

Lion Booters, Harriers Meet Gettysburg, Lehigh Here Tomorrow

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By DICK LEWIS

Intramural touch football got under way Tuesday night when the Phi Delt handed Tau Kappa Epsilon a 13-to-0 lacing. Wednesday night, Kappa Sigma won over Unit 3 by a score of 7-to-0 and Sigma Pi defeated Kappa Delta Rho 12-to-0.

Bill Smith, manager of I. M. football, issued an announcement that all groups who plan to enter teams or who have already paid their dollar should start practicing immediately.

Teams will be notified of games forty-eight hours in advance. In case of postponement, which, by the way, will be granted only under unusual circumstances—this series has to be played off sometime before the 1940 elections—notification must be given to Manager Smith twenty-four hours before the game.

And here are a few rules which will govern the sport: These in any convenient closet:

1. Any number of substitutions may be made at any time. This rule, incidentally, is especially favorable for groups with a preponderance of over 150-pounders.
 2. No baseball or track spikes may be used. The only regular football equipment to be used is shoes.
 3. Time of game will be four periods of twelve minutes each, total elapsed time.
 4. Three times out during a half are permitted.
 5. In case of a tie score, the winner shall be determined as the team making the most first downs.
 6. Teams which fail to appear on the field by 4:30 o'clock will lose by a forfeit.
 7. On all plays except punt formation the defense line shall have a maximum of seven men.
 8. Fifteen yards in four downs will constitute a first down.
 9. The ball-carrier is down where touched by the opposing player's two hands.
 10. A forward or lateral pass may be made from any point back of the line of scrimmage.
 11. There will be no penalty for two or more incomplete forward or lateral passes. Only ends and back-field men are eligible to receive a pass.
 12. Punts may be made at any time without calling the formation.
- All non-fraternity teams which are not yet organized should organize immediately if they intend to enter the scramble. Jim Shoff '35 is manager of the non-fraternity groups. Working through the Penn State Club, Shoff has organized the town in geographical units. With many non-fraternity men concentrated downtown,

Little Opposition Anticipated From Battlefield Squad

Jeffrey Confident Of Easy Victory In Tilt Tomorrow

By TOWNSEND SWALM

The 1935 edition of Bill Jeffrey's soccer machine will undergo its initial baptism of fire when it tangles feet with the Gettysburg Bullets on New Beaver field tomorrow at 1 o'clock.

A decided length of information and the battlefield aggregation is filtering through to this department, and about all that can be said is that according to an analysis in the Gettysburgian, this year's team should be practically as strong as was the eleven of last year, which won five out of the eight games played, losing only to Penn State, Navy, and one game to Western Maryland.

If, as is indicated, Gettysburg's representatives this year will only be "practically as strong" as last year's team, no great opposition is to be expected tomorrow since last year the Bullets proved to be only a round of blank cartridges, falling before the Nittany booters to the tune of 9 to 1.

In commenting on the pending encounter, Coach Jeffrey although confident of a State victory refrained from forecasting as to the possible score, contenting himself by merely saying that the team is in fine shape and will be raring to go when the starting whistle is blown.

- Lineup for tomorrow's fracas:
- Bell goal keeper
 - Bins left fullback
 - Barns right fullback
 - Long left halfback
 - Bielicki (Capt.) center halfback
 - Sutliff right halfback
 - Wacker outside right forward
 - Osterlund inside right forward
 - Corbett center forward
 - Miehoff inside left forward
 - Welsh outside left forward
- Additional players who will see service include, Borda, fullback; Mandell, Weddell, halfbacks; and Taylor and Corman, forwards. Bill McEwan, who had been forced to remain on the sidelines because of a summer leg injury is once more in uniform and although he will not see action tomorrow will be on the bench to lend moral support to his teammates.

Rutherford Pleased With Golf Aspects

By BOB GRUBB

As play in the all-College golf tournament progresses, Coach Bob Rutherford becomes more and more confident that he will have sufficient good material with which to rebuild his 1936 golf team.

Assured that Billy Hyndman and Jim Hunter will be back next semester, the Lion links mentor is beginning to plan for the future on the basis of the performances of some promising golfers in the current tourney. He will have a more presentable picture of the nucleus of next spring's sextet when the final matches are run off within the next two weeks.

In the two semi-final matches played to date, Jay Albers defeated Wolman, 3 and 2 in the first sixteen holes, while Burkett turned in a 7 and 6 victory over Buck in the second fight. The remaining six matches, three in each flight, will be played off Sunday, and then the eight remaining golfers will go into the semi-final round.

Only one match in the second flight remains uncompleted. Pfahl and Klingensmith have played nine holes and still have nine to play before Sunday. If this match is uncompleted by then, a drawing will be made and one of the pair sent into the semi-final round.

The units should put up a good showing.

Putting and horseshoes will open next week. We shall endeavor to blossom forth at that time with a new set of instructions. To harriers: get in the running. It's only three more weeks off.

