Governor Earle Signs Bill Transferring Possession Of Mont Alto to College

Ferguson Explains That Students Will Continue To Attend Forestry School While Enrolled As Freshmen

Gov. George H. Earle last Friday signed the bill transferring from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the College the land and property of the State Forestry School at Mont Alto, near Chambersburg.

The bill was introduced early this year by Sen. Edward J. Thompson, Centre. As introduced, the measure involved the transfer of the title to 37.7 acres of land and the buildings of the school. A provision of the bill required the College to convey back to the Commonwealth the five-acre nursery at the school. Another provision listed in the bill when introduced reserved the right for the State Department of Forests and Waters to use some of the Mont Alto buildings for a limited period of time.

Ferguson Explains Act
In explaining the significance of the measure, Prof. John A. Ferguson, recently retired head of the department of forestry and now professor emeritus, made clear the conditions that had existed up to this time.

The College held a lease from the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters on the 37.7 acres of land at Mont Alto. In addition to the land itself, there were a number of buildings which the state spent several hundred thousand dollars to erect.

Buildings Listed
The structures at the school include a dormitory which houses 70 students and one in which live 30 students. The Iron Master's Home is used for a kitchen, dining room, and sleeping quarters for several people. In a large school building, the Hall of Science, are found the class rooms, laboratories, and offices. The building contains 30 rooms. In addition to these structures there are three professor's cottages and a football and baseball field.

Professor Ferguson pointed out that the plan of sending freshmen to Mont Alto will not be changed by the dealing of the property. This plan, unique among forestry schools of the country and followed by Swedish forestry institutions, enables the student to work in the State forests and nurseries under the supervision of the State forestry officials.

Consolidated in 1929
One great advantage of the transfer that was pointed out by Professor Ferguson was in regard of the

The second dance of the Summer Session will be held tonight in Recreation Hall from 9 to 12 o'clock. Howard Gale and his orchestra of Harrisburg have been signed to play for the dance.

Two amplifying systems, the one Gale carries with him and the one the College owns in Recreation Hall will be used and arrangements have been made to have the floor in excellent condition, according to Prof. Clarence O. Williams, in charge of social functions for the Summer Session. Admission will be twenty-five cents for each couple and not $1.25 as was erroneously stated in the Official Bulletin of the last issue.

Faculty Will Hold Picnic Tomorrow

Varied Program for Yearly Fete At Hecla Park Arranged; Bischoff in Charge

The annual faculty picnic of the Summer Session will be held at Hecla Park tomorrow, according to Prof. Clarence O. Williams, in charge of social activities of the Summer Session. The faculty picnic was originally planned for tomorrow but was changed to July 24, the original date selected for the picnic.

Faculty members driving to the picnic will find Hecla Park located along route 220, about fourteen miles due east of State College. The shortest route is to go to Pleasant Gap via Lemont, continue straight ahead at the crossroads at Pleasant Gap until arriving at Zion. Route 220 passes through Zion and Hecla Park may be reached by turning right at this junction. The Summer Sessions office has made some arrangements for transportation for a limited number.

Pawpaws of Poet Require Plenty Of Time

Carl Sandburg has gained a national reputation as a poet, but one of his chief aims in life is to improve the breeding of the pawpaw and then make America definitely conscious of it. The pawpaw is of the custard-apple family and is a fruit resembling the better known papaya, eaten widely in Hawaii and the Orient.

"As head of the pawpaw growers of the United States," Sandburg declared in a recent interview, "I am out to accomplish two things. First, my fellow-workers and myself wish to improve the breeding of the pawpaw, and second, we are definitely making plans to make America conscious of the delicious fruit."

From the tenor of his remarks, and the manner in which they were made, there is little doubt but that the poet is going to do his part to make the call-more-pawpaws campaign a significant one. At his home in Harbert, Michigan, where he breeds goats in addition to caring for his pawpaw trees, Sandburg is busy with his plans—a new venture which will give him opportunity to lead the way in a different field from that of poetry but which may some day be an equal credit to his genius.

Exhibit of American Living Artists to End

Tomorrow will be the final day that the exhibit of 48 paintings of American living artists will be on exhibition in room 303, Main Engineering.

Plans are being made to open on Monday a new type of exhibition, the second of a series planned for Summer Session students. The exhibit will comprise a section of the Scholastic Show of Pittsburgh. The pieces to be displayed are the works of school children throughout the country. Their works are judged by prominent artists and the best are selected for the exhibit, according to Prof. Andrew W. Case, of the division of fine arts.

