Lion Orators Will Compete In Contests

15 Colleges To Enter 1935 Westminster Forensic Meet.

2 Debaters Will Take Annual Southern Trip

Debating with fifteen colleges and universities in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, two men's debate teams will enter the Westminster tournament at New Wilmington tomorrow.

Aaron N. Decker '36 and Roy Wilkinson Jr. '36 will uphold the negative side of the question: "Congress should have power to override by a two-thirds vote decisions of the Supreme Court declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional." John E. Matz '38 and Frederick L. Young '38 will defend the affirmative. Both teams will compete with other schools for points to determine the championship. Paul V. House, of the division of speech, will accompany the teams. Last year, the college debaters placed first, in a tie with the University of Pittsburgh and Geneva College.

Will Take Southern Trip

S. James Zarger '36 and William H. Egli '37 will compose the team to take the annual pre-Christmas southern trip. They will debate the question: "Should the power of the Supreme Court to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional be limited?" with William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va., Dec. 16 and the American University, at Washington, D. C., Dec. 18.

The season's schedule for the debaters includes a split-team audience-of-opinion discussion with the American University women on the question: "Married women holding positions should be replaced by individuals with no other means of support," here-in-January. Here-in-February, the team will participate in an open parliamentary session with the audience taking part in the discussion, the college yet to be selected.

Later in February, a debate may be arranged with the University of Hawaii, which was postponed from last year. The subject tentatively will concern Hawaii statehood. In March a two-day debaters' convention with representatives from colleges and universities throughout the state will convene here. Topics for discussion in the convention will include judicial review, married women in industry, and neutrality.

Student's Committee Plans To Aid Orphans

Miss Katharine E. Phelps, head of the women's downtown dormitories, and Florence E. Reese '36, are in charge of the Student Christmas Project Committee.

The orphans of Millfin County have been chosen as the most deserving cases to benefit from the contributions of the Penn State students. Chairmen have been appointed to canvass all dormitories and students desiring to assist in the purchasing of useful gifts for these orphans may give their donations to these representatives.

Rothrock '25 To Give Diesel Engine Lecture

Addison M. Rothrock '25, division head of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley Field, Va., will give an illustrated lecture on combustion in a Diesel engine in the Chemistry amphitheatre Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Rothrock is internationally known as the first to take motion pictures of the combustion within an engine. Pictures at the rate of 2000 per second were found necessary to establish certain facts concerning internal combustion. Prevailing views on combustion were upset by his discoveries.

Mr. Rothrock joined the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics in 1927, after he taught physics as a graduate assistant here. He is now one of the outstanding scientists in government service and author of many scientific papers and technical bulletins.

The lecture, which will include twenty minutes of motion pictures, is sponsored by Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society, and the Central Pennsylvania Section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. It is open to students, faculty, and others interested.

Student Union To Hold Xmas Dance on Dec. 13

An all-College Christmas dance, sponsored by the Student Union, will be held in Recreation hall on Friday, December 13, with Lynn Christy and his Penn Statesmen playing. Wesley C. Monkhern '36 and Harold L. Shambach are co-chairmen of the affair.

Admission will be forty cents per couple and no stags will be allowed. Miss Charlotte E. Ray, Dean of Women, has announced that 1 o'clock permissions will be granted to all co-eds attending. A program of entertainment is also planned and noise makers, hats, and confetti will be distributed at all present.

Christman Rites Held Yesterday

Herb S. Christman '37 Succumbed When Stricken With Heart Ailment Monday.

Members of the Sigma Nu fraternity attended the funeral of Herb S. Christman '37 at New Castle yesterday afternoon. Christman died at the fraternity at 10:30 o'clock last Monday night, a few hours after returning from his Thanksgiving vacation.

The student, who was 20 years old, was stricken with the heart ailment early Monday evening. Dr. Grover Glenn, State College physician, was summoned, but the youth was beyond medical aid. A pulmoner was utilized as a last resort to save his life.

