

Lion Five To Meet Hoyas Saturday Night; Drop 5th Conference Game to Owls

The Penn State Nittany Lion basketball team steps out on the local floor for its fifth conference game this season and second conference battle of the week to meet Georgetown tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. The Lions dropped before Temple 39-40 in their fourth straight conference defeat Tuesday night in Philadelphia and stormed the palisades Wednesday night to outscore Army 41-36.

To Renew Old Rivalry Tomorrow night, Penn State renews basketball relations with Georgetown after seven years. The last time the Lions met the Hoyas was in 1929, when the locals defeated the Washington team by two points. Since 1909, when the first Penn State-Georgetown basketball game was played, the Lions and Hoyas have clashed four times. In conference standings, Georgetown stand one rung higher than State. Against the Temple team that defeated the Lions Tuesday night, the Georgetowners have played two games and lost both, by scores of 44-43 and 39-40. Although not up to the caliber of conference competition Penn State has met so far, the boys from Washington present a shifty and clever combination.

Two members of the invading aggregation place among the leading conference scorers. Bassin, forward, ranks sixth among the thirteen high conference scorers with a total of thirty-two points netted in conference competition. Petroskey, who alternates at guard and center, is ninth of the list with twenty-seven tallies in his record of conference scores. Frank Smith, high scorer for the Lions this season, takes thirteenth place on the list.

Lions Rally in Second Half Against Temple Tuesday night, the Lions failed to hold the Owls in the first half, and the Philadelphia team led 24-14 at halftime. In the second half, the Nittanymen took the lid off the basket and ran up nineteen points to their opponents' fifteen. Scoring for the most part on long shots, the Lions were unable to break down the Owl's lead. High scorer for the game was Capt. Bar Riley with eight points. Sol Michoff netted six.

Favored Lion Boxing Team Will Meet Navy Tomorrow

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By PHIL HEISLER The S.A.E. five, winners of last year's basketball tournament, got off to another good start when they won their first game, defeating the Panthers, a town team, 37-22. Although the winners had the same team with which they won the championship last year, they had considerable trouble with the Panthers.

By half time the score was a deadlock, 12-12. With the score so close the shock troops for the S.A.E.'s went into action, with the result that what was supposed to be an intramural basketball game took on many of the aspects of an intramural boxing meet. The Panthers protested vigorously at the lack of fouls caught by the referee and threatened to forfeit the game. However, the game was completed with the Panthers trailing.

The Garner Club defeated Lambda Chi Alpha, 28-17, and Phi Mu Delta defeated the Associated Commons club in a fast game, 18-10.

Although the champion team for the first half of the tournament has, as yet, not been decided, the second half of the bowling tournament got under way last night.

At present there are still two teams tied for first place for the first half. T.K.E. still has one game to play and Delta Chi, which is tie with the T.K.E.'s, still has three games to play. If both teams win all the points in the remaining meets they will have to play off for the championship. The winner of the tournament will undoubtedly be one of these two teams.

The leaders of the first half are: Tau Kappa Epsilon .....850 Delta Chi .....850 Delta Sigma Phi .....656 Delta Upsilon .....638 Watts Hall .....556 Phi Kappa .....500

Swim Team to Meet Pitt Here Tomorrow

Using a revised line-up based upon performances in the Syracuse meet and time trials held during the week, Coach Robert E. "Gal" Galbraith has been priming his swimmers for their second venture of the year with Pitt at the Glennland pool tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

Probable starters are: 50-yard free style, Hart, Walker or Ackerman; 200-yard breast-stroke, Barleigh and Lesko; 150-yard back-stroke, Captain Geiger and Cumming; fancy dive, Parks and Hart; 220-yard free style, Cumming and Dewalt. Entrants in the 480-yard relay event and the 100 and 440-yard free style will be chosen from among the following: Helriegel, Walker, Brown, Murphy, Balderston, Weinstein, G. Walker, Cumming, and Dewalt.

The Pitt swimming team this year is one of the strongest in the east, winning four meets and having lost only to Ohio State, Big Ten leader. Led by Captain Russ Lindberg, the Panthers will present top-notch competition to the newly formed aquatic team.

1c Contributions Asked For Basketball Founder

A deduction of one cent from all paid admissions and a contribution of the same amount from all students attending the Georgetown-Penn State basketball game in Recreation Hall tomorrow night will go into a fund being collected to send Dr. James Naismith, founder of basketball, to the Olympics in Germany where the sport has been included in the program for the first time.

Dr. Naismith invented and introduced basketball in 1891. Proceeds of tomorrow night's collection will go into a nation-wide fund which is being collected all over the country in a similar manner. Students will be asked to contribute one cent each when presentation of athletic book is made at the door.

State Seeks To End Middies' Undefeated Ring Record.

By BOB GRUBB A highly-favored Lion boxing team will embark for Annapolis this afternoon to meet the U. S. Naval Academy midmen in the renewal of an old rivalry tomorrow night.

