Henderson Leads X-Country Victor

Yearlings Repeat Last Year's Triumph Over Cornell By 23-32 Score.

By JOHN BRENNEMAN

Scoring a 23-to-32 victory over Cornell, by repeating its last year's triumph over the same team, the freshman cross-country team opened its season auspiciously here Saturday. Len Henderson led the State team, covering the 2-and-three-quarters-mile course in the fast time of 14:12. Ranney of Cornell took second in 14:45, followed by Hazzard and Joachim, both of State, who finished in 14:59 and 15:04. Other Nittany runners who finished in the first ten were Bullen, seventh in 15:21, and Winkblech, ninth in 15:40.

Winkblech is a Mont Alto boy who has been working out under the tutelage of George "Ike" Harvey '35, captain of last year's cross-country and track teams and now an instructor at Mont Alto. The forster has been in training for only a short time, Harvey running with him over a course there.

Saturday he was well up among the leaders until almost the end of the race when he developed a cramp. He fell, but still managed to finish ninth. Despite this fact Harvey was quite satisfied with the freshman's showing and feels that with a little more experience and training he will develop into one of the best runners on the team.

In the absence of Coach Werner, who went with the varsity to Yale, Harvey handled the team. Werner was quite pleased with the freshman's showing here.

« Between The Lions »

Now that the varsity football players are assured of two hearty meals a day, we look for even higher morale. The COLLEGIAN has been criticized by some for the bitterness of its blast against conditions, but when you go a-hunting, you load your gun with all it will take; why try to make the charge just a stunning one? Evils are not eradicated by half-way measures, by love taps; you've got to smash them.

We hope you aren't too fooled by the pronouncement that the players had no complaint to make; after all, there are ways of dealing with those who complain loudly, if not wisely. The fact that the players had no official squawk to make doesn't alter one bit the fact that some of them were going hungry.

The Lions, to judge from their performance Saturday, weren't even aware of the existence of a university called Pitt. Now that Lehigh has been tumbled from the ranks of the undefeated into the ruck, State can look with much hopefulness to the next game. The team will have reached the first of the two peaks that Coach Higgins always points his teams for each season. The team should be in the best physical shape of the year, barring injuries sustained in practice this week.

In retrospect, the game with Lehigh furnished some thrills, many tight-spots, and a wealth of revealing statistics. Ample justification of Bill Miller's switch to end was shown by his defensive work in particular. Miller and his replacements permitted the Engineers to make the munificent total of one yard around their end.

The Lions found center the weak spot of Lehigh and picked up no less than 70 out of a total of 168 yards through this spot. The Lions also made 31 yards through right tackle.

Lest you get the idea that football is being over-emphasized around this place, consider how the other fall sport teams have been cliking. None of them have been defeated, and four contests have resulted in no score for the opponents. The soccer team looks to be in mid-season form right now, and if Bill McEwan's leg heals so that Bill can get about at his usual rate of speed, no team on the end can stop him. Wacker and Michoff, sophomores, are proving that fast company is to their liking, and even prod the veterans in shows of un-wanted activity now and then.

The cross-country team, while not as spectacular as some wearers of the "S," turn in victory after victory every year in impressive fashion. Freshman gridders this year are showing that next year's varsity will receive its usual quota of sophomore stars—if they aren't starved out of school first. Definitely, things are looking up.

Olexy Takes 1st as Nittany Harriers Defeat Yale 24-21

A few years ago a seven-man Princeton cross-country team, led by the great Bill Bonthron, went to Yale for a meet over the 5-mile course there. The course is one of the toughest in the country, almost all up and down hill, and in some places nothing more than an almost indistinguishable deer-trick. By the time the meet was over five of the seven Princeton runners, including Bonthron, had passed out.

Saturday a seven-man Penn State cross-country team, led by Captain Duverney Book and Pete Olexy, went to Yale for a meet over the 5-mile course there. It was the same course, the same conditions. Olexy finished first, Book third. Penn State won the meet 24-to-32.

The entire State team showed improvement, according to Coach Charles "Chick" Werner. Olexy's time of 27:21, while not record-breaking, was remarkable in view of the fact that he was forced to stay with the Yale runners most of the way in order not to get off the course. Several times State runners did this and had to be called back by the Yale men.

Woodland of Yale took second place in 28:02. Book's time was 28:07. Howard Downey, showing much improvement over his previous performances this season, was fifth. Charlie Clark and Don Daugherty, two other sophomores, were seventh and eighth. Bill Trimble in tenth position and Joe Surmaitis in thirteenth completed the list of State runners.

