

BOOTERS TAKE YALE, 2-0, FOR THIRD WIN

Officials Stumped But TKE Finally Wins, 3-0

In a game that ended under a veil of indecision, Tau Kappa Epsilon edged Alpha Phi Delta, three first downs to none.

With neither team able to dent the scoring zone, the game ended in a scoreless deadlock. A huddle of the officials resulted in a decision to play an extra four-down period. Alpha Phi Delta then apparently backed up to a victory when it failed to gain an inch while TKE lost 2 1/2 yards. Another official decision on the following day, however, ruled out the extra period, gave TKE the victory on a margin in first downs.

Dr. Elwood C. Davis will deliver his 19th talk of the semester when he speaks on "Modern Trends in Health and Physical Education" at the Lehigh County Teachers' Association meeting at Allentown Friday.

Lion Harriers Clip Engineers In 15-40 Shutout At 1st Meet

By BRUCE TRABUE

Hitting the 1937 cross country season in their best stride, the Lion team ran through an inferior Lehigh here Saturday, to win the opening meet score, 15-40.

Presenting a track-wide wall, five State runners swooped around New Beaver Field coming in near the end of the third quarter of the State-Lehigh football game to end the race in a dead heat-time, 28 minutes and 37 seconds. These five, Captain Pete Olexy, Herb Hazzard, Norm Gordon, Frank Maule, and Charles Pierce, were followed by Herb Nipson in 28:56 and then by Morgan Elmer, Lehigh, in 29:11.

Olexy Maintains Record

Pete Olexy, who has the record of never having been beaten in a dual meet since he has entered college competition, was expected to risk his record last week by competing against Morgan Elmer, Lehigh ace, who beat Olexy last year in a practice meet. Running a strong race Saturday, Elmer was suddenly doubled up with a cramp and stopped. Olexy running nearby, slackened his pace, turned to competitor Elmer, and assisted him to

Lawther To Address Teachers Of Indiana

John D. Lawther, basketball and tennis coach, has been invited to talk before the Indiana State Teachers' Association at Evansville, Ind., tomorrow.

He was invited by Dr. Herbert M. Walker, who is a member of the summer session staff of the School of Physical Education and Athletics.

get started again, as the other Lion harriers leading the group also slowed their pace to give their captain time to catch up and break the tape with his team mates, preserving his record unbroken.

Following Elmer, as the seventh man to arrive at the tape, were three other Lions, Graham Miller, Chuck McGlinsey, and Harry Wear. The remainder of the engineer team were Captain Fred Tompkins and Eddie Hurst, lettermen, Bob Keating, Larry Osterhoudt, Don Santmeyer, and William Scott, newcomers to the team.

Coach Chick Werner still worried about the Lion's chances throughout the season attributed the Nittanyites' overwhelming victory to better pace and more experience, says that the team is not yet definitely chosen, and that more time trials will be held today. Freshman trials will be also held at the same time.

Between The Lions

Rabbit Wear, Penn State's 135 pound quarterback, has weathered two batterings from Pittsburgh's husky forwards, and for two seasons has stood up against the pounding of hefty linemen from Penn, Cornell, and Syracuse.

Until the Lehigh game last week Wear had always been ready for duty when Coach Bob Higgins waved to his midgeit signal caller for relief work in the second or fourth quarter.

It was Wear who passed for one touchdown and ran 65 yards which led to another against Cornell in the final period. It was Wear whose brilliant pass, after being chased backward and forward for 50 yards, defeated Bucknell.

When Penn State's attack bogged down against the Brown and White from Lehigh on Saturday, home fans were calling for Rabbit Wear to enter the game as an usual sparkplug the Nittany Lions in a whirlwind finish.

But Rabbit was a forlorn figure on the bench. For the first time in his playing career he was definitely a bench warmer. He had dislocated a vertebra on the afternoon before—pulling off his headgear!

Grid Fans! Can You Answer These?

Rate yourself as a football fan. The spectator who has a right to be a Monday-morning quarterback ought to get at least eight correct. An intelligent fan should get above six. Anyone below that figure should count himself out when it comes time to comment on football. Answers appear on page 4.

1. A Team A forward pass is intercepted by a Team B player in his end zone. He is tackled before he can carry it back over the goal line. What is the ruling?

2. Two members of Team A signal for a fair catch. One muffs the catch and the other picks the ball up from the ground and races for a touchdown. Ruling?

3. Playing against a strong defensive team on a day when there is no wind, as captain and having won the toss, would you kickoff or receive?

4. A quarterback, what would you call with ten minutes left in the fourth period, fourth down, inches to go, and score 14-0 in your favor, with the ball on your 49-yard line?

5. Team A forward passes from behind its goal line and the ball hits the ground in the end zone, bounces up and is caught by a Team A player who is tackled on the one-yard line. He fumbles and the ball is recovered in the end zone by a Team B player before it touches the ground. What is the ruling?

6. Team A forward passes from its 48-yard line and the ball is caught on the 13-yard stripe by an ineligible receiver of Team A who is run out of bounds on the two-yard line. What is the ruling?

7. As quarterback you notice a defensive halfback limping. What would you call?

8. As offensive center you notice a defensive player go offside before the signal to pass the ball is given. What would you do? What would you do if there were a teammate offside?

9. Ball is kicked by Team A from behind the goal line, crosses the line of scrimmage and after hitting a Team A player on the six-yard line, bounces back into the end zone and is recovered by a second member of Team A, who punts it back to the 16-yard line. What is the ruling?

