

Concert Series To Open Sunday With Blue Band

College Organization Will Appear in 21st Season Concert.

Many Popular Numbers Listed for Presentation

Opening the twelfth annual mid-winter concert series, the College Blue Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Wilfred O. Thompson, will present its first concert of the season in Schwab auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The program as announced by Bandmaster Thompson, will open with the grand march, "Democracy," by Lake, a symphonic arrangement of a popular march number.

A contrast of music before and after the World War will be presented in the band's second number, which will include "I'm on My Way to Mandalay," by Smith, a popular melody of 1914, and "The Vagabond King," by Friml, a popular selection of 1927. Forrest W. Hunsicker '36, trumpet soloist, will play "Cleopatra," accompanied by the band. This number is a favorite trumpet solo and was played by John Philip Sousa's soloist when the late March King appeared here a number of years ago.

"Creme de la Creme," a fantasia of standard compositions by Tobani, is the next number to be played by the symphonic organization, and will be followed by Schubert's "Ave Maria" by the brass ensemble.

A selection, "The Desert Song," including the hit tunes from Sigmund

Tickets Now Available For Publication Dance

Tickets for the Publications dance, to be held in Recreation hall March 30 are now on sale. They may be obtained at the Student Union desk in Old Main or from any member of Pi Delta Epsilon, publications honorary.

Bill Bottorf will furnish the music for the affair, the profits of which will be turned over to the Old Main Bell.

Romberg's popular musical comedy of a number of years ago, will be the band's concluding number.

Sunday's concert marks the twenty-first since the band concerts were first started here. The winter concert series was inaugurated by Clarence C. Robinson, former director of music, and Bandmaster Thompson in the latter's first year here as College bandmaster.

P. S. C. A. To Sponsor 1-Day Intercollegiate Seminar For 7 Colleges.

Kirby Page, noted author and lecturer, will hold a one-day intercollegiate seminar here next Wednesday under the sponsorship of the P. S. C. A. Students from Bloomsburg, Lock Haven, and Mansfield State Teachers' Colleges; Susquehanna and Bucknell Universities, and Juniata College will attend.

A nominal fee will be charged for registration, a prerequisite for attending the opening session of the seminar. This fee also covers the cost of the dinner Wednesday night. The fee may be paid to any member of the P. S. C. A. cabinet, or at the P. S. C. A. offices, 304, Old Main, any time before Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The seminar will start in the Hugh Beaver Room, Old Main, promptly at 4 o'clock, with the main feature of the first period being an address by Mr. Page on "After the New Deal, What?" Questioning and discussion will conclude this session. The dinner will be held in the Old Main Sandwich Shop at 6:15 o'clock, followed by a period of informal fellowship.

An open mass meeting will be held in Schwab auditorium at 8:15, with Mr. Page speaking on "Religion's Contribution to Social Justice." Following this, a period for discussion with a view to next steps will be held. A closing worship service will be conducted by the speaker at 9:30 o'clock, with adjournment at 10 o'clock.

Bernreuter Amazed, Displeased At Council's Ruling on Customs

"I was both amazed and displeased with the recent action of Student Council in failing to lift freshman customs," declared Robert G. Bernreuter, professor of education and psychology, in a recent interview. "It was shortsighted of the Council to continue enforcement when student opinion points definitely in the opposite direction."

"The two basic reasons for their being are tradition and for unity of the new men," he continued. "In the first respect, Penn State falls down right at the beginning because tradition can never be made through enforcement. At Stanford and the University of California, to mention a few, customs are worn by all freshmen just as a matter of tradition and not because they are enforced. The incoming men are proud to wear them."

"As to being a factor of unity, freshman dress customs are of the utmost importance and are performing a valuable office, but rules against walking on the grass, smoking, and dating are both childish and foolish," he pointed out.

"The dating rule in particular," he continued, "is of help in only one particular, namely it gives the upper classmen a chance to compete with freshmen in the dating of first year co-eds."

WHEN YOU WANT TO MAKE UP AND DON'T KNOW HOW...

I'm your best friend

I am your Lucky Strike

Others may disappoint. I never do. I'm always mild, always fine to taste—because I'm made of fragrant, expensive center leaves, only. Turn your back on top leaves. I do. They're raw, bitter, stinging. Turn your back on bottom leaves because these coarse, sandy, grimy bottom leaves don't belong in your smoke. Before I consider it worthy, every leaf must be a center leaf, mild, fine-tasting, fragrant. That's why I'm your best friend
