

Nittany Wrestlers To Meet Syracuse

Skiers To Hold Meet At Sky-top Tomorrow

With three events scheduled, an informal college skiing meet will be held at Sky Top tomorrow at 2 o'clock. About ten members of the ski club will compete, with other entries from the high school expected.

It was originally planned to hold an intercollegiate meet, but this idea was dropped for several reasons. Cornell authorities prevented their skiing representatives from taking the trip because of the large amount of travelling the team did earlier in the season. Although Princeton may appear, no definite word has been received as yet.

The events scheduled include downhill racing, jumping, and slalom, and a quarter-mile race featuring sharp turns. The meet will be under the direction of Max Derum, instructor in forestry.

Intercollegiate Champ?

WOLFSON, PENN STATE 118 POUNDS

One of the most probable of State's White Hopes for Intercollegiate wrestling crowns this year, Sammy Wolfson has by far the most outstanding record of any Lion matman.

Out of a total of thirteen dual meets in which he has participated this husky featherweight has the enviable record of never having lost a bout or been held to a draw. Only defeat in his mat history occurred last year when he was defeated in the semi-finals of the Intercollegiate. Of the thirteen dual meets participated in, over fifty per cent, seven, were won by falls.

Change in Line-up May Feature Stegmaier, Parke Eshbach.

Wolfson, Light, Waite, Shaffer Still Unbeaten

By TOWNSEND SWALM
Although definitely not a breather, the wrestling match with Syracuse in Recreation Hall tomorrow at 4:00 o'clock should increase the Lion grappler's total to five victories and one defeat suffered at the hands of Eastern Intercollegiate champions Lehigh. Syracuse's performance this season has been quite erratic and the matches tomorrow may be hotly contested throughout or just a bunch of pushovers.

At press time two positions on the Lion team were still in doubt. Wednesday, Freddie Stegmaier defeated Ray Brooks in a tryout match and if he repeated the performance on Thursday he was to replace Brooks at the 126-lb. post. Joe O'Dowd, who has been suffering from a slight but annoying injury for several weeks, may yield his heavyweight position to Parke Eshbach. Neither change, however, is definitely decided as yet.

Probably most outstanding in the Salina ranks is heavyweight Ken Croty who has an impressive string of victories to his credit this year. Last year, his first in intercollegiate circles, mauler Croty distinguished himself by advancing to the semi-final round in the Intercollegiate where he was eliminated by the Eastern champ, Scooby of Lehigh. No matter which State man Croty meets, this weight looks like the only sure Orange victory.

Krupa To Meet Wilbur
Joe Krupa, who has probably shown the most consistent improvement on the Lion squad, will meet a tough customer in Ken Wilbur. Orangeman Wilbur's record shows three wins and one loss, the loss being credited to superior tactics on the part of Lehigh's Bishop, the same who threw Krupa two weeks ago. You pick it.

One of the more interesting meetings of the afternoon will occur in the 135-lb. weight where Capt. Light will take on Bill Deme. Deme has met and defeated representatives from Army, Cornell and Lehigh this year. The Deme-Light fracas is the only repeat of last year's match which the Lion ran away with 21-to-11. Last year Jack Light wrestled Deme to a time advantage decision in 8:15 minutes.

Wolfson Looks Good
Sammy Wolfson is in no danger of breaking his undefeated record when he meets 118-lb. Tarrow who has lost at least three so far this year. Either Stegmaier or Brooks should defeat the 126-lb. representative from Orange-city who will be either Lambert or Tarrow. So far this season the Orangemen have shown no consistency in the 145 and 155-lb. classes where Driscoll has worked in weights when either Crowe or Gertmanian was not doing the honors. Sully Waite should disperse his opponent quite effectively in the 45 division; and, what with the snappy improvement he has shown in practice this week, Jack Calvin, State's '55er, should take care of his opposition without too much trouble.

Ross Sharer, who with Wolfson, Light and Waite, has yet to taste defeat this year, will probably meet Howie Peters or perhaps Al Haft, neither of whom have shown anything much to date. The four horsemen should all ride on, tomorrow's matches to the contrary notwithstanding.

Baseball Batterymen Begin Daily Workouts

Baseball batterymen have been working out daily under the stands at Rec hall in preparation for the 1936 season. On March 1, Coach Joe Bedenk will issue the call for candidates for the other positions. The team will get into condition indoors and will take the field as soon as weather permits.

Pitchers who have reported include Bachman, Hoffman, Williams, Stokes, and Long among the veterans, and Simoncelli, Ford, and Boho from last season's freshman squad.

Lion Basketeers To Face Rutgers Here Tomorrow

Hoyas Defeat Nittany Men 34-27 In 8th League Game.

By DICK LEWIS
The Penn State basketball team dropped its eighth consecutive conference contest to a fast Georgetown five in Washington Wednesday night by the score of 34-to-27.

Although the Lions played a stiff defensive game, the Hoyas led throughout the game. With the score 20-to-12 at halftime, the Nittanymen fought hard in the second half to outscore their opponents by one point. High scorer of the contest was Jack Reichenbach at center, who netted nine points for the Lions.

