

Booters End 3rd Undefeated Season by Defeating Navy 2-to-0

McEwan Scores 2 Goals In Contest at Annapolis; Corbett, Osterlund Star

Middies Twice Threaten To Tally, But Stellar Defensive Work Maintains Lions' Unscored Upon Record.

Penn State's "monotonously victorious" soccer team has done it again. By defeating the Navy outfit by a 2-to-0 score at Annapolis Saturday they completed their third consecutive undefeated season and wound up this year with a record of seven victories in which their opponents were unable to score so much as a single point.

Bill McEwan, who kicked both goals for the Lions Saturday, is the high scorer for the year despite the fact that an operation on his leg this summer kept him out of the early part of the season. His first goal was scored in the first period, following a general mix-up in front of the Navy cage. His second was in the next quarter as the result of a fine pass from Pete Wacker, outside left.

Navy, previous to Saturday's game, had dropped only one encounter. Yale, State's rival for the Eastern championship, defeated them 4-to-1. The Middies threatened several times to score, but stellar defensive work enabled the Lions to preserve their unscored upon record.

In the first period a Navy kick landed on the cross-bar of the goal and bounced back into the playing area. Another close call was in the final

Between The Lions

Editor's Note—The Sports Editor still in Urbana, Illinois, this column was written in a driving snowstorm on a train returning from Philadelphia by the assistant sports editor, Charlie Schwartz.

The Nittany Lions still have that jinx hanging over their heads—the "away-game" jinx. Penn State's football team hasn't won an important game off New Beaver Field since the memorable Penn game in 1929. True, we beat Lehigh in Bethlehem last year, but the Engineers could hardly be classed as a "major" opponent.

Fate seemed to be upside down on Saturday. The line was supposed to be invulnerable and the backfield only spasmodic, while in Penn's case there should have been a weak forward wall and powerful backs, according to advance releases. But the opposite was true. Four Quakers crossed the goal through the Blue and White line. In all, they gained 282 yards in rushing. Bill Kurlich tagged the Nittany linemen all over Franklin Field.

Harvey Harman was on the spot Saturday and his men just had to produce the goods. His contract had not been renewed and it was overdue. We understand that Coach Harman gave his men quite a "tongue-lashing" this week and it must have had some effect. Witness the score and that fourth quarter tea party at which the Penn backfield poured. We can't offer any alibis for the team, unless it is over-confidence. The awakening for which Red and Blue supporters have looked all season finally came, and it came with a roar.

Next Saturday the situation should be reversed. Bucknell had an open date last week-end and the Bisons have been pointing for the Lions, but their record this season is unimpressive. State should triumph by at least two touchdowns.

Perfect Soccer Season
Bill Jeffrey's soccer team has done it again. The 2-0 victory over the Naval Academy booters Saturday closed an undefeated, untied, and unscored upon season. A perfect season for any team, especially if it's in a major sport, is a feat deserving of national acclaim. The soccer team has been champ for years. This completes the third consecutive undefeated season for the Nittany Lions.

Each year there has been some technicality uncovered, and we have been shoved out of the title position. This year we sit home with crossed fingers and bated breath. The Olympic team will be selected soon, and Bill Jeffrey's proteges are the rightful standard bearers for the United States. But the outcome of the selections is a moot and debatable question.

Penn State's All-Americans
We nominate for sports writers' all-opponent, all-time, all-Eastern, all-American, or "all-whathaveyou" selections, the following Nittany Lions: Johnny Economos, the best guard Penn State has had since Joe Bedenk's all-American day; Captain Bob Weber, tackle, whom no opponent has been able to prevent breaking through and mashing up plays behind the line, and who has played in every quarter this year; Chuck Cherundolo, a superb defensive center and all-around utility man; Bill Cooper, who finally found himself in his senior year and became a good, reliable punter and line plunger; and Red O'Hara and Lefty Knapp, a brainy quarterback and a shifty halfback, who, when paired, form a passing combination that spells dynamite.

'39 Harriers Win 27-to-28 Victory Over Navy Plebes

Henderson Takes First Position; Hazard Finishes 3rd.

