By BOB GRUBB

Early this week Bob Higgins was wishing it were Cornell next instead of Lehigh. Reason: After suffering defeat at the hands of Villanova, the Lions would be on the comeback trail and in a perfect state of mind to roll over the Big Red, whereas such a comeback attitude would not be needed against Lehigh.

But the Nittany mentor has changed his mind since then. Additional injuries during practice sessions this week have put him in a more pessimistic frame of mind concerning tomorrow's game and perhaps it's just as well Lehigh falls where it does on the schedule.

In addition to O'Hara and Ecomos, Adessa, Patrick, Wuenschel, and probably Lang and Morini will not be available for service against the Engineers tomorrow. A wrenched knee threatens to keep Wuenschel out for the remainder of the season. Harry Harrison will handle the kicking assignment in spite of a charleyhorse. While this week's time trials didn't come up to the expectations of Coach Chick Werner, the Lehigh harriers still don't appear too formidable to the Lion cross-country team, opening its season at Bethlehem tomorrow. Pete Olexy, never beaten in dual meets during his freshman and varsity competition, took the lead in the trials, but his time was not too convincing.

Penn State's natators will get off to an early start this year. Although the season doesn't begin until January, Coach Galbraith is calling the first practice for next week—and not in Glennland Pool, but in Rec Hall. There they will be put through a series of setting-up exercises and other conditioning drills for at least the first three weeks, sans aqua.

In inaugurating this form of conditioning for his team, now entering its second year as a varsity sport, Coach Galbraith is following the example of Mat Mann of Michigan and Bob Kippith of Yale, coaches of the best tank teams in the country. "Gal" decided to use this idea following conferences with both coaches.

Nittany Harriers Will Open Season With Lehigh

Olexy Paces Squad in 1st Team Trials

Gordon Leads Plebes In Competition; Maule Next

By WOODROW BIERLY Penn State's cross-country team will leave at 9 o'clock this morning for Bethlehem where Coach Chick Werner will enter seven men in the competition with the Lehigh harriers. The meet will be held at the Saucon Country Club at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, this time being chosen since a golf tournament has been scheduled for the afternoon.

In the time trials held Tuesday afternoon which did not fulfill expectations, Pete Olexy led the squad with Len Henderson, freshman captain of last year following. Alkman and Pierce finished in a tie for third place while Clark rated fifth. Others who placed among the first seven were Wear and Sutton. Captain Downey was troubled with a stomach cramp and did not complete the trials, while Hazard, who is recovering from an attack of grippe, did not run. The seven-man team will be selected from these nine.

Olexy Won Last Year Hurst, a sophomore at Lehigh, led their first time trials with a time of 29:02. Hildebrand, a senior, followed Hurst across the line. Other Lehigh men who will compete are Tompkins, Sigley, Captain Broughad, Parsons, and MacLachlan. Their team contains only two varsity lettermen of last year, and so much of Lehigh's strength will depend on their sophomores. The Engineers have always been an easy mark on the Penn State schedule but this year's meet may keep the runners stopping.

In the Lehigh encounter last year Olexy took first place, followed by Book and Trimble, while Downey and Daugherty tied for fourth place. Six more State hill-and-dalers crossed the line before Healy, the first Engineer. But Hildebrand, who led the pack for the first four and three-fourth miles, was forced to withdraw when he suffered an attack of pain. He is on the Lehigh squad this year and will provide some stiff competition, making a duplication of last year's perfect score very improbable.

Freshmen Hold Time Trials The freshmen also held their first time trials on Tuesday night. They open the season at Cornell a week from tomorrow and although the trials will have nothing to say as to who makes the team, the results are interesting.

Norm Gordon, national junior steeplechase champion, led the pack in the three-mile run with a time of 16:22. Frank Maule, who holds the high school track record for the mile run, turned in a time of 17:03. He was followed by Graham Miller, who ran the course in 17:35, and Nixon and Van Patten.

Soccer Team Meets Gettysburg Tomorrow in Lone Home Sport

Co-ed Will Kick Off at 2:30 Dressed in Scotch Kilts; Freshmen To Play Mont Alto

By JERRY WEINSTEIN Penn State's soccer team will oppose Gettysburg tomorrow on New Beaver field at 2:30 o'clock in the only varsity sport contest on the home program this week-end.

Following a custom inaugurated by Coach Bill Jeffrey several years ago, a co-ed will add a bit of color to the game by kicking off to start the proceedings. Jo Hobart, a senior, will start the ball rolling, attired in full Scottish regalia—kilts and all.

