Eddy To Give 2 Talks Here Before Public

Lecturer Will Discuss European Affairs With Groups.

Traveller Will Review Hot-Spots of Orient

Returning to the campus for the first time in two years, Dr. Sherwood Eddy, author, lecturer, and world traveller, will deliver two addresses here tomorrow afternoon and night. Dr. Eddy, who will visit only one day, will address public groups in the Home Economics auditorium at 4 o'clock and again in Schwab auditorium at 7 o'clock.

The subject of the afternoon address will be "Hot Spots in the Orient." At 7 o'clock Dr. Eddy will speak on European affairs. Both forums will be conducted after open forums.

Dr. Eddy, who is being brought here through the efforts of the P.S.C.A., made a series of addresses to students and faculty members two years ago. He recently returned from a four-months' study in China.

During the past summer, he made his annual trip to Europe with his American Seminar, visiting London, Berlin, Warsaw, and Vienna. While in Russia recently, he talked at length with government officials, industrial workers, and farmers.

Dr. Eddy was graduated from Yale in 1891. In 1896 he went to India at his own expense. After fifteen years of work among the students of the Indian Empire, he was appointed Young Men's Christian Association secretary for the national council for Asia.

Before the World War, Dr. Eddy was engaged with Dr. John R. Mott in conducting meetings for students throughout Asia. He spent five months in war-torn China in 1931-32, making the visit at the request of the Chinese leaders in an effort to stem the disturbances.

Praised by M.I.T. Head
President Karl T. Compton, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, says of Dr. Eddy: "In his work among young men in this country and in Asia, Dr. Eddy has been one of the most stimulating and constructive men of this generation. He has been a powerful influence for good in international affairs as well as in the lives of individuals."

Among prominent books that Dr. Eddy has written are "A Pilgrimage of Ideas, or the Re-education of Sherwood Eddy," "The World's Danger Zone," and "The Challenge of the East."

Edmonds Emphasizes Education in Address

"Education is one of the most important of the spiritual ideas of the American people," said Dr. Franklin F. Edmonds, of Philadelphia, who spoke on "New Experiences and Old Principles" in Schwab auditorium on Sunday morning.

Self-sacrifice, the speaker said, is the foundation of education in this country. Every man and woman in America hopes that the succeeding generation will go a little further along educational lines than they did themselves, he continued.

Referring to educational methods today, Dr. Edmonds said, "We have overstressed technical education and specialized training. A technical education, in the specialized sense of the word, should be based on a general education. Today, the demand for education has changed in view of present conditions. The present-day desire for instruction is leading away from highly specialized technical work. Education is a superstructure which is planted on top of the soul. The soul, however, must be there."

Optimistic as to the outcome of the present depression, Dr. Edmonds said that the American people would find a way out as they have done before. He cited the depression of 1907, which the invention and manufacture of the automobile ended with a wave of progressive industrial expansion. Other depressions, he said, were solved similarly.

"Let us have done with this business of class denunciation which has become so widespread during the last few years," Dr. Edmonds declared. Concluding his address, he said, "We must have faith to meet new experiences. Our problems today must be met with courage. These problems might be solved with the determination of the American people to meet them with faith and courage."

Thespians Score Philipsburg Hit

New Dance Routines Developed For Prom Presentation Of 'Don't Let On.'

The Thespians scored a hit in Philipsburg Thursday night when they staged "Don't Let On" in the Rowland theatre. The show will be given here Saturday night in the Schwab auditorium at 7:15 o'clock. Of the production the Philipsburg Daily Journal said, "... it was by far the best musical comedy seen in Philipsburg for some time."

This marks the second time that the Thespians have put on successful shows in Philipsburg. Last year "My Stars" was produced there and commended at length by the reviewer of the Philipsburg Ledger. The biggest hit of the evening was the appearance of the White Flash Stooges and their imitation of the Humphrey-Weidman.

A number of additions and changes were made to the show immediately after it was produced here for the first time. Helen E. "Hoche" Taylor '35 and William B. "Bill" Edwards '35 are now doing a dance routine which is better than the one they did in "My Stars."

