Shortage of Power, Food Imminent Here

 completely cut off because of the destruction by flood of its warehouse at Lock Haven.

Phone Service Limited
 With several hundred calls from yesterday still waiting to get through, telephone officials at Bellefonte issued a request that students refrain from making calls to the various flood areas unless they were of an emergency nature. Extra operators are now filling every switchboard position in an effort to take care of the heaviest traffic ever carried over the central Pennsylvania lines.

"It is impossible to say in advance whether calls can get through," an official at Bellefonte said, "because we cannot know how long certain lines will hold out or whether it will be possible to make a connection with the number being called."
 At press time yesterday it was practically impossible to put calls through to Johnstown, Williamsport, Jersey Shore, Wilkes-Barre, Hazleton, and the smaller towns in those districts. Only a very limited service was possible with Lock Haven, Lewisburg, Pittsburgh, and Huntingdon. Service to the Harrisburg area was still in good condition, but many local telephones there were out of service.

"The best thing for students to do who wish to make calls anywhere in the state is to place them and wait until it is possible for them to get through," the Bellefonte office said.

Mail Service Halted
 No mail is coming in or going out of State College at present, Mr. Robert J. Miller, local postmaster, stated, and until the present storm stops it will be impossible even to estimate when postal service will be able to operate. While it is possible to take mail to Tyrone and certain other points by truck, none of the railroad lines are in operation and it is unable to leave those points. The only advantage in students mailing letters at present, Mr. Miller said, is if they wish to have a particular post mark on them.

Although radio reports have said that the air mail was still in operation Mr. Miller pointed out that it was again impossible for any air mail posted here to reach any point of departure.

Because of the breakdown of telegraph lines leading out of Bellefonte, Lock Haven, Tyrone, and other nearby towns, practically all telegraph service out of State College came to a halt yesterday. Officials were unable to state when service would be resumed, but said that any messages which were filed would be sent out as early as possible.

Kappa Kappa Gamma defeated Alpha Omicron Pi by a 9-to-6 score at the Armory Tuesday night to win the championship in their side of the intramural basketball circuit.

The winners started with a 4-point advantage during the first quarter, and Alpha Omicron Pi was unable to overcome the disadvantage. Although the teams were well matched, as indicated by the score, the Kappa guards kept their opponents from scoring a few needed points. It was a good game and proved to the spectators that women's basketball can be exciting.

Kappa Alpha Theta being the winners in their basketball circuit, will meet the Kappa's to determine the intramural championship.

A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

Luckies are less acid. For hundreds of years, tobaccos were selected—and gradations in flavor secured—by the roughest sort of rule of thumb methods. Hence, one of the most important innovations made by the Research Department was provision for chemical analysis of selected tobacco samples before purchase.

the resulting reports offer the professional buyer an accurate guide and reinforce his expert judgment based on the senses of sight, smell, and touch. Thus extreme variations toward acidity or alkalinity are precluded by such selection and subsequent blending.