Schools of Engineering, Mineral Industries Get Special Appropriations

Allotment For 1937-39 Biennium Shows Increase Of $492,000 Over Grant Received For Last 2-Year Period

Gov. George H. Earle signed the general appropriation bill last week allotting the College $4,150,000 for the biennium of 1937-39 for general maintenance expenditures. He also approved a $100,000 grant for the School of Mineral Industries, $50,000 of which is to be matched by private funds, and a $25,000 research appropriation for the School of Engineering.

In signing the measure, Governor Earle cut $100,000 from the bill, it having gone to his desk with the amount set at $4,250,000. Early this year the Governor placed $3,658,000 as the general appropriation amount. The Senate, however, raised the amount to $4,458,000 which the House later cut to $4,250,000. The Senate then concurred in this amount, sending the bill to the Governor.

Increase Over Last Year
The appropriation for the present biennium, signed by Governor Earle in July of 1935, amounted to $3,658,000, the figure the Governor suggested for this year. The amount of $3,708,000 was given in 1933 while in 1931 an appropriation of $4,210,000 was made. The amount for the coming biennium represents an increase of $492,000 over the last appropriation. The increase was desired to augment salaries, to take care of price raises, and an expected increased enrollment, administrative officials said.

The grant of $100,000 to the School of Mineral Industries this year is double the amount appropriated for the biennium of 1935-37, which was matched by funds given by private industries. The $25,000 engineering research appropriation is an entirely new grant, no monies having been specified for that purpose since 1922.

Introduced by Thompson
The appropriation in 1935 of $2,658,000 was an increase of $258,000 over the proposed estimate made by Governor Earle that year. It had been introduced by Sen. Edward J. Thompson, Centre, at $3,932,234 and was later decreased to the above stated amount. Thompson was the introducer of the bill again this year.

Governor Earle at the beginning of the present biennium in 1935 vetoed a number of the bills that had been introduced. Among them was a second grant of $100,000 for the School of Mineral Industries, an appropriation for repairs to the Dairy building, and a bill for $105,000 for agricultural research and the erection of experimental greenhouses.

Opportunity to Swim
Those going on the excursion are advised to take a lunch with them since no lunch can be bought along the road. The group will stop at Penn-Roosevelt Park to eat. There will be facilities there for building a fire to heat food. There will also be opportunities for swimming at the park, which was completed a short time ago.

The excursion tomorrow will be made by bus, Professor White announced. A fee of $1 will be charged and any amount remaining after the transportation charges have been paid will be returned. The group will return at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Arrangements have been made enabling those desiring to take the trip in their own automobiles to travel faster than the bus.

Nina Crawford Heads Chaperons' Committee
Nina Crawford, of the Acania fraternity, was chosen chairman of the chaperons' program committee for the present Summer Session, according to Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray.

Others named to the committee are, Eva Betschart, Phi Kappa Sigma; Clarise Seeman, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Mrs. Isabel Query, Sigma Pi.

The chaperons' committee is an organization of women selected from the women's living centers. Weekly meetings are held and problems arising in the dormitories are discussed.

80 Dancers Enrolled
Approximately 80 Summer Session students are enrolled in the dancing classes conducted twice a week by the School of Physical Education under the supervision of Mrs. Amy Lichty. It was announced today. Of the total number, over 40 are "beginners." New steps are introduced at each class and to the tunes of a piano, practice and instruction continue for one hour. Sara Clemson is accompanist.

Institute Marks Fall of Bastille

Formal Dinner, Plays, Recitals, Compose Varied Program At Irvin Hall

A program has been arranged by the French Institute to mark Bastille Day on July 14, anniversary of the downfall of the aristocratic stronghold of the French Revolution. Prof. Frederick Ernst of New York University, who is in charge of the Institute, is supervising the activities of the day.

Festivities begin with a formal dinner at 7:00 p. m. in Irvin Hall, headquarters of the Institute, followed by a one-act comedy at 8 o'clock in which Prof. Rene Guinet and Madame Brennan will participate.

Lecture Series Begins
Succeeding the comedy is a marionette show, followed by two recitals, a French song recital by Berthe Hebert, and a recital of French dramatic poems by Monique Mercet. The program will be brought to a close by a contest in which students will wear costumes of their own design, which are to represent novels of French literature. The owners of the costumes best expressing the title of the work they intend to portray will be awarded prizes by a committee of judges selected from the Institute faculty.

In a series of three lectures which began yesterday and will continue until Saturday, Prof. Daniel Mornet of the "Sourboure" of the University of Paris, will address the Institute on "Students in Classical, Medieval, and Modern Times." According to Prof. Ernst, Prof. Mornet is one of the most noted authorities on French literature living today.