One entire set of scenery has been repainted and rehearsals of new dance routines, developed especially for the Junior Prom crowd, have been in rehearsal since the return of the cast from the Easter holidays. J. Ewing "Sook" Kennedy, director of the show, said today, "We've brightened up some of these spots so that you wouldn't know them, and I'm satisfied that this new routine of Edwards' and Taylor's will go over bigger here than it did at Philipsburg."

Alderfer Gets Position

Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, of the department of political science, who is on a leave of absence, has accepted a position with the American Municipal association as field agent in the State. He will visit and study State municipalities and serve as an advisor in emergencies.

Music! Lights! Action! Commands Kennedy in Thespian Practice

"Pull your lights up, Marty," is "Sook" Kennedy's opening command as the Thespians, back from a successful trip to the Rowland theatre, Philipsburg, continue rehearsals of the new numbers in their production which will be staged here Saturday night. Two seconds later the stage is filled with chorines ready to go into their first routine. Rehearsals get under way with "April's in My Heart."

Bill Edwards and Helen Taylor get the spotlight for their new routine with Edwards mouthing W. C. Fields all over the place. Hummel stops the orchestra to fix up a new introduction. Rudicille jizzes his trumpet while they wait. "All right, Hummel, ready for that intro?" asks "Sook" ... and once again they are off.

The White Flash Stooges steal in and off the stage and vow the cast when they suddenly ad lib a line ... the chorus routine over ... Lou Sutton and Watterman sit down together again ... while Sammy McKee, in her best checkered shorts, and Bruce Gilliard, the new dance team, go into their tricky routine ... Johnny Binns practices his "Mussolini Says No, No" ... on the second floor landing ...

Johnny Naylor watches the rehearsal of his show from a seat in back of the darkened auditorium. Stage men in the loft lower a set so fast it barely misses the blonde head of Peggy Doherty ... a new gag line is thought of by Edwards and is inserted

I.F. Council Names Winners for 2nd Competitive Sing

Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Theta Pi Win Cups In Competition.

Men Will Receive Cup At Next I.F.C. Meeting

Beta Theta Pi won the Interfraternity Sing for men and Gamma Phi Beta took first place in the women's groups in the second competitive sing in two years, which was held in Schwab auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock as the last of the mid-winter concert series.

Beta Theta Pi will be presented with a silver loving cup at the next Interfraternity Council meeting. Gamma Phi Beta received a cup at the conclusion of the contest, presented by Panhellenic Council.

Seven men's groups and four women's groups were entered in the contest. The required song for the men was "Nitty Nitty." The required song for women was "Blue and White."

Each competing organization was required to sing one College song assigned to men's and women's groups, and two fraternity songs. The sing was sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music society, represented by John W. Kreeger '35 and the Louise Honor club, honorary music society for women, represented by Geraldine E. Broberg '35.

Judges for the event were: W. Jay Kennedy '32, supervisor of music of the Philipsburg schools; Mrs. Jo Hays, graduate of the department of music here; and G. William Henninger, of the department of music.

The contest, which was held two years ago and discontinued last year, will probably become an annual event, according to Kreeger, chairman of the contest.

Cryder Reports New Heavy Water Method

A new discovery which makes possible the production of "heavy water" as a by-product of steam plants, was described last week before the tercentenary meeting of the American Chemical Society in New York by Dr. Donald S. Cryder, of the department of chemical engineering, who is in charge of research.

"Heavy water," which won for its discoverer, Dr. Harold G. Urey, of Columbia University, the Nobel prize in 1934, at present prices costs $500 a pound. The new method which has been developed here would make it possible for steam plants in the United States to produce 2,000,000 pounds annually as a by-product, at approximately $20 a gram.

While the method is still in the laboratory stage, Dr. Cryder told the chemists that there is nothing about it which will prevent its rapid expansion to a commercial basis. He added that this possibility is of utmost importance.

Admission to the group is open to any high school graduate or undergraduate in this State or other states provided he can either present evidence of interscholastic competition in debate, declamation, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, or interpretative reading; or present a written recommendation from his high school principal or instructor in forensics as to his interest and potential ability in the speech field. Other qualifications being equal, preference will be shown juniors, seniors, and graduates, in composing the group.

