

BETWEEN THE LIONS

By BOB GRUBB

Post Mortem:

And another season goes down on the books. Successful? Yes, we feel that way about it, even though in years to come the 1936 football season will reveal itself as a mediocre one in the records with but three victories against five losses.

Numerous questions come up at this time. Several important ones involve the center position. Who will fill Captain Chuck Cherundolo's shoes next year? What will Cherundolo be doing next year?

While Chuck Cherundolo would have no trouble finding on a pro club, his aspirations are in other directions. He's going to try to land a coaching job first.

Besides Cherundolo, Ends, Frank Smith, and Bob Morini and Backs, Red O'Hara, Art Yett and Tommy Silvano finished their football careers in the proverbial blaze of glory.

Olexy Elected Captain of 1937 Nittany Cross-Country Team

Maule Chosen Plebe Leader For '36 Year

Olexy Still Undefeated In Dual Competition Of 3 Seasons

By WOODROW W. BIERLY
Pete Olexy was elected captain of the 1937 cross-country team and Frank Maule was chosen plebe leader of this year's freshman squad at a dinner held at the Penn State L. Watts lodge on Thursday night.

During his freshman career, Olexy paced the runners of Pitt, Syracuse, and Cornell. He met his toughest competition against the Big Red that year when he defeated Herb Cornell, who later won the 3000 meter championship in the IC4-A track meet.

In the freshman intercollegiate, Olexy placed third with a time of 15:46, while the Lions rated seventh. He ran a beautiful race, always within striking distance of the winner, but was defeated by Sharp of Columbia and Williamson of Lafayette by a few seconds.

During the summer of 1934, Olexy was elected to the Polish-American Olympic track team and ran at the International games at Warsaw, Poland. In trying out for the Olympic games, he reached the semi-finals.

Sigma Nu Wins Intramural Grid Fray Over Kappa Sigma, 6-to-0

Sunday Announces Entry Deadline for Winter Sports Tomorrow; 2 Handball Units

By FRANCIS SZYMCAK

Sigma Nu won the intramural football title by defeating Kappa Sigma, 6-to-0, on Saturday afternoon. The winning score came in the third quarter when a long Sigma Nu pass over the goal line was knocked into the hands of Coskery, Sigma Nu's center.

On their way to the championship the Sigma Nus won over Alpha Phi Delta, Theta Kappa Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Chi Sigma, and Kappa Sigma. The losers took the measure of Frear Hall, Beta Sigma Rho, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The game was close throughout with both teams playing cautious ball. Sigma Nus participating were ends Larrimore and Rex, tackles Watts and Haag, guards Foster and Williams, center Coskery; halfbacks Thomas and Sangston, quarterback Cullison and fullback Hager.

Entries for Intramural Sports End Tomorrow

Entries for intramural winter sports will close tomorrow in Miss Keller's office at Recreation hall, Lee M. Sunday, manager, announced today.

Entries will be received for boxing, wrestling, basketball, volleyball, swimming, and handball. Boxes are requested to report to Coach Leo Houck at once for conditioning. The weigh-in will not be held until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

In order to give the entire student body a better opportunity in the handball tourney, the intramural board has decided to run two classes, A and B. The A class will include eight or ten of the leading players in College.

While in high school, Olexy was captain of the cross-country, track, and basketball teams. In 1932 he placed third in the National Inter-scholastic competition and the following year won second place.

Maule, newly-elected freshman captain, was the first State man to finish in the freshman IC4-A meet, placing sixth. He holds the State high school mile record and the Philadelphia suburban high school mile record in track. Other track titles he holds are the mile and half-mile at both Swarthmore and Media high schools.

Those present at the dinner in addition to team members and managers were Coach Chick Werner, Stanley B. Maddox, administrative assistant, Harry R. Gilbert, assistant to the graduate manager of athletics, William J. Miller, of the School of Physical Education, and William C. Smith '37, track manager.

