Thespians Open Show Tomorrow

Tilden '37, Thomas '38 Play Leads; Hy-Los To Take Part

Glee Club to Feature "Steer Clear" Debut

Led by Doris J. Thomas '38 and Charles W. Tilden '37, juvenile leads, the Thespians in conjunction with the Glee club will open their fall show, "Steer Clear," tomorrow night in Schwab auditorium at 7:30 o'clock before a houseparty audience.

Although limited as to rehearsal time, "Steer Clear," contains, in Director J. Ewing Kennedy's estimation, the best array of talent that the Thespians have ever had. Numerous specialties are scheduled, and the Hy-Los, under the direction of Prof. Richard W. Grant, will hold a large amount of the spotlight.

The story, written by J. Lloyd Larkins '37 and John E. Thompson '37, traces the activities of the Dartnell College Masque and Wig club in its endeavor to get out of the red financially. The plot includes murder brought on by a liquor racketeer played by Paul Dean '40.

Quartet Featured

Larkins, Silom S. Horwitz '39, Frances M. Gates '37, and the Variety Quartet have leading parts. The quartet, composed of Donald H. Dixon '37, Richard W. O'Connor, Jack E. Platt '37, and James P. Unangst '38, will work with the Hy-Los and with a freshman girl dance team of Peggy Lytle, Pat Altwater, and Louise Stringer.

Featured scenes will be a barroom spectacle, "Round Times Square," "Top Hat," and those in which two girl and one boy choruses will hold the attention.

Bill Botton's band will play from the stage in the first act, and in the second act a jam group of six from the band will be featured.

The musical scores have been arranged by Prof. Hummel Fishburn, of the department of music. The "Round Times Square" scene was written by William H. Hazen '37.

Tickets went on sale at the Student Union desk early in the week and were available at the Corner Room yesterday. They may be secured there until shortly before curtain time.

'White House Party' 'Froth' Issued Today

Froth's White House Party number, a special issue concerning the present presidential campaign, will appear for sale today. Entirely political in nature, the editors boast of their magazine being non-partisan.

Cartoons and prose in the new Froth are built around the coming election. A new feature is the rotogravure section, which carries as its highlight a radio-photo of the winning presidential candidate.

The cover design, in four colors, is by Robert McKean '30, former art editor of Froth, who is now doing caricatures for Ringmaster. While in college, McKean was reprinted throughout the country.

Included in the large amount of cartoons are two by Freeman Silva, art editor of the California Pelican, who extended to Froth exclusive rights. Ralph D. Hetzel, Jr., contributes a special column. Prof. Frank S. Neusbaum, of the division of dramatics, and Harry Henderson '36, former editor of the COLLEGIAN, are other column writers.

November 4 to Begin School 'Safety Week'

Safety Week, sponsored by the Safety Council of the School of Physical Education and Athletics in cooperation with the College Safety Council, has been designated for November 4-11, according to Arthur F. Davis, instructor in physical education.

During Safety Week, lectures, demonstrations, and movies will be given in first aid and safety education to all sophomores and freshmen. It is also planned to have several special meetings in order to give instruction to everyone interested. The staff of the School of Physical Education and Athletics will assist Mr. Davis.

Will Durant Proposes 5-Point Program for Better America

"A nation is born Stoic, and dies Epicurean," Dr. Will Durant said in his lecture in Schwab auditorium on Monday night where he discussed "A Blueprint for a Better America."

The philosopher's talk was built along the outline of what is wrong with America and suggestions for improving conditions. Discussing the physical problems first, he said that we face a possible decay of the soil and pointed out that if the abuse of our land continues another century, much of our soil will be unproductive.

His suggestion for a remedy of the condition was that the army with its idle personnel and equipment and the C.C.C. should deploy to conserve the soil of America. A commission, half of which is chosen by Congress and the other half by individuals, should supervise the extraction of minerals and fuels from the soil, since the depletion of mineral resources weakens a nation.

"The second problem is biological," the author said. "The average intelligence of the people is maintained by the struggle for existence. If the strong were stricken and the weak lived, the future would become precarious."

Durant pointed out that intelligent parents produce only one child to every two of a "fool." This is a barometer of the future.