A debate tournament and extemporaneous speaking and reading contests also have been planned, from which the winners of the all-State high school speech group will be selected. The sessions will conclude with a banquet at which the champion after-dinner speaker will be determined. Appropriate certificates will be awarded to the winners in each group.

Professor John H. Frizzell, head of the department of public speaking, will be in charge and Joseph F. O'Brien, coach of the men's debating team, will instruct the public speaking and debate sections.

It is believed that a course of this nature will not only mean a pleasant and profitable summer for high school students but will also eventually lead to a general rise in the speech level of the State.

Attend Law Session

Dr. Jacob W. Tanager, head of the department of political science, and Dr. William L. Godshall, visiting professor of political science, will attend the meeting of the American Society of International Law, being held in Washington, today and tomorrow. Dr. Godshall is substituting for Dr. Alderfer while the latter is on a leave

Sigma Delta Chi Plans For 'Collegian' Smoker

Candidates and staff members of the COLLEGIAN are invited to attend a smoker given by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society, at the Delta Chi fraternity next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. A special invitation is extended to the women members and candidates.

Speakers of the evening will be Prof. Franklin C. Banner, head of the department of journalism; Louis H. Bell, of the same department; and Edward J. Nichols, of the department of English composition.

Prom Ticket Sale Will Start Friday

Morris '38 Wins Poster Contest; Fraternities May Still Secure Booths.

Tickets for Junior Prom will be on sale all day Friday at the office of the treasurer for $4.00 per couple. The dance, featuring Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra, will begin in Recreation hall Friday night at 10 o'clock.

The winner of the poster contest was George M. Morris '38, who will be awarded a Prom ticket. Fraternities which did not secure booths yesterday may do so today at the Student Union desk, Old Main, from 1 to 5 o'clock. Robert H. Small '36 will be in charge of both selections. A deposit of five dollars must be made when checks for booths are presented.

The Casa Loma orchestra has played for more than seventy college affairs during the last three seasons, but this is the first time this year that it has appeared on any college campus. The band is now on the air over the Columbia network Tuesday night at 10 o'clock and Thursday night at 9 o'clock.

Glen Gray is president of the organization which is incorporated under the name of the Casa Loma corporation. Members of the band are all stockholders in the corporation and draw quarterly dividends from the profits as well as regular salaries.

New members are added to the organization only through the sanction of the band's board of directors. The directorate organization of the band tends to make the musicians play their best, since all are shareholders and receive a part of the profits.

College Will Conduct Speaking Clinic Here

The division of public speaking, with the cooperation of the officials of the summer session, has formulated a plan enabling high school students to enroll in speech training courses here this summer. This has been accomplished by the establishment of an all-State high school speech group.

Admission to the group is open to any high school graduate or undergraduate in this State or other states provided he can either present evidence of interscholastic competition in debate, declamation, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, or interpretative reading; or present a written recommendation from his high school principal or instructor in forensics as to his interest and potential ability in the speech field. Other qualifications being equal, preference will be shown juniors, seniors, and graduates, in composing the group.

A debate tournament and extemporaneous speaking and reading contests also have been planned, from which the winners of the all-State high school speech group will be selected. The sessions will conclude with a banquet at which the champion after-dinner speaker will be determined. Appropriate certificates will be awarded to the winners in each group.

Professor John H. Frizzell, head of the department of public speaking, will be in charge and Joseph F. O'Brien, coach of the men's debating team, will instruct the public speaking and debate sections.

It is believed that a course of this nature will not only mean a pleasant and profitable summer for high school students but will also eventually lead to a general rise in the speech level of the State.

Artists' Course Program Tonight Features Singer

Steuckgold Scheduled For 7th Concert In Auditorium.

New York Orchestra To Play Next Monday

Acclaimed by critics as an artist of rare ability, Grete Steuckgold, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and leading concert, recital and radio star, will appear in Schwab auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock as the seventh member of the current Artists' Course.