The team that started the Bucknell game last week will be intact against Gettysburg tomorrow. While a few regulars were hampered by injuries this week, they will be ready for service.

Beta Sigma Rho Looks Powerful

Intramural Manager Announces Rules Governing Football; Officials Selected

By FRANCIS SZYMCAK The current intramural football season is under way. Games will be played each afternoon and night, except Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The Beta Sigma Rhoes look strong offensively with their 25-to-0 score over the Beaver House. Phi Delta Theta took over Alpha Tau Omega, 6-to-0.

Sigma Chi held Alpha Kappa Pi to a deadlock in scoring and the number of first downs only to lose in the series of four downs play-off. Alpha Phi Delta's drive in the last quarter of Wednesday's game failed to overcome a 13-point lead held by Sigma Nu, losing 13-to-12.

The football contests are governed by these rules:

- 1-Football shoes are the only regular football equipment that may be worn. 2-There will be four twelve-minute quarters. 3-Each team is allowed three time-outs during a half. 4-No limit on the number of substitutions. 5-A punt may be attempted at any time without calling the formation. 6-Fifteen yards is needed for a first down. 7-The ball is downed when the runner is touched with two hands. 8-A forward may be attempted from any point behind the line of scrimmage. 9-There is no penalty for two or more incomplete forwards or laterals. Only ends and backs are eligible to receive passes. 10-In case of a tie, the winner is determined by the greater number of first downs.

Dave Weddell, fullback, who was injured in pre-season practices, is ready to go again. Coach Jeffrey does not plan to start him, however, and Bill Borda will again rate the starting call.

Freshmen to Play Another practice game has been set for the Penn State cub booters. Led by Bob Schuler, the Lion yearlings will meet George Harvey's Mont Alto forester team at 1 o'clock on the soccer practice field at the golf course. Among the leading members of the freshman club are Royer, goalie; Genzler and Yoder, fullbacks; Homestead, Schuler, and Mann, halfbacks; and Wartluft and Schaeffer, forwards.

The intact varsity lineup includes Dick Hag in the net; Phil Barnes and Borda, fullbacks; Eddie Mandel, Freddy Spyker, and Walt Painter, halfbacks; and Captain Bill McEwan, Frank Osterlund, Sol Miehoff, Carl Wacker, and Dick Wilde, forwards.

Gettysburg Strong With seven lettermen in their lineup, the Bullet booters present a strong team. Last year, Gettysburg successfully climaxed a good season by being declared the champions of the Eastern Pennsylvania Soccer Conference.

Penn State defeated Gettysburg last year, 4 to 0... and in 1934, 9 to 1... the only two times the teams have met... the Bullets have a junior varsity system in effect and it seems to work out well... their squad is composed of six seniors, eight juniors, and ten sophomores... Injuries this week kept Phil Barnes and Eddie Mandel on the sidelines for a few days... Carl Wacker plays along with his injured thigh... while Sol Miehoff gets along with bruised feet... the boys with the educated feet seem to have difficulty getting their limbs educated to keep from getting hurt...

Coach Bill Jeffrey says most injuries are caused by lack of experience of the opponents... and some other hurts come up in practice when the boys get a bit rough trying to gain a starting assignment... which Jeffrey doesn't like...

Swimming Candidates Will Report Tuesday

Candidates for the varsity swimming team will hold their first meeting of the year in 301, Recreation Hall, on Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock, according to J. Lloyd Larkins '37, manager.

For a two or three-week period, Coach Bob Galbraith will conduct daily training sessions either in the gymnasium or outdoors, depending upon the weather. The purpose of this training is to strengthen the various muscles of the body in order to condition the swimmers for the strenuous work in the tank.

After starting their first season as a varsity sport last winter with a schedule of four meets, the swimmers have progressed this year to six engagements. The Lion natators open their 1937 season with Penn, at Philadelphia, January 15. Following are meets with Pitt, January 22; Syracuse, February 12; Western Reserve,

Freshman Grid Squad, Smooths Out Offense

The freshman football squad spent most of the week in going over the fundamentals of offensive play. Coach McAndrews is stressing the "double-team" block as a result of the Kiski game.

In reviewing Saturday's game McAndrews mentioned the fine running and kicking of fullback Ickes. Ewalt looked good in the blocking back position, while Rollins demonstrated some nice ball carrying.

The squad lacks reserve material for the guard and end positions. With Stravinski forced out of the game it was difficult to send in a reliable substitution as most of Kiski's gains and the touchdown run were scored through his vacated position.

February 19; Carnegie Tech, February 26; and Cornell, March 5. The Syracuse meet is away.
