

SUCCESSOR
To The Free Lance, established 1887.

Penn State Collegian

Semi-Weekly

List Of Upperclass
Women's Dormitories
In This Issue.

Volume 34—No. 7 STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1937 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Borough Will Enforce Traffic Rules Rigidly; New Laws Raise Fines

Sign Damage To Bring Penalty Of $100 Or 90 Days

25 Mile Speed Limit Now Applied Locally

Rigid enforcement of the Borough's traffic rules was promised by the Borough council following a meeting of police, fire, and light committees last week.

Special stress was laid on the damaging of traffic signs by the College students. The new law carries a maximum fine of $100 or 90 days in jail for violation of this regulation.

Student automobile owners who allow persons to ride on the outside of their cars are subject to a fine of $27.25, and those riding the running board can be fined $7.25.

Other traffic rules which went into effect are the following: the new speed limit in the borough, as complying with the state law, is now 25 miles per hour. Posted signs will be erected every one-eighth of a mile.

Parking is prohibited near stop signs, intersections, safety zones, and on pavements. Fines for illegal parking of this type carry a fine of $12.25. Regular parking fines are: first offense, $2.25; second offense, $5.25; third offense, $7.25; and fourth offense, $25.

Fines for speeding and reckless driving carry fines of $12.25 and if the arresting officer recommends, the operator's license may be revoked.

Failure to stop at a stop sign will cost the offender $7.25, and the fire bug who follows the fire apparatus within 500 feet may lose $12.50.

All accidents in the borough must be reported, providing the total damage to both vehicles totals $5. It was also explained that damage done to a car while parking or leaving the space must be handled as follows: leave name and address on windshield of damaged car or wait until owner arrives. This is one of the common offenses, the committee explained. Failure to comply carries a fine of $27.25.

Parking in the town limits is limited to 12 hours at any time, except where limited parking is regulated by signs. Vehicles parked against traffic are subject to a fine of $12.50.

Frazier street from Fairmount avenue to Beaver avenue will be made one-way street in the near future. This action was necessitated by the erection of the new high school athletic field.

Watmaugh To Play For Collegian Dance

The annual Collegian dance, which opens the social season this year at Rec hall on October 8, will feature the music of Booth Watmaugh and his orchestra and a beauty show in which the much-discussed "Miss '41" will be revealed to the gaze of all.

Booth Watmaugh, just about the "tops" as far as campus bands go, is a favorite of long standing among students here. His sensational rise in popularity last year has placed him on the top of the heap in the student mind.

While Booth and the boys appeal to the ear, "Miss '41" will appeal to the eye. Who she is and who chooses her is a mystery not to be revealed until October 8. It is sufficient to say that she will come from the ranks of this year's freshman girls, and will be chosen for her beauty alone.

Admission to the dance may be obtained only with the free ticket which is given away with every subscription to the Collegian and in no other manner. Subscriptions sell for $2.50 per year and $1.50 per semester and may be obtained by seeing a solicitor or calling the Student Union desk through the College number 711.

Permission for the lifting of customs for the evening for freshmen who are attending the dance has been obtained from the Student Tribunal.

New Club Organized

The Hugh Beaver Club, a new organization sponsored by the Christian Association for juniors and seniors, will meet for the first time in the Hugh Beaver room in room 304, Old Main, at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

Professor Fitts Dies

Edward B. Fitts, professor of dairy husbandry extension, died early yesterday morning at his home in the Orlando apartments, as the result of a heart attack. He was 66 years old.

Gettysburg Game Headlines Dad's Day

The annual Dad's Day week-end will take place this year next Saturday and Sunday.

The College, through the Association of Parents of Penn State, has arranged a two-day program of interest to all parents of students here which includes both a soccer and a football game with Gettysburg.

All fathers and mothers of students are heartily urged to attend.

55 Appointments Listed By Hetzel

New Deans, Hammond, Schott, Trabue Head Long List Of Staff Additions

A complete list of new appointments in effect was issued yesterday from the offices of President Ralph D. Hetzel. The completed list follows:

Harry P. Hammond, Dean of the School of Engineering; Carl P. Schott, Dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics; Marion R. Trabue, Dean of the School of Education; Emmett A. Betts, research professor in elementary education; D. D. Stevenson, professor of forestry research; Harriet Harry, M.D., physician, College Health Service; Edgar Krug, M.D., physician, College Health Service; Robert V. Boucher, associate professor of agricultural and biological chemistry; Kinsley Davis, associate professor of sociology; George L. Lefler, associate professor of economics; John S. Lester, associate professor of civil engineering; Jessie Cameron, assistant professor of physical education and athletics; Ralph B. Day, assistant professor of mechanical engineering; Kenneth J. Heidrich, assistant professor of architecture; Dean E. McHenry, assistant professor of political science; James H. Moyer, assistant professor of education.

