Forestry Graduates All Secure Positions

Nineteen men graduated by the department of forestry this year are all employed, according to a report by Dean Ralph L. Watts, of the School of Agriculture.

Seven of the foresters are working in the Soil Conservation Service at Indiana. Four are with the United States Forest Service, and three are senior foresters with the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters. Four other graduates are working at C. C. C. camps and one is the director of a public camp in Michigan.

Mackenzie to Judge At Stock Exhibition

Peter C. MacKenzie, of the department of animal husbandry, has been named judge of cheviot sheep at the International Livestock Exposition to be held in Chicago, November 30 to December 7.

MacKenzie has judged many years at the international show. He also has served at the Eastern States Exposition, the Pennsylvania Farm Show, and many other state fairs, including those in California, New York, and Maryland.

Members of Faculty Speak at Conference

Four members of the engineering faculty returned Sunday from Pittsburgh where they participated in the fall sessions of the Allegheny Section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

Dean Robert L. Sackett spoke of the work of the committee on student selection and guidance of the Engineering Council for Professional Development. Professor Clarence E. Bullinger, head of industrial engineering, outlined "Engineering Curricula and the Teaching of Management." A. P. Rowell, department of electrical engineering, presided at the session in which Professor Earl B. Stavely spoke of the "Undergraduate Work in the Field of Electronics."

Prof. Stevens Named To Publication Staff

Prof. Sylvester K. Stevens, of the department of history, was appointed assistant editor of the Pennsylvania History, official publication of the Pennsylvania Historical Association, at the society's meetings held in Philadelphia, October 26 and 27. Professor Stevens will have charge of the views and comment section of the magazine.

Accompanying Professor Stevens were Prof. Asa E. Martin, a member of the committee for the policy of the association; Prof. Wayland F. Dunaway, who presided at one of the morning meetings; Prof. James E. Gillespie; and Prof. Burke M. Herman, all of the department of history.

Barney Exhibit Depicts Evolution of Housing

An exhibit by W. Pope Barney, registered architect, is to be found in Room 303, Main Engineering, showing the evolution of the architectural study of a house from the preliminary sketches through scale drawings and specifications. These drawings are similar to those being made by students in architecture on details of construction.

Another exhibit which has been in the display room for some time, is a piece of corrugated glass roofing—the ultra-modern in roofing materials.

Librarian To Preside

Willard P. Lewis, College librarian, will participate in the twenty-third annual conference of Eastern College Librarians to be held at Columbia University, Saturday, November 30. More than 200 librarians from educational institutions in New England and the Middle Atlantic states will attend. Mr. Lewis will preside at the morning session.
