Between The Lions
By WALT FREUNTSCH

Why did Syracuse humble the Lions in boxing last week? People are asking if this is the Eastern championship team.

It's all very simple. All that State needed to win that Saline serap was to have had Richter fighting in the 175-pound class, where he belongs. As long as Izzy can make the weight there is no reason why he should not fight in a class in which he is certain to win, instead of battling bruisers and losing the tough ones all the time.

Let's take a look at the record. In his dual meet bouts and in the Inter-collegiate, Richter has won five fights, including one by forfeit. He has beaten Brown once, had a close call with Navy's Ferrara, won over Stillman of Army, and beat McCaw of Maryland in the 175 class.

Against this not too impressive showing he has lost and drawn with both Pontecarvo and Brown. It is a safe bet that in the light-heavy class he would not have lost more than one fight thus far, if that. The only outstanding 175-pounder today is Jefferies, and he very probably could be taken by Richter.

The absence of a dependable 175-pounder means that State has practically been forced to concede all fights in this weight. And with Richter only breaking even thus far in the heavy class, it has made the going tough as far as the team score.

Why isn't Richter fighting in the logical class? Can't he make the weight? Is it the fact that the heavies get the headlines? Who runs the boxing team, anyway. We'd like to know. So would a lot of other people.

The boozing goes on unabated in Rec hall and we ponder on these unseemly manifestations of sub-normal minds. The referees not only are capable, they are usually right when they call fouls on Penn State. Granted that all visiting teams are not models of gentlemanly deportment, we should at the same time take cognizance of the beam in our own eye.

Our predecessor on this paper favored our entrance into the Eastern basketball conference last year on several grounds, chief among them the increased receipts for away games and the bringing of some high class outfits to our boards. Well, the cagers have met lots of nice new playmates this spring. Too bad they couldn't meet on a social basis where there could be some semblance of equality. Oh, don't mistake us; we think it's great to belong to a conference. The material is all we need—that is, practically all.

Exercising the time-honored newspaperman's prerogative we "point with pardonable pride" to the augmented track schedule for the spring season. Last year's team suffered from a lack of competition, having only two dual meets, and this season, with a fairly strong squad and four dual meets, track should once again assume its rightful proportions as a genuine major sport. Army and West Virginia are the new additions to the schedule.

Lazaron Will Discuss Challenge of Religion

"The Challenge of Religion to Contemporary America," is the subject to be discussed by Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, of Baltimore, at the regular Sunday chapel in Schwab auditorium.

Rabbi Lazaron is a graduate of Savannah Preparatory School, the University of Cincinnati, and Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati. He was ordained in 1914, his first pulpit being in Wheeling, W. Va. He was called to his present charge in 1915.

Lion Boxers To Meet Cornellmen Tomorrow

Cornell. Last year his only loss was to Syracuse's Artie McGivern. He defeated Flenniken in the dual meet at Ithaca last year.

Ira Wilson, the Ithacans' 145-pound fighter, is a southpaw counter-fighter with a deceptive style. He is said to fight best against a man who leads to him and he throws a dangerous right-hand punch.

Frankie Goodman will meet a hard-punching lightweight in Cornell's Johnny Tausig, a man who knows his right crosses and is acclaimed as the cleverest boxman on the team. Goodman, one of the two Nittany boxers awarded decisions in the Syracuse meet last week, is in the best of shape and should be able to exchange punches with Tausig, having the advantage with his long-range shots.

Bob Donato Has Cold

While Bob Donato is suffering slightly from a head cold, it is believed he will be in condition to fight tomorrow night. He meets an experienced senior in Bob Saunders, who won the 135-pound title in Cornell's intramural tournament last year.

Captain will meet captain when Rus Criswell fights Luis Torresgrosa in the 115-pound match. Torresgrosa, like Criswell, is undefeated this year. The Cornell captain, a Puerto Rican who is hailed as the most outstanding Pan-American boxer in intercollegiate competition, is shifty and calculating and throws a hard left jab.