W. M. Myers, assistant professor of mineral economics and technology; J. C. H. Robertson, assistant professor of forestry; Carl H. Samans, assistant professor of metallurgy; Janice M. Smith, assistant professor of home economics research; Kingsley R. Smith, assistant professor of educational psychology; R. W. Stone, assistant professor of bacteriology; Theodore G. Anderson, instructor in bacteriology; Virginia Arbuclio, instructor in physical education; William H. Armstrong, instructor in industrial engineering; Della J. Avery, instructor in home economics; Seldon D. Bacon, instructor in sociology; James Barron, instructor in economics, literature, sociology; Leo Bressler, instructor in English composition; Holle G. DeBoer, instructor in public speaking; Maurice C. Fetzer, instructor in metallurgy; Harold K. Fleming, instructor in pomology; Elsie H. Fletcher, instructor in fine arts; J. J. Gibbons, instructor in physics; Arthur L. Haslins, instructor in agricultural and biological chemistry; Virgil V. Herring, instructor in animal nutrition; John W. Hulme, instructor in physical education and athletics; Austin E. Hutcheson, instructor in history; Lawson F. Marcy, instructor in animal nutrition; H. Arthur Meyer, instructor in forestry; Marx D. Moller, instructor in civil engineering at Mont Alto; Hans Neuberger, instructor in geophysics; E. N. Rahn, instructor in vegetable gardening; Margaret E. Riegel, instructor in home economics education; Harry A. Sorenson, instructor in mechanical engineering; Harold M. Steiner, instructor in economic entomology; Henry C. Torrey, instructor in physics; John J. Uicker, instructor in mechanical engineering; Paul D. Wright, instructor in industrial engineering.

Elizabeth C. Bell, assistant to Dean of Women; Carroll Chouinard, assistant publications editor; Dorothy Ann Adams, order assistant in Library; Vera Meyer, filing assistant in Library; Dorothy Traphagen, circulation assistant in Library; B. Elizabeth Ulrich, serials assistant in Library.

WSGA Function, Structure Clarified For New Students

Explanation Given Of Office Duties, Elections, Nominations, Discussions, Judiciary Committee and Council

In the effort to clarify the functions of Women's Student Government to new students and those old ones who are not acquainted with its organization, this outline of the women's governing body is presented.

Amy McClelland, president of W. S. G. A., presides over the meetings of Senate, which is the law-making body of the organization. One girl from each class, judicial committee chairman, publicity chairman, and officers are the members. Women's editor of Collegian is an observer. The president presents issues for debate and vote to the Senators.

Although Senate nominations and elections are open to all women students, the election for freshman representative has a different procedure than that of the upper class. A girl who is considered a good leader has her name put on a petition which must carry the signatures of at least 50 freshman girls. These petitions are presented to Senate, and the four or five with the most signatures will be voted upon.

The House of Representatives is led by Doris Blakemore, vice-president of W. S. G. A. The House is composed of the presidents of all upperclass dormitories and representatives from each floor of the three campus dormitories. At their meetings dormitory problems are discussed and various suggestions are made by them to be presented to Senate for a vote.

Acting in the capacity of advisor and penalizer to those who infringe upon the rulings of W. S. G. A., is the judicial committee with Anne Rudolph as chairman. Each of the upper classes has two members on the committee. The other senior is Mildred Nieman; the juniors, Marjorie Witsil and Mary Jane Sample; and the sophomores, Winnie Wilson and Vivian Harper. The freshman representative will be appointed by the Senate.

Freshman Council is made up of the presidents of the freshman dormitories, which officers will be nominated this week by the freshmen and voted on next week. These girls deal with freshman problems and regulations.

The sophomores on the Freshman Customs Committee are last year's members of Freshman Council, Peggy Jones, one of those on the customs committee, will act in the capacity of council chairman.

Senior sponsors are not under the jurisdiction of W. S. G. A. They are appointed by Dean Roy and responsible to her.

Hibshman To Attend Muhlenberg Program

Penn State will be represented by Alumni Secretary E. K. Hibshman among the 150 institutions and learned societies that will send delegates to the academic program marking the inauguration of Dr. Levering Tyson as the fifth president of Muhlenberg College, Allentown, October 1 and 2. Hibshman is professor of electrical engineering at Lehigh University.

The inauguration will center about the contributions of the liberal arts college to American education and will include a symposium at which professional leaders will point to the things their callings expect of the smaller colleges.

