WRIGHTING BETWEEN THE LIONS

By FRED W. WRIGHT

Despite all rumors to the contrary during the hot-stove league season, Russ Van Atta, ex-Penn State pitcher in the pre-depression days, is still with the New York Yankees and has given every indication that he will be in the American League this season by performances in St. Petersburg, Fla., where the one-time Ruppert Rifles annually hold forth from February until early April.

Van Atta, who was hit for five blows in five innings while holding the Boston Braves, managed by Lion baseball captain Bill McKechnie's dad, scoreless, is working with only a dollar-a-year contract, a status which will be changed if the left-hander makes the grade after an indifferent season last year.

On the other hand, Keith Parks, who pitched most of the games for the Lions last year, has a much different status with the Phillies at Winter Haven, Fla. Parks is pitching for real dough and, should he fail to make the grade, has some sort of arrangement with the club that makes it unnecessary for him to suffer farming out for a year.

Parks, a right-hander, is working with a club that is hampered by a lack of good pitchers and consequently is given a good chance by those who are supposed to be in the know of remaining with the Phillies. Parks' home is in Lower Merion, which makes him practically a hometown product for the Phillies, a factor which may favor him and his fortunes no little.

This is a dirty business. You don't know whom to trust. After telling about how Parmalee, he of the dirty pants and winter underwear jersey, had a cool million bucks in his own name, which we picked up at the ringside in the late Intercollegiate Boxing tourney, we find that Parmalee has no cool million and that he hitch-hiked his way up here by rule of thumb along with Brown and Miles, other Tigertown entries, thanks to Eleanor Goldsmith, who knows the lad in question.

Personal to N. J. C.: Your words are pretty high praise for a small thing, but thanks anyway.

Gridders Plan Scrimmage Sat.

By DONN SANDERS

With nearly two weeks of spring practice behind them, the 1935 grid squad will hold a practice scrimmage on New Beaver field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Head Coach Bob Higgins will abandon the practice of making these practice games "East-West," because so many of the players live in the eastern half of the town. The teams will be picked by the coaching staff with the idea of matching them up as evenly as possible.

The first serious scrimmage was held on Wednesday afternoon. The coaches have been spending most of the time drilling the grid aspirants on tackling, blocking, passing, and kicking. Much of the time at the beginning of each session is given over to Trainer Charlie Speidel, who runs the players through a stiff series of Women in Sports

Usually nine girls are picked for the honorary varsity basketball team. This year the following ten have been selected: forwards, Peg Abraham, Dot Anderson, Ginny Goodman, and Alice Nixon; jump centers, Emma Jane Foster and Elsie Douthett; side center, Skippy Diefenderfer; guards, Ruth Lonberger, Jean Northrup, and Gene Ziegler.

Suggestions of class managers, the head manager of basketball, the president of W. A. A., and Miss Marie Haidt, professor of physical education, are considered in picking this team which is the cream of the basketball crop. Five W. A. A. points are given to each girl that makes the honorary varsity.

Sophomores won the interclass basketball championship.

Plans are being made for May Day on May 18. Catherine L. Wagner '35 and Ida R. Rainey '35 are on the invitation committee that will invite high schools to attend.

Coach Higgins is well satisfied with the way the team is shaping up, particularly many of those coming up from the freshman squad.

The attendance at the sessions is coming up, Coach Higgins said, but many of the upperclassmen are not able to get around, either because of participation in other spring sports or because of disinterestedness, typical of upperclassmen in spring training seasons.

The schedule which the 1935 team has to face, is, by almost any stretch of the imagination, one of the most

Co-Edits

To those girls living in Grange comes the interesting, but long overdue announcement from the office of the Supervisor of Women's Dormitories that the girls may use their own furniture in their rooms.

When Grange was first opened absolutely no furniture—not even waste baskets—belonging to the girls was allowed. Year by year the regulations have become more lenient, and now the rooms may be made as attractive as possible.

W. S. G. A. Senate is now considering the suggestion to give one or two ping-pong tables to Grange playroom.

A recent unofficial vote of Senate was favorable toward having a spring vacation rather than an Easter vacation.

In order to avoid any misunderstanding in the future, W. S. G. A. again announces that those girls who do not attend 3 o'clock dances shall have 1 o'clock permission.

difficult in several seasons. Only two games can be considered set-ups by the most optimistic. These are the first and third clashes of the season, against Lebanon Valley and Lehigh. Another—the Pitt game—is almost sure to be a defeat unless the Panthers come way down on the athletic scale, which is improbable. The outcome of the remaining five games, against Western Maryland, Syracuse, Villanova, Penn, and Bucknell, will depend entirely upon just how the team shapes up.

60 Working Out For Nittany Nine

By BILL McDOWELL

Some fifty-five young gentlemen in baseball uniforms and about five more who could not be furnished with suits are galloping on the New Beaver field greensward these afternoons from four until six o'clock with spring fever and an ambition to play varsity ball in their hearts.

The practice games the last several days have used the following lineup with many substitutions:

First Team
Ochrock, catcher; McKechnie, first base; Robbins, second base; Stocker, third base; O'Hara, s. s.; Bielicki, r. f.; Miller, c. f.; Witwer, l. f.

Second Team
Kornick, catcher; Freudenheim, first base; Myers, second base; Mikelenis, third base; Wassel, s. s.; Leidy, r. f.; Buczkowski, c. f.; Heckendorn, l. f.

Candidates for pitcher—Smith, Stokes, Knapp, Bachman, Walsh, and Rugh—are each tossing about three innings of the practice games every other night. On the odd nights they work out for batting practice.

With the favorable weather experienced until yesterday Coach Bedenk has been allowing his pitchers plenty of time to get their arms in shape without straining them.

There have been two injuries this week. Captain Bill McKechnie turned his ankle and Seltzer was struck on the left shoulder by a ball from his own bat. Since this is his pitching wing, he has not been in the box since it happened, because of the painful swelling which resulted.

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago—

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—
"Have a cigarette"

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another. They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

"I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used."

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—
For one thing—they're milder.
For another thing—they taste better.
