Earle Proposes $308,000 College Appropriation Cut; Hetzel Remains Confident

Believes Investigation Will Show Need of Penn State.

Cut Will Cripple Work Of College; Is Not Final

If the recommendations which Governor George H. Earle made in his supplementary Budget message to the State Legislature...

Recommendations Not Final. This proposed cut, following up on the $412,000 curtailment forced upon the College two years ago...

However, Governor Earle's recommendations are by no means final. He has stated that he intends to make a very thorough examination of the needs of this, and other colleges in the state...

Hetzel Confident. In commenting on the Governor's proposed budget for this College, President Ralph D. Hetzel said, "I do not believe that the Governor and the members of the legislature desire to curtail and restrict the services of this institution. I believe that it is the intention of the responsible officers of the State to make a thorough study of the program and needs of the College before final action is taken."

President Hetzel has repeatedly urged such a procedure, and he has now been assured that a study will be undertaken within the next few days. The President is certain that when the facts are made known to the Governor, proper provisions will be made for the continuation of the work of this institution.

Penn. Temple Not Cut. He continued, "The College is fully aware of the financial difficulty which the State is experiencing and is willing now, as it always has been, to adjust its policies and programs in such manner as is designed best to serve the interests of the Commonwealth and its people."

"However, it seems to me, that at this time it is imperative to not only preserve, but strengthen those agencies and institutions which are most capable of making constructive contributions to the State. Certainly, the educational program and the research and extension work of the College must be classed in this category."

The President concluded by saying that these conditions made him confident that the more complete understanding which should result from an investigation of the officers of the State will assure proper provisions for the future work of the College.

Other educational institutions in the State were not effected as seriously in the proposed budget as was this college. In the proposed budget, the University of Pittsburgh was cut $88,000, while the appropriations to Temple and the University of Pennsylvania remained the same.

Chief of Campus Patrol Dismissed

Zarger Relieved of Police Duty Jan. 23 for Indefinite Period of Time.

C. Andrew Zarger, chief of the campus patrol, was relieved of duty for an indefinite period, starting January 23, it was revealed Wednesday by George W. Ebert, superintendent of the grounds and buildings department.

Rumors that Mr. Zarger had been dismissed had circulated considerably throughout State College since the end of last month, but no statement was made by the grounds and buildings department until Wednesday. An announcement to the effect that Mr. Zarger has been relieved of duty will appear in the faculty bulletin of the College next week, according to Superintendent Ebert.

No Successor Named. Mr. Zarger has been connected with the campus patrol in the capacity of chief for approximately nine years when he organized the unit. At one time the patrol was deputized and permitted to make arrests, both on and off the campus. This proved unsuccessful because the patrolmen were not trained policemen and because they overstepped their delegated powers. The plan was dropped after this unsuccessful tryout and the patrolmen were reduced to their present status, watchmen. Mr. Zarger was also connected with the State Police for a time.

No successor to Mr. Zarger has been named, Mr. Ebert said, and there will be no immediate replacement of the Chief. A new sergeant has already been appointed. The new sergeant refused to divulge his name, but he was recognized as a former taxi driver.

Fenske Gives Address

Dr. Merrell R. Fenske, assistant professor of chemical engineering, and Dean Frank C. Whitmore, of the School of Chemistry and Physics, returned early this week from New York where the former spoke to the New York section of the American Chemical Society on "Recent Developments in Petroleum."

College Alumnus Creates Uproar By Interrupting Hauptmann Trial

Penn State is back in the news again—this time internationally. A Penn State graduate of the class of 1916 created an uproar late Tuesday afternoon in Flemington, N. J., at the "great American show," the Hauptmann trial, and was immediately thrown out of court.

Niebuhr Opens Lecture Series Here Tomorrow

Authorities Dismiss All 11 O'Clock Classes For Saturday.

