Lacrosse Men To Play Here With Maroon

Lafayette Marks Next To Last Stick Game For Lion Ten.

By KEN BEAVER

The Lion lacrosse team meets Lafayette tomorrow on Beaver field in its next to last game of the year. Lafayette, in comparative scores, ranks not quite as good as State. Penn beat them 5-to-4 and they beat Lehigh, who seems to take it on the chin generally, 11-to-5.

Coach Mick Thiel is fairly well satisfied with the team's showing. Their Cornell victory last week, the third in four games, brought out few weak spots. The week past has been spent mostly in scrimmage with the view in mind of pressing out these few spots, some of which are in the defense proper, some in the offense, and more in the stick-work.

Stick-work Stressed.

With three victories against the one defeat rung up by the University of Maryland, the lacrosse team so far this year has equaled last year's record, with the exception that it has played and lost one less game. The team last year had been beaten 13-to-3 by Army, and 13-to-5 by Navy at this time of year. Army is the team coming up on the schedule, but this game will be played at West Point rather than here.

As usual, and in continuance of his policy of producing as finished stickmen as possible, Coach Thiel has throughout the year, been teaching the fine points of stick handling. He has consistently claimed that the college man is hardly ever a finished stick-man because he knows nothing of lacrosse before his arrival at school. Therefore, it takes him much practice and actual competition to gain a nice handling ability.

Expect No Trouble

Thiel's work has produced men such as Capt. Weber, Koth, Robeson, and several other team members whose work this year in general has been praiseworthy and whose stick-work is among the better.

Captain Weber said that the team expects no difficulty with Lafayette. For some reason the Lafayette team, as pointed out at the beginning of this article, has not been any too good this year.

Batsmen To Meet Colgate, Syracuse Today, Tomorrow

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By TOWNE SWALM

With six of the seven scheduled first round matches played and fair weather prophesied for the future, the golf tourney should be finished up and the finals played not later than Tuesday of next week.

In the third round, which is also the quarter-finals, the D.T.D.'s, having taken the T.K.E.'s 4-to-2, will meet the D.U. slicers, 6-to-0 victors over Delta Sigma Phi. Alpha Phi Delta will meet Beta Theta Pi, the former having beaten the Phi Gammas 4 1/2-to-1 1/2, and the latter the Alpha Chi Sigs, 6-to-0. S.A.E. having licked Sigma Nu 5-to-1, will cross putters with Phi Kappa Sigma exterminators of Sigma Pi, 3 1/2-to-2 1/2.

The winner of the Alpha Gamma Rho-Phi Delta Theta fracas, the only preliminary match yet unplayed, will be automatically byed to the tri-finals, there to meet the winner of the S. A. E.-Phi Kappa Sigma match.

Correction

Although it might have been partly our fault, we are going to blame it all on Albic Herbert, diminutive track manager—because he didn't tell us. It seems that when we listed the field events for the track meet, we neglected to mention that the hammer, as usual, will be thrown.

Soccer Set-up

Three new entries, Alpha Phi Delta, Beta Theta Pi, and S.A.E., have entered the tournament, raising the list of entries to twenty-one. To date six games, have been played, with results as follows: Phi Kappa over Beta Sigma Rho, 4-to-3; Alpha Tau Omega over Alpha Kappa Phi, default; S.A.E. over Phi Kappa Sigma, 2-to-0; Delta Theta Sigma over Phi Gamma Delta, 3-to-0; and Beta Theta Pi over Alpha Phi Delta, 1-to-0. Delta Theta Sigma, the only team to play their second game, beat Alpha Gamma Rho, 2-to-1, advancing to the third round.

Infected Foot Keeps Rough Out; Smith Will Pitch.

By DICK LEWIS

Leaving State College yesterday, the varsity baseball team will play Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y., this afternoon and Syracuse, at Syracuse, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon in a week-end trip.

Lloyd Rough has been suffering from an infected foot all week and will be unable to pitch for an indefinite time. Coach Joe Bedenk planned to use him against Colgate, and use Frank Smith as a relief pitcher, and Frank Smith against Syracuse, with Lloyd as a relief pitcher. With Rough out of the game, Ernie Stokes will probably hurl against the Colgate Maroon. In practice this week, Stokes has been showing plenty of stuff, although he has not been in the box since the Georgetown game.

Syracuse Sluggers

The Colgate nine has won three and lost four games this season. The Maroon dropped to Cornell twice, by scores of 5-to-3 at Ithaca and 10-to-6 at home. Their third defeat was administered by Temple with the score 8-to-5, and their fourth by Brown by a score of 7-to-6. Bill Reid, Maroon mentor, may use "Lefty" Wright, a formidable southpaw, against the Lions. Wright, it appears, can both pitch and hit.

The Syracuse batsmen show a somewhat different scoreboard, having the enviable record of scoring thirty-three runs and thirty-five hits in two successive games at the beginning of the season. They also beat Hamilton College 17-to-0 and St. Lawrence by a 6-to-3 score. Lou Stark, Orange pitching threat, held the Hamilton batters to four scattered hits and may be used against the Lions instead of Warren Slosson. Slosson is a spot-ball pitcher, and considered the most capable of the Orange hurling staff.

Hafer is another man who may be put in the box, and is a hard hitter as well. The "Babe Herman" of those parts is a lad named Kliebach, center fielder, who has accomplished some unusual feats with the stick, and who presents a likely subject on whom Frank Smith can work his overhand curve. There is also another club-wielder up there who lays some claim to fame, and who may

Golfers To Meet Cayugans After Blanking Bisons

Lions Defeat Bisons, 9-0; Cornell Looms As Big Meet.

