Speidel Reviews Wrestling Talent

Al Zazzi Moves Up To 145-Pound Class; Shaffer, Bachman Without Competition

With only a skeleton squad left from his 1937 Eastern Intercollegiate wrestling championship team, Coach Charlie Speidel has been scouring more than 70 aspirants every afternoon since Thanksgiving in an effort to find talent to fill in his graduation weakened team.

Last June, Speidel saw Jack Light, Joe Krupa, and Captain Joe O'Dowd, three of his five champions, receive their diplomas and leave him with a crippled squad. The graduation of Johnny Calvin and Dick Eisenman put another spike in Speidel's fast-moving team.

Two Champions Remain Captain Ross Shaffer and Aldo Zazzi are the only two remaining champions and around them Speidel will build his 12th Nittany wrestling team. The Craighhead twins are still deceiving their coach in the matter of identity although Ray Brooks is coming into the picture to break up the family monopoly of the 126-pound class.

And the solid fact back of that growth is this: General Motors cars must continually offer more in terms of extra value to win those sales.
