Penn State Sport Shorts

That the baseball team has only gathered 17 hits in the last five games is partially explainable . . . there has been practically no practice before these tilts due to the weather . . . with a little practice before the season, the ball club went south and pounded out 24 safeties in only two games . . .

Leo Houck continues to use his famous squeeze play although there has been little chance to practice it . . . the Doctor is superstitious and keeps the infield practice ball in his pocket during the game . . . Joe E. Brown, Jr., Mercersburg ball player, used a line of gab on Leo which smacked of his movie-ball-playing puppy . . .

Both of the tennis team's opponents have the added advantage of participation in four matches this season . . . while it marks the opening for the Lions . . . Bob Clark pood-poods his 13-foot mark in the Penn Relays and says there is much more to come while he is pole-vaulting for State . . . we hope so . . . the track team is dominated by sophomores . . . Downey is on his last lap as far as a local 440 record goes . . . he has broken it twice but never won the race, which is required . . . Captain Jack Conley and Jake Hoft are tied for lacrosse scoring leadership with five goals . . . forty freshmen reported to Nick Thiel . . .

Bob Hutchings is not only a freshman hurdling star and sprint man, but also is quite a contortionist . . . Bob Higgins is pleased with Lloyd 'Lucks' blocking and signal-calling from the number two back post . . . Sammy Donato deserves the rest he will get after tomorrow's game with Carnegie Tech . . . he has been in training since September . . .

Carl Waugaman and Ott Wuen-schel are two-timing it by trying to play lacrosse and football at the time . . . as is Junior Dean Hanley with track and the grid . . . The State boys were rough with Bloomsburg last Saturday . . . and went so far as to break one gent's nose . . .

LaVie super-imposed Whitey Rhoda's head on their official football squad picture . . . Mel Vonarx might take a cue from Johnny Waters when it comes to throwing a baseball . . . Waters has one of the best arms in State history, the experts say . . . and Vonarx, well . . .

Sol Miehoff is the perfect prototype of Goose Goslin . . . shoulders in, knees kicking like pistons, as he cavorts in left field . . . Brake can hit but he thinks so too . . .

To Play at Ag Frolic Tomorrow

DON RHODE AND HIS PENNSYLVANIANS

Watts Will Award Lion Coat Artists Keys at Frolic Tomorrow

The annual Ag Frolic will be held in Rec hall tomorrow night. George Rohde and His Pennsylvanians will furnish the music for the affair, which will be a dance combined with the carnival of former years.

The club sponsoring the booth with the most originality, beauty, and general appeal at the Frolic will be presented with a silver cup. The judges will be Prof. Henry S. Brunner, of the department of agricultural education; Prof. Gerald J. Stout, of the department of horticulture; and Paul H. Margolf, of the department of poultry husbandry.

Booths Open Until 12
The various booths will be open for gambling and various other amusements from 8 to 12 o'clock. Each couple will receive several hundred dollars of play money when they enter Rec hall.

Another feature of the Frolic will be the presentation of keys furnished by Ag Student Council to the members of the judging teams. Chaparrones for the dance are Dr. and Mrs. William F. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Michael A. Farrell, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Anderson, and Prof. and Mrs. H. W. Higbee.

Collins Released From Williamsport Hospital

Robert N. Collins '37 returned here from the Williamsport hospital early yesterday morning. He is coming here to recuperate from the injuries received in an accident April 7, near Williamsport. In that same wreck, Benjamin F. Jones '38 died of a fractured skull.

Collins must wear a face brace to help set his fractured jaw. It is necessary that it remain on for almost three weeks. He will stay at his fraternity house during this period. The reason for coming back was that, in event of a setback, he would be close to a hospital.

John C. Bigham '38, Collins, and Jones were returning to school from their homes when the car in which they were riding crashed head-on into a large truck. Bigham broke his left knee-cap, Jones fractured his skull, and died when the pressure failed to be relieved, and Collins suffered several fractures of the jaw, a fractured skull, and a broken nose.

Present ROTC Set-Up Ends This Semester

Col. Russell V. Venable, head of the department of military science and tactics, announced today that the present experimental R.O.T.C. plan, instituted by the War Department three years ago at the College, would be dropped at the end of this semester.

The present experimental course, part of the constant nation-wide researches by the War Department for the purpose of improving the R. O. T. C. course throughout the country, includes extensive studies in military organization and diplomatic and military history.

The new plan calls for the same subjects and amount of required work, but the stress, Col. Venable stated, would be placed on different parts of the course, as yet to be determined.

College Library Gets Electrical Collection

A collection of 400 books, 100 college studies, 400 periodicals, and approximately 80 pamphlets chiefly in the field of electrical engineering, has been donated to the College Library by Dr. Dugald C. Jackson '35, professor emeritus of electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Taken from his private library, Doctor Jackson's gift contains many original and early editions as well as more recent books concerning electrical engineering. In addition, Doctor Jackson has sent a bibliography of his own extensive publications.

10 Schools Entered In Play Tournament

Ten high schools have entered one-act plays in the play tournament that will be conducted here tomorrow. The contest is sponsored by the division of dramatics in cooperation with the extension services.

Five judges will rate the productions "superior," "good," or "fair." All high schools receiving a "superior" rating from a majority of judges will receive a plaque. Constructive criticism from all judges will be mailed to directors after the tournament.

Phi Kappa Psi Leads In Fairmount League

Phi Kappa Psi leads the newly-formed Fairmount fraternity muckball league. A cup, contributed by the eight member organizations, goes to the winner at the end of each season.

With twelve games already played, the Phi Psi's remain the only unbeaten team in the league. They have won their two games. The Phi Ep's and the A.T.O.'s are in second place with two wins and one loss each.

The other members of the league are A. G. R., Aeneas, Sigma Pi, T. N. E., and Lambda Chi Alpha.

Pennsylvania Artists Feature May Exhibits

The second annual exhibition of Pennsylvania artists will be shown here from tomorrow to May 15, and an individual exhibition of 15 to 20 oil paintings by Mrs. Lucy Lederer, a local artist, during the last half of May. Both of the exhibitions will be on view in the art exhibit room on the third floor of Main Engineering building.

The exhibition by the Pennsylvania artists will be restricted to color and will contain oils and water color paintings. The showing, which has been arranged so as to be on view over Mother's Day, will include works by artists from Johnstown, Indiana, Altoona, York, Harrisburg, Lewisburg, Somerset, and other cities.

To Present Papers

Dr. Alfred W. Gauger, Dr. Helmut Landsberg, and Prof. Harry B. Northrup, of the School of Mineral Industries, will present papers at the 14th annual convention and exposition of the National American Mining Congress in Cincinnati during the week of May 17.

Physicists To Confer At Washington Today

Dr. Helmut Landsberg, assistant professor of geophysics in the School of Mineral Industries, assisted by Howell S. Jobbins '37, will discuss "Sky-Blue Determination" and "Intensities of Earthquake Noises" at a meeting of the American Geophysical Union in Washington next Friday and Saturday.

The subject of Landsberg's talk will be a new device which will determine the blue color of the sky and which will analyze the rumbling noises which accompany earthquakes.

M. I. School Receives Dinosaur Footprint

A dinosaur footprint from Utah was sent to Prof. Clair W. Robinson, of the division of geology, by a member of the United States geological survey last week.

The footprint was taken from a coal mine in the region where the dinosaurs magrawe footprint was found and will be placed on exhibition in the Mineral Industries museum. The latter, believed to be the largest cast on exhibition, is also in the museum.
