Rutherford Holds Impressive Record as Lion Golf Mentor

By CHUCK WHEELER compiled the impressive record of 67 victories against 20 defeats and five ties. He has longer continuous service than any other Lion mentor. Bill Jeffrey, soccer coach, is his nearest competitor, having coached every Lion soccer team in College history.

For the first time, the combination of Burkett and Siegler went haywire, losing to Trosch Fred Machmer and Ed Hebda. They were the only two varsity men to lose. Four four-somes played the matches at the Centre Hills Country Club.

Burkett had the medal score of 76, but he scored low on the wrong holes, and Machmer took him on the home green. Hebda and Machmer shot 78's, while Siegler was way off his game, taking 43 on the last nine.

With Burkett, Siegler, Albere, Bennett, and Stevenson back from this year's varsity, and such freshman flashes as Machmer, Hebda, and Kalker coming up, the prospects for next year are bright. But, says Coach Bob Rutherford, after the vanishing cream had eliminated the boys who were expected for this year, "I've got my fingers crossed."

Incidentally, looking through the records and talking with stars of the olden days, such as Fred Brand, this week-end, one discovers that Rutherford has a mighty impressive showing here as golf mentor.

Came Here in 1921 Bob has been here ever since golf has been a recognized sport. He came in 1921, and since that time has the list are Tommy Crookson '24, one-time Pennsylvania open champion, Joe Bayer '24, Merb Cannon '26, Hewitt '28, Fred Brand '31, Bill Naciou '31, and Lloyd Beyer and George Menard from last year's team. At least Bayer and Beyer have been State Amateur Champions. If all goes well next year, the men-

Other good years were 1927, with five victories and one tie and 1930 with 7 wins and no losses.

When asked whom he considered his best players, Bob scratched his head and encountered difficulty in deciding. "There were so many good ones," he said. Pictures of every team are there. Bob is still half-amused and half peeved about the disappearance of several of them one dark and lonely night when a couple of the boys checked around to reminisce about the days gone by.

Pinned down, Bob chose no fewer than eight as his all-time best. In tor is hoping for another one of those aggregations that goes down in the annals as a "hot one." The glint in Bob's eyes gives him away. Meanwhile the boys are planning to take over the Centre Hills team next weekend, and Burkett and Siegler are hoping for another match with Machmer and Hebda. When they begin to play against each other next spring for team places, Bob is going to shift his chair to one side and say, "I like to see them play hard, and I like to see them win." His record proves that.
