bradford Senior high school, chairman; John H. Tyon, principal, Upper Darby Senior high school; W. C. Evans, principal, Scott high school, North Braddock; R. T. Mitchell, principal, Great Bend high school, and Edmund Wicht, secretary, P. I. A. A., ex-officio member of the committee.

'38 Men To Compete With Varsity Runners

Selection of varsity and freshman teams to compete in the West Virginia Invitation indoor track meet will start tomorrow with a varsity-freshman contest. All those wishing to enter the meet must sign up at the track meeting in the Varsity Hall basement at 4:15 o'clock today.

The West Virginia tourney, which will take place February 9, will include a 70 yard dash, 880 yard run, 70 yard low and high hurdles, 4-5 mile relay, 2-3 mile sprint relay, mile run, mile medley relay, pole vault, high and broad jump, shot put, and 35-pound hammer throw.

Coach "Chick" Werner is especially anxious for additional freshman material and has appealed to the fraternities to aid him in his search. The number of men which he will take to the meet depends upon the trials, but he has definitely decided to take a freshman team.

"I would especially like to see a good many candidates for the pole vault and hurdles, our weakest events on both teams," he said.

I.C.4-A Meet At Cambridge On May 24-25

Track Schedule for '35 Shows 1 Dual Meet Lost from Card.

A tentative track schedule for this year including two and possibly three dual meets, the Penn Relays, and the I. C. 4-A meet, a decrease of one dual meet from last season's schedule, was announced yesterday by Floyd E. Saver '35, track manager.

On April 26 and 27 Penn State will participate in the annual Penn Relays at Philadelphia. On May 11, the first and only home dual is scheduled here with Pittsburgh, while on the following week-end, May 18, the Lions will travel and meet Syracuse. The annual I. C. 4-A meet will take place at Cambridge, Mass., on May 24 and 25.

May Meet Cornell
The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association State championship meet will be held here the same week-end as the I. C. 4-A. Intercollegiate, and more than 300 athletes are expected to participate, representing high schools from every section of the State.

There is a possibility of another dual meet with Cornell being added to the schedule, it was announced. Arrangements are still in a tentative state, and the meet may be held either on April 20 or May 4, if it is held at all. The Pennsylvania State Interscholastics, sponsored by the College, will be held here on May 11, if they are held this year, but this is also indefinite.

This is Penn State's thirty-fifth year in the relays. The first Blue and White team was entered in 1900, and they have been consistent contenders ever since. Penn State teams have taken part in the Intercollegiate since 1908.

This will mark the twenty-first meeting of the Lion and the Pitt Panther, the former having emerged the victor sixteen times in the past twenty meets. Syracuse has been defeated in six out of eight meetings.

Speidel Sparkles As Seconds, Scribblers, Scrubs Seek Solace

By VANCE PACKARD
"Now let's see, where was I?" Wrestling coach Charlie Speidel, clad in his aged uniform, had just disposed of one of the minor managers who had been haunting him for some time, and whirled to face the vast array of managers, grapplers, and reporters—each one of whom was trying to capture his individual attention.

Bob Johnston, 155 pounder was closest. The coach tried to scowl and said, "Now what's wrong with you?" Before Bob had finished explaining that his neck was stiff, Charlie had grabbed it dexteriously, snapped it, and the several vertebrae could be heard rumbling into place. "Feel better?" The dazed grappler moved his neck pensively and said "Un, huh."

But before he could get his answer out, Charlie had flitted away; Jack Calvin, sophomore husky, wanted him to show him some new ways to get out from underneath. Charlie let the pupil crawl on top of him and grasp a firm hold. Four seconds later the pupil was sprawling on his back, with the playful Charlie astride him. They repeated the process, only Jack was on the bottom, and they went through it slow-motion, with Charlie giving his machine-gun like instructions. But the crowd would never leave him alone.

This time it was the reporter, and the ever-obliging Charlie hopped to

Phi Deltas Lead Boxing Tourney

Hold 1 Point Margin Over Phi Kappa Sigma; Third Place Honors Undecided.