Famed Author To Give 4 Talks Over Week-end

With "An Analysis of the World Situation" as his topic, Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, author, lecturer, and teacher, of the Union Theological Seminary in New York City, will open his series of four talks to student mass meetings here at Convocation in Schwab auditorium at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. All College classes will be dismissed in order to enable students to attend. President Ralph D. Hetzel will introduce Dr. Niebuhr. Immediately following his address to students, to which townspeople and faculty members have been invited, Dr. Niebuhr will be the guest of the faculty at a luncheon meeting in the Sandwich Shop of Old Main at 12:15 o'clock. He will speak on "The Decay of Our Liberal Tradition." Faculty members who have not made reservations for this meeting may do so by calling the P. S. C. A. office in Old Main by noon today, according to Prof. Joseph Tanner, chairman of the committee in charge of the luncheon.

To Speak Saturday Night

The nationally known leader of student thought will give his second address at a mass meeting in Schwab auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. His subject at that time will be, "The Youthful Idealist in American Politics." As the chapel speaker for regular services in the auditorium at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Dr. Niebuhr will take as his topic, "Finding Life's Meaning."

Concluding his series here, the eminent educator and conference speaker will talk on "Our Responsibility for the Fate of Our Civilization," at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night, also in the auditorium.

Is Noted as Author. In addition to his work on the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary, Dr. Niebuhr is widely known for his work as an author. He is a contributing editor of "The Christian Century," as well as of the "Student World," and was formerly the editor of "The World Tomorrow." In the last few years, his articles have appeared regularly in "Harpers," "Forum," and the "Atlantic Monthly."

11 Women Compete in Postcard Rifle Match

Eleven members of the Women's Rifle Team competed in a postcard match with Nevada, Nebraska, and Illinois Universities and the Kansas State College, Thursday afternoon. Those participating were: Elsie M. Douthett '35, Ruth Everett '35, Mary E. Jenkinson '35, Frances T. Paschall '35, Frances E. Conklin '36, Frances E. Nissley '36, Catherine L. Wagner '36, Alma J. Doran '37, Dorothy Woodward '37, Mary E. Taylor '38, and Georgia H. Powers '38.

College Alumnus Creates Uproar By Interrupting Hauptmann Trial

Penn State is back in the news again—this time internationally. A Penn State graduate of the class of 1916 created an uproar late Tuesday afternoon in Flemington, N. J., at the "great American show," the Hauptmann trial, and was immediately thrown out of court.

The Rev. Vincent G. Burns, Palisades, N. J., minister, and a brother of Robert Elliott Burns, the chain gang fugitive, interrupted Attorney General David T. Wilentz's speech on Tuesday when he stood up on a window ledge and shouted: "Your Honor, may I address the Court? I want to..." A dozen hands yanked him down. All over the courtroom arose the cry: "Shut him up!" Justice Thomas W. Trenehard ordered him evicted from court. Court attaches surrounded the man as he shouted: "A man practically confessed this crime to me," and then the big hand of a deputy sheriff clamped over his mouth.

Gridiron Banquet Script Completed

'Roasting' of Campus Figures Will Feature Journalism Fraternity Affair. With the script completed and rehearsals already begun, the date for the third annual Gridiron Banquet, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, has been set as Thursday, March 14. It will be held in the Nittany Lion Inn.

Friday, March 1, had tentatively been set as the date for the Banquet, but it was changed because of conflicts with other affairs. The committee decided to hold it later in the semester so that it would not conflict with sports events.

Burton Rowles '35, who is chairman of the script committee, and who will have charge of the entire affair, has announced that the Banquet will follow the precedent set in former years in that members of the fraternity will present skits in which student leaders, administrative officials, and organizations on the campus will be "roasted."

The "Roastmaster," who acts as master of ceremonies at the Banquet, has not yet been chosen. Other members of the committee who are aiding Rowles in writing skits are Harry B. Henderson Jr. '36, William Parker McDowell '36, and Vance Oakley Packard '36.

Christian Conference Scheduled for March

Under the sponsorship of the Student Christian Movement in the Middle Atlantic Region, the annual inter-collegiate mid-winter conference will be held at Buck Hill Falls, from March 1 to March 3. A Penn State delegation of from thirty to forty students and members of the faculty is expected to attend.

