PSCA Campaign Reaches $2,770 In Student Drive

$2,000 Given By Men; Women Pass Goal With $770

Canvass for Faculty Funds Will Continue

Ending the first week of its drive for funds, the annual P. S. C. A. campaign has reached a total of $2,770 from contributions of the student body, according to Charles H. Salt '36, men's student chairman of the drive.

Contributions from the men students reached $2,000 Friday night, when the last count was taken. This is $400 short of the men's student goal of $2,400, but all men's contributions have not yet been tallied, Salt said.

Women Top Goal

Women students exceeded their goal of $700 with a total of $770 when the totals were taken at the end of the week, it was announced. All women students, however, have not yet been contacted. Women's student chairman is Geneva C. Ziegler '37.

The student body of the College furnishes one-third of the Christian Association budget. The faculty drive, which is headed by Prof. Marsh W. White, chairman, of the department of physics, has not been completed. The goal for the faculty has been set at $1,000.

Funds Support Activities

Funds raised from student contributions help maintain the service activities of the Christian Association. The activities and services rendered by the Association to the student body include: Bible study groups, in which 380 participated last year; religious meetings in which 2,500 students participated last year; meetings or forums on social questions, in which 7,600 students participated last year.

More than 5,000 students attended the fireside sessions held last winter by the Christian Association. Ap-

Committee Will Study Agricultural Situation

Members of the agricultural committee of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association will meet here Friday and Saturday to review the agricultural situation in Pennsylvania. The committee, which has met here annually for the past several years, keeps in touch with the agricultural research and extension work going on in all parts of Pennsylvania.

D. H. Otis, Madison, Wisconsin, director of the American Bankers Association agricultural commission, is to be the principal speaker of the meeting. Other speakers are Prof. Aedin L. Patrick and Allen L. Baker, of the School of Agriculture. Professor Patrick will talk on "Soil Erosion in Pennsylvania." Professor Baker will speak on "Boys and Girls' Club Work in Pennsylvania."

E. B. Harshaw, Grove City, is the chairman of the committee and will preside at the opening banquet at the Nittany Lion Inn on Friday night.

Dr. Mack Will Exhibit Prize Wood Engravings

A view of Vicksburg, contained in a wood engraving made by Dr. Warren Mack, of State College, during the summer of 1935, has been selected by the jury of the Fifth Annual Exhibition of Lithography and Wood Engraving for a show soon to open at the Art Institute of Chicago.

Thirty-six wood engravings by Dr. Mack are also being exhibited in a one-man show being held at the Art Institute of Johnstown from October 15 until November 15.

Godshall Will Discuss Neutrality Question

"Neutrality in the Italo-Ethiopian Dispute" will be discussed by Dr. Walter L. Godshall, of the department of history and political science, at a meeting of the International Relations Club in Room 418, Old Main, tonight at 7 o'clock.

Discussion of the question will follow Dr. Godshall's talk. The meeting is open to anyone wishing to attend or interested in becoming a member of the organization, William P. Egli '37 announced.

P. S. Club To Refuse All Complimentary Tickets

No complimentary tickets will be given to anyone for the informal Houseparty Dance sponsored by the Penn State Club in the Nittany Lion Inn, November 8. Wesley C. Mohnkern announced last week. Mohnkern emphasized that the dance was open to anyone and that social affiliations on the campus would make no difference. Admission is $1.40 and tickets are available at the Student Union office.

Plan Peace Day Observance Here

15 Campus Organizations Meet Today to Form Anti-war Program Nov. 11.

Planning an all-College student mobilization, to be held here Armistice Day, November 11, at 11 o'clock in the morning, representatives from fifteen campus organizations will meet in the Hugh Beaver room, 304 Old Main, today at 4 o'clock to draw up plans for the demonstration.

The mobilization is backed up by eleven national organizations, including the National Student Council of Y. M. C. A.'s, the National Student Federation of America, the National Student Council of Y. W. C. A.'s, the National Student's League, the Student League for Industrial Democracy, the Committee on Militarism in Education, the American League Against War and Fascism, the American Youth Congress, the Intercollegiate Council, the Student Christian movement of the Middle Atlantic States, and the Inter-seminary movement of the Middle Atlantic States.