Phi Delt's slugging gridders held their lead in the intramural boxing jamboree when they captured two championships and a second place in the finals at Rec Hall Wednesday night. They now have a total of twenty-four points and Phi Kappa Sigma is in a close second position with twenty-three points. The third place individual winners and the tourney, will be decided this afternoon at 4.

When the finals opened, the Phi Deltas were leading by one point and in the contest both they and the Phi Kappa Sigs snagged fifteen points. Dick Maurer, Phi Delt 165 pounder was automatically awarded the title although he was defeated by Andy Korba in the finals. The match was an exhibition since the person who Dick was supposed to meet, Tommy Campion, was ill Wednesday night. Korba was recruited to pinch-hit and was awarded the championship medal for his efforts.

Alex Morris Surprises
In the opening bout, diminutive George May, Phi Sigma Delta flyweight, astounded the 5,000 spectators when he staged a recoup and soundly trounced Bob Morris, Phi Kappa Sig. George Harvey, Phi Kappa Sig hill-and-daler, retained his championship in the 125 pound contest when he won the nod over Dave Minnick, Independent.

The surprise of the evening came in the 135 pound tilt. After being pushed, pounded and pummeled around the ring for two rounds, Alex Morris, Phi Kappa Sig, recovered in the last and clearly outboxed and defeated Bob Donato, Alpha Phi Delt.

The most impressive mauler of the meet appeared in the next when Sammy Donato '38, Independent, scored a technical knock-out over plucky Tommy Langan, Independent. During the progress of the fight, the sages at the ring-side shook their venerable heads his feet, told an embarrassed freshman to take his place with Jack, and retted over to the edge of the mat. "Hi, what's up now?" The reporter had to talk, and talk fast. "Have you picked the team for the first meet, yet?"

Charlie explained that he hadn't picked any team yet. However, he explained that the men who won championships in the inter-class meet had a slight preference over the other men in their respective classes. They would not have to go through the grueling pre-meet eliminations with the other men in their weights. They would only have to defend their title against the outstanding challenger.

The reporter's next question was waiting for him as soon as he paused. "Is this Miami meet suppose to be a set-up?" The wrestling coach looked pained, and said, sarcastically, "Yeah, they're a bunch of punks—just traveling 2000 miles up here for their health." He dug mysteriously into the drawer of a near-by desk, and poked a folder in front of the reporter. On it was a picture of a recent U. S. Olympic team, and right there in the front row were two men from Miami University. No further explanation was needed, and none was given—because someone else had attracted Charlie's attention.

A green sophomore was moaning to the coach (and nurse) that he had fallen and hurt his chest. Charlie was not very tolerant. "You beginners are always hurting yourselves—More this year than ever before. You never see any of the good boys hurting themselves. They know how to handle themselves."

"You kids are too stiff and rigid when you wrestle," and when you fall, you're bound to sprain something. Try to relax when you wrestle. Never clamp a death-grip on your opponent when you're on top, but ride lightly, and when he shifts, you shift."

LION COURTMEN TO FACE PRESIDENTS

W. & J. Quintet Comes Here for 14th Encounter

Leslie Five Trounces Western Maryland 43 to 25

By CHARLIE SCHWARTZ
The Presidents are next! Here tomorrow night for the fourteenth contest of the series, which was begun in 1914, Washington and Jefferson will take the floor against a Lion quintet which is beginning to perk up and show old-time enthusiasm.

The Nittany courtmen will again be without the services of their leader, Captain Johnny Stocker, who is on the bench with a fractured wrist, received in the Juniata encounter. Coach Spike Leslie estimates that Stocker will be off the floor for at least two weeks.

Lions Have Won 10 in Series
The Lions have won ten of their thirteen games with W. & J., and the quintet from Washington, Pa., have not emerged on the winning side of the ledger in this annual fray since February 4, 1922, when they downed the Blue and White, 26 to 23. The Lions came right back a month later in that year to win 32 to 15. Last year the Red and Black was overcome, 28 to 11.

All but four games of the thirteen-game series have been played on State College courts. The earliest time the Lions had was the first of two games played in 1921 in which the Presidents were swamped, 53 to 14. The second game that year also went to the Blue and White, 26 to 23.

