New $100 Prize Offer Open to Architects

A new prize of $100 is being offered this year by the department of architecture for excellence in design, it was announced recently.

The prize is open to all students in the upper three classes who exceed a minimum standard. It will be awarded to the student who achieves the highest total in the Beaux Arts Institute of Design problems, in which all projects and sketch problems judged by the Institute will be counted. In event of a tie, the prize will be divided.

STUDENT UNION BULLETIN

TODAY

Candidates for the editorial and art staffs of Froth are requested to report to the office in Room 309, Old Main, at 4 o'clock. At that time Jules Ver-nik '36, editor-in-chief, will explain their duties and outline the program for the year. Both men and women students are eligible to enter the competition for staff positions.

Freshman Women's forum will be held in Room 102, Old Main, at 6:45 o'clock. Election of officers will take place. The topic for discussion will be "Women's Fraternities."

TOMORROW

The Pre-Medical Society will meet in Room 110, Home Economics, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Chandler will speak.

THURSDAY

THE BOY... They sank his ship... and then he sank theirs, single-handed... what a hero, born for glory!

THE WOMAN... Sacrifice; a woman's glorious privilege... dedicating her son to her country.

THE CAPTAIN... Out-ranged, out-gunned, out-manned... he went down with his ship... fighting, smiling.

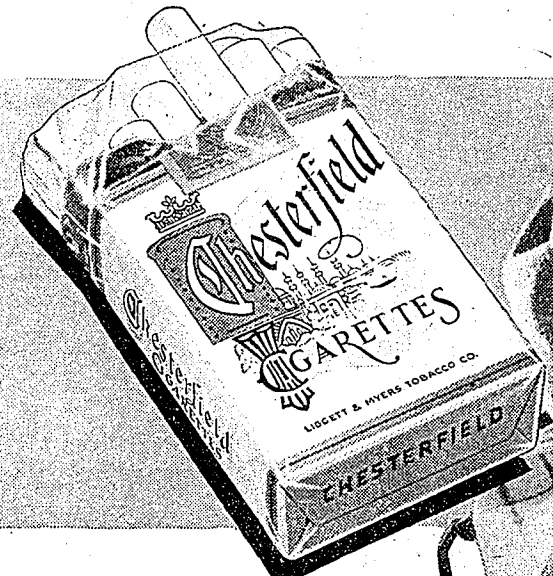

THE ENEMY... Veteran of many sea fights... Conquered at last by one spunky lad... armed only with courage.

THE LIEUTENANT... He loved; and sailed away... his ship was his life and his love.