In Recreation hall tomorrow night, the Nittany Lion quintet plays its last home game on the local floor as well as its last non-league game when the Lions meet Rutgers. The game starts at 8:30 o'clock.

And with tomorrow night's performance, Bar Riley, this year's captain, Jimmy Smith, and Bob Small make their final bow on the home floor. Next Friday and Saturday, the Blue and White basketeers travel to Pittsburgh for the last two league games of the season in return engagements with the Tech Tartans and the Panthers.

Rutgers presents opposition tomorrow night with a team that has won seven and lost six games. The Scarlet team defeated Fordham 50-to-49, lost one and won one game from Princeton, and dropped decisively to N. Y. U., 50-to-49.

Against the mighty Syracuse aggregation, Rutgers bowed stubbornly, 42-to-40 in a fast overtime contest. Syracuse's guard, Simonaitis, flashed a winning basket in the last ten seconds of the overtime period. Early in January, the Penn State passing combination met and defeated Syracuse by a score of 34-to-33.

The starting line-up against the locals tomorrow night will probably be the following: Lepine, a 6-foot-1 forward, a fast ball player and a good set shot; Blumberg, a star forward with two years of varsity experience; Jerabek, one of the most accurate shots on the squad, who stands 6-foot-2 in the tip-off position; Grossman, guard, a dead set shot; and Lins, guard, who piled up fourteen points against Syracuse. Substitute center is Kozusko, who towers 6 feet 6 and who was not outjumped last year.

Instead of the usual impromptu performance by the State College archers, the gym parallel bar wizards will put on an exhibition of anthropoidal agility between halves. Coach Walke's bar swingers are tops among collegiate gym teams, barring none.

State Fencers Leave For Syracuse, Ithaca

A seven-man fencing squad, headed by Captain Dick Allen, left yesterday with Coach "Nels" Walke for Syracuse where today they will engage the Orange swordsmen. Tomorrow they will travel to Ithaca to meet the Cornell team.

Allen and Dick Lewis will handle the sabers for the Lions, with Bill Gookin and Carl Brodhun fighting epee. Walt Storrs, "Lefty" Bowen, and Spence Potter will be in the foil contests. Last year the Lions defeated the Syracuse team 10-to-7, and while the record of the Orange is not too impressive, they have the experi-

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By PHIL HEISLER
With the semi-finals in the Intramural Wrestling tournament completed, plans are under way for the final bouts. Although it was planned to have the finals tomorrow night, it was decided that two main events were enough, so the bouts have been postponed. The manager's most definite statement was that they would be held "sometime next week."

Bowling
Despite the fact that the system of handicaps worked out by the managers of bowling have proved very satisfactory in as much as the meets were usually closer, the first half's leaders are already forging ahead in the second half of the tournament.

Tau Kappa Epsilon, winner of the first half championship is tied for first place with Delta Sigma Phi. Delta Chi, runner-up in the first half, is tied with the Delta Upsilon team for second place. The D.T.D.'s are a close third.

ence of four meets already this season, while today's match will be the first for State.

Cornell was barely defeated last year 9-to-8 and this year they boast an excellent record, including a 15-to-3 victory over Syracuse. The local team looks to be in good shape, but with no actual competition upon which to judge them, it is dangerous to make predictions. With any degree of luck they should take Syracuse, but the Red team will probably be a little too strong for the Lions.

Final Home Encounter For Boxers; Lineup Still Indefinite.

By BOB GRUBB

It may be a slightly revamped Lion boxing team that will meet Cornell in the last home contest of the current season in Rec hall tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

While Coach Leo Houck is reserving his decision on the lineup in the upper weights until the very last, it is believed that a shakeup will occur in the light heavyweight, middleweight and welterweight divisions.

Because Dick Flenniken is suffering from a nose injury received in the Syracuse meet last week, he may not see service against Cornell. In that event, Sammy Donato who has been fighting 155, would be moved down to take Flenniken's place at 145 and Lou Ritzie would be swapped from 165 to 155.

May Shift Upper Weights
Choice of the light heavyweight representative lies among Johnny Sawchak, "Whitey" Rhoda, and Dick Livermore. Final selection will probably be made between Rhoda and Sawchak, as Livermore lacks experience. Sawchak put on a stellar exhibition working out with Lou Ritzie Wednesday night, which makes us believe that the boy has something. Cornell's 175-pounder is Bud Balliere, a big fellow who hits hard. He is a newcomer to the lineup.

To fill the middleweight division, Coach Houck could use either Heber Lessig or Chuck Teller, both sophomores. Cornell's 165-pound representative is Bill McLaughlin, a newcomer to the Red squad who lacks experience. By some quirk of fate, he is getting the call over Jack Thayer who defeated Ritzie last year. Both Lessig and Teller have been working out with the squad and show promise.

In the heavyweight class, Izzy Richter should have little trouble with Irving Jenkins, although the Cornell millman is undefeated in six starts. Jenkins was knocked out by Rhoda in fifteen seconds when the Lions defeated Cornell 5½ to 2½ last year. Jen-