Christman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Christman, of New Castle, was enrolled in the mining curriculum of the School of Mineral Industries, having transferred here last year from the University of New Mexico. He had spent the holidays with a fraternity brother, Charles Campbell '38, of New Castle, because his parental home was quarantined for scarlet fever.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Jack, of Elizabeth, N. J., and Frank at home; two sisters, Bonny and Patricia, at home. Services were conducted from a funeral home at New Castle yesterday, with the entire active membership of the fraternity in attendance.

Journalists Will Hold Annual Smoker Mon.

Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, will hold its annual Christmas smoker at Phi Delta Theta Fraternity Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. Pennsylvania newspapermen and journalism students will be guests.

President Charles M. Schwartz, Jr. '36 and faculty adviser Prof. Franklin C. Banner, head of the department of journalism, will introduce the speakers. Special entertainment and refreshments have been planned.

Newspapermen who have accepted invitations to attend the smoker are: Col. E. G. Stackpole, publisher of the Harrisburg Telegraph, Walter Krebs, publisher of Johnstown Newspapers Inc., Theodore Arter, of Publishers Service, New York City, and publisher of the Altoona Tribune, Harry L. Johnston, editor of the Altoona Mirror, and Fred Fuller Shedd, editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin.

Meredith Meyer, publisher of the Lewistown Sentinel, Joseph P. Biddle, publisher of the Huntingdon Daily News, and George A. Stewart, publisher of the Clearfield Progress, Adrian O. Morse, executive secretary to the President, and Dean Charles W. Stoddard, of the School of Liberal Arts, will also be present.

'Bell' To Feature Articles On 'Politics' and 'Justice'

Featuring two articles on local borough politics and justice, the December issue of the Old Main Bell will go on sale Tuesday. "Burgess Leitze's Tariff" and "Modern Solomon," a study of Burgess Lederer are both written by staff members.

Twelve woodcuts by Warren Mack, whose work has received a great deal of praise here in the East, will be published. A special announcement concerning a verse contest sponsored by the Bell, will be made in this issue.

"Stop Harry!" a picturesque story of a state fair, by Susan McKnight, is one of four short stories to be published. Don Sanders has written a newspaper story called "The Editor Works Late."

Lynn Christy's "Winter Coal," a "kid" story, is also featured. The other story, by Jules Vernik, a member of the staff, is called "3 Black, 2 Grey, One White." It deals with a small town undertaker and the method he used to become its mayor. An authentic mountain ballad by

Pianist, 'Cellist Secured for '36 Artists' Course

Musicians Will Appear Here February 24 In Recital.

Series Tickets To Go On Sale After Holiday

Patrons of the Artists' Course will have the unusual pleasure of hearing a joint recital by Charles Naegele, pianist, and Felix Salmond, 'cellist, two of the finest artists in their respective musical fields. Dr. Carl E. Marquardt, chairman of the Course Committee, stated recently in releasing the names of the artists to appear on the fourth number of the Course. They will appear here on Monday evening, February 24. Tickets for the Course will go on sale after the Christmas holidays.

At the age of sixteen, Naegele had already played before Paderewski, who pronounced him "wonderful." A year later he secretly entered a competition, the winning of which meant an orchestral appearance in Aeolian Hall in New York. He not only won an appearance with the orchestra, but was so enthusiastically received that the conductor requested him to repeat his performance on tour.

Naegele is War Veteran

With the coming of the World War, Naegele volunteered as a wireless operator on a Belgian relief ship and later enlisted in the U. S. Signal Corps. After the armistice, there followed four years of intensive study in Europe under Arthur Schnabel and other teachers.

Mr. Naegele then toured the Continent, giving concerts in Paris, London, Liverpool, Manchester, and all the great musical centers of the Old World. During his entire tour, it is said, critics forgot that he was a debut artist and greeted him with the acclaim of one well established in the world of music. Returning to America, he made a successful debut at Aeolian Hall. Since then his reputation has steadily grown and he is now recognized as one of the leading pianists before the public.

