

I. M. Standing Released For Bezdek Award

Sigma Phi Epsilon Has Lead of 53 Points For Sport Cup.

Phi Delta Theta Grabs 2nd Place in Contest

Sigma Phi Epsilon, with 295 points, is in first place in the intramural sports standings for the fall season, according to the summary compiled by William W. Lauer '35, intramural sports manager. Phi Delta Theta, with 242 points, occupies the second position, followed by Beta Theta Pi with 204.

Full sports consist of football, cross-country, and horseshoes. Sigma Phi Epsilon's lead in the standings is due, for the most part, to their victory in the football tournament, which was won by one touchdown from the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity in a very close match.

Varsity Points Given

Triangle fraternity won the cross-country contest, and the horseshoe tournament was won by Sigma Phi, neither of which teams, however, scored enough outside points to place them among the first five in the Bezdek trophy race.

Points other than those in intramural sports which are counted toward the trophy include varsity letter and numeral winners in the fall varsity sports, namely football, soccer, horseshoes, and cross-country. Phi Delta Theta and Beta Theta Pi received most of their points in this manner.

To Announce Winter Points

Delta Upsilon placed fourth in the standings with a total of 166 points, followed by Sigma Nu, in fifth position, with a 150-point aggregate score, further classification reveals.

While these scores are definite as far as the fall semester is concerned, they are no indication of the final winners of the trophy. Manager Lauer stated, because both winter and spring competitions have yet to be added to the scores.

Donald B. Ross '35, president of intramural board, stated that the results of the winter tourneys would be released some time next week.

Tschan Elected Head Of Fraternity Group

Dr. Francis J. Tschan was elected president, Dr. Charles C. Wagner vice-president, and Jean Dambly secretary, of the Penn State Fraternity Counsellors' association by a unanimous vote at their monthly meeting held at the Sigma Nu house Tuesday night. The newly elected officers are advisors of the Theta Kappa Phi, Alpha Chi Rho, and Phi Kappa Sigma fraternities respectively.

The meeting, conducted by the retiring president, Dr. Clarence S. Anderson, included discussions on several phases of the fraternity situation, including finances, Hell week, extra-curricular activities, and scholarship. A suggestion which may be carried out later was made to conduct a survey questionnaire among the fraternities to discover possible deficiencies, so that they may be remedied and the college fraternity standards raised.

Dr. Tschan, newly elected president of the group, defined worthy extra-curricular activities as "those activities which make a person leave the campus better because of them." He stated that more consideration should be given by the fraternity to the abilities and past records of the pledges before showing them into society.

Bernard Riley Named Vice-President; 765 Vote.

Swimming Approved Intercollegiate Sport

Frank O'Hora '36 was elected president of the Athletic Association for 1935-36, and Raymond O. Bell '36 won the secretarial post in the re-vote taken Wednesday between the two leading candidates for president and the two leading candidates for secretary, after each had failed to win a majority vote in Monday's elections. Bernard A. Riley '36 was elected vice-president.

O'Hora polled 412 votes to 353 for Bell, and received 414 votes to 347 for Francis W. McAndrews '36. The total number of ballots cast reached 765.

In the re-elections, which were necessitated by the association's election ruling that a candidate must receive a majority of votes cast in order to be in office, forty-eight more votes were cast than in Monday's poll.

Swimming was added as an intercollegiate sport with a four and one-half inch letter award by a vote of 711-to-6 in Monday's elections. Frank O'Hora will replace John M. Stocker '35, former president of the association.

The following rulings which were passed by the committee will automatically go into effect:

1. Fencing will remain a minor sport here.
2. Numerals will be awarded to second assistant managers in baseball, boxing, and wrestling.

One of the student leaders in the parade was brought before the Board and placed on strict probation.

Repairs are now being made to the surface of Allen street opposite the Main Campus entrance. Fifteen hundred bricks are being replaced in the area damaged by the bonfire which was started by students last fall. The cost of these repairs are estimated at over $100.

The damages from the more recent blazes will be paid from class funds. If the bills cannot be met, next year's dues will be raised to meet the deficit.

rounding the figure light bulbs which show as bubbles. All these pictures were taken against a black backdrop. Reverting to the cover once more, and opening it to look at the inside decorations, small cuts of various buildings appear with green trees unobtrusively placed among them and the Nittany Lion springing through the air. Here, too, the tan of the outer side of the cover is carried through.