Her first New York recital drew from the New York Times the comment, "extraordinary beauty;" from the Herald Tribune praise of the recital which "teemed with so many superlative achievements;" and from the Sun the statement, "an afternoon of aesthetic delights." Subsequently her engagements with the Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra during the 1933-34 season for the unprecedented number of eight performances as soloist drew renewed praise.

Orchestra To End Series
The Artists' Course will present as the last number of the current series, the New York Orchestra, in Schwab auditorium, next Monday night. The orchestra, of sixty pieces, under the direction of Nicolai Sokoloff, former conductor of the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, will play the works of classical composers such as Brahms, Wagner and Tchaikovsky in the first part of the program, while the compositions of modern composers will be featured in the second part of the program.

In an effort to book select numbers for next year's course, the committee will poll the patrons of the current course at one of the numbers remaining, instead of waiting until next fall to send out a questionnaire. Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman of the committee said, "In this way, the popular numbers may be booked at an early date."

In a spectacular demonstration of automobile brakes held in front of the Rockview penitentiary last Friday the theories of physics were proved to be operative only under perfect conditions while under the imperfect conditions of actuality they were proved to be partially inoperative.

State Troopers Make Test of Auto Brakes

The test was made primarily to determine the distance required to stop an automobile travelling at various speeds not in excess of the legal speed. But it developed, in a search for more effective methods of obtaining a quick stop, that the physics books which claim that a stop executed without sliding has nearly twice the effectiveness of a stop executed with a slide were rather off balance.

The best stop was made by a new automobile travelling 40 miles per hour, which was brought to a smooth straight-line stop in 33 feet. This record compares favorably with the official AAA record. The driver of the car was J. Ralph Eckley, a local resident, while William B. Heckman '36 rode in the car as recorder of the exact speed of the car when the brakes were applied. More than 200 persons witnessed the test which was conducted by state troopers from Bellefonte.

Each group will be accompanied by a teacher or principal. The groups

Grant To Direct First Minstrel Show on Campus for 20 Years

Original skits by the end men and a chorus of forty voices, will feature the first minstrel show here in twenty years which will be staged by the Glee Club, under the direction of Richard W. Grant, head of the department of music, in Schwab auditorium, Saturday night, May 11, at 8 o'clock.

Prof. Hummel Fishburn, of the department of music, will be in charge of the orchestra of fifteen pieces, which will furnish a background for the gleemen and soloists. Professor Grant will have charge of all the vocal and choral work. J. Ewing "Sook" Kennedy '26 will oversee the production.

Local Man To Take Part
End men will include the well-known team of Bill Edwards and Helen Taylors, stars of the Thespian show, "Don't Let On," as well as "Sook" Kennedy himself and a local semi-professional end man, Kenneth Sauters. Mr. Sauters, who has retired

Penn State Day Programs Announced by Co-Chairmen; 1200 H. S. Seniors Expected

Cheerleading Aspirants Summoned by Edwards

Sophomore candidates for junior cheerleader will meet in Room 418, Old Main, tomorrow at 9 o'clock, according to William B. Edwards, head cheerleader. Edwards has also announced that from now on junior cheerleaders will be eligible for Blue Key.

College Receives Gift of Carnegie

824 Records, Sound-Proofing Equipment for Music Room in Grant.

As a gift of the Carnegie Corporation, 824 records and complete sound proofing for a music room were received by the department of music last week, after the corporation had made the grant last February.

The records received embrace compositions from the ancient Greek music down to the present day, representing the musical history of centuries and of many countries.

A room on the fourth floor in Old Main will be sound-proofed some time in May so that students desiring to hear records may play them without interference of outside noises. The records will go on file at the Student Union desk next week, and will be available to all students.

A similar donation was made to the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh recently. Both sets of records include every medium of performance such as: arias, opera, Gregorian chants, masses, motets, madrigals, ballets, fugues, sonatas, choral preludes, chamber music for various combinations of ensemble, concertos, and overtures.

