Nine Students Constructing 6-Inch Astronomy Telescopes

Yeagley Estimates Light Gathering Power At 2400 Times That Of Naked Eye

Nine students have almost completed the construction of 6-inch astronomical telescopes under the supervision of Dr. Henry L. Yeagley, of the department of physics, as part of their academic studies in the Summer Session.

The telescopes will have a magnification power of from 50 to 400 times and will be approximately 2400 times as powerful as the naked eye.

WE THANK...

In this our last issue of the Summer Collegian we find ourselves indebted to several people who have helped us make this paper a success.

So we thank:

ROBERT E. GALBRAITH—whose readable book column has sent many of us scurrying to lending libraries and book stores to "peruse the latest in fiction and travel."

ARLENE DEMMY—who has aided us by contributing several stories and even wrote three headlines one night that we were hard pressed.

WILFRED WASCOE—who wrote a "Footlights" column one time and then got disgusted (and rightly so) with us for messing it up.

VARIOUS OTHER personages on the campus who by their criticism and help aided us in producing a better paper. Included in this group are Dean Warnock, Dean Ray, Public Information, Mrs. Bowman, Don Sanders of the Centre Daily Times, Dr. Weaver, education, John Miller and Ray Morgan also in the education administration department, and Prof. J. Burn Helme.

Bottomoff To Play At Free Dance Tonight

Bill Bottomoff has been chosen to play for the Commencement Dance at 10 o'clock tonight in Recreation Hall. Admission to the dance will be free but presentation of matriculation card is requested.

Bottomoff was selected because of the popularity of his music at the previous dances at which he furnished the music.

This last social affair of the Summer Session will continue to 1 o'clock. Prior to the dance a group of one-act plays will be given in the Schwab auditorium.

Women's Buildings Are Near Completion As Session Closes

Structures Begun Year Ago Receive Finishing Touches; Authority Units 30 Percent Done

As Summer Session draws to a noisy close, the College's $5,500,000 building program continues its rapid pace. Of this $5,500,000, $1,500,000 was raised by a private bond issue of the College.

The two women's buildings, Frances Atherton Hall, a dormitory for girls, and the Mary Beaver White Recreation building, are now in their final stages of construction.

This week, workmen began installing the electrical fixtures in Atherton hall. Already completed are the rooms and the hallways are getting the last touches of plaster and paint. The kitchen equipment has been installed and the dining rooms are being paneled.

Put Lights In Pool

In the women's activities building, workmen have placed underwater lights in the 75-foot pool. The halls and rooms are being cleaned of excess concrete and the wiring is being finished.

Fredland and Company are expected to be entirely finished by the first of the week. Last Tuesday they began to rid the campus of the lumber used in the construction of tunnels. Ready for seeding is the large furlow area in front of Old Main.

In the meanwhile, McCloskey and Company of Philadelphia are 30 percent completed in their schedule which calls for leaving the campus January 31, 1939. Brickwork has begun on the Agricultural Engineering building which is the furthest along.

On the Forestry building stone-work is now being laid at the base. All the steel and pouring of floors is finished. The first three floors of the Agricultural Sciences building are now poured and preparations are being made to pour the last.

All the steel is now in place in the Library and Education building. At the beginning of the session, none of the steel was even begun. Pouring of floors in these two units began on Wednesday.

Plastering of the rooms in the North and South wings of the Liberal Arts building is now under way. Outside the steel work is almost up. Next steel to be put up will be the Electrical Engineering building where the caisson foundations are 75 percent complete.

Brickwork on the Mineral Industries wing is being laid while the Sevice building is almost completed. About one-half of the steel in the Poultry unit is raised.

Charlie Smith To Lead Watomough Orchestra

Because of the graduation of Booth Watomough, former head of Booth Watomough and his orchestra, Charlie Smith has taken over the band for the coming academic year.

Watomough's Orchestra was the one selected by the Collegian for their free dance early last October. Most of the personnel of the band will be unchanged. Smith will make his headquarters at Phi Delta Theta, and the band will become known as "Charlie Smith and His Orchestra."

3,093 Enrolled Latest Bissey Count Shows

The latest count of this Summer's registration totals 3,093, a release from the Statistical office said today. Of this number, 2,869 are resident summer students.

In the Altoona branch of the Summer Session, 175 persons are enrolled with 42 people taking courses in the Nature Camp. A special group of seven persons are taking an art course in England where they are studying child art in the British Isles.

Bring Out Individual Differences—Betts

Dr. Emmett A. Betts, research professor in education at the College, told the principals' and superintendents' conference last week it was time to try to bring out individual differences of pupils instead of trying to cast them into the same moulds by a graded school system.

"The world outside capitalizes on individual differences and the time has come when teachers must cease trying to make all pupils in any one grade alike as two peas in a pod."

Hostesses Named For Atherton Hall

Bell, Pope, Searle, Wiedner To Chaperone Each Of 4 Units In Building

Miss Betty Bell, Mrs. Gail Pope, Mrs. Anna Searle, and Miss Ruth Wiedner, were named as hostesses to the Frances Atherton Hall, the new girls' dormitory now nearing completion, Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, announced yesterday.

The dormitory, which will house 504 girls, next fall will be divided into four units, three reserved for the upperclass women, each to be chaperoned by one of the above women. The northwest unit will be for the first year girls and will accommodate about 125 of them.

To Chaperone Freshmen

Miss Bell, assistant to the dean of women in charge of Freshmen, will continue that position and will also serve as hostess to the Freshman unit. She will have two senior students assist her in managing the unit.

Miss Wiedner, who graduated last January from the College, will chaperone the northeast unit of upperclass girls and will also act as health adviser to the entire hall. She was the dormitory nurse in McAlister hall while a student here.

Mrs. Pope of Franklin, and Mrs. Searle of Peart River, N. Y., will act as counselor to the other two units.

Lay Forestry Stone Monday; Wats Talks

The first cornerstone to be laid in the buildings being constructed under the PWA General State Authority program was at the Forestry building Monday morning. Dean Ralph L. Wats, agriculture, delivered the address.

Included in the box for the cornerstone were photographs of Dr. E. E. Fenow, John A. Ferguson, Dean Wats and the old Forestry building. A piece of wood from the old building was placed in the stone along with copies of the Collegian, ten bulletins and circulars on forestry subjects, and three other publications.