The lion idea is presented on other pages, especially on those which contain the pictures of the faculty. Each break in the double spread is marked by a springing lion drawn in outline. One of the stuffed lions, which made its appearance for the first time before the Syracuse game, again appears, this time merely as a head stuck through a black-backdrop and acting as an introduction to the football section.

52 Fraternity Groups Plan Entertainment Of Visitors.

Sporting Events, Rally Open to Registrants

Approximately one thousand high school seniors have signed up to visit the campus during Penn State Day tomorrow and take advantage of the opportunity to see an educational institution of the size of Penn. State in full operation. From the time the guests start registering tomorrow morning until late at night, when they leave the fraternities at which they have been entertained, for the return trip home, there will be a full day of activity for them.

Varsity men of the Penn State boxing, wrestling, and fencing teams have been selected to give exhibitions at the rally in Recreation hall tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock. Captain Zelcznock and Criswell, Goodman and Donato, and Izzy Richter and Sawchak will give the boxing exhibition, while Captain Johnson, Ray Yoder, "Sully" Waite, and Jack Light will do the wrestling. Dick Allen and Dick Lewis have been named to cross sabers in the fencing exhibition at the rally.

Glee Club To Sing

Besides these athletic contests, the committee has arranged for a gym exhibition and a soccer game. Penn State's Eastern Intercollegiate championship Glee club will sing, as will the Men's Varsity Quartet. The Blue Band will play and the Thespian Musical Show cast will present several skits from its latest show, "Don't Let On," which has been presented to audiences in Philadelphia and Pottsville.

Registration starts at 10 o'clock and continues until noon. During this time campus tours to all the buildings and points of interest will be conducted. There will be time also for the visitors to talk with the heads of the schools and departments in which they are interested. These interviews are expected to clear up any doubts in the minds of the students as to the advisability of entering a particular kind of work. They should be helpful in a clearer understanding of the kind of work in which they are interested.

Luncheon Assignments Will Be Made

Luncheon assignments will have been made at the time of registration, and at 12 noon the visitors will report to the fraternities to which they have been assigned. This period will aid in developing an increased acquaintanceship with fraternity life, and, along with the evening meeting after the rally in Recreation hall, is expected to help the seniors understand something of a college's social life.

At 2:30 o'clock the Penn State freshman baseball men will meet the Germantown Academy team, and the varsity lacrosse team will oppose Lafayette, both on Beaver field. These contests will be free for visitors. In line with this type of entertainment will come the Play Day activities arranged for some twenty-five girls from high schools whose quota of graduates entering Penn State is small. These girls, and any other girls who may wish to enter, may join in the contests and games to be staged on Holmes field. For the girls especially invited for the Play Day events there will be a Panhellenic tea.

At 5:00 o'clock a barbecue has been arranged for the guests on Beaver field. This is designed to relieve the financial strain on the fraternities and to lighten things up by allowing the visitors to become acquainted among themselves.

The day will end for the guests with the fraternity visits. The Play Day girls will be entertained at the W.A.A. cabin at Shingletown Gap with games and other amusement. They will spend the night there and return home Sunday.

Thespians Score Hit at Pottsville

Newspaper Reviews Give Credit To Acting, Music, Chorus Of "Don't Let On".

Scoring a hit with their presentation of "Don't Let On" at Pottsville Tuesday night, the Thespians completed their road engagements and prepared for the final presentation of the musical show here June 8. Reviews of the show in Pottsville papers characterized the production as a "highly entertaining program" and said that "perfect coordination and synchronization marked the performance." The reviews gave top credit to the acting of William B. "Bill" Edwards, who "not only carried his part well, but was the important cog in a smoothly operating machine."

Highly Praised

"The chorus work set a new mark for amateur performances and it can be truthfully said that many professional performances have failed to produce the type of entertainment given by the Thespians," one of the reviews said. "Everything moved along so nicely that one could not help but marvel at the perfection which marked every number." Special mention was made of the Winter Wonderland number, with Margaret R. Giffen '37, Norman Holland, the Theta trio and the men's chorus. The Thespians presented two performances, one before a high school audience Tuesday afternoon, and the other in the evening. The cast and technical staff, numbering ninety-six persons, returned here Wednesday.