The Lions, as per tradition, made Western Maryland look sick on Wednesday night, trouncing them, 43 to 25, although it cannot be said that the Nittany men were so healthy looking themselves. The Lesliemen led at half time, 18 to 13.

Coach Leslie put a new line-up in at the start of the game, and after a few minutes of indecision, they began to click surprisingly well. Acting captain Jimmy Smith and Van Linton started at forwards. Bar. Riley at center, and Frank Smith and Mike Kornick at guards.

Riley took scoring honors for the evening with eleven points, making all but two of them in the second semester. Much of the credit for his five field goals should go to Frank Smith and Mike Kornick for their half. Much of the credit for his Frank trailed Riley closely with four field and two foul tallies. Sterling Fowble starred for the visitors by registering ten points.

and proclaimed him as a second All Lewis.

In the 155 pound battle, Lee Sunday, Phi Delt pig-skin juggler, won a close decision over the much-talked-about freshman pugilist, Jack Blades. Maurer of the same institution, was automatically awarded the six points in the 165 pound class.

In the 175 pound set-to, Messrs. Anderson, Delta Theta Sigma, and Sawchuk, Tau Sigma Phi, wrestled through three weary rounds and Sawchuk was given the nod. In the heavy-weight division, Iggy Weber, Theta Kappa Phi man-mountain, pushed Harry Cromwell, Phi Delt adonis, about the ring without much trouble.

In the third place eliminations this afternoon, each of the two leading clubs will have one representative, so that the best of the Phi Kappa Sigs can possibly go is the Phi Delt. Vic Buell, Phi Delt, will meet Hank Miller, Phi Sigma Delta, for third place in the 145-pound class, and Jim Barr, Phi Kappa Sig, will clash with Lou Barth, S. P. E., for third honors in the 175-pound division.

Hamas May Meet English Champion

Bout To Depend Upon Decision Of Rothenberg, German Fight Promoter.

By JOHN MILLER

It wasn't very long ago that Steve Hamas, the Passaic, N.J. heavyweight boxing contender for the championship, couldn't get a fight. Now he has one for each mitten and a possible third that will be mighty hard to overcome.

If Walter Rothenberg, German promoter, gives his permission, Hamas will accept an offer of $25,000 to box Jack Peterson, English champion, during the first week of February in Wembley, England. The offer was made by Sidney Hull, English promoter and is being seriously considered by Charley Harvey, veteran manager of the former Nittany Lion athlete.

"I am going to live up to our contract to fight Max Schmeling in Germany sometime in March," Harvey declared in announcing the English bid. "Hamas would like to fight them both and if Rothenberg is willing, that is all that will be necessary."

The third fight pending is that with the champion, Max Baer. As was formerly announced, Baer has agreed to meet any one of the five outstanding contenders for the title and Hamas now appears to be the most likely choice. Not much can be determined concerning the Schmeling fight or Hamas' next move until February 1, the last day which Rothenberg has to deposit the $25,000 purse in a Paris bank.

Nittany Ringmen Will Meet Cornell In Season Opener

Cornell To Start First Inter-College Boxing Tomorrow Night.

By HARRY HENDERSON

Friday noon will see the two Houeks, coach and manager, respectively, with eight varsity boxers, including Captain Mike Zeleznock, off for Cornell where they will meet the Red ringmen Saturday night, inaugurating intercollegiate pugilism in the Ithaca school.

The Lions are meeting a very definitely unknown quantity in Cornell. Why? Merely because the Cornellians have never fought an intercollegiate ring battle in their history. The boxing of the Reds so far has been only concerned with their intramural and interclass fights.

A Lion Breather

Boxing was instituted at the Ithaca school this year because its interclass and intramural ring contests have aroused so much interest that their entrance into the intercollegiate game was demanded by their undergraduates.

Because the Cornell team has never before fought an intercollegiate fight before, little can be said about the prospects for their team. Very little is known about their ringmen except that their team is selected from intramural champions and that these champions are coached by one of their former intramural champs. Thus, it should be a nice easy breather match for the Lions, considering the fact that they have some of the best material in years.

Coach Houek had not announced his line-up up to the time that this paper was going to press and consequently a line-up here would be merely a guess.