To Face Nittany Lions Tomorrow

DICK CAMPOFREDA

Western Maryland's Green Terror will be counting on Bill Draper, shifty ball carrier pictured above, and Captain Dick Campofreda, 210 tackle to the right, to help hold the Nittany Lions in their lair tomorrow afternoon.

Draper is a substitute back, kicking, running, and passing with equal ability. Captain Campofreda has as his tackling mate Pontecarvo, intercollegiate heavyweight boxing champion.

« Between The Lions »

Let's not be Pollyannas about our chances with the Terror tomorrow. If the boys come through with a victory, no matter if only by a point, it will be because they have played sixty minutes of football the like of which was not seen on New Beaver field last Saturday. The Marylanders will be out for revenge after their mauling in the Villanova game last week. To further complicate matters, injuries threaten to keep even more regulars on the bench than in the Lebanon Valley game. Let it not be considered treason to predict that the game will be close, with the margin a touchdown either way.

In the way of predictions, let us caution you to watch the aerial games of both teams. State clicked in five out of fifteen tries last week, while Western Maryland has a combination that is sure to work occasionally against State. Occasionally is used advisedly, since the Lions' defense proved quite successful against the Dutchmen last week. Watch also the way in which the Terror's out-punt the Lions by about fifteen yards on every kick. It develops that the only kickers around this here "U" are those who win every game from the comparative safety of a Corner booth.

All of you must have seen Kyle Crichton's article "On Dick Harlow" in that nickel mag last week. Our only stand on the matter is to present the paragraph which concludes: "Penn State . . . which was big stuff in football in those days. This is in contrast with the present days with a coach for every two players." Our hasty glance detects, but five coaches — but then Crichton is a Lehigh man, which qualifies him for reporting on doings here at State not at all.

Bill Nacios, one-time varsity golfer and now a graduate student here, is busy pacing the varsity men who shoot their best in the face of tip-top competition. They tell us that in 1934 Bill went around the country and smashed eleven course records here and there.

Book, Olexy Head Lion Runners in Year's First Meet

Race Will End at Half Of Football Game; Trials Planned

By JOHN BRENNEMAN

The Lehigh cross-country team has been unable to score a place against State for the past two years, but this record is almost certain to end tomorrow when the two teams meet each other over the local course.

The race will start from New Beaver field during the first half of the Western Maryland football game and the runners will finish at the half. State should win, but the result may be close.

Entire Squad To Run

With only one letterman, Captain Book, certain to start, Coach Charles "Chick" Werner's seven-man team will be made up, for the most part, of runners whose abilities in varsity competition are largely unknown. A 2-mile handicap meet will be held this afternoon and the make-up of the team will depend largely upon the results.

While the entire State varsity squad will run in tomorrow's meet, Werner will name seven who are to make up the team and their positions will be scored. In addition to Book, Pete Olexy, Don Daugherty, and Harry Wear, three sophomores, and Bill Trimble will probably make up the first five. The other two men will be chosen from Howard Downey, Jim Hutcheson, Charlie Clark, and Brazil.

Freshman Meet Added

Downey, the only other letterman on the squad, has been having trouble with his teeth and Werner isn't sure that he will be in condition to run. Hutcheson was on the squad last year. The other two are sophomores.

The result of this meet will largely determine the make-up of the squad that will make the trip to Yale next week. The freshmen will open their season next Saturday when they run against Cornell here. This meet was added to the schedule only this week.

Freshman Gridders Suffering Injuries

While the initial game of the season with Mercersburg Academy and a scrimmage with the varsity Tuesday night has left the freshman football squad with numerous injuries, Coach Nels Walke plans to have his best material in shape for the game with Scranton-Keystone Junior College at Scranton a week from tomorrow.

The two-week interval between the first and second game of the Lion Cubs' schedule gives Coach Walke ample time to get his team in shape for the encounter with the Scranton eleven. Patrick and Kyle, two of the best yearling punters, have been disabled temporarily, but will see service against the junior college club. Denise and Torretta have been out since hurt in the game last Saturday.

Satisfied with the defensive work of the freshman aggregation, Walke is now stressing the offensive and looks for a big improvement during the next week. "They'll be clicking by next Saturday," is the way he expressed it.

Women in Sports

Gene Ziegler '37 drew a bye in the first round of the upperclass women's tennis tournament.

Rita Aldstadt '37 and Mary Dougherty '36, two of our outstanding women players, defeated respectively Sally Bushong '37, and Helen Cunningham '38.

Mary Lou Frenar '37 defeated Dot Fish '37, and Gen Giddings '38 beat Helen Ketter '38.

Betty Alexander defaulted to Helen Anderson, thus leaving eleven entrants in the freshman women's tennis tournament.

Martha Anderson will meet Enid Beyer; Mickey Broberg is slated to go against Dot McAuliffe; Florence McCutcheon will play Eleanor McKnight; June Price and Lillian Wagner are matched; and Betty Wertz, with Bertha Wright as opponent, completes the list.
