PENN STATE IN THE WORLD WAR

German re-arm the Rhineland, Marshall Badoglio's fascist legions have penetrated to the Lake Tana region...

The German student is under arms; he must spend a year of his youth in compulsory military training.

American students, as a whole, are removed from the terrific strain education feels under the fascist despot.

The American college today is losing whatever liberty and dignity it may have once held.

We are being led like lambs to the slaughter by the Judas-goats who led us into the last war.

Among the Penn State men who dropped under the hail of steel in the last war were two athletes, Red Bebout and Levi Lamb.

Wake up! We shall not die in a shameful slaughter like Red and Levi.

The Peace Strike of next Wednesday is our way of showing the irresponsible, power-drunk patriots and industrialists who killed Red and Levi in the last war that they cannot do the same to us.

We have a mighty force against them—all of us gathered in a Peace Strike, along with 350,000 other students in the land.

Today we know more about what makes war, who profits from war and who loses by war than Red and Levi.

Penn State men: do you want life or a plaque in Rec hall?

WOMEN'S HONORARIES

With the approach of the annual May Day celebration comes the announcement of the women elected to the two outstanding activities honorary groups.

This divergence toward the political influence in elections has tended to make the groups forget their original purposes and ideals.

After being outstanding in activities for three years with the resulting election to the senior women's honorary, these women who have earned their laurels should not relax on them.

Both of these organizations could be really influential and active. But first, they must regain the respect of the student body upon the impartiality of selection for membership and make a definite effort to carry out the purposes for which they were founded.

With elections to the Senior staff of this sheet scheduled for Sunday night, the year during which I have scoured the dregs of humanity to pound out this column ends and by a process of reincarnation another will take over this department.
