

Spartans Beat Lions, 75-51 As Vukmanic Breaks Record

Nick Vukmanic set a new Penn State javelin record on his initial varsity throw and broke it with a throw of 213 feet, 5 1/2 inches in his second attempt, but Michigan State's runners overpowered the Lion trackmen, 75-51, in the opening outdoor spring sport event at New Beaver Field Friday afternoon.

Although Pete Olexy failed to overcome Kenny Waite's jinx, he scored the only first place for the Nittanymen in the track events, winning the two-mile with a beautiful finishing kick. Dick Frey and Harold Sparks of the Spartans pressed Olexy all the way, with Frank Maule hanging on for fourth. Bill Smith, weakened by several days in the infirmary, was unable to match the pace.

Lions Weak In Sprints
Harvey Woodstra and Wilbur Greer, ace hurdler and sprinter respectively, were double winners for the Spartans. Woodstra carried off top honors in both the 120 high and 220 low hurdles. Greer recorded fast wins in the 100 and 220 sprints.

The Lions' weakness in the dashes, enabled Michigan State to sweep the 220 with Greer, Bob Adeock, and Rudy Yovonovitch placing one-two-three. Dave Bauer of State scored a third in the century, coming in behind Greer and Adeock, as the Michigan speedster registered 9.8 seconds.

With Woodstra leading his teammates, the green-clad Spartans took first and second in the high hurdles and first in the lows. Miller Frazier took a second for the Lions in the 220 low timbers, and Bauer placed third in both races.

Bob Hills and Ray Fehr won the 440 and 880 respectively for Michigan State in close races with the Lions chalking up second and third places. Charley Pierce and Dick Yohn chased Hills across, and Bill Griest pushed Fehr with Pierce taking third in the quarter. Waite, visiting captain, ran a beautiful mile to capture the "feud" race from Olexy, Maule winning a second.

Two Lions and one Spartan ended in a three-way deadlock for top honors in the high jump at six feet one inch. Vic Sandham and Dick Smith led the Nittanymen to tie Cyril Moore. Bill Cramer lost a victory for State in the broad jump by one-half inch as Moore recorded another win with a leap of 21 feet eight inches.

Suggestions Asked For Senior Gift

Suggestions to the '38 gift committee for a gift to the College from the graduating class would be appreciated, Jack Mallory, chairman of the committee, announced today.

Following are some of the suggestions that the committee has submitted: an astronomical observatory, murals for Old Main, flag poles for Beaver field, a flood-lighting project for Old Main, contribution to the radio station, and a class scholarship.

Peel, Brown, Engage In Hot Verbal Fight

From Committee is a political tool. If there were any other reason he certainly neglected to give it when he had the opportunity.

"Peel's attitude in attempting our honest and constructive criticism of the cheap junior blazer and the student book store is hard to understand. While we question the necessity of increasing the amount of paid members on the blazer committee, we are quite as curious as Peel is to find the result of his experiment.

"Of course if Peel feels that anything he does is beyond criticism our suggestions may be classed as 'dirty campaigning'."

"We are not forcing any fraternity-non-fraternity showdown. There are those outstanding non-fraternity juniors on this year's ticket and there are twenty more non-fraternity men, from all seven schools on the campus, representing at least one-third of the non-fraternity group, who played a part in formulating this year's campus platform and in nominating this year's campus ticket.

"We must suggest that Peel read his last year's campaign literature. When the fraternity group was split between two cliques, the Independents attempted to build up a non-fraternity spirit. Any non-fraternity man who dared to join a fraternity clique was 'knifing his own group in the back.' Yet, one short year later, all that has been forgotten and Peel goes around offering committee jobs to fraternity men in exchange for their support.

"This is hardly consistent with Peel's desire for 'clean politics.' We sincerely hope that the entire student body will consider both sides to the question involved."

STAN BROWN,
Candidate
W. ROCKMAKER,
Clique chairman

Joe Peel had the following statement for the Collegian today:

"Still standing weakly as their last line of political bluffery is Campus cries against my not naming the Junior Prom dance committee. That question has been discussed pro and con at Student Board and I had my choice. The dance is still five weeks off and as I said before I promised the student body that my future action would prove to them that I have used their office honestly and efficiently.

"Everything that I have done as class president has been beneficial to the class as a whole and not to a few. I appeal to the voters not by a multitude of wild promises or coercion; but by being their representative and carrying out the Independent platform for their betterment.

"Therefore, anyone who claims that I have promised a position on the Junior Prom dance committee as 'political bait,' I invite that person or those persons to forget subtle political generalizations and step forward with proof.

"The Campus politicians are endeavoring to use every bit of dirty campaign practice to beat me—but I stand on a record which so far they have obviously not challenged. Their 'big money type of dollar campaigning and mud-slinging' is their sole political background; while I am running as the elected president of the Junior class and one officer who made true his platform pledges."

Speidel Predicts Rise Of East In Wrestling

Mounting interest in high school wrestling in Pennsylvania and elsewhere in the East presages an end to the West's domination in that sport, Lion wrestling coach, Charlie Speidel, told the Clearfield high school wrestling squad which was being honored at a Kiwanis banquet there last week. Speidel stressed the influence of high-school wrestling on the collegiate sport by pointing to the successes of Oklahoma's collegiate wrestlers. He said that Oklahoma has sponsored high school wrestling for 20 years. The Clearfield team, with three titlists, was the unofficial prize winning team at the state wrestling interscholastics held here recently.