Lion Five Wins First Scrimmage

Athletes From Other Sports Join Team For Practice

Penn State's basketballers easily ran through a weak Indiana Cardinal "pro" team in a pre-season scrimmage Saturday afternoon in Rec hall. The Lion dribblers piled up 35 points to the Cardinals' 18, with Co-captain Mike Kornick, Jack Reichenbach, Charles Prosser, and Max Corbin sharing scoring honors.

The incomplete Lion squad has been working for several weeks under their new mentor, John Lawther, whose ten-year record of 167 wins and only thirty-five losses at Westminster College is unequalled.

Frank Smith, co-captain of basketball, played his last game as end on the football team against Bucknell last Saturday and will join the squad shortly. With the close of the soccer season, Coach Lawther will gain another valuable player, Sol Miehoff, high scorer on the basketball team last year and outstanding inside left on the soccer team.

Seventeen games are scheduled for the Lions in their second year in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball Conference. In addition to the ten conference games played on a home-and-home basis with Temple, Pitt, Georgetown, West Virginia, and Carnegie Tech, the courtmen have seven non-league contests with Penn, Yale, Navy, Syracuse, Lafayette, Bucknell, and Susquehanna.

Swimmers Use Speedier Turn

Introducing a new type of turn, Coach Bob Galbraith today is striving for speed in this vital factor of racing.

The new turn, a back flip just as the swimmer touches the side, is said to have the advantage of speed over the conventional side turn. To be of any value, however, perfection is absolutely necessary.

Entering their fourth week of practice, the tankers were sprinting for short distances to develop speed in starts and turns. From the present list of eleven sprinters, "Gal" hopes to find eight who can stand up in intercollegiate competition.

Bunk and Welsh, two sophomore stars, appear to have clinched at least two of the positions while Cumming and Burleigh are certain of similar starting positions that they held last year.

The present squad now includes Al Bechtel, Frank Viosenc, Ray Keefer, Bob Brown, Henry Quick, Bill Walker, Jimmie Cumming, Haugh, Weis, Lehman, and Taylor in the sprints; Geiger, Bob Bailey, Cumming, and Henderson in the back strokes; Bunk, Welsh, Brown, Holden, and Lehman in the distance; Burleigh, Oliver, and Mamsolen in the breast stroke; and Rector, Hoy, Hart, and Parks, who will dive.

Penn State's winter sports teams will go through December in preparation for the openings of the season in January.

Odds on Reaping Just Rewards Are High For Hard-Working, Bucket-Toting Slaves

The unpraised heroes of this year's football season are the ten or eleven boys who keep the football team equipped and contented. The second assistants who every night from the day after Labor Day till the Monday following the Bucknell game, deserve a bit of recognition. No cheers are heard for them, but nevertheless, they are a vital part in the system.

The daily routine of arranging and supplying headgear, shoulder pads, water, footballs and sponges soon becomes a dreifol monotony, but these little services are appreciated by the players. Seventy-four times must they take out the equipment and sew-enty-four times they have to bring it in. When the team goes on trips, there is extra work of packing seven big trunks with uniforms, water buckets, cups, extra shoes, sweat suits, sugar tablets, and other small items. On the field every day in good, rainy, cold, and hot weather these patient lads spend their afternoons from 4 to 7 o'clock.

But there is a reward for this drudgery. Three of them will become "big shots" and the others will receive their numerals for the seventy-four days and seventy-four nights.

Glasser Finds Bar Men Good

"Our strongest piece of apparatus," was the way in which Coach Julian Glasser expressed himself concerning the parallel bars, when asked how things are shaping up for the gym team, now that the squad has been working out for over a month.

A nip and tuck battle is being waged for the number one spot on the parallel bars between Sam Beck, a holdover from last year, and Ray Runkle, a very promising sophomore. Both Runkle and Beck also compete on the horizontal bar and the rings.

Those fighting it out for the number three position are Kligman, Close, and Mashey. Kligman, who is a sophomore, can compete in every event except the ropes, and at present is leader for the number three spot.