Two representatives of fifteen campus organizations will elect a student chairman at the meeting today. Plans for the mobilization will be discussed by the group and a program mapped out. Discussion will be held on the following four issues:

1. Support of neutrality legislation.
2. De-militarization of the colleges and universities.
3. Support of the Nye-Kvale bill for making R. O. T. C. in-land grant colleges optional.
4. Refusal to support the government by participation as combatant in time of war.

Campus organizations which will be represented at the meeting will be the COLLEGIAN, the International Relations Club, the Social Problems Club, Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary, the Baptist Student Group, the Catholic student group, the Episcopal student group, the Faith Reformed student group, the Friends Society, the Hillside Foundation, the Lutheran student group, the Methodist student group, the Presbyterian student group, and the Penn State Christian Association.

Co-advisors of the mobilization are Arthur H. Reede, of the department of economics and sociology and Charles P. Hogarth, associate secretary of the P. S. C. A.

Scientist Will Trace Evolution Of Speech at Open Meeting

While one of man's earliest accomplishments was the ability to talk, it is only relatively recently that he has come to know scientifically about this talent of speaking.

Illustrating his lecture with visual and acoustical demonstrations, Dr. J. O. Perrine, of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, will elaborate upon this aspect of sound at an open meeting of Sigma Xi and Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary chemistry and physics fraternities, respectively, in the Chemistry amphitheatre on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Taking "Speech, Music and Electricity" as his subject, Dr. Perrine will trace the evolution of speech and speech study. When man learned to speak into electric factors and learned more about the electrical art, it then became possible really to know about speech. Dr. Perrine will point out: Man learned how to understand electrical currents better than he did sound and so, in converting sound to electricity, in transmitting these currents by radio, man came to know a lot of interesting and important ideas about speech and music, Dr. Perrine explains.

Using an instrument called an oscillograph, which will permit the audience to see sound waves, Dr. Perrine will illustrate the contrast between speech and music on one hand and the pure tones of tuning fork sounds will be illustrated both ac-

Kennedy Chooses Cast of Thespian Houseparty Play

Trio, Dance Team, Glee Club Feature Fall Presentation

Varsity Four, Hy-lols Have Prominent Parts

Announcement of the cast of "Fools Rush In", combined Thespian and Glee Club fall houseparty show which will be given in Schwab auditorium Saturday, November 9, has been made by J. Ewing "Sock" Kennedy, director of the production.

A trio composed of Jane Parker, who played a leading role in "Don't Let Or", last spring's Thespian show, Herb Cohn '39 and Bob Ricks '39 has a prominent part in the production, a straight musical comedy with an amateur radio hour as the central theme.

Featuring the show is the dance team of Ruth Marcus '39 and Bill Marlin '39, which will present speciality tap numbers. The four authors of the show, Richard H. Allen '36, John E. Binns '36, J. Lloyd Larkins '37 and Edward T. Binns '38, all have prominent parts in the cast. John Binns played the Count of Spumoni in last spring's Thespian show, while Larkins was one of the "Three Stooges."

E. Graham Luckenbill '38, Ira L. Sendroff '36, both of whom have appeared in previous Thespian shows, and Hermione Hunt '38, a transfer student from Allegheny college, complete the cast proper.

Two girls' choruses will feature the show. The tap chorus is composed of Evelyn Van Antwerp '37, Betty K. Henry '37, Louise Sutton '38, Hermione Hunt '38, Barbara Cooke '39, Jane Fisher '39, Emma E. McKelvey '39, Jean Rountree '39, Doris Stuart '39 and Mildred A. Robbins '39.

Comprising the kick chorus are Rose A. Kraesun '36, Peggy I. Doherty '37, Betty '37, Kremer '37, Frances M. Gates '37, M. Virginia Stevems '37, Hazel A. Woods '37, Lillian Graham '38, O. Jeanette Wolf '38, Catherine Beers '39, Catherine Cumming '39, Maybelle Penley '39 and Barbara Ann Wood '39.

The men's chorus is composed of Bovard Tomlinson '36, Frank F. Waterman '36, Edward W. Caughy '37, F. Barton Henderson '38, Carl Arberg '39, Robert L. Goerder '39, John H. Pearce '39, William I. Sutton '39, Gordon S. Thomas '39.

