

Booters Crush Terrors, 12-0; Harriers Take Over Lehigh

Record Shattered As Megrail Leads Squad To 3rd Win

By EMANUEL ROTH

Piling up the biggest score in Penn State soccer history, Bill Jeffrey's Lion booters ripped through the Green Terror's Western Maryland defense as they annexed their third consecutive victory of the season 12-0 on New Beaver Field Saturday afternoon.

The triumph, State's thirty-fifth since 1932, brought them one notch nearer a sixth consecutive undefeated season.

Center-forward Franny Megrail, balked by an injured knee in the first two contests, led State's scoring as he rocketed four goals into the net. He was leading scorer of the squad last season.

First Period Deadlocked
The opening period saw the Terriers and Terrors deadlocked in a battle for the ball. Tomlinson, Maryland wingman, narrowly missed the net in two attempts for goals after Bob Schuler's penalty kick was blocked by Dooly. At the goal for the Terriers.
Spiker tackled the ball, dribbled it towards goal, but Hosterman and Megrail voided the offensive with outside hoofs. Barkdoll, star Maryland center-halfback, later snatched the leather from Gus Biehoff, wingman, and kicked it out of scrimmage.

Lions Open Drive
The Lions opened their "big push" in the second period with a sparkling display of precision passing and geared combination which left the fighting Terrors helpless.
Megrail crossed to Buck Painter but the ball sailed too high from Painter's toes to score. Spiker tried next, but the omniscient Barkdoll frustrated his pass to Hosterman. Bigott retaliated, and again Bob Ernst, co-wingerman, headed the ball over the net.
Megrail finally came through with a surprise goal into the right corner from center and followed up by a second tally on a successful penalty kick. Bigott yanked the ball from a scramble three feet from goal and took credit for State's next score. Megrail topped off the half with his third tally, after a Bigott-Hosterman pass.

It was Megrail again in the third period as he scored on a bullet shot after two minutes of play. The Terriers touched Lion ground but once in the quarter while Ernst, Miller and Hartman pierced the shattered Maryland defense for three more scores.
Tomlinson, outside right, led the Terrors in outstanding offensive work throughout the period.
Bill Miller missed twice as the final quarter opened before he shot the ball over Dooly's hand for a second goal.
Hosterman tugged twice, and why Charlie Taylor, substituting for Ernst, squeezed in another goal to end State's charge.
The 1938 Terriers to date amassed 17 goals. None have been scored against them.

Olympic Hope

Olexy's Ambition Is Berth On Olympics

A berth on the 1940 Olympic team, his secret ambition, Petey Olexy, captain of last year's cross-country team and present freshman harrier mentor, has definitely decided not to hang up his spikes. Although ineligible for Collegiate competition, Olexy has been conditioning throughout the summer and on Nov. 6 will make his debut as a member of the Millrose A. A. cross-country team, of New York City, when he runs in the Metropolitan five-mile championship in Yonkers, N. Y.

Three weeks later, Nov. 27, Petey will attempt to uphold the Millrose A. A. colors when they defend the National A. A. U. cross-country championship in Newark, N. J. Asked to join Mei Shepard, member of the National Long Distance Running Committee and an official at the Millrose Athletic Association, invited Olexy to join the Millrose team.

The Metropolitan five-mile run will be the first real competition facing the young coach since the Michigan State track meet last spring when he very handsily took first honors.
Combining his coaching duties with plenty of daily road-work, Olexy orders that his proteges try and catch up with him when "doing the course".

Saturday, his Cub organization will attempt to uphold the build-up they've been getting when they travel to Ithaca and face a highly touted Cornell frosh team.

Stickwielders Begin Training Syracuse Triumphs Over Frosh Gridders By 20-0

In an attempt to mold a good lacrosse team as last year's which had the most successful season of any stick team since the inception of the sport here in 1911, Nick Thiel hustled himself far in advance and called out his charges of 19 or more variety material to go through their paces.
Wielding the sticks and flinging the ball to one another, the boys use every day enjoying the ideal training conditions.
Captain Ray Coskey is spending much of his time with the freshmen. Teaching them the fine points, Coskey, at the same time, is spotting ill-advancing material.
Although faced with the loss of such stand-out performers as Captain Selly Cohn, Joe Proksa, Al Simpson, Joe Snook, and Joe Anzukits, Thiel is enthusiastic over the return of Bart Busa who starred on the '37 team and who was ineligible for last year's team.
Busa, a fast, tricky stickwielder, will fall into one of the attack positions.
Because he was too fast even as a defensive man, Coach Thiel has definitely decided this year that he will convert George Ritter to one of the attack positions. Last year, Ritter played a few minutes as attack man in one of the variety games and he had the opponents dazzled, scoring at will.
Others from last year's variety squad expected to gain starting berths this year are Andy Klaus, Harry Hauth, Warren Elliot, Ott Wenschel, Ralph DePalco, Johnny Price, Hoyt Drake, Dan Hess, Roger Sharp, and Gentler, McHugh and Myers.

plays. Flanking a pass, Harrison weaved through the weak side of the line, reversed his field, and scored the touchdown standing up.
Harrison Tallies Again
Twice again before the quarter ended, Harrison registered touchdowns from State's 42 to Lehigh's 28, the Lions sent "Zapper Harry" loose for the second score, and he circled right end from the one-yard line to the third after a drive of 45 yards.
Sam Kopach's pass interception deep in Engineer territory and slight thrusts by Rollins placed State on the 7 shortly after the second period began. Illegal use of hands sent the Lions back 15 yards, but a deceptive reverse, Peters to Rollins, brought the total to 26-0.
A fumble by Norm Avei, full-back, recovered by Kopach led to the fifth touchdown with Ikes going over twice on the same type of play. His first attempt was nullified when State was off-side, but the second try was good. Another tricky reverse, Ikes to White, following Harrison's pass interception, sent White racing 61 yards to the touchdown giving the Blue and White a 39-0 advantage at halftime.