Cast Announced For 'Post Road'

Newcomers Compose Company Of Players Production For December 12

Composed mostly of newcomers, a cast of fourteen has been chosen for the second Players production of the season, "Post Road," which will be presented the Saturday night of Soph Hop week-end, December 12.

The cast includes J. Lloyd Larkins '37, Anne M. Boyer '37, Pauline L. Lowe '37, Jack L. Wolgin '38, Irving J. Tersuhov '38, Betty M. Reburn '39, Margaret E. Jervis '39, Henrietta I. Cutler '39.

Cal Evans '40, Thomas D. Frymoyer '40, Richard D. Ponemon '40, Katherine E. Holden '40, Mary E. Hatton '40, and John W. Steer '40. Rehearsals are now under way for "Post Road," which is a melodramatic comedy under the direction of Prof. Arthur C. Cloetingh, director of the division of dramatics.

Activities List Called

Seniors who have activities to add to their La Vie cards are urged to send a postcard with all their activities to the La Vie office, 315 Old Main, by November 6. Those who did not fill out the blue cards in registration or who wish to check on their activities can come to the La Vie office any afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, or send a card.

Custom Violators Given Stiff Sentences; Will Parade During Halves at Grid Fray

Six freshmen were tried and found guilty as customs violators by the Men's Student Tribunal on Monday night. Five others failed to appear before the court and must face judgment at the next meeting.

The severest penalty was meted out to Benjamin Crilly, who was found guilty of dating and not wearing his dink and black tie. Crilly will wear two signs and walk backwards on the campus at all times. For fifteen minutes at noon and evening he will distribute toilet paper at the Corner.

Caught dating and without his bible, Alfred Del Rossi was sentenced to carry and umbrella and wear a dress and sign for two weeks. Robert McCullough, a member of the freshman football team, and Robert Kinkle, were both found guilty of violating the dating rule. Both were sentenced to carrying signs.

Tom Dorsey's Band To Play At Soph Hop

Plans Completed For Opening of Social Season Here

1st Dance to Feature Famous Swing Music

Tommy Dorsey and his band will play for Soph Hop, December 11, co-chairmen J. Richard Clements and Robert S. Givler of the dance committee, announced today.

Final arrangements with Dorsey's interests were completed by telephone Tuesday, Clements said.

Securing Dorsey gives Soph Hop the biggest name band it has secured in many years, and expectations for a financial success shot upward today with the announcement, Clements said.

Noted for Trombone
Dorsey, noted for his trombone, separated from his brother Jimmy when they had the Dorsey Brothers orchestra, and since that time has held a predominate position in the music world with his swing music.

December 11 is the earliest date on record for a major dance in recent years. Previously all of the class dances were held in the second semester.

Employment Facts

(This article, dealing with the number of graduates who have found work and with the present employment conditions in the field of economics and sociology, is the first of a series. Other articles will deal with the same problem in other departments and other schools here.)

"There are more jobs open today than we have men to fill them," Dr. Carl W. Hasek, head of the department of economics and sociology, stated this week. "We are unable to find a man who has been graduated from our department in the past five years who does not have a job."

"Of course," he continued, "this does not mean that all our graduates have jobs. We are out of contact with some of them and as a result are unable to tell whether or not they are employed. We are trying, however, to contact our alumni so that they may have the chance to fill the many available positions of which employers have informed us."

He then mentioned some of the jobs that are available. One credit company wants men who will be able to make reports and classify the degree of risk of persons wishing to make through finance companies. They will take as many men as the department here will recommend. The salary averages around twenty-five or thirty dollars a week.

Another concern wants expert appraisers of damages to automobiles in accidents. Men who are recommended for this job will first be given a six-months training course. This is also a salary position. Nearly every insurance company in the state wants to take on new agents, Dr. Hasek said.

"All this is evidence that business is picking up," he said. "Last spring was the first time since 1930 that we noticed a rise in the demand for students with a background in economics, commerce, and sociology. Of course we don't know if this will continue, but at present it seems that we will have little difficulty next spring in placing graduates with good records."

Democrats Organize

The Young Democratic organization of students held a meeting Wednesday night for the election of officers and the formulation of permanent plans. Franklin W. Ruth '39 was elected president; Ella W. Keichline '39, vice president; John G. Sabella '38, vice president; Francis H. Szymczak '38, secretary; Nestor V. Wahlberg, treasurer; and Camman H. Niederhof, sergeant-at-arms.