Many of the records contain scores of symphonies, symphonic poems, orchestral suites, and numerous other forms of musical expression. Some of the recordings are rare, and are considered among the most valuable collections of recorded music. Inaccessible scores of medieval motets and madrigals, full scores of symphonies, song albums, piano sonatas and chamber music, correspond with the records, and are a part of the set.

High School Students Plan Tour of Campus

Three hundred seniors from the fourteen high schools in Centre County will visit the campus tomorrow afternoon for the first organized tour of the College which has been planned to aid them in deciding on vocations to follow in any further education they may desire to obtain.

Adrian O. Morse, executive secretary to President Hetzel, announced the plans for the entertainment of the visitors. The groups from the high schools will assemble at Recreation hall at 12:45 o'clock and will then be conducted by organized guide service to the various schools and departments where they will be introduced to the various activities of the College by representatives selected by the deans.

Each group will be accompanied by a teacher or principal. The groups

2 Athletic Events Set To Start at 2:30 Sat. Afternoon.

Hetzel Will Welcome Guests At Pep Rally

The Penn State Day program on May 18 has been announced by Lucy J. Erdman '35 and A. Kenneth Maier '35, co-chairmen of the committee in charge. The approximately 1200 high school seniors who are expected to attend will register in Old Main between 10 and 12 o'clock. Those who register early may visit the building on the campus that houses the school or department in which they are interested.

At 12 o'clock noon the visitors will report to the fraternities to which they have been assigned for lunch. After lunch and before time for the sports which they will visit later, there will be time to inspect the campus or the town further. Fraternity members will conduct the students to the various interesting spots they may wish to visit or which they should visit to get the most out of the tour.

Pep Rally For Visitors
At 2:30 the Lacrosse and Freshman baseball games will start and the high school visitors will attend the contests gratis. After the finish of these sports the committee hopes, but has not yet definitely decided or settled the matter, to have a barbecue on the practice field. This will be around 5:30. Maier claimed that the main idea behind this is to save the fraternity treasurers from the strain of two meals to a large number of visitors.

At 7:30 the main feature of the day will take place in Recreation Hall in the form of a gigantic rally of visitors and college students. President Ralph D. Hetzel will welcome the high school students. The prospective students will be entertained here by several boxing and wrestling bouts, a soccer game, so-called, in which the ball will be kicked over a net stretched for the purpose. Following these forms of entertainment will come the championship Glee Club, the Varsity Quartet and the Blue Band. The gym team and fencers are expected to aid in the presentation of the program.

Play Day Program Arranged
This feature of the day is expected to end about 10 o'clock, after which those students who stay will visit at the fraternities in which they are interested, or where they had lunch. This is the time when students will be expected to do all in their power to arouse the interest of the visitors in matriculating at Penn State.

Elsie M. Douthett '35, member of the general committee and chairman of the committee which is arranging the program for Play Day which is a special program for girls invited especially from five high schools from which State receives few students, announced the plans for their own personal celebration. Twenty-five girls and approximately five advisors are expected to attend the Play Day celebration.

There will be a campus tour for these visiting girls at 11 o'clock and a luncheon in the Sandwich Shop at 12 o'clock. In the afternoon there has been a program of field activities arranged in which all girls who desire may enter. There will be all kinds of games on Holmes Field all during the afternoon. If it can be arranged there will be swimming in the Glenland Pool which will be made up of races of various kinds. However, according to Douthett, this plan is not yet definite as there have been no arrangements made with the pool officials.

The girls will have supper at the W. A. A. cabin where they will stay that night, returning home the next day. During the evening at the cabin there will be a program of indoor games and amusement.

Hood Added To Staff Of Extension Division

Miss Jean Hood, recently dietitian at the Trysdale hospital, Fall River, Mass., has joined the home economics extension staff here as nutritionist. Miss Hood was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1927. She has served as dietitian at the Wisconsin General hospital in Madison and as laboratory assistant in bacteriology at the University of Wisconsin before going to Trysdale Hospital.

Frizzell Gives Address

Professor John H. Frizzell, head of the department of public speaking, addressed the Eastern Speech conference in New York City last week. In his lecture he discussed high school debate work.