Hort Show Planned

Dr. Wilde of the horticulture department will welcome entries from sons and daughters of local florists in connection with the horticulture exhibit to be held in the Armory, October 9 and 10. Those interested may

Editorial Candidates For 'Bell' To Gather

The Bell has announced that students of all classes who wish to try out for the editorial staff should meet at 4 o'clock in room 410, Old Main, today. The first of a series of talks to the staff will be given by Robert Galbraith, English composition instructor, at 4 o'clock tomorrow in the same room.

Continuing the talks that met with great approval last year, members of the departments of English composition, English literature, and journalism, will speak on topics intended to aid the staff in its work of editing the magazine.

College Building Program - - Biological Science

The Collegian presents today the fourth of a series of short articles describing new buildings to be erected at the College in the General State Authority's five-million-dollar building program, scheduled to get under way this fall. Material for these articles has been furnished to the Collegian by the State Authority, of which Col. Augustine S. Janeway is executive director.

The new biological science building will be erected on Ag Hill just below and facing the main Agricultural building. It will be a fireproof three-story and basement building 202 feet by 65 feet.

Foundations will be of reinforced concrete, with steel frame, reinforced concrete and tile floor slabs. Exterior will be faced with brick limestone trim. Other features are steel sash, pitch and slag roof, plate glass windows, and exterior doors of white pine.

The interior of exterior walls will be of furred glazed tile and interior partitions will have the same finish. Ceilings will be of plain and acoustical tile

Army Listed On '39 State Grid Schedule

Fleming Releases Eight Game Season For 1938 and 1939

After a lapse of 38 years, Army will again appear on a State football schedule, it was revealed when eight-game football cards for 1938 and 1939 were released by Neil M. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics.

Army is scheduled for 1939. State has played Army twice, winning 6-0 in 1899, and holding a scoreless tie in 1900. Lafayette, which requested leave from the schedule in 1935, is back in 1938.

Otherwise the teams to be met are ones that appear regularly on the card. Cornell relations, resumed last year, are continued throughout the next two years.

The schedule for 1938: Oct. 1—Maryland; Oct. 8—Bucknell; Oct. 15—Lehigh—away; Oct. 22—Cornell—away; Oct. 29—Syracuse; Nov. 5—Lafayette; Nov. 12—Penn—away; Nov. 19—Pitt—away.

Maryland, a new addition this fall, is also met in 1939. The 1938 card drops Gettysburg. Muhlenberg was dropped this fall, and Lebanon Valley was dropped last fall.

The 1939 schedule brings Pitt to the campus in the closing game. The last three games for that year are regarded as the biggest and toughest that appear on the usual State schedule. Penn, Army, and Pitt are the last three opponents.

The opponents for 1939: Bucknell; Lehigh; Cornell—away; Syracuse—away; Maryland; Penn—away; Army—away; Pitt.

2 'First Ladies' Played On Stage

Mrs. Kennedy Acted in N. Y.; Miss Bickley Has Studied Drama Here, Abroad

Two very sedate young ladies will play the roles of "First Ladies" in the Penn State Players' "Dads' Day" presentation this Saturday evening.

They have both had considerable acting experience, and, according to Director Frank S. Neusbaum, are ideally cast as the two aspiring wives of high Washington officials in the hilarious Broadway hit, "First Lady."

Lucetta Parker Kennedy, better known around these parts as Mrs. "Soc" Kennedy, will play the part of Lucy Chase Wayne, wife of the secretary of state and one of those few individuals blessed with having been born in the White House during her grandfather's term as president.

The other lead, Irene Hibbard, wife of a Supreme Court Justice, will be portrayed by Ida Bickley, who is taking graduate work in dramatics here. Miss Bickley is also assisting in the play's direction.

Both Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Bickley have played in many stock company productions. Besides this, Mrs. Kennedy played under the direction of Henry W. Savage in two Broadway successes, "Tourne" a season in vaudeville; and played for the Shuberts in "My Maryland."

Miss Bickley graduated from Carnegie Tech, where she majored in the drama, and took a graduate course at the University of London in England. She would rather direct than act and expects to specialize in this field.

The plot of "First Lady" pits the wits of these two ladies against each other throughout the play, made more entertaining by the lines and humor of its authors, George S. Kaufman and Katharine Dayton.

Tickets for this authentic picture of Washington social life are now on sale at the Student Union desk. Prices for reserved seats are 75 and 50 cents.

Forensic Council To Hold Smoker

Members To Acquaint Aspirants With College Debate Teams Tomorrow Evening

All men students interested in debating have been invited to be guests of the Forensic Council at a smoker to be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity house, Frederick L. Young, council president, announced yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint students who are interested in trying out for the varsity and freshman debating squads with the members of the council, debating coaches, present members of the squad, and with debating itself.