10. How many of Penn State's opponents remain undefeated? Why?

Taylor Tallies In 1st Period, Miehoff 2nd

Determination of Elis To Cover Megaril Opens Defense

Another victory, another milestone in the 1937 soccer season successfully passed. That was the outcome of Penn State's third game when the Lions journeyed to New Haven to mete out a 2-0 defeat to the Bulldogs of Yale on Saturday.

Av Taylor opened the scoring for the Jeffreymen when he sank a rebound from the cross-bar in the first quarter. Miehoff had attempted the shot that Taylor converted.

Miehoff Tallies

The score remained 1-0 until the next period. Then, Miehoff snared a pass from Taylor and tallied the last point for the Lions. Later in the game, both Taylor and Miehoff came close to scoring when their shots hit the cross-bar.

Obviously, Yale had heard of Frank Megaril as State's only dangerous scoring menace, for the Elis, in their determination to keep him covered, often sacrificed the efficiency of their defense. It was this that led to the tallies and serious threats by Miehoff and Taylor.

Defense Shines

For State, Bob Schuler, Walt Painter, and Fred Spyer sparked on the defense. Phelps, playing a good game at goal for Yale, was hard-pressed by the brilliant attacks of Miehoff, Taylor, and Carl Wacker. On the Yale line, the work of Erikson and Pond was outstanding.

The Jeffreymen's passing attacks were both clever and deceptive. The team functioned with its usual complete organization—the greatest asset to any soccer team.

Next Game With Temple

Philadelphia will be the scene of the next booting battle when the Lions meet Temple on Saturday. The Owls dropped to Franklin and Marshall, 2-1, last Friday. Never a strong opponent, Temple is expected to throw little obstruction in the Lions' path of victories.

Coach Bill Jeffrey believes the Syracuse game will be the climax of the season, with the possibility that the Army contest will present an anti-climax. The West Pointers topped Syracuse, 1-0, while Springfield, always, a top-notch, handed the Orange its second defeat by a 3-2 score.

Cub Team Smothers Bisons, 31-0, As Whole Squad Shines

Marty McAndrews' grid freshmen rode over to Bucknell Saturday to ride roughshod over a weak Bucknell eleven to the tune of 31-0 before a Dad's Day crowd of 1,200. The yearlings were complete masters of the afternoon, gaining 11 first downs as against two for the Baby Bisons, and keeping the Bucknellians under the shadow of their goal-posts throughout the game.

The Bisons were able to work the ball into State territory but twice. Clark, substitute back, advanced the ball 15 yards on a reverse to State's 40-yard line in the second quarter. It was the nearest the Baby Bisons came to a touchdown. In the first three plays of the game, Eyster, Serrao, and Cummings rushed the ball to the Nittany's 48 but here the yearlings held and forced the Bisons to kick.

Peters Runs 70 Yards

On State's first play, acting captain Chuck Peters cut through right tackle, reversed his field to the sidelines and slipped past the safety man to cross the goal line standing up after a brilliant 70-yard run. However, the score didn't count inasmuch as Referee Hahn ruled that Chuck stepped on the sideline on Bucknell's 45.

The Lions advanced to the 36 and called on Craig White to kick. He punted to the sidelines, and the ball rolled out of bounds on the Bisons' two-yard stripe. Serrao dropped back behind his goal to punt out of danger, but the entire State front wall crashed through to block the kick. George Smith, guard, fell on the ball to give State the lead, 6-0. Johnny Patrick's try for extra point went wide.

Kniaz Receivers

Another blocked punt paved the way for the Lions' second score. With the ball on his 29-yard line, Serrao booted to State's 35. The Bisons took an offside penalty against the Nittany team which brought the ball back to their own 34 with four to go for a first down. A plunge netted a yard and, again Serrao dropped back to punt.

Again the entire line ripped through to block Serrao's kick and Wally Kniaz, tackle, recovered for State on the Bisons' 29. Harvey Beahm, on a fake reverse, knifed over center to the 25, where he fumbled, and Shipman, Bucknell tackle, recovered on the 21. Running two plays for two yards, Serrao punted poorly to his 44 that Beahm advanced to the 40. On a reverse, White raced 30 yards behind good interference to the 10. The first quarter ended with the ball on the five.

An offside penalty put the ball on the one-yard line from where Beahm cracked right tackle for the score. Patrick again missed the extra point.

Yearlings Threaten at Half

An exchange of punts gave the yearlings possession on the midfield stripe. White, running wide on a reverse, sped 22 yards to the Bisons' 28. A double lateral, Charles Kopach to Tom Vargo to Beahm gained 13 yards to the 15 to end the half.

The freshmen scored their third touchdown after a march of 76 yards in seven plays. With the ball on his own 24-yard line, Peters gained three

8 Fraternities Form Grid Loop

Not content with their regular intramural football activity, Locust Lane fraternities organized an eight-team league over the week-end under the leadership of Ned King, Delta Tau Delta. A trophy, emblematic of the league championship, will be awarded to the survivor of the double-elimination tournament. Intramural rules will prevail.

Opening the schedule Sunday afternoon, Chi Phi whipped Theta Xi, 12-6, with Frank Whitman scoring both touchdowns for the winners on long passes from Bob Paisley.

Other fraternities entered in the circuit are Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Delta Rho, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Beta Sigma Rho, and Delta Sigma Phi.

Meanwhile, five more teams invaded the second round of the College streamlined football tourney.

Irvin Hall 12, Delta Sigma Phi 0

Returning the opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, Irvin Hall ripped Delta Sigma Phi, 12-0.

Seizing the kickoff, Aaron Wagner sparked a razzle-dazzle display with a short toss to Bob Brownyard. Brownyard ran past midfield, lateraled