Wait Sprints 66 Yards
Numerous penalties and frequent substitutions in the second half throttled the touchdown parade to some extent, but six minutes after the third quarter got under way, Ewalt broke loose on a reverse from Metro and sprinted 66 yards for six points. It was the longest run of the day.
Peter's fumble was offset by Metro's pass interception and shortly after the two collaborated to chalk up the eighth touchdown. Peters, surrounded by Lehigh tacklers, tossed a wild pass from the 11 to the end zone which fell into Metro's outstretched arms for the score.

Between The Lions

By HERB CAHAN Sports-Editor
Now don't let's get all het up about Saturday's overwhelming victory over Lehigh. Let's face the facts and then begin to worry about what is going to happen next Saturday against a great Cornell team, on the rebound from a last minute upset at the hands of Syracuse.
First of all, Lehigh was sadly overrated. It has been pointed out that our blocking looked exceptionally good because the Engineers were easy to take out. Then again, their secondary was slow—easy for Penn State's feet backs to outrun.
The fact that Lehigh completed only one out of twenty passes attempted was a combination of poor passing on their part, and an improved pass defense on the part of the Nittany Lions. This pass defense will get a real test against Cornell and will have to be tight up to snuff to stop Syracuse's sharpshooters, Wilmoth Stat Singh the following Saturday.
The team as a whole played as well Saturday as they did against Maryland in the opener. Every time State got the ball it was a potential touchdown and this was reflected in the surprising score.
As for the stars of the game, Penn State's ball carriers—Harrison, Rollins, Ikes, Peters, White, Cicca, Ewalt, etc.—all handled themselves capably, and the line still looks like the best that Penn State has seen in a long time.
The boys really looked great—weak opposition or not—running lanes worked to perfection—two laterals were used effectively and it was just one of those days when everything clicks. Luckily, passes were not needed—but if the running attack can be used as successfully against Cornell—well you can never tell what is liable to happen—look at all the upsets last Saturday—perhaps.

Leo Houck, who found Soose to be one of his greatest pupils while under his tutelage here at Penn State, refereed the fight and it was through his decision that the fight went to Duca.
One of the judges voted a draw and the other for Soose. Jules Aronson, Boxing Commissioner, was notified of the change from a draw to a Duca win. He reversed the decision back to a draw, claiming that the referee's vote was not really the deciding vote because it did not concure with any of the other judges to make it the deciding vote. Later Aronson explained that he had erred and the decision should stand as a Duca victory.
Soose was unimpressive the first eight rounds. It wasn't the Billy Soose, who won 176 of his 180 amateur fights, who knocked out his 12 intercollegiate opponents. It wasn't the Soose who could outmaneuver and hook such an opponent with everything but a megaphone. It was an ordinary fighter in there with a tough, rugged, wild-swinging veteran.

Soose Suffers First Defeat In Pro Ring
Billy Soose, former Lion boxing star, lost the first of his eleven professional fights last Thursday night in Lancaster, when Johnny Duca, rugged middleweight from Paulsboro, N. J., gained the official nod over Soose after the decision had been turned around no less than four times.
At the conclusion of what seemed Soose's worst showing since his first dommed the leather mittens, the fight was called a draw. But it took him until the next morning to learn that, after a checkup of the officials' slips, an error in the announcement was discovered and the decision changed to a Duca win.

Smith Sets Record As Harriers Wallop Lehigh Team, 15-40

Slashing almost a full minute from the course record, Bill Smith, Lion harrier sensation, led seven teammates across the finish line ahead of the first Lehigh runner as the State cross-countrymen walloped the Engineers by a perfect score, 15-40, on the Lehigh course on Saturday.

Smith covered the five miles in 26 minutes and 15 seconds—59 seconds faster than the record established by "Whitey" Elmer, Lehigh harrier, in a dual meet with Rutgers last year.

Elmer, who as a freshman two years ago defeated the whole Penn State varsity while running as an unqualified contestant in a dual meet, finished 11th in Saturday's race. Since becoming eligible for varsity competition Elmer has been able to get no better than eighth place when meeting the Nittany men.
Running easily and seeming in no distress, Smith finished almost a quarter-mile ahead of the field, to take his sixth cross-country victory since enrolling at State. He was undefeated as a freshman last year, winning three dual meets and the freshman IC4S.

Never pushed and showing evidence of reserve strength, Len Henderson and Frank Maule were the next runners to finish. They tied for second with a time of 27:28.
Making it a voluntary tie for fourth, five Nittanymen—Captain Charles Pierce, Graham Miller, Herb Nipson, Bill Griest and John Stange finished side by side in 28:22—a minute and 16 seconds ahead of the first Lehigh man.
Following this quintet, Captain Edward Hurst, Lehigh leader, nosed out Jim Hostetter, Penn State, to take ninth place.
Following Hostetter came two other State runners, Emmett Breidenberg and Chet Snyder in 11th and 12th places respectively. Then
