I.M. Boxing Tourney Opens Monday at 4

By CHARLES M. WHEELER, JR.

What, with 153 entries in the boxing tournament that gets under way Monday at 4 o'clock, this year's competition promises to be the most interesting of recent years. The moguls of the affair have decided to put the ring out in the center of the gym floor for all the matches and to have seats for the many spectators expected.

The entries have been working out all this week in preparation for their tilts, or at least they were supposed to have been. Coach Houck of the varsity is anxious that the "would-be's" be in some kind of shape for the tourney. The deadline for participants is already past.

Those who slid past the deadline must check around to be weighed in today at 4 or tomorrow at 2.

BETWEEN THE LIONS

Sidelines:

The usual lull that comes between fall and winter sports seasons hasn't hit this department. Instead, we find ourselves in the uncomfortable position of having much to say and little space to say it in. Some wag even suggested that we change the name of the pillar to "Between the Ads."

However, next issue we hope to be able to introduce our new crop of sportswriters, each presenting a pre-season view of his particular sport. This All-American business has us reeling. Won't somebody come to the rescue with an All-American to end All-Americans. As more and more "allteams" roll in, everyone is wondering why Chuck Cherundolo didn't get a conspicuous place—at least on an All-Pennsylvania eleven. Chuck's is the fate that comes of playing with a team that had an only mediocre season. He did make International News Service All-Pennsylvania team and got honorable mention on the NEA All-Eastern as well as making the second team of Pittsburgh's All-Stadium selections. Johnny Ecomos and Harry Harrison also won honorable mention on the latter team.

It's Michael Zeleznock Romnan now, and he's head boxing coach at the University of North Carolina. Besides promoting the fistie sport there, Mike is building up intramural interest in the ring. . . Dick Waite is an assistant wrestling coach at Columbia. . . Nice gesture, those special letter awards to Lee Sunday, Lion grinder hurt early last season, and Whitney Rhoda, who is still in the hospital as a result of a summer accident. . . Comes the confirmation of Pero Miller's good fortune. He's been signed by the Red Sox and will go south with them this winter.

11 Headaches and 7 Of Them Panthers

They grow 'em tough in Pittsburgh—at least, that's what the Lion football team thinks.

A poll to determine State's all-opponent team for the seasons reveals that the Lion gridmen think seven of the eleven best players they faced this year played for Pitt. Penn, Lehigh, Cornell, and Syracuse each placed one man on the Lions' select list.

The team:
End—Daddio, Pitt
Tackle—Sterngold, Lehigh
Guard—Lezouski, Pitt
Center—Hensley, Pitt
Tackle—Raskowski, Pitt
Tackle—Daniell, Pitt
End—Holland, Cornell
Quarterback—Elverson, Penn
Halfback—Goldberg, Pitt
Halfback—Stebbins, Pitt
Fullback—Albanese, Syracuse
Daddio and Daniell of Pitt were unanimous choices, but the other posts were hotly contested. Especially close was the contest between the Panthers' Hensley and Penn's Hauze for the center post, one vote deciding. Chuck Cherundolo cast his vote, a lone one, for Otlowski of Bucknell.

Albanese of Syracuse had a tough time beating out Kurlish of Penn, and the competition at guard was hot with Pitt's sophomores winning out. Glassford, many experts' choice for All-American, did not play against the Lions. Sterngold nosed out Webster at one tackle by a single vote. The second team in the same order as the first team, included Fox, Villanova; Webster, Syracuse; Poust, Muhlenberg; Hauze, Penn; Bayer, Lehigh; Delich, Pitt; Sala, Villanova; Christopher, Villanova; Stopper, Villanova; Murray, Penn; and Kurlish, Penn.

Honorable mention went to ends Hoffman, Pitt, and Spang, Cornell; tackles Ober, Penn, Van Raanst, Cornell, Merkofsky, and Rizza, Villanova; guards Hooper, Cornell, McNamara, Penn, Green, Bucknell, Kirkpatrick, Lehigh, Rosati, Bucknell, Missar, Villanova; centers Galazin, Villanova, Novotney, Syracuse, Odlowski, Bucknell, Hughes, Cornell; backs Chickoverne, Pitt, Tomasetti, Bucknell, Smith, Bucknell, Glickman, Syracuse; and Patrick, Pitt.

Ace Forward Regular in 3 Lion Sports

Nittany Booters Tied With Syracuse for Eastern Title

Sol Miehoff was elected captain of the Penn State soccer team for 1937 at a meeting of the lettermen at Coach Bill Jeffrey's home Wednesday night.

Miehoff, a tricky dribbler who was one of the leading cogs in the Nittany attack for two years at his inside left post, is one of Penn State's leading all-around athletes. In addition to his booting prowess, Miehoff is known for his work on the basketball team as a forward and on the baseball nine in the outfield. He made all three varsity teams in his sophomore year.

Team Leads for Title
With the final decision resting in the hands of the Intercollegiate Soccer Association at the January meeting, the Eastern team title is shared by Penn State and Syracuse. In league games, the Lions have four wins and two ties. Syracuse won three contests and tied two. Other teams have been ruled out of championship consideration.

Coach Jeffrey's team has just completed its fourth season in a row without defeat, and established a record string of twenty-nine consecutive contests in which the Lions did not lower their colors. In twenty-six seasons, Penn State booters have won eighty-six games, lost only twelve, and tied twenty-two.

Three Stars Lost
Despite the loss of three stars of three years, the booters have a large array of good material on hand for next year. Captain Bill McEwan, Frank Osterlund, and Phil Barnes will graduate in June.

McEwan is generally considered the outstanding player in college soccer. He had led the East in scoring during his three years here and was named on the all-Eastern team at center forward each season. Osterlund was one of the best team players in Nittany soccer history, and Barnes was a leading defensive star.

Pete Olexy, newly elected Lion cross-country captain and Norm Gordon ran at the Berwick marathon

Thanksgiving Day. Gordon placed tenth while Olexy was forced to drop out during the fifth mile on account of a stitch in his side.

Even bare feet will never feel it!

OCCASIONALLY a telephone wire must be run under a rug or carpet. The twisted wire formerly used made an unsightly ridge.

So Western Electric—manufacturing, distributing and purchasing unit of the Bell System—produces a flat cord only one-eighth inch thick, seven-eighths of an inch wide. (Like this ). Within this tiny space are four conductors of insulated wire. Under the rug or carpet this cord is not seen, not even felt with bare feet.

Even to the smallest detail, the Bell System is constantly on the lookout for the better way to make telephone service more satisfactory to the customer.

College men and women find after 7 P. M. a convenient time for making long distance calls. Moreover, most rates are lowest then.