Young to Speak
A welcome address will be made by Young, who is also manager of debating. A description of debating will be given by Prof. Joseph F. O'Brien and Harold P. Zelko, debating coaches. Four members of last year's debating squad will take part in a comic debate.

6,000 Watch Gridmen Fall, 26-19 As Defense Fails To Stop Passes

Lions Score First But Trail At Half, 6-19; Last Quarter Rally Ties Count, Only To Lose In Closing Minutes

In a free-scoring battle of poor pass defenses, Penn State lost a heart-breaking opening game to Cornell at Ithaca Saturday, 26-19.

Although this seemed to be the major cause for the Lion defeat, the defense as a whole was rather weak. But, a number of reasons could be offered for the poor defensive work, such as—the hot weather; playing a major opponent in the first game of the season; or the weakened condition of the team due to injuries.

In an attempt to analyze the faults, and not to lay the burden of the defeat on any particular players, but on the team as a whole, one should realize that it was in the departments upon which the coaching staff, realizing the team's weaknesses, had put particular stress in practice sessions that the Lions fell down.

6,000 See Thriller
But, all in all, the game was a thrilling one, providing the small crowd of about 6000 with a full afternoon of enjoyable football. The game had its full share of long runs, good kicking, passing, and some good tackling on both sides.

Within seven and one-half minutes of the first quarter, the Higginsonmen had crashed over for the first touchdown. Metro's opening kick-off to Ithaca on Cornell's five-yard line was returned to the Red 19.

Then, after an exchange of punts, Harrison went around left end for five yards and Lloyd Ickes plunked a pass into the waiting arms of Joe Adessa, who went to Cornell's 15-yard stripe—a gain of 34 yards.

Ickes Scores
Metro gained a yard through center, followed by State's second pass attempt—a heave from Harrison to Ickes, waiting on the one-yard line, which was good for six points. Harrison failed to convert on the try for point.

Gaining around the ends and completing two out of three passes, Cornell evened the score within five minutes after the Lion touchdown when Whit Baker crashed off right tackle to tally for the Ithacans. Bob Rose failed to convert for the home team, so things were all even.

But not for long. Starting the second quarter with the ball on their own 15-yard line, Cornell didn't relinquish the pigskin until—after a variety of end-arounds, reverses, line crashes, and four passes completed out of five attempted—they pushed the ball over for their second six-pointer. This time Rose's try for point was good.

Holland Smears State Reverse
Harrison took the next kick-off on his five-yard marker and raced 20 yards up to the 25. Two plays netted five yards, only to have Brad Holland, Cornell's nomination for all-American end, smear a Lion reverse for an eight-yard loss. (State's wide reverses, that had worked so well against Lock Haven Teachers in a pre-season practice game, were of no use against the Big Red—Carl Snaveley had his boys prepared to stop them.)

Taking the ball on their own 49-yard line, where Harrison's poor 25-yard punt had gone out of bounds, the Ithacans needed only nine plays to score their third touchdown, when Baker skirted his own right end to tally standing up.

Two 15-yard penalties against the Lions, for holding and for rushing the kicker, didn't help the State cause any in the third quarter, but neither team was able to score.

After much play in Penn State territory in the first half of the final quarter, Windy Wear shot a pass to

Bureau Offers Prizes For Plays

Contest For College Students Opens Oct. 1; Scholarships May Be Instituted

The second play competition of the Bureau of New Plays for college students and recent graduates will open October 1 and close December 15. Awards of $500 will be given for the six best plays submitted.

These awards may be increased to scholarship awards of $1250 or to fellowship awards of $1500 to $2500. More awards may be granted if the material justifies it or, if in the opinion of the judges, the material submitted does not justify the full quota of awards, the Bureau reserves the right to grant only as many as they recommend.

Any undergraduate or graduate student now attending college, or who has attended such an institution since September 1, 1931, whether or not the work for a degree was completed, is eligible to compete for the awards.

Plays must be full length, original, unpublished, and unproduced by any professional theatre, and must have written recommendation by the head of the English or drama department or his authorized representative, of the college or university attended by the author. The plays are to be sent to the Bureau of New Plays, 1270 Sixth ave., New York City.

Among the sponsors of the Bureau of New Plays are seven motion picture companies: Columbia Pictures, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount Pictures, Leda Bauer, RKO Radio Pictures, Edwin P. Kiltroe, Twentieth Century Fox, Charles Beahan, Universal Pictures, Jacob Wilk, and Warner Brothers.

N.Y.A. Session Headed By Hetzel At Capital

Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, representing Penn State at a meeting of college presidents in Harrisburg Thursday, presided at the conclave which was called for the purpose of discussing the college and graduate student aid program of the National Youth Administration.

Dr. Hetzel also represented the College at the Education Congress at the state capitol, which had been called by the State Department of Public Instruction.