Robert K. Paxton '35 and Claire M. Lichty '35 are the student committee chairmen in charge of the Penn State delegation, while Manilo F. DeAngelis '35 is a member of the executive council of the Student Christian Movement for this area, which is in charge of arrangements.

Sayre To Speak. The conference, which includes a definite faculty program for the first time, will be addressed by a group of eight prominent leaders of student thought, headed by Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State. Others who will lead various sessions are Henry P. Van Dusen, dean of students at the Union Theological Seminary; George Stewart, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Stamford, Conn.; and Katharine Duffield, traveling secretary of the S. C. M. of the Middle Atlantic Region.

Features of the session on March 2 will be the faculty seminar on "Religion in Higher Education," conducted by Leslie Blanchard, and a student commission and faculty seminar on the relation of these topics to the campus.

The approximate cost of the conference, including accommodations and meals at the Buck Hill Falls Inn, and transportation both ways, has been estimated at $14.00. Those who are interested should call at the P. S. C. A. offices, Old Main, for further information.

Varsity Cagers To Meet Alumni Here March 23

Game May Renew Feud Of Formerly Keen Competition.

Hermann To Manage Squad of Graduates

A feud which has lain dormant for some time will be renewed March 23 when this year's varsity basketball squad will meet a team composed of varsity captains and players of other years. The game is being sponsored by the Athletic Association, under the direction of President John M. Stocker '35.

The game will be played a week after the regular season closes. Stocker has sent letters out to alumni of the last few years, inviting them to take part in the game.

The game was an annual feature until a few years ago, when it was discontinued. Coming at the end of a campaign, it was always one of the high spots of the season. This year several former Lion players are competing in some of the fastest professional leagues in Pennsylvania, so that there is every assurance that the game will be one of the fastest in Recreation hall this year.

It is expected that "Dutch" Hermann, coach of another era, will come out of retirement to take charge of the alumni team, all of whom played under him when they were in college. Paul A. Mitten '31, former basketball manager, will be asked to act as alumni manager.

As an added feature, the gym team has been asked to cooperate by furnishing entertainment between halves. An effort is also being made to schedule a Student Union dance to follow the game.

Tribunal Finds 2 of 5 1938 Students Guilty

Five freshmen, two of whom were found guilty, were brought before Student Tribunal on Tuesday night at the regular meeting. Richard E. Doyle was given a suspended sentence by Leo N. Skemp '35, president, for not wearing his drink, while Robert Morasco was placed on probation for the same offense.

William E. Lindemuth was found not guilty, while Charles J. Mascia, who has been summoned to appear three different times, failed to do so and who notified Tribunal by post, that he would wear a sign or dress as he had been ordered to do previously if they would be furnished to him, will now carry two signs, "I Thought I Was Tough," and "Alibi Ike," for a period of three weeks. In addition he will wear a woman's dress and a woman's hat for the same period.

George N. Nash '38 was found guilty and will wear two signs for ten days. The one sign will read, "Love, You Funny Thing," and the other, "Just Once Too Often." Another meeting has been scheduled for next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in Room 318, Old Main.

Billiards Played More Than Ping-Pong Here

Statistics for the month of January show that of the game equipment on the third floor of Old Main, pool has a slight edge over ping pong, 138 students using cue and eight ball and 107 using the paddle and net.

During the same period of time, 126 College visitors called at the Student Union desk and student requests for information numbered 242. Student and faculty organizations reserved rooms in Old Main for 113 meetings.

Local Officials Issue Warrants For Arrest of 3 Beer Salons

The borough authorities' drive against the selling of beer to minors took a legal turn yesterday when warrants were issued for the arrest of four local beer garden proprietors for violation of Section 23 of the Beverage license law, approved May 3, 1933. The issuance of the warrants was the result of the investigations of police officers Saturday night.

Elections Board To Bring Automatic Voting Machine To Spring Polls April 9-11

Student Council Representatives, Class Office Candidates Will Open 9 Day Campaign April 1.

An automatic voting machine will be used here for the first time in the spring elections for class officers and Student Council representatives which will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, April 9, 10, and 11—more than two weeks earlier than last year.