Warnock Will Issue Election Day Excuses

Containing that all students twenty-one years of age and over have a right to go home and vote, Dean of Men Arthur R. Warnock announced today that excuses would be granted such students for the time necessary for the trip. The Dean explained that both in and out-of-state students would be granted excuses for the presidential election that occurs Tuesday.

Gridmen Seek 1st Big Win Of Year Against Syracuse As Booters Go After 4th

Soccer Eleven Takes 1st Trip To Clash With Orange

Battle for Eastern Supremacy to Ensure

By JERRY WEINSTEIN
A game to decide Eastern soccer supremacy will be played tomorrow when the undefeated Penn State eleven meets unbeaten Syracuse at Syracuse.

With Yale, Springfield, and Navy, usually contenders for the Eastern crown, off the undefeated list, Penn State and Syracuse lead for top honors. The Syracuse team is the strongest to wear the Orange in recent years.

Lion victories this season were chalked up against Bucknell, Gettysburg, and Lafayette. Also boasting three wins, the Orange has topped Cornell, 6 to 1; Buffalo Teachers, 10 to 1; and Lehigh, 1 to 0.

16 Men Make Trip
Coach Bill Jeffrey lead a squad of sixteen players on the first trip of the season as the Lions boarded a bus to Syracuse this morning. With the exception of a few minor injuries, the team was in excellent physical condition.

The lineup will probably be the same that opened the previous Nittany contests. Dick Haug in the goal; Phil Barnes and Bill Borda at fullbacks; Eddie Mandel, Freddy Spiker, and either Walt Painter or Frank McGrall, halfbacks; and the forward line of Captain Bill McEwan, Dick Wilde, Frank Osterlund, Carl Wacker, and Sol Miehoff will oppose Syracuse.

Others to make the trip include Hank Schweitzer, Sam Davies, Bill Miller, and Woody Hosterman.

Lions Hold Edge
As in other series, the Booters hold a wide lead in the Syracuse soccer encounters. Syracuse won only one in nine games. . . . and there was one tie. . . . But that defeat, by the Orange, in 1932, was important. . . . it was the last game Penn State has lost in soccer.

A. S. U. To Hear Talk By Ralph Hetzel, Jr.

Ralph D. Hetzel, Jr., recently returned from a tour of England, Sweden, and Russia, will address the American Student Union on his impressions of the European countries. The meeting will be held in room 415, Old Main, on Sunday at 2:45 o'clock. All interested students are invited.

At the last meeting of the A. S. U., Prof. John S. Bowman, of the department of English composition, described a survey he is conducting in the field of the proletarian novel. The purpose of the survey is to determine to what degree and by whom the novel is being read.

The investigation, started three months ago, is being conducted along two lines. Form letters, requesting information about the circulation of ten selected novels, have been sent to the librarians of fifty-three major libraries and the publisher's sales figures for the novels have been secured. Two of the past year's best sellers have been selected as controls, from which Prof. Bowman hopes to arrive at an index to the comparative circulation of the selected novels.

Roosevelt Wins in Student Straw Vote By 47 Majority Over Governor Landon

President Roosevelt polled the most ballots in the COLLEGIAN-Pittsburgh-Press straw vote that ended Wednesday night. The statistics are given below, showing the number of votes cast by the members of the various classes, those of legal voting age and minors, and the students' favorites in the election of 1932.

Club To Sponsor Informal Affair

Tickets for Houseparty Dance Now Available to Students At Student Union

The Penn State Club's second annual informal houseparty dance will be held in the Nittany Lion Inn tonight from 9 until 1 o'clock. Jerry McHale's orchestra will furnish the music.

Tickets are priced at $1.50, including both the federal and state taxes. They can be purchased either at the Student Union office or at the door before the dance. Everyone can attend the dance; guests and visitors in town over houseparty week-end are especially invited.

Chaperones Announced

The dance committee announces the chaperone group as including Dean and Mrs. Arthur R. Warnock, Dean Charlotte E. Ray, Director and Mrs. Richard Grant, Captain and Mrs. William F. Dennis, Prof. and Mrs. Hummel Fishburn, and Prof. and Mrs. Robert Galbraith.