Salmond's Family is Musical

Salmond, who is head of the 'cello departments of the Juilliard Foundation and the Curtis Institute, comes naturally by his musical gifts. His father was Norman Salmond, noted British baritone, and his mother was a gifted concert pianist. He began his 'cello studies at the age of twelve under Prof. W. E. Whitehouse, one of the leading members of the faculty of the Royal College of Music. Later he went to Brussels to become a private pupil of Edouard Jacobs.

He made his London debut in 1909, winning recognition immediately as an artist of first rank. He followed this by long annual tours throughout England and the Continent. His American debut took place in the spring of 1922 when he was hailed as "one of the elect of the virtuosos." Among the other celebrated artists with whom he has made joint public appearances are Paderewski, Josef Hofmann, Harold Bauer, Enesco, Ossip Gabrilowitch, and Dohnanyi.

Lewis Visits New York

Willard P. Lewis, College librarian, attended the twenty-third annual conference of the Eastern College Librarians which was held at Columbia University Saturday. Lewis presided at the morning session, which more than 200 librarians from educational institutions in New England and the Middle Atlantic States attended.

Cabin Retreat Planned For Freshman Forum

The cabin retreat for the Freshman Forum and Freshman Commission will be held tomorrow and Sunday. The party will leave from Old Main tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Because the C. A. cabin can accommodate only fifty persons overnight, the rest of the group will return tomorrow night. The others will return Sunday morning. Unless the weather does not permit, the group will hike to the cabin. All interested should sign up at the C. A. office.

Armstrong Announces Deadline for Pictures

All seniors who have not had their Lo Vie pictures taken will be listed under seniors whose portraits do not appear, according to James H. Armstrong '36, editor-in-chief. Those who have not returned their activities cards will be listed with information from the student directory.

The class section and the fraternity section, now ready for press, will differ from last year's. A new layout which, it is believed, will improve the appearance of the year book is being employed.

To Hold Yuletide Carol Sing Dec. 17

Department of Music, P. S. C. A. Sponsor Event Held On Old Main Terrace.

In accordance with college custom, the annual Christmas carol sing, sponsored jointly by the department of music and the P. S. C. A., will be held on Old Main Terrace Tuesday night, December 17, at 9 o'clock. Richard H. Maurer '36 is chairman of the sing, assisted by James M. Apple '38.

The sing, which is held every year before Christmas vacation, will last a half-hour, according to Maurer. It is open to students, faculty, and townspeople, he said.

Special Lighting Planned

Song sheets containing the words of Christmas carols will be distributed among those assembled. The College choir will lead the group singing and will also sing several special numbers. If the weather permits the use of brass instruments outside, the brass quartette will play an accompaniment to the singing. A Christmas reading will be given during the program. The reader has not been selected as yet.

Lighting decorations have been planned and will be carried out by the department of grounds and buildings. Old Main will be lighted from within and the tower will be illuminated with colored lights. Floodlights will supply illumination for reading the song sheets. Attendance of both fraternity and non-fraternity groups is urged, Maurer said. Last year, more than 2,000 attended the sing.

Penn State 'Farmer' Current Issue On Sale

The December issue of the Penn State Farmer, official publication of the School of Agriculture, went on sale yesterday. Subsequent to its reorganization last month, the magazine had not been published for a year.

The new staff of the Farmer is headed by Walter S. Gabler '36, editor, and William B. Heckman '36, business manager. Both have issued a call for additional business and editorial candidates to report to Room 308, Old Main, any afternoon this week or next at 4 o'clock.

Several new features have been added to the magazine, including a special section dealing with the home economics department. In addition to a column by Dean Ralph L. Watts, of the School of Agriculture, the magazine includes alumni notes, campus gossip, and an item on the Grange.

Two special articles, "Why Return to the Farm?" by J. Warren Shearer '35, and "To the Dignity of Husbandry," by Gabler, are also contained in the magazine.

Student Board Fines Students For Fire Action

Peter Lektrick Named As New Member Of Group.

