

Lack of Money Detains Booters

Non-Existent Guarantee Stops Preparation for Proposed Western Invasion.

By TOWNSEND SWALM

Due to the fact that the University of San Francisco failed to come through with a definite guarantee, Penn State's championship soccer club will not journey to the coast for a championship bout during Christmas vacation. Although originally the San Francisco agent offered that a liberal guarantee would certainly be forthcoming, this stand has been reversed and he has asked that we entertain the western boys in our own back yard—expenses guaranteed of course. Ho, hum!

According to Coach Bill Jeffrey, who selects the All-American soccer team for the Associated Press, Penn State will again place four men on the first team. Those named are Ray Bell, goal; Joe Bielicki, center half-back; Bill Sutliff, right half-back; and Bill McEwan, forward. Honorable mention must go to Frank Osterlund, Jeffrey said, who missed a berth on the first team by a very slim margin, due to his early season poor showing. Frank played his best game in the last contest of the season against Navy, when he showed real All-American characteristics.

Quintet To Meet Ithaca Dec. 14

Coach Spike Leslie's passers will step into their seventeen-game season when they confront an Ithaca five of unknown strength here Saturday, December 14. So far practice has been light, but Coach Leslie plans to get the boys into serious scrimmage toward the end of this week.

The Ithaca aggregation, while more or less a mystery team, is not being underrated. Last year the Lions floored them, 39-to-26, but they will come back a week from tomorrow with the object of reaping revenge and have, in past seasons, been noted for year to year spurts in good ball playing. If this proves to be one of their "on" seasons, the Nittany crew will see heavy weather ahead.

In addition to Captain Bar Riley, Mike Kornick, Jim Smith, Frank Smith, Perry, McWilliams, and Small, all veterans, new men are working out. Sophomores Crosson, Wear, Michoff, Proksa, Yonars, and Peterson will strengthen the team.

Engineers Give Paper

Prof. Frederick E. Stewart, of the department of mechanical engineering, and Prof. Fred G. Heckler, director of the engineering experiment station, presented a paper in "Film Heat-Transfer Coefficients for Sulphur Dioxide in a Vertical Evaporator" at the annual meeting of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers in New York City yesterday.

Yearlings Varsity Boxers Train For Season

With intramural suggests the center of attraction in Rec hall, varsity and freshman boxing activities are shunted to the background temporarily, although from thirty to forty mitmen are working out daily. Coach Leo Houck and Mike Zelez-nock, former Lion champion, are giving what time they can at present to the training of varsity and freshmen. Following the Christmas vacation, the boxers will swing into intensive training. The ring schedule opens with the Western Maryland meet here January 25.

Sophomore varsity candidates show much promise in the personages of Bob Shaw, 115; Bob Donato, 125; Sam Donato, 145; and Tom Campion, 165. Then there are old faces re-appearing: Dick Flemiken, who boxed in the 135-pound class two years ago, is back. Dave Foster, 145, is another.

Gym Team Organizes With Large Turn-Out

With the largest number of candidates that have ever reported, the gym team began official practice this week. Coach "Nels" Walke, who has been in charge of the freshman grid-der all fall, has two lettermen from last year as well as two numeral winners.

Captain Pete Lektrick '36 heads the squad. His forte is rope-climbing. Raymond Matern '37, a tumbler, is the other varsity member from last year. The two sophomores who won numerals are Sam Beck and George Terwilliger.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

With 140 contestants bracketed for the intramural boxing tourney, the bouts got off to a gory but glorious start Wednesday night. The bouts will be held every night this week and at 2 o'clock Saturday.

In varsity boxing the contestants may be called mitmen, ringmen, leather pushers, or even Hookmen, but in the intramurals they are plain fighters, literally.

Outstanding was the bout between Harry Harrison, D. U., and Rosella, Tau Sigma Phi. Harrison lead with his personality and had about as much success as one leading with his chin. Despite the fact that Rosella slugged the referee by mistake, he was given the decision.

Al Tapman had the weird experience of scoring a T. K. O. without one blow being hit. Antonacci, who fought Tapman, opened the fight with a hay-maker, with the only result of throwing his shoulder out of joint. After being treated, he repeated the act.