Kennedy, who is directing the show, is assisted by Prof. Hummel Fishburn, of the department of music education, who is arranging the score and Henry J. Porterfield '35, who is supervising the scenery construction. Jay T. Lodzoun '36, is in charge of music for the show. Other members of the production staff are Robert D. Lelso '36, business manager; Robert A. Wilgoos, advertising manager; Harry B. Henderson, jr., '36, publicity manager; Richard P. Barzler, '36, stage manager; Richard C. Antes '36, master carpenter; C. Lamar Hollar '36, master electrician and Erwin G. Degling '37, costume manager.

'39 Women Regulations For Dance Announced

Freshmen women will be allowed one 1 o'clock date this week-end for either the Student Union dance to be held Friday night or the Owens dance which is scheduled for Saturday, the Womens Student Government Association announced. No stags will be permitted to enter the Student Union dance the Board announced. They plan to have several campus cops at the door to enforce this ruling.

Leitzell To Hear Students' Cases

Three Students Held on Charges Of Local Violations; One Pays Fine

Breaking through the fire lines with an automobile which had two passengers on the running-board will prove expensive to three Penn State students, Burgess Wilbur F. Leitzell indicated today as he filed information against the trio, all members of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity.

Information against Kenneth Miller, driver of the car, charge him with a violation of the vehicle code subject to $25 fine for allowing persons to ride on the running-board, and also indict him for being within 500 feet of the fire apparatus when the Alpha Fire Co. was combating a blaze Wednesday evening on North Barnard street. The latter offense carries a $10 fine and total costs in the case will be $5.

Willard Herr is charged with riding on the running-board, an offense for which the fine is usually $5, and also with disorderly conduct, it being alleged that he refused to give his name when arrested. He was jailed for about three hours, but was released under $10 bond. M. M. McKay was also arrested for riding on the running-board.

John A. Beck, Phi Kappa Sigma, late last week paid Justice of the Peace Frank P. Miller a fine of $25 and $2.50 costs for allowing others to ride on the running-board of his automobile.

Speaker Defines 'Bible Attitudes'

Justification for Immorality Too Often Looked for, Hughes Declares.

Bishop Edwin R. Hughes spoke on the "Personal Attitude Toward the Bible" in his chapel address in Schwab auditorium, Sunday morning.

"If a man goes to the Bible and reads in a certain sense he may find causes of justification for his immorality," asserted the speaker. "There are many people who try to make Jesus a celestial drunkard in order to justify their drunkenness."

When a man is prosperous he wants the Bible explained to him so that his hope of reaching heaven may be enlarged, he continued. Yet Jesus said, "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to get to heaven."

"It is amazing to discover how little students know about the Bible. When the story of Jonah and the whale is told there is first a tendency to rush out and measure a whale's mouth and then comes a tendency to smile at such a preposterous picture."

Architecture Division Receives Aerial Views

The New York City Park department is at present engaged in designing and rebuilding many important parks, parkways, slum eradication areas, and other projects, under the direction of Robert Moses.

A number of plans, renderings and aerial views of some of the most interesting and recent projects have been presented to the Division of Landscape Architecture and are now on display in Room 204, Horticulture building, and may be seen daily until October 31.

Hillel Board Officers Selected at Meeting

A meeting of the student board of the Hillel Foundation was held last Wednesday night in Old Main. Officers were elected to the board at that time, according to Dr. Fischhoff, faculty advisor of the Foundation. Bernard M. Kahlstone '36 was elected president; Charles M. Schwartz jr., '36, vice president; and Selma H. Greenberg '39, secretary.

Courageous Nittany Lion Team Loses 9-to-0 to Pitt Panthers; Harriers Win by 27-to-28 Score

Olexy Takes 1st Place; Perfect Record Maintained

Pitt Yearlings Defeat Freshman Team 20-35

By JOHN BRENNEMAN

Penn State's cross-country team moved one meet nearer to the completion of their second undefeated season when they defeated the Pitt harriers over the Schenley Park course, by a one-point margin, 27-to-28, Saturday morning.

Pete Olexy continued his record of being undefeated in dual competition as he finished the 5 and five-eighths miles in 28 minutes, 21 seconds. Tost and Leggin of Pitt placed second and third, the former being 14 seconds behind Olexy.

Team Runs Tough Course
That the meet was so close came as something of a surprise. The Pitt team is not especially strong this year and if the Lions had been running up to their usual form they should have experienced little trouble.

