Lacrosse Team Leaves For Pennsylvania Tilt

The mediocrity of a team is only shown in competition with other teams. The scrimmages have been well-played, and knowing the style of the Penn stickmen from last year, the team should come through.

Captain Gerber has been working out in the center position where his speed has proved a strong asset to the attack. In case of a faster attack being needed, Thiel will shift him to center and use McEwen in the goal. Out of the starting lineup only Joe Poska will be playing his first lacrosse game, the others boys played regularly or substituted last year.

Probable lineup:
State Penn
I.H. Rumbaugh Jones
O.T. Robeson Shippen
1.A. Himoff Nye
2.A. Hasek Panzer
C. Conley Squires
1.D. Douthett Maksik
2.D. Kilfoil Darnbrough
P. Eisenman Gisburne
C.P. Proksa Shippen
G. Gerber Griffith

Experience Held Keynote to '36 Football Season by Bob Higgins

By JERRY WEINSTEIN
Experience will be the determining factor in the success of Penn State's 1936 football team.

"Experience is the greatest asset that a football player can have," said Bob Higgins in discussing next season's prospects. "Once a fellow acquires all the necessary equipment that makes a player good, he must get enough experience to prepare himself for all kinds of football."

Coach Higgins stated that he expected to have an improved team next year, mainly because of the unusually good crop of freshman players coming up. But these men have had only one year of college football, and their inexperience may show. Many mistakes are made in games due to this inexperience.

"It is all right," Higgins said, "to have two or three freshmen on a varsity first team. However, to have five or six yearlings in there every game is putting too much of a strain upon the veterans. Although our team is going to be a better outfit next year, the inexperience of our new players may cost us a few games."

Perhaps the biggest asset of the 1936 squad over that of 1935 will be in the strength of the ends. Graduation will take Art Fry and Bill Miller, 1935 stars. But with such wingmen as Alex Barantovich, Frank Smith, Carl Waugaman, George Palmer, and Joe Krupa coming up, Higgins feels that this position will be the least of his worries.

The weakest spot on the new eleven will be at tackle. Captain Bob Webster's graduation will leave a hole that will be hard to fill. Roy Schuyler, regular tackle, will be on hand, as will Dan DeMarino, a substitute. Newcomers to battle for the position are Dean Hanley and Joe Peel.

At guard, Higgins will have a strong group. Lou Barth and Johnny Economos, 1935 regulars, are returning. They will be provided with plenty of opposition for their spots by Tor Toretti, Tony Sacco, and Joe Battaglia.

Captain Chuck Cherundolo will take care of the position. If Higgins should ever need a replacement, he can call on Toretti, who was freshman center last year, or Paul Enders, 1935 reserve, who has been shifted to the backfield.

Good blocking backs will be plentiful. Walt Kominic, fullback from last season, will be shifted to the blocking spot. Enders has performed well there in spring workouts. Sammy Donato will return, with a freshman, Tony Gianantonio, also well in the running. There are many ball-carrying backfield men to choose from. Fullback contenders will be Bud Kyle and Joe Metro, freshmen, and Tommy Silvano, varsity veteran of two seasons.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

By WOODY BIERLY

HANDBALL—After a lapse of three weeks, the handball singles championship has begun again. Winners of the six flights will be announced tomorrow. The six winners will meet in an elimination tourney next week. When the single champion is determined, an elimination doubles tournament will begin. One of the members of last year's winning combination graduated, so the battle for the cup this year will be wide open.

Cornell To Encounter Nittany Lion Golfers

play-off round with twelve qualifying scores, four men have assured themselves of places tomorrow. They are Jay Albere, Johnny Bennett, Bernie Burkett, and Bob Siegler. The other two places will be decided this afternoon when the play-offs are completed. They will come from Coletti, Stevenson, Holman, and Horn. None of those playing will have had previous varsity experience when they step up to the first tee.

The Cornell aggregation seems to be as much a dark horse, as no rumors have floated this way from Ithaca of potential intercollegiate champions. Last year the Lions took over the Red 9-to-6. So, in spite of the handicaps that Bob's boys have been laboring under so far, if there is to be a picked a winner, let it be the Lions. Had Hunter, Menard, Walsh, and Helmenan, a freshman star, returned to school, State would have been a strong contender. Nevertheless, Rutherford believes that with more favorable practice conditions this year's outfit will round into a worthy shoe-filler to last year's crack hitters. At least, the outcome tomorrow will give us an inkle.

3 To Judge Contests

Prof. John H. Frizzell, Prof. Merritt M. Harris, Joseph F. O'Brien, and Herbert Koopp-Baker, of the department of English, will assist and judge at the final contest of state music and forensic clubs at Pottsville. The contest will be held on Friday, April 24.
