

600 Workmen Rush To Complete Buildings By February

Eleven New Structures May Not Be Ready For 2nd Semester Opening

Over 600 workmen are now speeding up work on the eleven new buildings which are expected to be completed some time in February, James McCloskey, assistant to the superintendent, announced yesterday.

The number of workmen include those directly employed by the McCloskey Company and its numerous sub-contractors. Originally planned to have been completed by January, the construction is now expected to be finished a month later.

The present status of the buildings which were made possible by an allocation of $5,000,000 to the College by the last legislature, is as follows:

- Agricultural Engineering and Forestry—Exterior brick work being completed, setting of limestone in progress.
- Agricultural Science—Setting limestone; preparing for brick work.
- Poultry—Shingles being put on, experimental unit being framed, working on board ceiling.
- Service—Complete except for center block portion.
- Mineral Industries—Walls in progress, limestone being set up.
- Electrical Engineering—Special class room foundations completed; steel erected.
- Library and Education—Limestone and facebrick ready to be set.
- Liberal Arts—Framing floors and pouring concrete.
- Chemistry and Physics—Pouring in progress for footings.

New Trustee Is Appointed

Kenzie S. Bagshaw Fills Post Vacated By Death Of Chester Tyson

Kenzie S. Bagshaw, Hollidaysburg, has been named a member of the College Board of Trustees, J. Franklin Shields, president of the board, announced yesterday. Bagshaw succeeds Chester J. Tyson, Gaidneis, deceased.

Shields also announced appointment of James Milholland of Pittsburgh to the place on the executive committee which was vacated by Tyson's death. Milholland will serve until the next election of the executive committee in January.

Student Governmental System Here Parallels 'Check-and-Balance' Plan

Following the idea of organized legislation, the College Administration, in conjunction with Men's Student Government, operates an extensive governmental system controlling the general activity of the men.

Headed by Joseph A. Peel, senior class president, the principal groups include Student Board, Student Council, and Student Tribunal. A Student Union Board, an Interclass Finance Committee, and a separate Student Council for the School of Agriculture are all active.

Student Board Supreme
The highest governmental body in the system is the Student Board with Peel as chairman and Raymond S. Caskery '39 as secretary. The Board, composed of the three upperclass presidents, the Collegian editor, two other members of the Senior Class, one of the Junior Class, and the Dean of Men, has the final powers over all men's activities. Class elections and general student conduct also are controlled by this body.

The power to initiate legislation concerning the welfare of the men's student body and the supervision of all customs and traditions of the College is given to the Student Council. Peel also heads this executive group while Willard D. Hoot '39 is secretary.

Members of the Council include the Senior Class president and vice-president, Collegian editor, Interfraternity Council president, Penn State Club president, the presidents of the Junior and Sophomore classes, three seniors elected at-large, and representatives from the three upperclasses for each of the six schools.

Tribunal Enforces Customs
Student Tribunal is the interpreting body for Men's Freshman customs and makes the decisions on infractions of these customs and traditions. Composed of five seniors, the 1938-39 Tribunal includes Bernard A. Briggs, Herbert B. Cahlan, Joseph F. Cohan, Victor E. Gentelman, and George W. Yockley.

Student Union and Interclass Finance committees cooperate with the Administration in operating the extra-curricula group and class budgets respectively. Caskery is president of the former group and John C. Rev '39 heads the finance committee.

Arnaud C. Matis, head of a firm that acts as financial counselors for philanthropic institutions, is the new president of Bucknell University.

Puss Erwin, Texas Christian University ace-shot-putter, practices for 15 minutes a day in front of the mirror.

Liberal Arts Units Definitely Will Open For First Semester

The North and South Liberal Arts Buildings will definitely be open for classes when the semester opens Wednesday afternoon, it was announced yesterday.

Offices, however, will not be available. The two Liberal Arts units were broken through from the sides for the purpose of connecting them with the middle unit, now under construction.

The U formed by the buildings will face the new Education Building.

Chem Deposit Plan Changed

Students Must Pay Breakeage Fee At Bursar's; Will Get Punch Card

Collection of breakeage deposits, required of all students carrying chemistry courses, will be handled under a new system this year.

Students are required to go to the Bursar's office with their schedule cards and deposit the necessary amount of money. In return, they will receive a regulation "punch card" which will admit them to the course.

The professor in charge will punch the indicated block on the card as the student receives the different utensils. At the end of the semester, a thorough checkup of the student's locker will be made and an immediate refund will be available at the Bursar's office.

The following is a list of the Chemistry courses with their required breakeage deposit:

- Chemistry 1, 2, 3, 42, and 43—$6.00
- Chem 4, 27, 48, 55, 56, and 421—$9.00
- Chem 20, 21, 31, 434 (5 credits)—$12.00
- Chem 22, 24, 25, 33, 52, 53, 54, 57, 58, 90, 426, 434 (3 cr.), and Chem Eng 4 and 6—$10.00
- Chem 30 and 437—$4.00
- Chem 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, and Chem Eng 425—$2.00

PSCA Names Counsellors For Freshman Meetings

During Freshman Week, freshmen will be put into small groups with two upperclass counsellors in charge of each group.

The meetings with the counsellors, as designed by the Penn State Christian Association, is a means for the new students to have their questions and problems explained.