The failure of the team to perform as well as expected was partially due to the nature of the course. Here the harriers have a fairly level course with only a few small hills to negotiate. The Pitt course has three or four steep trails and a cobblestone hill that takes a lot out of runners who aren't used to it. It is also slightly longer than the local course.

There was more to it than this, however. The team went out to Pittsburgh expecting an easy victory and when it became apparent that they would have to put up a real fight to win, they almost failed to make the grade.

Book Trumble Tie
Captain Book and Bill Trumble tied for fourth place in 29 minutes, one second. Cook of Pitt was sixth, scarcely a step ahead of Howard Downey who put on a quarter-mile finish, but who wasn't quite able to make up the necessary distance.

Emens and Tcheriant of Pitt were eighth and ninth. Charlie Clark, tenth, completed the list of State scorers. Don Daugherty, Surmatits, and Patterson were the three other State entrants to finish.

The team goes to Syracuse to run Saturday and there will have to be a reversal of form if they hope to win this one and complete their second undefeated season.

Henderson Takes 2nd for '39 Squad Behind Woodruff, Pitt

Penn State suffered its first loss of the season Saturday morning when the local freshman cross-country team lost to the Pitt yearlings, 20-to-35, over the 2 and three-quarters-mile Schenley Park course. It was the first time in two years that a State freshman cross-country team had dropped a dual meet.

Johnny Woodruff, sensational negro high school miler last year, led the Pitt team to victory in 34 minutes, 43 seconds, a new record for the course. Len Henderson again finished first among the Lion runners, taking second place in 15 minutes, 14 seconds. Three Pitt men, Pilson, Zamberski, and Tredemick, followed Henderson. Bob Simons, Herb Hazard, and Bill Joachim, all of State, took sixth, eighth, and tenth. Aikman, Hollister, and Tappman were the other local yearlings to finish.

Cwens' Annual Dance Features Style Show

A style show is to be the big event of the annual Cwen dance to be held in MacAllister hall, Saturday night, November 2. Several of State College's leading clothing shops have contributed the latest models for men and women's apparel, to be modelled by ten men and ten women students. Each change of costume will be introduced by Bill Botton accompanied by snatches of appropriate songs played by his orchestra.

The fashion parade carries the typical Penn State student from the close of classes Friday, to the Monday morning eight o'clock. This dance is the first formal affair sponsored by Cwens, national sophomore women's activities society. Tickets, selling at $1.10, may be purchased from any Cwen or at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

The Season's Records

Saturday marked the first defeats of the season to be suffered by a varsity or freshman team. With the fall sports season half finished the records of the State teams are:

	W.	L.	Tie	Pct.
Varsity Football	3	1	0	750.
Varsity Soccer	3	0	0	1000.
Varsity X-Country	3	0	0	1000.
Freshman Football	1	0	2	1000.
Fr'shm'n X-Country	1	1	0	500.
Totals	11	2	2	846.

Soccermen Defeat Maroon; Cubs Tie

Booters Take 2 Extra Periods To Defeat Lafayette, 1-0, Saturday.

While the Nittany Lions were meeting the Panthers at Pittsburgh, two home sports contests were presented for the benefit of those who remained here over the week-end. The State soccer men were hard pressed to defeat Lafayette in two extra periods, while the Lion Cubs battled to a 6-6 tie with Wyoming Seminary.

Booters Require Extra Period To Beat Lafayette by 1 Goal

By TOWNSEND SWALM

When the Nittany Lion booters defeated the Lafayette Leopards by a lone goal in the second extra period on Beaver field Saturday they were up against a different kind of play than they have met this season.

In the first place, Lafayette has been and is a weak soccer combination, having lost by wide margins three out of five starts up to the time they met the Lions. Knowing from past experience and this season's records the superior strength and ability of the Nittany booters, the Marquis-men rearranged their lineup around a powerful defense combination and came west hoping for a moral victory through a 0-to-0 tie.

And with the aid of much luck and the superhuman effort of goalie Wodehouse they were nearly successful. Employing a strategy which bilked many sure goal efforts, the Lafayette team played four halfbacks throughout the game. Elernewski, capable Leopard forward, drew back into the halfback line and played stellar defensive ball in this capacity. The game was very reminiscent of the contest last year when, by employing the

Wyoming Eleven Knots Score In Game With Yearling Team

By BOB GRUBB

A heavy Wyoming Seminary eleven, lacking the speed and punch credited to it, knotted the score in the third period of the game with Coach Neils Walke's freshman gridders Saturday afternoon.

