Johnson Delivers Chapel Talk Here

Speaker Says Country's Future Lies In Thoughts, Deeds Of Younger Group.

"If there is great living to be done then each of us must desire the best in life for himself," said Dr. Howard Johnson, president of Howard University, Washington, D. C., at the regular College chapel services in Schwab auditorium on Sunday morning.

It is through the thoughts and deeds of the young generation that the future of our country lies, said Dr. Johnson. He laid a great distinction between a great life, which is attained through service to others, and a great place, which may mean only an empty office.

Henning Predicts U. S. Changes in Livestock

Future development of livestock in the United States will be focused on quality rather than quantity, according to William L. Henning, of the animal husbandry department.

Henning explained that the final business of purebred animals is to improve commercial herds and flocks. The success of this industry depends upon the commercial livestock business, he said.

Tickets Dropped From Airplane Will Feature Players' Publicity

New heights in campus publicity will be achieved by the Players when, late this morning, weather permitting, tickets to "The Old Maid," Pulitzer Prize play, will be dropped from an airplane.

Over a thousand tickets will be dropped from the ship, either a black and silver Vaco or a yellow Arcadia, which Dr. Merit Scott, assistant professor of physics and a veteran aviator, will pilot. The tickets will be dropped on the drill field as much as possible because of the condition of the grass on other parts of the campus.

IF Council To Discuss Plans for Housing Of Visitors.

Upon the report of a committee investigating the practicability of having a Penn State Day this year, it was decided that that function in a modified form would be carried on this year.

The major change in the plans for Penn State Day, as it will be held this year, is that only approximately 200 high school and prospective college students will attend. These people will be selected and recommended by alumni associations.

Under these arrangements each fraternity will be asked to be host to four visitors. The plan will be presented by Joseph P. Swift '36 to the Interfraternity Council at their next meeting.

Alumni To Cooperate With the reduction in the number of guests that are expected it has been decided to reduce the number of activities that are usually in vogue during that day.

The activities will officially begin Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and will be completed by 4 o'clock. The guests will be invited to stay until Sunday.

Word has been received from various alumni associations throughout the state that they would cooperate in recommending men to be invited to the College. Other alumni clubs will be contacted by Student Union Board, William B. Bertolette, president, announced.