The machine, which is being furnished free of charge by its manufacturer, is identical with those used in several of the larger cities. It will afford a majority of the students their first experience with such a means of voting; and save the committee many weary hours of vote-counting, explained John A. Brutzman, chairman of the Elections committee. Instruction as to its use will be given each voter on a small replica at the polling place.

To Sponsor Free Dance Tomorrow

Minium To Play for All-College Student Union Function; Customs Lifted. As the first free all-College function of the year, Student Union will hold a dance in Recreation hall tomorrow night from 9 until 12 o'clock. Harry D. M. Grier '35, chairman of the dance announced. Matriculation cards will be needed in order for students to be admitted.

While this is the second all-College dance sponsored by Student Union, it is the first free affair. The dance is made possible by an appropriation of $200 which was given by the inter-class finance committee for this purpose.

Jim Minium and his orchestra will play for the affair and will be placed at the west end of the gym floor. Chairs will be placed along the sides for the dancers who wish to sit out. It has been requested by the committee that stags refrain from crowding onto the dance floor and hindering the dancers.

Two other similar dances are scheduled at a later date this semester. The dates will be announced following a meeting of the committee on dances which includes Grier, Jeanne S. Kleckner '35, Manilo F. DeAngelis '35, and Kenneth A. Maers '35.

A checking charge of ten cents per couple will be made by the committee. This fee will partly defray the expense of hiring the hall and of paying for the band, although most of the expense will come out of the special fund.

Only those freshmen who take women to the dance will be permitted to go without customs, Leo N. Skemp '35, president of Student Tribunal, announced. Freshman stags will be required to wear all customs and will be punished for violating this ruling.

Annual 'He-She' Dance Planned for March 13

March 13 has been set as the date for the first women's dance for this semester. On that date the annual "He-She" dance will be held in the Armory. The second dance will take place April 12.

This dance, an all-Co-ed affair, is an innovation this year and is being planned to replace most of the smaller dances held in previous years. Helen J. Hinebuck '35 will act as chairman of the dances. She will work with the other class social chairmen, Margaret M. Campbell '36, Helen M. Clymer '37, and Ida R. Rainey '38. The All Co-ed dance will be similar to Panhellenic Ball, but will not be restricted to fraternity women.

Former Dietician Dies

Miss Alice E. Philbrick, who preceded Mrs. Edith Johnson as dietician in MacAllister hall, died at her home, 42 Broad street, Newburyport, Mass., on February 7, 1935. She is survived by her mother, a sister, and two brothers.

Local Officials Issue Warrants For Arrest of 3 Beer Salons

The borough authorities' drive against the selling of beer to minors took a legal turn yesterday when warrants were issued for the arrest of four local beer garden proprietors for violation of Section 23 of the Beverage license law, approved May 3, 1933. The issuance of the warrants was the result of the investigations of police officers Saturday night.

Burgess Wilbur F. Leitzell, who headed the raiding officers who took names, addresses, and ages in local beer establishments Saturday night, said in an interview, that in every place minors were found drinking beer. "We're absolutely going to break up the selling of beer to minors in State College," Burgess Leitzell declared. The recent investigations followed the arrest of thirteen youths Saturday night two weeks ago on drunken and disorderly conduct charges. Of this group, only five were College students and the remainder of the group were high school students and others. Burgess Leitzell stated that almost all of the entire group were minors.

Any person, Burgess Leitzell pointed out, allowing minors to come into possession of beer or use of beer, whether they sell it to them, give it to them, or furnish it to them in any other way, are violating the Beverage Act. Burgess Leitzell said, "I don't care how much beer anyone of twenty-one drinks as long as they do not disturb the peace, but I am determined to break up the sale of beer to minors."

Collegian Subscriptions To Expire if Not Paid

All COLLEGIAN subscriptions which have not been paid for in full will expire automatically with the issue of Friday, February 15. Payments will be accepted at the Student Union desk or the COLLEGIAN office, 313 Old Main. Payments may also be made by mail, addressed to the Penn State COLLEGIAN.
