

Fraternities Must Pay State Amusement Tax On Dance Admissions

Permit Required for All Social, Professional Chapters.

Dues For Membership Exempted From Levy

Department of Justice opinion that school fraternity membership dues should be exempted from the state amusement tax was submitted to Revenue Secretary Harry E. Kalodner today.

It was recommended, however, that admission charges for fraternity and sorority dances and other entertainments should be subject to the 4 per cent. levy.

All chapters, both social and professional, should be required to secure the state amusement permit costing $1, it was also stated.

The opinion, written by Deputy Attorney General John Scott and Russell Shockley, assisted by Joseph Sloane, Austin Gavin and David Hill, of the amusement tax commission, cited that entertainments sponsored by other school organizations should also be taxed at the rate of 1 per cent, for each 25 cents of admission or fraction.

An exemption was recommended, however, for campus dances sponsored by the student council at Carnegie Tech, which have been exempted from the federal amusement tax because the small admission charged is used for the support of activities closely allied with education.

The opinion of the revenue department was to ignore so-called "parlor dances" often held at mealtime in chapter houses, "unless they become too obvious."

Secretary Kalodner was expected to approve the opinion formally and authorize making of form letters to be sent to college deans and presidents, that the ruling be relayed to fraternity presidents.

Organization of intramural sports into units of non-fraternity men will be discussed at the meeting, and Eugene C. Hat Society Can't Be Bothered Or 'Why Have a Constitution?'

Last fall the COLLEGIAN, in large headlines, announced another forward step in the history of hat societies. Blue Key, for years a sort of repository for all juniors who had friends or brothers who had friends or brothers, had officially adopted a constitution.

By the terms of this document the membership was limited to a paltry thirty-six, and these were to be selected according to a very complex system of points. For example, a prospective member was awarded a point if he had a speaking part in two Players' productions, likewise a point was to be credited to him if he stood in the first tenth of his class.

All this, everyone agreed, was just dandy, because it would prevent any nasty tales about politics or favoritism from arising. Wasn't it quite obvious that under such an arrangement only the "best" men would be

Alumni Secretary Announces Plans For Homecoming

Lehigh Football Game To Feature Annual Homecoming.

Golf, Smokers, Dinners Will Complete Program

Alumni Homecoming week-end will be celebrated Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Oct. 18, 19, and 20, the week-end of the football game with Western Maryland. Edward K. Hilschman, alumni secretary, has announced that all arrangements for the return of the former students have been completed.

The week-end will open with a meeting of the Alumni Council at 6:30 o'clock Friday night at the Nittany Lion Inn. This meeting will be followed by the student rally in Recreation hall at 7 o'clock. The complete plans for the mass meeting have not yet been announced. Following the mass meeting in the gymnasium, there will be a Varsity Club smoker at the Centre Hills Country Club. This will complete the program for Friday.

The annual Horticultural Show will open Friday night and continue open all day Saturday. Door prizes will be offered and many campus organizations will have exhibitions. The show will be held in the Horticultural building on Ag Hill. A modernistic garden design, decided upon in competition won by Harold W. Graham '36, will feature the show.

To Hold Golf Tourney

Getting an early start on Saturday morning, the alumni interested will compete in the annual golf tournament on the College course, which will begin at 8:30 o'clock. During the morning a period devoid of formal entertainment will allow the alumni and their wives to visit the fraternities, campus schools, and do some sight-seeing.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to sports, starting with the soccer game with Temple University at 1 o'clock. Last year the Lions defeated Temple by the score of 1-to-0 after long, closely guarded play by the Temple squad. At 2:30 o'clock the football team will meet Lehigh for the feature event of the afternoon.

At 5:45 o'clock many of the alumni who are fathers and mothers of coeds here will eat in the MacAllister hall-dining commons. Fraternities will also serve dinner to the homecomers.

To Honor War Heroes

The night's entertainment will consist of a cinder party in the Armory. The cinder party is a College tradition and many are held during each school year. During this party a plaque in memory of Lieutenants Levi L. Lamb '14 and James D. Bobout '15, who were killed in action in the World War, will be dedicated. The plaque was donated by their teammates on the undefeated football teams of 1914 and 1915.

Sunday, Oct. 20, the last day of the homecoming celebration, will open with a Christian Association breakfast in the Sandwich Shop at 9 o'clock. At 11 o'clock the regular Sunday chapel service will be held, with Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, delivering the sermon.

Death-house Drama Full of Tense Sequences

Slow, dragging steps... muscles refuse to act... rough hands on arms and shoulders... a shaved head... a last "so long"... then the realization that it is the end. Panic... "No, no," he cries. They drag him out past the green door... Black hood... straps... electrodes... wild thoughts... a sense of fatality... Your neighbor coughs. The tension, the spell is broken. It's like awakening to discover that you hadn't fallen off the Alps. It was only a dream.

More thrilling than the stirring "Peace on Earth," last season's successful play, "The Last Mile" has all the vigor and intensity of the anti-war drama, but its story isn't spread out through the entire play—the thread of dramatic circumstance unravels before one's eyes. The attention of the spectator is more easily focused on the action.

Frizzell Will Address Sunday Chapel Meeting

Prof. John H. Frizzell, acting College chaplain, will speak on the subject, "Putting Away Childish Things," at the regular chapel services in Schwab auditorium Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Professor Frizzell first came here in 1902 after being graduated from Amherst College. Until 1920 he taught public speaking, American literature, and English. In 1920 he resigned to take a position as principal of the Boys' High School in Reading.