Jerry McHale's slow-swing orchestra has proved very popular in the eastern section of the state. Several weeks ago a crowd of 10,000 danced to its rhythm at the Pittston Charity Ball. Miss Henrietta Langley, vocalist, will take the spotlight for several numbers.

Alumni To Hold Dance Following Pitt Game

A Penn State Dance sponsored by the Pittsburgh Alumni Club will be held in the Urban Room of the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh on November 7, the evening of the Pitt football game. Reggie Childs and his National Broadcasting Company orchestra will provide the music.

On Friday night, the Alumni Club will hold a smoker in the Gold Room of the Fort Pitt Hotel at 8 o'clock. Tickets for the football game with Pitt may now be secured at the Athletic Association office in Old Main. The price is $2.85.

Cwen Dance Profits

An approximate net profit of $70 was made on the recent Cwen dance, according to Beulah Gerheim, president of the society. The returns will be used for a scholarship which will be given to a deserving freshman girl at the end of the year.

Schedule Kick-Off at 2 For Houseparty Struggle

Teams Evenly Matched; Each Lost Three Games

By CHARLES M. WHEELER, JR.
Victory starved, Penn State's Nittany Lion football team will be seeking its second win of the season when it tangles with Vic Hanson's Orange team from Syracuse on New Beaver field tomorrow at 2 o'clock before a capacity houseparty crowd.

Hoping that they have somewhat regained their spirit, and stride in last Saturday's 13-to-7 defeat by Cornell, the Lions went through a trio of brisk workouts this week under Coach Bob Higgins. Scrimmage again took its toll as Roy Schuyler dislocated his shoulder Wednesday and Toretto injured his ankle Tuesday. Toretto, however, is a likely starter.

Defeated three times apiece this season, both State and Syracuse will be wending the comeback trail with the Lions even money to be more successful. It will be State's most optimistic outlook until the season finale with Bucknell.

That Man Albanese

Chief of the Lion worries is Captain Vannie Albanese, Orange fullback, who last year carried the ball against State seventeen consecutive times for 80 yards gain. Fans will also remember that it was the Syracuse game last year that State lost as a result of a disputed pass play, when in the final moments O'Hara passed to Morini only to have the ball batted from his arms to Art Yett who raced over the goal line with a disallowed score. The referee claimed that no Orange man touched the ball between Morini and Yett.

So the Lions will have that 7-to-3 score to avenge. But Syracuse has not been manhandled by the Lions since 1927. Never in that time has the enemy advantage been more than two touchdowns.

State's lineup will find Smith and Barantovich at the ends, Hanley and DeMarino at the tackles, Economos and Toretto at the guards, Captain Cherundolo at center, O'Hara at quarterback, Harrison or Denise at one halfback, Donato at the other, and Metro at fullback.

Syracuse will have its full power available, a number of injured regulars returning to the lineup. Registis and Minsavage will be the ends, Webster and Frey will play tackle, Handler and Kane will be guards, Novotny will play the pivot position, Nolan will be calling signals, Heckmack and Morrison will be at the halfbacks, and Albanese will hold down the fullback position.

State Will Be Outweighed

Kane is from all accounts as good this year as Jontos was last at guard, and Heckmack will be a constant passing threat as State's pass defense this year has been woefully weak. Marty Glickman, who evidently went to the Olympics just for the trip this summer, will be a speed merchant to get in the fray for the Orange.

The Lions will be outweighed again, especially in the backfield. But the second half of the Cornell game proved they are capable of playing football. If they can provide a scoring punch, they should go into the game with as good a chance of winning as they will or have had this year.

Hutchinson, Author, To Speak at Chapel

Ralph C. Hutchinson, president of Washington and Jefferson College, will speak at the Sunday morning chapel services in Schwab auditorium.

Dr. Hutchinson served as an aviator in the World War, has been active in special foreign and educational work and has written articles for the Atlantic Monthly, Asia, Literary Digest, and the Readers' Digest. Dr. Hutchinson received his A. B. from Lafayette College, his master's from Harvard, and his Ph. D. from the University of Pennsylvania. He was ordained a Presbyterian minister in 1922 and received the degree of doctor of divinity from Lafayette College in 1922.
