

Freshmen Feel Power Of Student Tribunal

self. He will entertain the football fans at tomorrow's game and also at the Bucknell game. He also will appear at the pep meeting next Friday and pay tribute to the alumni. His penalty will be lifted next Saturday night.

All three—Blankman, Ortwein, and Rosenberry—must report to one of the Tribunal members every morning at 7:45 o'clock at Co-op corner.

The Tribunal urged cooperation of all upperclassmen to aid in enforcing customs. When reporting a violation, the board asked that those making the charge name the specific violation and time. Upperclassmen also were asked to include their names, which will be withheld.

The five upperclass hat societies will direct the freshmen to their seats in the east stands for the football game tomorrow afternoon.

During the past 44 years, more than 2,100 men have been trained in the various lines of creamery work at the College.

BETWEEN THE LIONS

Geared to the modern tempo, streamlined football is expected to signalize the opening of the fall intramural sports program sometime next week. Meanwhile, clouded in misunderstanding and misinterpretation, students in most instances have greeted the new set-up with rank disfavor.

Why students should condemn the system without giving it a fair trial is surprising. But more surprising still is the charge hurled at the Intramural Board that it has transformed the game into "siffified outdoor basketball."

Just what is meant by "siffified basketball" is not clear. Certainly basketball is not siffified, is it?

And just because the stress has been laid upon speed instead of shock-power is no reason to brand the game as the outdoor prototype of basketball, is it?

Under the old system—weak in the joints—the injury toll climbed consistently each year, hitting a new peak last season. Something had to be done to sprag this parade of injuries.

Opening up of the game undoubtedly will eliminate the chances of injury and, incidentally, inject more fun into the game.

After all, how many linemen enjoyed the game last year, when the old system gave them all the liberty in the world—to block?

In a touch football game, passing is the primary factor, not blocking.

Now, under the new system, every player on the field will be eligible to receive passes with the result that added interest, thrills will dot the game.

And with everyone eligible to receive passes, who wants to block?—despite the fact that the new set-up permits the standing block paralleling the "screen" play in basketball.

Perhaps the students do not realize that the Intramural Board is their board, acting in their behalf, for their benefit. But at least they could give it a fair trial before rendering judgment.

After all, what is wrong with getting a reprieve from a broken neck or a mashed nose or a couple of cracked ribs?

Of course, there will be those who will profess to be "regular" men and who will clamor for the "real stuff," where a rap on the knok is the substitute for a pat on the back.

For them, an apprenticeship on the varsity eleven is recommended. Perhaps at the end of the first week they will be able to play shuffleboard with their crutches.

Alumni To Return For Bison Game

Extensive Program Planned For Annual Homecoming Event Next Week-End

Thousands of graduates and former students from all parts of the east are expected to attend the annual alumni homecoming celebration next Friday and Saturday.

A full week-end of sports and activities of interest to alumni has been planned by E. K. Hibshman, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, and his aides.

Members of the Alumni Council will meet Friday night. Fraternities and social groups will welcome the old graduates at informal affairs. The general program will begin Saturday.

A golf tournament at the College course, a freshman football game with Kiski, a reunion of two-year agricultural students, a varsity football game with Bucknell, fraternity banquets, a non-fraternity alumni dinner, and a cider party for graduates are on the program.

THOUGH the Bell System is made up of 315,000 men and women serving every corner of the country, its structure is simple. A The American Telephone and Telegraph Company coordinates all system activities. It advises on all phases of telephone operation and searches constantly for improved methods. B The 25 associated operating companies, each attuned to the area it serves, provide local and toll service. C Bell Telephone Laboratories carries on scientific research and development. D Western Electric is the Bell System's manufacturing, purchasing and distributing unit. E The Long Lines Department of American Telephone and Telegraph interconnects through its country-wide network of wires the 25 operating companies and handles overseas service. Thanks to the teamwork of these Bell System units, you can talk to almost anyone, anywhere, anytime—at low cost!
