

Swiss Village Is Chosen Theme Of Senior Ball

Tonight's Dance Opens Second Half's Round Of Social Events.

Poster Contest Won By George Uhrich '36

Opening the social season for the second semester, Irving Aaronson and his fifteen Commanders will furnish the music for Senior Ball in Recreation hall tonight from 9:30 o'clock until 2 o'clock.

Chaperons for the dance include Prof. and Mrs. Arthur C. Cloetingh; Prof. and Mrs. Hummel Fishburn; Mr. and Mrs. John Harper; Dr. and Mrs. Burke M. Hermann; Prof. and Mrs. Amos E. Neyhart; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mitten; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Smith; Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Stevens; and Prof. and Mrs. Sheldon C. Tanner.

Uhrich Wins Poster Contest

In the poster contest sponsored by the dance committee, the judges awarded first prize to George D. Uhrich '36, a student in architectural engineering.

The hall will be decorated by the Brown Decorating company. The ceiling will be covered entirely with a buff-colored drapery with numerous drapes in ruffled style strung at intervals throughout the ceiling.

Swiss Village Motif

Novel panels in brilliant colors will be hung on the side walls and booths of the fraternities. Other minor decorations depicting the winter scene and carrying out the effect of a Swiss village scene will be employed.

Fraternities which have not already turned in their checks for booths tonight will be given until noon today to make application for the booth, Spadafora announced.

Tickets for the dance may be purchased at the Treasurer's office until closing time today.

Dr. and Mrs. Broyles Hurt in Auto Collision

Dr. William A. Broyles, of the department of agricultural education, suffered internal injuries and his wife, Martha L. Broyles, received back injuries, when the automobile of Dr. Broyles collided with a car driven by John L. Van Thuyne, of Lansdowne, at 8:40 o'clock this morning.

Dr. and Mrs. Broyles were driving toward State College and Van Thuyne was proceeding in the opposite direction.

Dr. Broyles' car was damaged to the extent of $400, while the damage to Van Thuyne's car amounted to $200.

Glee Club Asked To Remain Out Of Competition

Will Enter All-Eastern Contest - Festival On March 12.

Grant Plans To Hold Concert Here Earlier

Because Penn State has won the Glee Club championship for the past seven years, the State Intercollegiate Council has communicated with Prof. Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, and director of the club, asking that the organization remain out of the competition this year and next.

This request will not prevent the club from attending as a guest club, should it decide to do so.

To Sing in Pittsburgh

For the first time in the history of student singing, an all-eastern intercollegiate Glee Club Contest-Festival will be held in Pittsburgh, Tuesday night, March 12.

Penn State will enter the contest because the glee club was the winner of the state championship last year.

Director Grant has announced plans to invite the winner of the New York state contest and the winner of the New England contest to appear with the Penn State Glee Club in a combined concert in Schwab auditorium on Monday night, March 11.

These clubs will stop here-while enroute to the Contest-Festival at Pittsburgh if plans are completed after the state and regional contests are held this month and the first week in March.

Dr. Freehof Will Give Sunday Chapel Speech

Dr. Solomon B. Freehof, of the Rodef Shalom Temple in Pittsburgh, will speak on "Peace Between Science and Religion" at the chapel services in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

Rabbi Freehof is a graduate of Baltimore City College, University of Cincinnati, and the Hebrew Union College. During the war he served as 1st Lieutenant Chaplain of the U. S. Army in France.

In addition to being the author of "Marx, Freud, and Einstein," and "Stormers of Heaven," Dr. Freehof has lectured extensively before college and university groups.

New 'Bell' Issue Appears on Sale

Alumnus Writes Lead Article, 'Pacifism Breeds War,' For Current Number.

Presenting a widely varied pattern of student thought and student writing, the Winter-Spring issue of the Old Main Bell, student literary and opinion magazine, was released Tuesday, and will remain on sale the rest of this month.

"Pacifism Breeds War," by an Alumnus, the lead article, attacks the modern collegiate attitude of passive resistance to war.

Other features of the Bell include the departments, Notes and Comments, Institutions and People, and an enlarged book review section.

Among the short stories in the Winter-Spring issue are "A Nickel is Not Always Five Cents," by Rachael M. Van Artsdalen '37.

Seminar Will Open Tonight In Auditorium

Benjamin Calls Plans Ready for 3-Day Sessions Here.

100 Students To Take Part in Closed Groups

One hundred students, representing the Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant faiths, will participate in the first Goodwill Seminar held here, when it opens its conference in the auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

While the seminar will be modeled after similar projects held on other campuses, it will be more an occasion of study and exchange of experience than a debate organized for the purpose of securing commitments to specific proposals or recommendations.

Its chief purpose is to arrive at a common understanding of the causes of difficulty, where they may arise. Individual members will know best how to apply, in their own spheres of influence, what they have learned.

Panel Chairman Selected

Dean Ralph L. Watts, of the School of Agriculture, has accepted the chairman position for the panel discussion tonight. This meeting will be the only one open to the general public. It will be in the form of an open forum, led by one outstanding speaker from each faith.

Reverend Gerald C. Treacy, S. J., Prefect of Church of the Gesu, Pittsburgh, has been secured as the third speaker, representing the Catholic group. Father Treacy has recently been appointed vice-president of St. Joseph's College, at Philadelphia.

In place of Rabbi Morris S. Lazarus, who was granted a leave of absence from his Baltimore congregation in order to sail for Europe, Rabbi Solomon B. Freehof, in charge of the Rodef Shalom Temple of Pittsburgh, will represent the Jewish faith.

Dr. Bernard C. Clausen of Pittsburgh will discuss the Protestant viewpoint. Dr. Clausen is well known among students and townspeople here, having spoken in chapel on various occasions.

All three speakers will be present at the three round table discussion groups planned for the student representation tomorrow. They will act as research advisors for the various questions which may arise.

Dr. Robert E. Dengerler, of the department of classical languages, will sit in with the fourth discussion group Saturday, as it was deemed necessary to divide the attendance into four divisions, for the sake of informality.

Program Listed

Following the registration of guests between 2 and 4 o'clock, the opening session will be held in the second floor lounge, Old Main, lasting until 5 o'clock.

Executive Committee chairman Benjamin will introduce the three speakers. Following this, Dr. Clausen will explain to the delegates the purpose of such a goodwill seminar.

After the first session, a dinner will be given the executive committee and guests at the Old Main Sandwich Shop. This will precede the public discussion in the Schwab auditorium at 7 o'clock.

Two round table groups will meet Saturday, following a plenary session at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The first group will divide itself into four divisions, meeting in Rooms 302, 304, 318, and 417 Old Main respectively. The second group will convene at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

At 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning, a summary session, at which time each group will briefly summarize its accomplished work, will take place in the second floor lounge. The seminar will conclude with the chapel service, which will be addressed by Rabbi Freehof.

Students and townspeople responsible for the Goodwill Seminar are Lester M. Benjamin '37, chairman, Lawrence Rosner '34, Douglas R. Borst '35, Andrew C. Buechele '35, Mary Carroll '35, Margaret I. Connor '35, Bess M. Levine '37, Rev. Owen M. Gallagher, Charles Schlow, Dr. R. A. Selby, and Harry W. Seaman, general secretary of the P. S. C. A.
