Senior Class Will Give Observatory

regardless of what action the class took.

Speaking in favor of the observatory, Howard S. Coleman '38 contended that the "low cost" of the units, estimated at $1,000 each, did not necessarily mean they would not be "beautiful or durable," because each unit would only be 14 feet square and the diameter of the aluminum tops capping the telescopes would be only 40 feet.

"Nothing is more lasting than an astronomical instrument," Coleman added. "An observatory doesn't deteriorate in a few years."

Kennon intervenes

With a bitter battle impending between the two factions, John D. Kennon, senior class president, intervened, claiming that either one of the proposals would be an "excellent memorial for our class" and that it was improper for partisan students to continue berating the proposal which they did not favor.

PANTHER'S LEADING FOUR

Shown above are four members of Pitt's star-studded track squad whom the Lions meet tomorrow. Woodruff, 800 meter Olympic champ, will run the middle distances, while Ryden hurdes. Mason is a dash man and Bazyk takes care of the weight events.

Woodruff To Lead Pitt In 24th Meeting

By BILL ENGEL

With the Nittany Lion meeting the Pitt Panther on the cinder paths of the Stadium in Pittsburgh tomorrow, the nation's track circles will view a dual battle that promises to be the keenest match for each of the squads, and a highlight of the eastern season.

The annual rivalry on the track between the two schools began in 1907 and Penn State has won 17 of the 23 encounters. Last year the Lions edged the Panthers, 74-61, after dropping three in a row to Coach Olsen's men. State was decisively trimmed in 1934 and 1935, but holds the highest tally recorded in the series, a 107 to 28 defeat handed Pitt in 1925.

Johnny Woodruff, 800 meter Olympic champion in 1936, tops Olsen's star-studded roster opposing Coach Chick Werner's men. The colored ace garnered three first places in last year's meet on New Beaver Field, and will probably start in the 440, 880, and mile again.

Vukmanic to Compete

Nick Vukmanic, out of action because of a lame arm since he broke the javelin record in the Penn Relays, will leave the spear tomorrow to boost Lion hopes considerably. Vukmanic heads a Nittany entry list of 28 men.

Besides Woodruff, Pitt offers such opposition as Capt. Dick Mason and Frank Ohl in the sprints, Ken Ryden over the hurdles, Walt Steiner in the two mile, Pete Bennett, high jumping, and Johnny Bazyk tossing the shot and discus. Ohl, only a sophomore, is perhaps Pitt's best all-around bet, participating in the 100, 220, 440, and broad jump. Mason, a 3.8 century runner, annexed the I. C. 4-A, 100 and 200 metre championships in 1936.

Pete Olexy, back in the fold after an extended layoff, is slated to join Bill Smith and Frank Maule in the two mile jaunt. Olexy has been taking regular daily workouts and may return to his old-time form in time for the annual outdoor intercollegiate, scheduled for New York, June 3-4. Maule and Norm Gordon will run the mile.

Report To R.O.T.C. Before Exams

All students who have conflict examinations scheduled at the time of a regularly scheduled R. O. T. C. class should report at the Army at the beginning of the R. O. T. C. class, R. V. Watkins, College scheduling officer, announced yesterday.

Frizzell To Celebrate 10 Years as Chaplain

Prof. John H. Frizzell, head of the division of speech, will complete 10 years of service as chaplain of the College on Sunday. He will speak at the weekly chapel program.

Prof. Frizzell came to Penn State in 1922 and has remained on the faculty since then with the exception of six years during which he was principal of the Boys High School at Reading and field secretary for the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

ness of coordination and grace of movement as to be completely deceptive in its functional effectiveness. And he is the type of boy that parents hope to have in charge of their own children when they send them to school or camp.

Bill Jeffrey, soccer—"He's no Biebeck, he's no McEwan, but he was good enough in the eyes of all the eastern soccer coaches who saw him play to be placed on the all-Eastern team. He is a marvelous team player, and he has undoubtedly done more to bring glory to Penn State than any other single athlete in my 12 years here."

Joe Bedenk, baseball—"Michoff is perhaps the greatest defensive outfielder ever to wear a Penn State uniform. He is one of the smartest base runners I have ever seen and is enthusiastic, not only about baseball, but about every sport. Sol is easily handled and would certainly be an asset to any coach's ball team."

And here's what a few other Nittany Lion athletic celebrities had to say:

Joe Proksa, basketball co-captain with Michoff—"I am happy to acknowledge the Collegian's choice of Sol Michoff. He has finally been recognized for his contribution to Penn State. It was a pleasure to work with Sol, and I'm sure he'll continue in his future with the same gameness that he showed in his playing."

Ben Simonelli, baseball captain—"I've played on the same team with Sol for three years. He's a great little guy and an inspiration to any athlete."

Fred Spyster, soccer captain-elect—"I am certainly glad Michoff got the award. He's a swell guy, and certainly deserved it. I'm glad the Collegian started it—a good idea."

Sam Donato, boxing captain and football co-captain—"Great kid and great athlete."

P.S.C.A. Elects White New Board Chairman

At the annual spring elections of the Christian Association the following officers of the board of directors for the year 1938-39 were chosen: chairman of the board, Prof. Marsh L. White; vice chairman, Prof. A. Pauline Locklin; treasurer, Prof. Donald D. Stevenson; and assistant treasurer, Prof. John H. Ferguson.

Newly elected members from the faculty whose terms will expire in 1940 are Dean Ralph L. Watts, Prof. John H. Ferguson, Prof. Arthur P. Honess, Prof. Frank C. Stewart, and Miss Elizabeth C. Bell.

Newly elected student members of the board with terms of one year's duration are Phyllis Herzog '39, Vivian S. A. Doty '39, Edward K. Kraybill '39, J. Duane Moore '39, William Sprekel '39, and Italo A. De Angelis '39, ex officio.

Jack Reichenbach, basketball—"There is no doubt that Michoff is the outstanding senior. A better choice could not be made. He is a natural as far as athletics is concerned. He is outstanding too because of his modesty. He didn't go out for sports in order to gain prominence. He's a natural and a swell guy."

Mel Vonarx, baseball—"Sol is the greatest athlete with whom I have ever played."

Joe Adessa, baseball and football—"Sol's a swell fellow and certainly deserving of some such award."

Jack Mallory, soccer—"I could say a helluva lot about that fellow, but I don't know just how to start. He's one of the best boys and best sportsmen I have played any sport with, and a fine fellow all around."

Av Taylor, soccer—"Sol's the best all-around athlete I have ever known. He's such a good sport about everything that it's really a pleasure to play on a team with him."

Bill Borda, soccer—"Michoff is the best ball handler I've seen in my four years here. He's well liked by the fellows—but you've probably been told that before."

Woody Hosterman, soccer—"He's one of the finest all-around athletes I've had the pleasure of playing with."

Bob Smith, baseball manager—"Nobody'd rather see have the award than Solly."

And so, on and on—

Sol B. Michoff, you have given your best for Penn State—you will soon be graduated with the honest realization of being, truly, a man without an enemy—may you have the good fortune you justly deserve.