While Penn State has never defeated Navy in the ring, tomorrow night's meeting holds out the brightest hopes of victory for the Lions in many years. Only two regulars remain on the Navy team, graduation having dealt a hard blow to the Middies' ranks.

The unlimited class, left vacant by the graduation of Slade Cutter, will be represented by Duke Ferrara, Navy football tackle, fighting for the first time in varsity competition. Ferrara was outpointed by Tiny Brown, 245-pound Syracuse boxer last week and Izzy Richter should have little trouble in overcoming this opposition.

Couch Leo Houck will decide between Bill Rhodia and Johnny Sawchuk for Penn State's representative in the 175-pound class. Navy has a fast man in the light heavyweight class, Bob Giffin, son of the Academy's athletic director, who is fighting his first year in varsity competition. He gave Ray Jeffries, Syracuse veteran, a hard fight when the Orange defeated Navy last week, 12-10-3 1/2.

Lou Ritzie may be moved down from the 165-pound class to the 155-pound weight and would fight Midshipman Robinson in the latter class. Houck spiked a rumor that Ritzie would not be able to fight due to an injury to his hand, explaining that "it's just one of those things which every fighter meets once in a while," and giving every assurance that the intercollegiate champion would be in tip-top shape for the Navy meet.

O'Neill or Teller May Fight If Ritzie is shifted from 165 to 155, either Freddy O'Neill or Chuck Teller will be put into the class in which Lou formerly fought. O'Neill has had some ring experience, while Teller is a newcomer to varsity boxing ranks. Navy is represented in this class by Midshipman Tretheway.

Dick Flenniken and Sammy Denato will vie for the honor of representing the Lions in the welterweight division. Navy has a fast fighter in Midshipman Luby, who "battled" to a draw with Syracuse's Johnny Mastrella in last week's meet.

In the 135-pound class, slugging Frankie Goodman will meet Captain Jack Blitch, one of the two regulars remaining on the Navy team.

Frannie McAndrews, the tentative 125-pound selection, will meet Midshipman Hemenway, who outpointed both last year. Bob Donato will not likely fight in Saturday's meet because of an infected tooth.

Midshipman Carroll will furnish the opposition for Captain Russ Criswell in the bantamweight division.

Abolition of states and division of the country into regions, their boundaries dictated by economy and by cultures and traditions, was suggested by Dr. J. W. Manning of the University of Kentucky.

Champion Lehigh Matmen To Face Lions Tomorrow

Meet With Engineers Marks Wrestlers' Hardest Test.

By TOWNSEND SWALM Tomorrow a falsely confident Penn State wrestling team meets the much touted cream of the east when they engage the Lehigh Engineers in their own Bethlehem backyard. That the Lions are falsely confident seems only too certain, for have they not beaten three teams in a row, two of them by shut-out scores? But what teams!

Lehigh has met four opponents to date, winning three and dropping one. Syracuse fell before the Engineers 31-10-3, Kansas Cutter was retired 19-0-9, and Yale was defeated 25 1/2-14 1/2. Indiana beat the Bethlehemites 27 1/2-10-6 1/2 in a much closer match than the score indicates. According to newspaper reports, Lehigh rushed the Indianians in almost every bout, losing out by time advantages.

Eastern Intercollegiate champions of the East last year, Lehigh has had a tough schedule so far this year and presents the first real opposition for the Nittanymen. All first string men will welcome the Lions tomorrow, two men injured in previous meets having recovered. Sammy Wolfson will engage Clow, who is meeting varsity competition for the first time this year.

Rudy Ashman, Eastern Intercollegiate champ in the 118-lb. class last year, who injured his back in the Indiana meet and was unable to wrestle in the Kansas or Yale meets will probably face Ray Brooks tomorrow in the 126-lb. division. Ferry, another sophomore, and second casualty in the Lehigh squad, will be in shape for the State meet and will face Jack Light. Gonzales will tackle Sully Waite in the 145-lb. class. Gonzales has wrestled on and off the Lehigh varsity for three years and was a schoolboy champ before going to college. Jack Calvin will represent State in the 155-lb. weight, meeting Crockett, who has not won a bout this year. In Dick Bishop, Joe Krupa will meet the brother of Ben Bishop, Lehigh's National champ in the 155-lb. class two years ago. Dick has won three of four bouts in varsity competition this year. Either Sterngold or Small will be Ross Shaffer's antagonist in the light-heavy division, and both are experienced sophomores as is Ross. Sterngold is the only undefeated man on the team, having wrestled to a fall, draw, and decision. Small won his only bout on time. Captain Howell Scoley, Eastern Intercollegiate champion in the heavyweight class and runner-up in the Nationals last year, was defeated by McDaniel of Indiana, who is National champ this year. Obviously, Joe O'Dowd will have his hands full with this luminary. In dual competition last year the Lions defeated Lehigh. Can they repeat this year?