In 1926 he returned to the College to reorganize the work in public speaking and intercollegiate debating. He has been acting chaplain since 1927.

Professor Frizzell has been a leader in the organization of numerous campus activities, including the College and Froth. He has acted as treasurer of the Theatians and has been on the Board of Directors. He was also instrumental in organizing the Interfraternity Council.

Lektrick Elected To Town Council

Pruitt '36, President, Presides; Drinking Acted Against; Hetzel To Speak.

Peter Lektrick '36 was elected student representative to the State College borough council at a meeting of Student Council Wednesday night. J. Briggs Pruitt '36, Council president, presided at the session.

The Council was urged to bring pressure to bear on the excessive drinking and ungentlemanly conduct prevailing over week-ends, and members were asked to report all infractions to Student Board, which will act on the offenders.

The Council sanctioned the re-organization of the Penn State club and it was announced that fraternity men were invited to the club's "mixer" to be held Saturday night, although the affair is primarily for non-fraternity men.

President Ralph D. Hetzel will speak at the Council meeting next Thursday night in Room 417, Old Main, at 7:30 o'clock. The attendance of all members is requested.

Friends' Chosen Topic For Freshman Forum

The second meeting of the Freshman Forum will be held next Tuesday at 6:15 o'clock in Room 302, Old Main. The topic to be discussed will be "Friends."

Sub-topics of the above lecture are: "How can I make real friends at College?"; "What does friendship do to personality?"; "Are you judged by the friends you make?"; and "Are friendships with women as important as friendships with men?" An opportunity will be given to all attending the meeting to sign up for definite activities.

Engineers Get Motor

A recent addition to the equipment of the department of mechanical engineering is an eight-cylinder motor of modern make which will be used for laboratory instruction. The motor is completely sectionalized to show all working parts. Mounted on a stand, the engine is capable of being turned in all positions to illustrate working parts which are not normally observable.

Correction

The name of William Ferris '39 was omitted in the last issue of the COLLEGIAN from the list of freshmen excused from taking customs. Because of his age, Student Tribunal exempted him from the usual restrictions.

Full Squad Likely To Play Against Flying Dutchmen

Cooper, Donato, Knapp Kornick Will Start In Backfield.

Opponents Have Heavy Team; Boast 1 Victory

By WALT FREUNSCHE
Lebanon Valley has never beaten the Lions in the nineteen meetings on the gridiron thus far. When State takes New Beaver Field against them tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock, there is every reason to believe that the result will not put a victory in the log of the Flying Dutchmen. Despite the fact that half a dozen regulars are on the bench the team will be in fine shape generally, and everyone should see action in the season's opener.

Only two men seem to have their positions clinched, although a tentative starting line-up has been announced by Head Coach Bob Higgins. Frankie Smith at end and Captain Bob Weber at tackle are certain starters. Joe Krupa or Bob Morini will probably get the other wing post, with Park, Orlando, and Salisbury in reserve. Roy Schuyler or Dan DeMarino will get the other tackle position, with Johnny Economos and Francis Wismer or Harry Latorre at the guard positions. Chuck Cherundolo or Chick Enders are possibilities for the pivot post, although the former's experience should give him an edge.

Kornick To Call Signals
In the backfield, Coach Higgins will rely on Mike Kornick as signal caller, being convinced that his shift of Kornick from a half position will be justified, since it adds a ball carrier to the quartet. Sammy Donato and Lefty Knapp will start in the halfback posts, while Bill Cooper will most likely play fullback and handle the burden of the punting.

Among those on the bench for injuries are Fritz Owens, who has a nasty bone bruise that keeps him from running with his usual abandon; Lou Barth, still ailing; and Tom Silvano with a bad leg, although he may be called into service if necessary. Carl Waugaman's leg hasn't healed sufficiently; Red O'Hara is back in shape, although it probably would be best if he could have another week of rest; and Art Fry may get in for a few minutes, only if necessary, since he has just recovered from his hospital siege.

Flying Dutchmen Big
Joe Bedenk, chief scout of the State coaching staff, reports that Lebanon Valley is big this year, if nothing else, and they have the slight advantage of having played one game already, a 19-to-6 victory over Kutztown. The line is reputedly heavy from end to end.

Lebanon Valley's tentative line-up will probably be Sponaugle and Lascarri, ends; F. Rozman and Captain Bartolet, tackles; G. Davies and Kniley, guards; Kroske, center; Tindall, quarterback; Sheesley and Halmer, halfbacks; and Lutz, fullback.

The Lions' avowed intentions are to go from the whistle at top speed, piling up a lead in short order, that experiments may be carried out by frequent substitutions.

A light drill of possibly an hour tonight will climax the week's grind. A defensive session was held yesterday afternoon in an attempt to plug any existing holes in the defense. Kicking in the game tomorrow will probably be divided between Cooper and Wayne Vonax, on the basis of this past week's showing.

Garden Design Chosen For Horticulture Show

A modernistic design for a model garden, submitted by Harold W. Graham '36, was the winner in a competition among senior horticulture students for the garden design to be used in the annual Horticulture Show to be held here October 18, and 19. The winning design was chosen by a committee of horticulture students.

All students who have displays of fruits, vegetables, or flowers are urged to enter their exhibits in the show. Women home economics students who have taken courses in flower arrangements are especially urged to enter the competition, for which prizes will be given.