By BOB GRUBB

Fresh from a decisive 9-to-0 victory over Bucknell, the Lion golf team set out for Ithaca, N. Y., today, where they will encounter Cornell tomorrow in what is probably the most important meet of the season.

The Cayugans will be seeking to avenge a 9-to-0 defeat handed them by the Nittanymen in a meet here several weeks ago. The fact that the Big Red line-up will be bolstered by several veterans who were unable to play in the meet here makes the meet loom as a closely-contested one.

Bisons No Competition

Shattering their Bison opponents under a barrage of sevens, the Lions won every match and the three best ball contests in the meet played on the College course Wednesday afternoon.

Co-captain Tommy Marshall turned in the nearest performance of the day by shooting three birdies, one on the first hole, one on the tenth, and another on the fifteenth hole. Shooting one under par for the first nine, he turned in a medal of 73 to win over his Bucknell opponent, Beam, 4 and 3.

Co-captain Lloyd Beyer had little trouble in defeating his man, Jett, 4 and 3, winning all 18 holes to take a medal of 74. The best ball of the first foursome went to Penn State, 6 and 5.

Same Team Will Play Cornell

George Menard, carding a 73, defeated his Bucknell opponent, Lewis, 7 and 5, while Don Masters, shooting a 76, won over Colley, 4 and 2. The best ball of this foursome was Penn State's, 5 and 4.

Mason Walsh, the golf team's benedict, turned in a 76 to defeat his Bucknell, Griffith, 9 and 8, while Jim Hunter carded a 79 to defeat Moore, 3 and 2, in the last foursome. The best ball was Penn State's, 3 and 2.

Varsity Trackmen Leave For Meet With Syracuse

Capt. Harvey To Run 2 Races; Team Shows Improvement.

By JOHN BRENNEMAN

At the risk of spoiling last week's record as a track prognosticator, the prediction is hereby made that the varsity track squad, which leaves this morning for the Syracuse meet Saturday, will make a showing that will prove to be a real surprise.

Last Saturday the Orange squad easily defeated Colgate, while the Lion team suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of Pitt. Tomorrow's meet may not be a State victory, but there will be a very definite improvement over their last week's showing.

Harvey To Run

The first reason for this is the return to condition of Captain Harvey. "Ike" will run the mile and one other event and will win both. Wednesday Book did a 1.56 half, which should be better than anything Syracuse has to offer. Alexander ran a 4.27 mile the same night, Bill Miller got off some hammer heaves of over 146 feet, and Emmett Brown continued his record-breaking work in the shot.

Syracuse's Eddie O'Brien, like Pitt's Fleming, should be the star of the meet. He will run the 100, 220, and 440, and if he registers the same times that he had last week, he will take them all. Stewart and Johns will oppose him in the first two of these, Downey in the 440.

Other Entrants

Osterlund and Thompson will run the hurdles and should win places. Detwiler will run the 2-mile, with Alexander, Sigel and Cromwell should win the discs. Stamp is in the javelin and Feldman in the hammer.

Captain Stutzman, of Syracuse, will oppose Dibert in the pole vault. Stutzman does over thirteen feet. Barnes in both jumps and Smith in the high event, complete the list of Lion performers.

Women in Sports

Tennis

Dot Fish '37, head tennis manager, has announced the tennis schedule for games to be played in the near future.

Amelia Brooks '35 and Millie Otterson '36 will represent Alpha Chi Omega. They will play Dot Jetter '36 and Emma Rubinkam '36, who will represent Alpha Omicron Pi.

Grace Porter '36 will have a freshman partner in Ida Rainey when they play for Chi Omega. They will meet Lynne Gerard '36 and Tip Reese '36, who are playing for Delta (Phys Ed) Gamma.

Jean Giddings and Helen Ketter, two freshman girls, will play for the Down Town Dorms, and are to meet Louise Halbach '35 and Sally Mitchell '35, playing for Gamma Phi Beta.

Bunny Heagney '35 will have Hazel Woods '37 for a teammate when they represent Gamma. They will meet Sally Bushonr '37 and Kate D'Olier, who are to play for Kappa Alpha Theta.

Dot Bollinger '37 and Gina Swart '38 will swing the rackets for Kappa Kappa Gamma when they meet Helen Cunningham and Florence Gurikica '38, who will represent Mac hall.

Kay Geze and Peg MacMasters '35 will represent Phi Mu when they meet Betty Lenzen '36 and Berny Rextis '37, who are to play for Theta Phi Alpha.

Rita Alstadt '37 will have little Mary Dougherty '36 (who practices her game with a certain Pi K. A.) for a partner. Rita and Mary will have a bye into the second round.

Plebe Nine To Oppose Germantown Academy

By LES BENJAMIN

For the first time this season the freshman baseball nine will have an opportunity to give an exhibition of their ability as a first class club at an hour when most persons can appreciate them, when they meet Germantown Academy on the varsity field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Heretofore the plebes were forced to do all their exhibiting at 12:30 o'clock because of varsity home games. But the big nine plays away this week-end, all the attention centers upon their cubs. And their cubs are prepared to add Germantown Academy to their list of undefeated home victories. Why all the optimism? Because their fielding is still professional, their offensive much improved, Pitcher Benny Simoncelli's ball almost healed, and their spirits still up. Which all doesn't look too promising for the Academy.