After scoring on Bill Denise's line plunge in the first period, the Lion Cubs were unable to break through the prep school line during the game.

Fraternity Councilors Association Will Meet

Taking as his subject, "Why a Hell Week?" Wilbur Walden, national secretary of Alpha Chi Rho, national social fraternity, will address the initial meeting of the Fraternity Councilors association to be held at the Theta Kappa Phi fraternity house tonight at 8 o'clock.

According to Francis J. Aschan, president of the association, Mr. Walden has elected to come here because he considers this as the best place to check tests which he is conducting in conjunction with a book he is working on, to be entitled "The Colleges and the Fraternities."

Dr. Tschan To Give Talk

Dr. Francis J. Tschan spoke on "The National Council of the A. A. U. P. at Work" at a joint meeting of the Bucknell University and the Bucknell Junior College at Wilkes-Barre chapters of the American Association of University Professors last Friday. Doctor Tschan is a member of the executive committee of the association.

Economos, Guard, Stars In Lions' Brilliant Defensive Play.

Sutherland's Gridders Find Tough Opposition

By PHIL HEISLER

Asking no quarter and giving none, the Nittany Lion grid machine battled the Pitt Panthers to a standstill throughout the entire first half, but failed 9-to-0 under the onslaught of heavier and more experienced substitutions as the final whistle blew ending a thrilling battle in Pitt stadium Saturday.

Grim, dogged defensive playing on the part of the Lions dulled the Sutherland scythe. Eighteen thousand spectators had to look to the blocking and tackling of the roaring Lions for the brilliance that they expected to witness in the Panthers' attack.

With only fifty-nine seconds to play in the third quarter, and the score 0-to-0, the Panthers breathed their first free breath after Frank Patrick, a sophomore back, kicked a field goal from State's four-yard stripe, making the score 3-to-0 in favor of Pitt.

Evidence of the calibre of playing the Lions were doing was apparent in this play, for, although the Panthers had battled the ball down to within scoring distance, rather than take a chance of trying to break through the State forward wall, they chose to place-kick in a desperate attempt to score at least some points.

Economos Lauded
State not only placed one of the most courageous plays yet seen in the Panthers' line but presented a guard, heralded as "the greatest defensive player since Stanford's Bill Corbus sank his cleats into Pitt turf." John Economos did everything to deserve this praise.

Economos, a home town boy in Pittsburgh, was not only everywhere the Panthers were, but often prevented them from going anywhere. There were but few plays in which he did not make his 180-pound presence felt, much to the grief of the Panthers.

Economos was not alone on his defensive playing. Komic, another sophomore, was in there continually backing up the line, several times going through his own line to make the tackle. Captain Bob Weber played his usual consistently fine game during the whole sixty minutes.

State never really threatened the Panther goal. The Lions were never inside Pitt's twenty-eight yard line and during the entire second half and the ball game entirely in their hands. Punting would have been the Lions' strongest preventative against scoring but it was their best activity.

First Half
State opened roaring. Patrick kicked off to O'Horn who lateraled to Joe Nick, downed on State's thirty six. Andrews and Silvano advanced to the forty-nine. O'Horn punted out of bounds on Pitt's thirty-four. The Lions got a break when Shedlosky fumbled and Andrews recovered the ball. A series of line plunges were smothered by the Panthers and O'Horn punted to Malarky. Miller downed him in his own eight-yard line.

Shedlosky and Greene opened another Panther attack, advancing the ball from their own eight to State's twenty-three. Two more plays and the Panthers stood on State's nine yard stripe. The State line held and took the ball on downs. Vonax got off a poor punt, going out on the twenty-one. But again the line resisted penetration.

Second Half
The play of Pitt advancing the ball into State territory and then the State line holding with their backs to the wall was repeated time and again. Randhour and LaRue carried the ball for Pitt while Silvano made the principal gains for the Lions. Knapp's fumble paved the way for Pitt to get into position to score Patrick's field goal. Inspired by this first score, the Panthers rushed the ball down to the State goal where Patrick took it across for six more points. State's offensives failed to get them out of their own territory.

Hess To Give Address

"Newt" Hess, world traveler and big game hunter, will address a meeting of the Forestry Society to be held in the Forestry building tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.
