The Glennland A. C. swimming team lost to the York Y. M. C. A. swimmers last Friday, 4-4-31. It was the fifteenth meet and the twelfth victory of the year for York, while it was but the fifth meet and the second loss for Glennland.

New pool records were set in every race but the 50 yd. freestyle. The other new records were set in the 90 yd. freestyle, fifty-three and 4/5 seconds; the 90 yd. breaststroke, one minute, seven and 3/5 seconds; the 210 yd. freestyle, two minutes and twenty-seven seconds; and the 90 yd. medley, fifty-two and 2/10 seconds.

She-Lions

The 1937 class has made the best showing, numerically and spiritually speaking, in the interclass basketball competition. They have won two games, one from the freshmen and one from the juniors, hitherto very aggressive players. They will probably win the interclass honors if they keep up their present rate of speed. The seniors defeated the juniors and the juniors won a victory from an inexperienced freshman team.

Scheduled games are: Tuesday, Armory, 9 o'clock Juniors vs. Seniors Wednesday, Armory, 9 o'clock Freshmen vs. Seniors Sophomores vs. Juniors Thursday, Armory, 9 o'clock Freshmen vs. Sophomores

According to another edict issued by the W. A. A. board, girls who are participating in interclass basketball will not be allowed to take part in any of the intramural contests. This should prevent any confusion when two games are being run off at the same time.

Last week, the women's rifle team competed with four colleges in one of the final mail matches of the season. The colleges were Louisiana State College, University of Michigan, University of Maryland, and University of California. Jerry Jennison, Ruth Everett, Dot Fish, Mildred Smith, Fran Paschall, and Elsie Douthett were among the women who competed.

The last match of the season will be held March 16, and there will be matches with five colleges. University of Missouri, Kansas University, University of Vermont, University of Oregon, and University of Hawaii will be the competing units.

Mattmen Defeat Navy Here Saturday Night

en a terrific hand from the audience at the end. Scammy DiRito gave Navy's undefeated Tipton considerable opposition and exhibited some deft wrestling, even though he did harass the audience with his slowness in crawling back onto the mat.

In the 135-pound class, Jack Light and Logan Cresap were both undefeated, both had cauliflowering ears, and both were powerful. Besides this, both were in flawless condition. Jack had a two minute time advantage at the end of the regular period. But Referee Clarence Foster set a precedent and decreed that the bout should go into extra periods. The intercollegiate rules leave the matter up to the referee's discretion, but this was the first time that it has been carried into effect here. Light won them both by a comfortable margin.

In the next weight, Sully Waite won his rough-and-tumble bout with John Merryman by a four minute time advantage. The viciousness with which the two men piled into each other was breath-taking. Merryman took Waite to the mat in ten seconds, and the two men changed positions eight times in the first two minutes. Toward the end, Waite's superior condition won out and he nearly threw him with a cradle, but the Navy man slipped out.

In the 155-pound class, Bill Cramer overcame terrific odds to defeat Adams in the extra period. The referee again called an extra period, although Adams had a two minute advantage. The handicaps which Bill overcame were that he was up against the best man on the Navy team; that he weighed eight pounds less than Adams; and that he was knocked senseless near the end of the regular period. At the beginning of the first extra period, Bill slipped into a beautiful cross-body ride and held Adams for the full three minutes. In the next period he repeated with the same hold to win.

Capt. Red Johnston threw undefeated Mill in the next bout with the extremely difficult and precarious head-scissors in eight minutes. In the 175-pound free-for-all slug-fest, Ray Yoder clearly out-manuevered the slippery Cy Cole and threw him with a double arm-lock in slightly over four minutes. In the final meet, squirming Joe O'Dowd pulled the biggest surprise of the meet by pinning Schacht in four minutes.