Proposed Soccer Trip Discussed at Meeting

Five students, who have appeared before the Student Board recently for questioning regarding their part in the fire and riot here this fall, were ordered to pay five dollars each at a meeting of that body this week.

John H. Oescher '37, Forrest Woodland '37, Loren R. Brown '38, Leo J. Schlaetner '38, and Charles E. Weller '38 were fined for their part in aiding and abetting the student fire. About thirty students have been called before the Board for questioning. Lektrick Elected.

Peter Lektrick '36, student representative to the local Borough Council, was elected to membership on the Student Board at the meeting this week. Lektrick is also captain of the gym team here.

A resolution extending the sincere condolences of the Board to the family of the late Herb S. Christman, recently deceased student here, was passed. The Board also discussed the proposed trip of the soccer team to California to play a series of post-season games.

Women Debate Team Will Meet Dartmouth

The women's debate team will meet the Dartmouth College men's team in Room 315, Mineral Industries building, next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Helen M. Chamberlain '37 and Ruth H. Zang '38 are on the affirmative side of the question: "Should Congress have the power to override decisions of the Supreme Court by a two-thirds vote?" The Dartmouth men will take the negative. Prof. John H. Frizzell, College chaplain, will be the chairman.

The debate will be conducted in orthodox style, with two twelve-minute speeches and two seven-minute rebuttals on each side. No decision will be given and the audience will not vote. Students, faculty, and townspeople are invited.

W. Roy Diem To Give Sunday Chapel Speech

W. Roy Diem, a member of the class of 1917, will give the first Chapel address, following the Thanksgiving holiday, in Schaub auditorium Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, speaking on the subject, "The Dynamic of Love."

While in College here Mr. Diem was quite active in varsity debating, being on the team for three years. He was a member of Forensic Council, Sphinx, and Deutscher Verein. He also served on the Honor Committee and was for two years the recipient of a Louise Carnegie Scholarship.

Dancers To Cavort Under Big Top At Scarab Circus Ball Tonight

With an epidemic of promiscuous puns floating about the greensward for days, Scarab has pitched its tent in the Armory, imported a chairman, committee, and publicity agent to be viewed on the inside, and will hold its annual Beaux Arts Ball in the main tent from 10 to 2 o'clock tonight.

The committee has been preparing to offer the most stupendous show on earth, with sets constructed by landscape architects, architectural engineers, and architects. The sets are executed in gaudy colors, depicting life under the Big Top in a satirical manner. Melvin H. Peters '36 is chairman.

The committee claims that this is the first circus ever to support an orchestra. Bill Botton's melodians will supply the music, Scarab will supply the incidental entertainment, and the Armory is on the College.

Penn State Club To Hold Banquet

Hetzel, Frizzell, Warnock Chosen Speakers for Christmas Dinner Dec. 14.

The Penn State Club, social organization for non-fraternity men, will hold a Christmas Banquet for all non-fraternity men in the Old Main Sandwich Shop on Saturday, December 14, at 6 o'clock.

Prof. John H. Frizzell, College chaplain, is to be the toastmaster and will give a reading. President Ralph D. Hetzel and Arthur A. Warnock, dean of men, will be the speakers.

To Entertain Children

After the banquet a Christmas party for local children will be given. Mrs. J. Ben Hill, head of a local welfare society, will select the children and bring them to the party. The children will be entertained and will receive gifts of candy and fruit.

A turkey dinner, at 60 cents a plate, will be served. Tickets may be obtained from Richard E. Heyl '38, chairman of the banquet committee, club members, and from the Student Union office before next Friday.

Penn State Delegates Will Attend Conclave

The Twelfth Quadrennial Student Volunteer Convention, the largest student gathering that is held anywhere in the world, will be held at Indianapolis, Ind., from December 28, 1935, to January 1, 1936.

T. Z. Koo, of China, William Temple, Archbishop of York, and Reinhold Niebuhr, author and lecturer, are only a few of the speakers who have been obtained. The convention is under the auspices of the Student Volunteer Movement, the Christian Movement of Canada, the student division of the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A.