Season Record Shows 3 Wins Against 1 Loss

Led by Len Henderson, State's freshman cross-country team defeated the Navy Plebes, 27-to-28, in a meet at Annapolis Saturday. It was the first time that a Plebe cross-country team had lost a dual meet since 1928. Henderson, in winning his second race of the season, finished in 16:09.3, eleven seconds ahead of Bonnell, Navy's leading runner. Herb Hazard of State won out Navy's Harby by 3 of a second to capture third place, with a time of 16:30.3.

3rd Victory of Season
Burl Aikman took fifth for the Lion freshmen in 16.43, ahead of Dennett and Smith of Navy. Bill Griest, with time of 17:00, captured eighth position from Mason of Navy by one second. Winkleblech, Joachim, Shie-man and Larson, were the other State runners, taking thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth.

This was the second time this season that the State freshmen won by the margin of a single point. Two weeks ago they defeated Syracuse by the same score. They end their season of dual competition with a record of three victories and one defeat. Following the meet the State freshmen left for New York City where they were entered in the Intercollegiate cross-country meet held in Van Cortlandt Park yesterday.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

With football finished for the season, boxing takes the spotlight as the gladiators of the squared circle limber up for a bigger and better tourney. Manager Alexander has asked that all groups entering the tourney should sign up at Miss Keller's office, Recreation hall, before next Tuesday.

Each group will be permitted to enter any number of men in each weight, providing the fee is paid and all entries pass their physical examination by the deadline for entry. The matches begin immediately after Thanksgiving.

We felt it incumbent on us to issue a warning to cross-country candidates to train before the meet, and we repeat it for prospective sluggers. We saw how some of the boys who went forth to harry themselves over the hills finished up, and how some of them never finished.

Last year's tournament provided plenty of colorful and exciting entertainment for those who were energetic enough to come around to Rec. hall. Some of the boys are already warming up in basements, where amateur boxing has flourished ever since there were basements. We predict, by way of exercising the prerogative of the ring-seat advisory board, that this season's leather pushing will bring out some clever boys. Come around and see for yourself, and we will endeavor to provide a bird cage view of the whole affair for the folks at home.

Rifle Team Will Start Practicing Tomorrow

First actual firing of the season will begin tonight in the Armory at 7 o'clock, when candidates for the varsity rifle team get to work to prepare for approximately eighty matches that have been scheduled by Manager T. J. Wright '37. It is not too late for men to report for try-outs, however, since several more men are needed on the team.

Candidates will soon be called for the freshman team, according to W. C. Washoe '38, manager. The call will be on the basis of work in R. O. T. C. firing practice. Already challenges have been received for the freshman team, and the schedule is being filled.

Lion Cubs Sink Undefeated Navy Plebe Eleven, 13-to-6, To Wind Up Grid Schedule

Harry Harrison Leads Yearlings to Victory Over Strong Annapolis Team Saturday; Freshmen Score Early.

By BOB GRUBB

A Lion Cub eleven that failed to look particularly impressive in any of its previous contests rode the crest of a victory wave to sink the strong undefeated Navy Plebes, 13-to-6, at Annapolis Saturday morning.

The triumph gave the freshman team its second victory in six starts and wound up a heavy schedule of two home games and four contests on foreign fields. The yearlings defeated Scranton-Keystone Junior College, tied Mercersburg Academy and Wyoming Seminary, and lost to Pittsburgh and Bucknell.

Harry Harrison, 154-pound quarterback, scored both touchdowns and kicked for an extra point to lead his teammates to victory in their best performance of the season. Coach Neils Walke used only twelve men throughout the game, substituting Parker for Sacco at the right guard post.

Cubs Score Early
Penn State opened five in the first few minutes of play with a series of straight running plays which advanced the ball to well within Navy territory. Harrison took the ball around right end for the first touchdown. The extra point was scored on a placement kick.

Neither team seriously threatened to score in the second and third periods. In the last quarter, Navy opened up with a passing barrage. The Plebes scored when Whitehead intercepted a pass, Patrick to Harrison, on Navy's 37-yard line and ran sixty-three yards for a touchdown. Whitehead proved to be the real thorn in the side of the Cubs with his long punts.

Line Holds Throughout
State's second touchdown came in the last few minutes of the game when Harrison caught Patrick's pass and ran twenty-five yards to score. The kick for the extra point was wide.

The freshmen's forward wall presented a solid defense throughout the greater part of the game, with Sacco outstanding at guard. The Cubs scored six first downs to the Plebes' four.