While pleased by the fine showing of the team, Werner feels that they were "pointed" for the meet and may suffer some sort of a let-down. The three sophomores, Olexy, Clark, and Daugherty, however, should continue to improve as the season goes along. Olexy has not been extended in winning either this or the Lehigh meet, and looks capable of turning in some excellent times if he put under enough pressure.

Both Penn State touchdowns were scored in the first half. The losers had the edge in the third quarter, however, but their invasion of the Cubs' territory was successfully repulsed.

Harrison, Giannantonio Score

The freshmen's first score came in the first period when Harry Harrison smashed through the line for six points after two successive first downs had advanced the ball to the Keystone two-yard line.

A 40-yard pass, Bill Denise to Giannantonio, was successful, Giannantonio catching the ball on the run as he crossed the goal line just before the whistle blew to end the second quarter. Both tries for extra points failed.

Following is the lineup for the freshman football game:

Pos.	Seranton	Penn State
L.E.	Cavezza	Gregory
L.T.	Lacoe	Hanly
L.G.	Banionis	Sacco
C.	Owens	Toretti
R.G.	Boerner	Schreiber
R.T.	Stephens	Peel
R.E.	White	Barantovich
Q.B.	Savino	Harrison
L.H.	Patrick	Swats
R.H.	R. Seamans	Giannantonio
F.B.	W. Seamans	Metro

Nittany Booters Sink Temple Owls With 4-0 Score

Wacker, Center, Lead Lions' Offensive In Close Tilt.

By TOWNSEND SWALM

Penn State's soccer team has added another trophy to the collection already burdening its ephemeral mantlepiece—a stuffed owl. Though the Temple boys tried hard they never had a chance, for from the starting whistle to the end of the second quarter, the Nittany booters displayed a brand of soccer second to none, when they defeated the Temple Owls, 4-to-0, on Beaver field Saturday.

Just where Coach Jeffrey got the team we can't discover, but it was certainly a different team than that which beat Gettysburg a week ago. In every department the Lions played airtight ball, passing with deadly accuracy, the varsity, to a man, out-ran, out-kicked, and out-maneuvered and generally made monkeys of the Temple Owls.

Gueher Stars for Temple

The statistics, as the football fiend likes to dote on, fail to show how completely Temple was outplayed, but the explanation of the comparatively small four-goal margin of victory lies in the capable hands of Temple's goalman, Gueher. Under a veritable barrage of hard, accurate goal thrusts this rugged goalie took plenty of punishment in preventing the true character of the contest from appearing in the final score.

Carl Wacker, slim sophomore center, was leading goal garner for the local boys, accounting for three, two in the second quarter and one in the third, although it took Solly Michoff to start the ball rolling when he converted a pass from Bielicki in the first quarter.

Play during the first half was so completely under the control of the State lads that it bordered on the ludicrous. During that half Lion goal protector Ray Bell might just as well have sat on the bench for the ball was kept continuously in Temple territory, only once or twice being anywhere near the Lion cage.

Although retaining control most of the time, play during the second half was not nearly as brilliant as that which preceded, and as the game continued, regulars were withdrawn under the closing whistle blew the State team was composed almost entirely of sophomores, with the exception of Bielicki, McEwan and Palmer.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By DICK LEWIS

As the second round of football goes on, cross country competition gets under way on the golf course tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

So far, twelve groups are in the running, which promises to become, if nothing else, one of these breath-taking affairs the spectators look forward to. Groups entered include: Alpha Zeta, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Sigma Phi, Frear Hall, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Kappa, Phi Sigma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu, Triangle and Unit 1.

Each prospective candidate must have had his physical examination and should have rounded the golf course at least eight times by way of getting in trim, according to Rudy Hellmuth, '37, manager of cross-country. Financial survey reveals that some of the groups entered have failed to put up a two-bit head tax, which is required of each man. Entree fees must be paid up before contestants can enter. Each team must have at least three men in the race in order to place for the cup.

Last week's football scores completed the first round. Wednesday night, Pi Kappa Alpha downed Theta Xi, 10-0, and Sigma Phi Alpha won over Theta Upsilon Omega 13-0. Thursday, the K. D. R.'s battled to victory over Unit 6 by 2 first downs and Beta Theta Pi won over Phi Sigma Kappa, 6-0. Sigma Chi defeated Unit 1 in a close match by 4 first downs to 2 first downs.