Cornell has defeated Yale, 4½ to 3½ and won over Queens, 5½ to 2½, but lost to Syracuse, 5½ to 2½.

Senior Band Members Receive Service Keys

Thirty-six senior members of the Blue Band received keys in recognition of three and one-half years of service in the College band organization at the mid-winter concert given by the band last Sunday. Major Wilfred O. Thompson, College bandmaster, presented keys to the following:

William F. Bastian Jr., Clair A. Beers, James O. Beveridge, William J. Bright, Olin F. Butt, Robert E. Carey, Sherman R. Dickman, Ernest P. Dolt, Vernon E. Dyer, Leon S. Edwards, Cyrus Gordon II, Russell C. Hartman, Rhett G. Harris, Carl W. Hasek Jr., Robert E. Hoover, Forrest W. Hunsicker, Daniel G. Jones, Aian R. Kannapel.

Gen W. Kilner, Lynn H. Lansberry, Gothie H. Lewis, Julius T. Lodzun, Herbert E. Loomis, Clement Mesavage, Penrose R. Miller, Oberdan L. Nicolanti, Lawrence A. Rodecker, Edward L. Rogers, John E. Sarson, Martin J. Scheiman, Matthew M. Smith, Woodrow W. Snyder, Ernest B. Stokes, Gerald M. Wertz, Thomas H. Smith, and Albert R. Yerkes.

Swim Team to Meet Freshmen Tomorrow

Boasting a line-up of tested ability, a formidable freshman swimming team will meet the varsity in an informal meet, open to the public, tomorrow at the Glenland pool at 2 o'clock. Having practiced together all season, the yearlings are known to have a team that will provide plenty of competition in a test intended to prepare the varsity for the two remaining intercollegiate dual meets with Cornell and Penn.

Led by Charlie Welsh, former Mercersburg Academy star, who was elected captain of the freshmen Tuesday, the yearling line-up includes Ken Bunk, Bob Holdren, Tim Welch, Al Bechtel, Ray Kiefer, Warren Oliver, Jack Henderson, Rus Rodham, and Arthur Lehman. In addition, several upperclassmen who are ineligible for varsity competition, will aid the freshmen.

The varsity recently suffered a severe blow when Marty Hart, veteran diver and sprint star, suffered an attack of appendicitis, for which he was operated on at the Bellefonte hospital on Monday. He will be lost for the remainder of the season.

Peters To Hold Forum

Dr. Charles C. Peters, professor of educational sociology, will conduct the first Christian Association Public Forum of this semester, Tuesday, March 3. The topic for discussion is "What Type of Program Will Equip College Students for Social Leadership?" The meeting will be held in the Home Economics auditorium at 7:15 and is open to students, faculty, and townspeople.

Alpha Omicron Pi won an 18-to-7 victory over Chi Omega in their first intramural basketball game at Rec hall, Monday night. Betty Frear Sanders starred for A. O. Pi. She is one of those strange souls who can score when she doesn't have a close-up of the basket.

A. O. Pi should have a good team this year with several varsity women playing, but they will have to watch their shots when they meet Kappa Alpha Theta, provided the Thetas play the way they did to defeat Lambda Upsilon at the Armory Tuesday night.

Don't put the pledges to work doing dishes; send them up to Rec hall where they might score points for the silver loving cup. The reward will be more than "dishpan hands."

Betty Ebricht '37 was elected head basketball manager by the W.A.A. board, Tuesday night. Dot Sanders '38 was chosen junior assistant and the following will act as managers of their respective classes, beginning next fall: Dot Shumaker '37; Eleanor Saunders '38; and Louise Haines '39.

LUCKIES—A LIGHT SMOKE

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

Luckies are less acid

Copyright 1936, The American Tobacco Company

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

They include preliminary analyses of the tobaccos selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53 to 100*
